

This is a perfect example of what the legislature can do when they work together and put their mind to it. They can do the same thing now by funding the education bill at 62 percent.