

Option 1 –

I am a member of First Baptist Church, which is a member of the Southern Baptist Convention, and I fully support their position regarding women's roles in the church.

Option 2 –

I respect the policies set by the Southern Baptist Convention, but in this particular case, I do not agree with their position regarding women's roles in the church.

Option 3 –

I respect the Southern Baptist Convention's responsibility to set policy for its membership. Women have vital roles in business, education, politics, education, the community, the church and in their families, and I value their contributions in every role.
