

The chase is on in Mississippi – for the opportunities, for better schools and better jobs for our people, for the future. There may be limits in hunting, but there are no limits on our potential.