

From Governor Musgrove:

Jim and Sally have made a tremendous effort to help improve education for the students of Mississippi through their reading institute. Their generosity is outstanding, and is a fine example of Mississippians helping improve the lives of other Mississippians.