Talking Points

- Good Afternoon.
- We are here today to honor and celebrate the life and work of Bobby “Bubba” Wells.
- A man dedicated to protecting the lives of the people of Mississippi.
- The dedication and naming of the driver’s license building today is a testament to the bravery and commitment of Bubba Wells, who was killed while in the line of duty.
- (You may want to recognize his parent’s Bob & Edna Wells. His sister Jan Wells may attend also.)
- Many men and women have given their lives while protecting the citizens of our state and our country.

- They deserve our respect each day, while they are making our homes, streets and communities a safer place for our families.
- This building will serve as a constant reminder of a young man, who was protecting all Mississippians.
- I would like to thank everyone involved in making this dedication possible today:
 - Especially Mayor Greg Davis, who was the sponsor of the bill in 1997.
- As we honor Bubba Wells today, let us also remember to thank and respect other state officers for their hard work, bravery and commitment.
- They are working to make our state an even safer place to live, work and visit.
