

An investment of 62 percent of our budget in education does not shortchange our future.
Cutting education by $228 million, as proposed in the legislative budget, does.