Talking Points

- Good Morning
- Welcome to the 6th annual Women's Conference.
- I am pleased to see such a large turn-out today.
- The theme for this year's conference is "The Power of One."
- Each and every one of you has a tremendous amount of power to make a difference in your home, your workplace and your community.
- You are all unique individuals and have many things to contribute to society.
- Your diversity provides a wealth of knowledge and experience that can be an asset to any organization.

- I would also like to recognize and thank the 1st Lady for her work in helping organize the Women's Conference.
- Great things are happening in Mississippi.
- When we combine our efforts, we can make even greater things happen for our state.
- One person can make a big difference.
- When we work as a team, we can make a huge difference.
- Thank you for your efforts in making Mississippi an even better place to live, work and raise a family.
- Enjoy your day!
