

“We’re concerned about the threats and discoveries of anthrax in government offices. We’re preparing for any incidents, and Mississippi is one of the first states to coordinate all agencies under one protocol. I’ve issued an executive order to set up an incident management system that will ensure cooperation between public safety and law enforcement agencies.”

“The Department of Public Safety is currently preparing training on handling mail for state employees.”

“We are prepared.”