

April 11, 2001

Mr. James R. Lott
Mississippi Development Authority
P.O. Box 24568
Jackson, MS 39205

Dear Mr. Lott:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. George Walker
State Board for Community and Junior Colleges
1422 Shady Lane
Clarksdale, MS 38614

Dear Mr. Walker:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Ms. Eleanor Rogers
Quality Home Health
1001 Howard Avenue
Biloxi, MS 39530

Dear Ms. Rogers:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Roland Weeks
Sun Herald
205 Debuys Road
Gulfport, MS 39501

Dear Mr. Weeks:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. William Yates
Yates Construction
200 Lameuse Street
Biloxi, MS 39530

Dear Mr. Yates:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. J.O. Collins
J.O. Collins Contracting
P.O. Box 1205
Biloxi, MS 39533

Dear Mr. Collins:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Chevis Sweatman
Peoples Bank
P.O. Drawer 529
Biloxi, MS 39533

Dear Mr. Sweatman:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. D'Auby Shiel
Coast Community Bank
P.O. Box 1227
Biloxi, MS 39533

Dear Mr. Shiel:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. George Schloegel
Hancock Bank
P.O. Box 4019
Gulfport, MS 39502

Dear Mr. Schloegel:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Roy Anderson
Anderson Construction
18 53rd Street
Gulfport, MS 39507

Dear Mr. Anderson:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Dave Dennis
Specialty Contractors & Associates
11322 Lorraine Road
Gulfport, MS 39503

Dear Mr. Dennis:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. John Blossman
Blossman Gas, Inc.
P.O. Box 1110
Ocean Springs, MS 39566-1110

Dear Mr. Blossman:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. James Love
Love Communications Company
P.O. Box 4997
Biloxi, MS 39535-4997

Dear Mr. Love:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Rick Stewart
Bellsouth
P.O. Box 1660
Gulfport, MS 39502

Dear Mr. Stewart:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Ms. Liz Joachim
Frank P. Corso
P.O. Box 488
Biloxi, MS 39530

Dear Ms. Joachim:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. John Humphries
Cable One
P.O. Box 33
Biloxi, MS 39533

Dear Mr. Humphries:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Rob Briscoe
Dee's Chevrolet
130 Main Street
Biloxi, MS 39530

Dear Mr. Briscoe:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Frank Bertucci
F.E.B. Distributing
P.O. Box 1139
Gulfport, MS 39502

Dear Mr. Bertucci:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Reed Guice
Godwin Guice Advertising
284 Debuys Road
Biloxi, MS 39531

Dear Mr. Guice:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Troy Manthey
Starship Cruise Lines
P.O. Box 1900
Biloxi, MS 39533

Dear Mr. Manthey:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Drew Allen
Allen Beverages
P.O. Box 2037
Gulfport, MS 39505

Dear Mr. Allen:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Bryon Banks
Edgewater Mall
2600 Beach Boulevard
Biloxi, MS 39531-4601

Dear Mr. Banks:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Dan Magruder
Rex Distributing Company
12100 Intraplex Parkway
Gulfport, MS 39503

Dear Mr. Magruder:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Robert Occhi
Coast Electric Power Association
P.O. Box 2430
Bay St. Louis, MS 39521

Dear Mr. Occhi:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Tommy Munro
Munro Petroleum & Terminal Corporation
P.O. Drawer 247
Biloxi, MS 39533

Dear Mr. Munro:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Thomas Murphy
BancorpSouth
P.O. Box 70
Gulfport, MS 39530

Dear Mr. Murphy:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Jeffrey O'Keefe
Bradford-O'Keefe Funeral Homes
P.O. Box 133
Biloxi, MS 39533

Dear Mr. O'Keefe:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Nick Ladnier
Browning Ferris Industry
P.O. Box 550
Ocean Springs, MS 39566-0550

Dear Mr. Ladnier:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Norm Szydlowski
Chevron Pascagoula Refinery
Industrial Road
Pascagoula, MS 39568-1300

Dear Mr. Szydlowski:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Dwight Evans
Mississippi Power Company
P.O. Box 4079
Gulfport, MS 39502

Dear Mr. Evans:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Jack Holloway
Coca Cola Bottling Company
7900 Highway 57
Ocean Springs, MS 39564

Dear Mr. Holloway:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Terry Adams
Consolidated Construction
810 Highway 90, Suite C
Gautier, MS 39533

Dear Mr. Adams:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Melvin Murray
CSX Transportation
5404 Denny Avenue
Pascagoula, MS 39581

Dear Mr. Murray:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Robert Hammond
Biloxi Regional Medical Center
P.O. Box 128
Biloxi, MS 39533

Dear Mr. Hammond:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Errol Hotard
Hotard Coaches/Coastliner
P.O. Box 4491
Biloxi, MS 39535

Dear Mr. Hotard:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Larry Holland
Gulf Coast Medical Center
180 Debuys Road
Biloxi, MS 39531

Dear Mr. Holland:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Jack Ware
Singing River Electric Power
P.O. Box 767
Lucedale, MS 39452

Dear Mr. Ware:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Gary Gollott
Gollott & Sons Transfer and Storage
P.O. Box 468
Biloxi, MS 39533

Dear Mr. Gollott:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Steve Dietz
McDonald's Inc.
1644 Pass Road
Biloxi, MS 39531

Dear Mr. Dietz:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Greg Eleuterius
Cable Marketing and Installation
P.O. Box 1373
Biloxi, MS 39533

Dear Mr. Eleuterius:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Ms. Cynthia Payne Childers
Swetman Security
181 Lameuse Street
Biloxi, MS 39530

Dear Ms. Childers:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Ron Schnoor
Frede Goldman Halter
600 Louise Street
Pascagoula, MS 39568-7007

Dear Mr. Schnoor:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Gerald St. Pe'
Litton Industries
P.O. Box 14
Pascagoula, MS 39568-0149

Dear Mr. St. Pe':

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Bobby Nanzoor
International Paper Moss Point Mill
P.O. Box 5550
Moss Point, MS 39563-5550

Dear Mr. Nanzoor:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Charles Hardt
Lockheed Martin
Ingalls West Bank Road
Pascagoula, MS 39568-0297

Dear Mr. Hardt:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Royce Cumbest
Merchants & Marines Bank
P.O. Box 729
Pascagoula, MS 39568-0729

Dear Mr. Cumbest:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Ms. Wanda Jacobs
Mississippi Press
P.O. Box 849
Pascagoula, MS 39568-0848

Dear Ms. Jacobs:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Richard Lucas
Singing River Hospital System
2112 Highway 90, Suite 34
Gautier, MS 39553

Dear Mr. Lucas:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Ms. Laurin Avara
Southern Development Company
P.O. Box 1817
Pascagoula, MS 39568

Dear Ms. Avara:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Kenneth Dupont
Avondale Industries, Inc.
P.O. Box 2309
Gulfport, MS 39505

Dear Mr. Dupont:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. John Fayard
Fayard Fast Freight
P.O. Box 2939
Gulfport, MS 39503

Dear Mr. Fayard:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Alan Goldin
Goldin Industries, Inc.
P.O. Box 2909
Gulfport, MS 39505

Dear Mr. Goldin:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Bill Richman
Best Manufacturing Company
4219 Jefferson Avenue
Moss Point, MS 39563

Dear Mr. Richman:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. J. Kelley Williams
First Chemical Corporation
P.O. Box 7005
Pascagoula, MS 39568-7005

Dear Mr. Williams:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Bobby Howell
Halter Marine, Inc.
P.O. Box 8767
Moss Point, MS 39562-8767

Dear Mr. Howell:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Jim Perkins
Mississippi Phosphates
P.O. Box 848
Pascagoula, MS 39568-0848

Dear Mr. Perkins:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Steve Riera
Swingster Company
P.O. Box 1557
Ocean Springs, MS 39564-1557

Dear Mr. Riera:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Lee Quave
ARAMARK
P.O. Box 4676
Biloxi, MS 39535

Dear Mr. Quave:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. John Rester
America Medical Response
12020 Intraplex Parkway
Gulfport, MS 39503

Dear Mr. Rester:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Dave Johnson
Litton Data Systems
6608 Sun Scope Drive
Ocean Springs, MS 39564

Dear Mr. Johnson:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Ernest Burdette
Triton Systems, Inc.
522 East Railroad Street
Long Beach, MS 39560

Dear Mr. Burdette:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Sherwood Bailey
Bailey Home & Lumber
813 East Pass Road
Gulfport, MS 39507

Dear Mr. Bailey:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Mike Edenfield
E. I. DuPont DeNemours & Co. Inc.
P.O. Box 430
Pass Christian, MS 39571

Dear Mr. Edenfield:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Gary McFarlin
Morton International
5724 Elderberry Road
Moss Point, MS 39563

Dear Mr. McFarlin:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. James McQueen
Hancock Medical Center
P.O. Box 2790
Bay St. Louis, MS 39521

Dear Mr. McQueen:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Dr. William Lee
Jackson County School District
P.O. Box 5069
Vanceleave, MS 39565

Dear Dr. Lee:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Ms. Anna Hurt
Ocean Springs School District
P.O. Box 7002
Ocean Springs, MS 39566

Dear Ms. Hurt:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. James Easton
Moss Point School District
4924 Church Avenue
Moss Point, MS 39563

Dear Mr. Easton:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Dr. Larry Drawdy
Biloxi Public Schools
160 St. Peter Street
Biloxi, MS 39531

Dear Dr. Drawdy:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Dr. Phillip Terrell
Pass Christian School District
701 West North Street
Pass Christian, MS 39571

Dear Dr. Terrell:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Mike Ladnier
Hancock County Schools
17304 Highway 603
Kiln, MS 39556-8210

Dear Mr. Ladnier:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Henry Arledge
Harrison County School District
11072 Highway 49
Gulfport, MS 39503

Dear Mr. Arledge:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Henry Rath
Stone County School District
214 Critz Street
Wiggins, MS 39577

Dear Mr. Rath:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Duncan McKenzie
Grand Casino Biloxi
265 Beach Boulevard
Biloxi, MS 39530

Dear Mr. McKenzie:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Neil Narter
Boomtown Casino
676 Bayview Avenue
Biloxi, MS 39530

Dear Mr. Narter:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. John Ferrucci
Casino Magic Biloxi
195 Beach Boulevard
Biloxi, MS 39530

Dear Mr. Ferrucci:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Rick Quinn
Copa Casino
877 Copa Casino Boulevard
Gulfport, MS 39501

Dear Mr. Quinn:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Ms. Bevely Martin
Gulf Coast Gaming Association
2555 Marshall Road, Suite F
Biloxi, MS 39531

Dear Ms. Martin:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Jeff Dahl
Beau Rivage
875 Beach Boulevard
Biloxi, MS 39530

Dear Mr. Dahl:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Todd Raziano
Casino Magic Bay St. Louis
711 Casino Magic Drive
Bay St. Louis, MS 39520

Dear Mr. Raziano:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Joe Billhimer
Grand Casino Gulfport
3215 West Beach Boulevard
Gulfport, MS 39501

Dear Mr. Billhimer:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Steve Rosen
Grand Casino Corp.
11975 Seaway Road
Gulfport, MS 39503

Dear Mr. Rosen:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Bill Kilduff
Isle of Capri Casino
151 Beach Boulevard
Biloxi, MS 39530

Dear Mr. Kilduff:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Keith Crosby
Palace Casino Resort
P.O. Box 309
Biloxi, MS 39533

Dear Mr. Crosby:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Craig Adams
President Casino
2110 Beach Boulevard
Biloxi, MS 39531

Dear Mr. Adams:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Bernie Burkholder
Treasure Bay Casino
1980 Beach Boulevard
Biloxi, MS 39531

Dear Mr. Burkholder:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Howard Sanders
Hollandale School District
P.O. Box 128
Hollandale, MS 38748

Dear Mr. Sanders:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Mike Lucius
L-Bar Consulting
P.O. Box 1996
Jackson, MS 39215

Dear Mr. Lucius:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Dr. Richard Thompson
Mississippi Department of Education
P.O. Box 139
Jackson, MS 39201

Dear Dr. Thompson:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. J.C. Burns
Mississippi Development Authority
P.O. Box 849
Jackson, MS 39205

Dear Mr. Burns:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Ms. Janice Broome Brooks
Department of Human Services
750 North State Street
Jackson, MS 39202

Dear Ms. Broome Brooks:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Charles Barron
Shaw School District
P.O. Box 510
Shaw, MS 38773

Dear Mr. Barron:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Dr. Earl Watkins
Jim Hill High School
2185 Fortune Street
Jackson, MS 39204

Dear Dr. Watkins:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Representative Robert Clark
Speaker Pro Tem
P.O. Box 1018
Jackson, MS 39215-1018

Dear Representative Clark:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Senator Mike Chaney
528 Inglewood Drive
Vicksburg, MS 39180

Dear Senator Chaney:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Blake Wilson
Mississippi Economic Council
666 North Street
Jackson, MS 39202

Dear Mr. Wilson:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Dr. Wayne Stonecypher
State Board for Community and Junior Colleges
3825 Ridgewood Road
Jackson, MS 39211

Dear Dr. Stonecypher:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Seymour Pooley
South Central Heating & Plumbing
P.O. Box 4627
Jackson, MS 39296

Dear Mr. Pooley:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. John McCullouch
BellSouth
P.O. Box 811
Jackson, MS 39205

Dear Mr. McCullouch:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mrs. Kay Atwood
Atwood Fence Company
P.O. Box 565
Kosciusko, MS 39090

Dear Mrs. Atwood:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mrs. Joyce Hughes
Catchings Insurance
P.O. Box 2509
Jackson, MS 39207

Dear Mrs. Hughes:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. Johnny Franklin
Mississippi Public Education Forum
666 North Street
Jackson, MS 39202

Dear Mr. Franklin:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Mr. George Malouf
Malouf Construction Company
P.O. Box 1490
Madison, MS 39130

Dear Mr. Malouf:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Rev. Jerry Young
New Hope Baptist Church
5201 Watkins Drive
Jackson, MS 39206

Dear Rev. Young:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Representative Joe Warren
P.O. Box 42
Mount Olive, MS 39119

Dear Representative Warren:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE

April 11, 2001

Senator Alice Harden
P.O. Box 1018
Jackson, MS 39215-1018

Dear Senator Harden:

I am writing to invite you to join me for a luncheon at the Beau Rivage in Biloxi on April 26, 2001. Mr. Jeff Dahl, Chief Operating Officer of the Beau Rivage, is sponsoring this luncheon to inform Gulf Coast business, educational, and community leaders such as yourself about Jobs for Mississippi Graduates (JMG). Mr. Dahl and I have the pleasure of serving together on the JMG Board of Directors.

JMG's mission is to assist at-risk and disadvantaged youth in graduating from high school and in finding and keeping quality jobs for 12 months after leaving school through a school-to-work transition system. JMG is modeled after the national Jobs for America's Graduates, the nation's largest, most consistently applied model of school-to-work transition for at-risk youth. Approximately 500-550 Mississippi students are participating in JMG programs at 15 sites. These programs offer in-school and out-of-school services to students including instruction, mentoring, employability skills and placement assistance. Ken Smith, the founder and President of Jobs for America's Graduates, will also be with us to describe Mississippi's accomplishments with this program as compared to the 26 other states that work with Jobs for America's Graduates.

Partnerships with business are critical to JMG's effectiveness. I hope that the information provided at this luncheon will encourage you to join us in supporting the continued success of JMG. Please complete the enclosed reservation form and return it to Dr. Joe Haynes, JMG Executive Director, by Friday, April 20.

I hope you will join us for the luncheon to learn more about this exciting and successful program that can greatly impact the skills of the future workforce of Mississippi.

Very truly yours,

RONNIE MUSGROVE