

You have asked us for our needs and we are here to present them to you today.

This is a legitimate request to operate the department efficiently and effectively to carry out our mission.

We do, however, understand the fiscal situation the state is in and the current budget constraints, primarily caused by the national recession.

We therefore appreciate your consideration of our request.