Message: To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing this letter not out of sympathy but out of pure desperation. We are on the verge of losing our home and everything we own. I am in search of a position making standard living wages for my husbands expertise. He is a computer network guru. He has the certificates to prove. However, with the economy the way it is in the State of Washington he is unable to find a reasonable paying job. I am not asking you necessarily to give him a job but rather yet to give him the encouragement whether it is in the form of a recommendation letter or a little pull from your side.

My husband does not know that I am doing this. We are in such a position that we will be homeless by the end of April if no one is able to help us in our time of need. I am not asking for a million dollars or a real handout. What I am asking for is for my husband to be given a fair chance to prove himself to anyone willing to give him the chance.

I am desperately trying to raise our daughter so that she will grow to become a respectable US Citizen. I do not have the proper education to make a reasonable living, where my husband does. I would love to get the education but that cost money and time which we can not afford.

Please help us so that we don't lose our dream. That is all that I am truly asking for.

Sincerely,

Debra A. Easterly
