

Statement from Governor Ronnie Musgrove:

“Our students are using their skills to provide the technology for the generations coming behind them. We’re moving into a new century and a new economy – an economy that’s wireless, borderless, and global. To compete – to win – in that economy, our students must have technological skills.”