

Statement from Governor Ronnie Musgrove:
Ronald Chris Foster

Today, the United States Supreme Court resolved one of two issues when they declined to consider the Oklahoma case involving a 17 year-old offender on death row. The primary issue still to be considered by the Mississippi Supreme Court is whether the guidelines governing capital punishment and mental retardation set forth last June by the United States Supreme Court have been followed in the Foster case.