Talking Points

- Today, we are opening the doors to the Majesty of Spain for the people of Mississippi – the people of the United States – the people of the world to enjoy.
- We are opening the doors to a new world of learning opportunities for our students.
- And we are opening the doors to thousands of people who want to experience the beauty and culture of Spain – right here in Mississippi.
- The quality, uniqueness and excitement of this unparalleled exhibition has something for everyone to enjoy.
- Today's ribbon cutting is the result of a strong partnership between the State of Mississippi and the country of Spain, representing our continuing commitment to open doors and eliminate borders so that our people enjoy the benefits.

- As the Duke of San Carlos said yesterday why Mississippi was chosen to host this spectacular event – Mississippi asked us to come. The conditions were right and it was the right moment.
- It is the right moment for Mississippi, and we are proud to host the Majesty of Spain exhibit.
- We are proud to host the thousands of visitors to our state as we once again enjoy the spotlight of the nation.
