

Governor Ronnie Musgrove statement regarding anniversary of statehood of Mississippi.

“186 years ago today, Mississippi officially became a part of the greatest country, the United State of America. Throughout our history, Mississippi has taken part in many of our country’s greatest achievements and advancements. That is why our Mississippi is a great place to work, live and raise our families.”