RECORD OF CHARTERS 34-35---STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

TUCKER PRINTING HOUSE JACKSON MISS

SUGGESTED FORM OF AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION FOR CONTINUING MISSISSIPPI STATE BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES ISSUING ONE CLASS OF PREFERRED STOCK Proposed Amendments to Articles of Incorporation of FARMERS AND MERCHANTS BANK (Name of Bank), FOREST (City), SCOTT (County), MISSISSIPPI (State).

RESOLVED FIRST, That the capital of this Corporation be increased in the sum of $30,000.00 by the issuance of $30,000.00 of preferred stock under the provision of Section 52 of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, making the total capital of the Corporation $60,000.00, of which $30,000.00 is preferred and $30,000.00 is common stock.

RESOLVED SECOND, That the Articles of Incorporation be amended by striking out Article 8 and inserting in place thereof the following: "The Board of Directors shall consist of such number of shareholders, not less than five nor more than twenty-five, as from time to time shall be determined by a majority of the votes to which all shareholders are at the time entitled. A majority of the Board of Directors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business."

RESOLVED THIRD, That the Articles of Incorporation be further amended by striking out Articles 6 and inserting in the place thereof the following:

(1) Amount, classes, and shares of capital stock.--The amount of capital stock of the Corporation shall be $60,000.00 divided into classes and shares as follows: (a) $30,000.00 par value of preferred stock (subject to retirement as hereinafter provided) divided into 240 shares of the par value of $125.00 (1) each; and (b) $30,000.00 par value of common stock (subject to increase upon retirement of preferred stock as provided in the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article) divided into 300 shares of the par value of $100.00 each.

(2) Assessability of stock.--The holders of preferred stock shall not be held individually responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts, or engagements of the Corporation and shall not be liable for assessments to restore impairments in the capital of the Corporation.

(3) Dividends on preferred stock.--The holders of preferred stock, in preference to the holders of common stock, shall be entitled to receive, when and as declared by the Board of Directors, out of net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this article) accruing after March 13, 1935 (2) (hereinafter referred to as the "Recapitalization Date"), cash dividends thereon to and including January 31, 1935, at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter to and including January 31, 1940, at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more. Such dividends shall be payable semi-annually on each February 1 and August 1, and shall accrue, as to any given share of such stock, from the date of issuance of such share. Such dividends shall be cumulative, so that if dividends at the full rates required by this section 3 to be paid on the preferred stock shall not have been paid upon or declared and set apart for such preferred stock, the deficiency shall be fully paid or declared and set apart before any dividend or other distribution, whether in cash, property, stock, or otherwise, shall be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock. Dividends on the preferred stock shall be deemed to accrue from day to day.

(4) Dividends on common stock.--Dividends or other distributions whether in cash, property, stock or otherwise, shall, so long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock only out of the net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this article) accruing after the Recapitalization Date. If any retirement of preferred stock would decrease the outstanding capital of the Corporation below the minimum amount required by law, the Board of Directors, prior to or simultaneously with such retirement, shall transfer an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired from reserves set up for the retirement of preferred stock to a special reserve fund for the payment of common stock dividends, and shall declare on the common stock, out of such special reserve fund, a dividend payable in common stock in an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired, and the shares of common stock required for the payment of any such stock dividend shall be issuable without any further vote on the part of the holders of stock of any class or any further approval on the part of the State Comptroller.

(5) Determination of net profits.--For the purpose of this article the net profits or net loss (as distinguished from usage of terms "net profits" and "net loss" in reports required by the State Comptroller of the Corporation shall be determined for each six months' period ending on December 31 or June 30 by deducting from the gross earnings from all sources for such period: (a) All expenses for such period; (b) All interest accrued during such period; (c) All losses determined during such period, and such charge-offs and write-downs of assets and transfers to reserves (whether from income, undivided profits or surplus) for such period (including all charge-offs, write-downs and transfers to reserves requested by the State Comptroller for such period) as may be reasonable necessary to make proper provision for doubtful assets, depreciation, and undetermined losses, but to the extent only that such losses, determined or undetermined, charge-offs, and write-downs of assets exceed reserves previously set up therefor in such period or any prior period, or available unallocated reserves; (d) Provision for all taxes for such period, including taxes measured by income and taxes based on the ownership of stock in the Corporation paid or payable by the Corporation for the account of its shareholders, without prejudice to such right as the Corporation may have to recover the same; (e) Such transfers for such period to surplus as may be required by law; provided, however, that transfers, to earned surplus as required by section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, shall not be deducted from gross earnings in determining net profits available for the dividend and retirement requirements of the preferred stock; and

1 The per share ~~fixed~~ par value of the preferred stock will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

2 Insert date on which Articles of Incorporation amended by shareholders.

(f) The net loss, if any, determined in accordance with the provisions of this section 5, accrued since the Recapitalization Date, accumulated to and existing at the beginning of such period; provided, however, that no deductions from gross earnings for the six months' period ending June 30, 1935 (3), need be made by reason of any charge-offs or write-downs of assets or transfers to reserves required by the State Comptroller, and approved in writing by Reconstruction Finance Corporation made on account of loss incurred prior to or depreciation in assets existing at the Recapitalization Date. All recoveries over net book value on assets previously charged off or written down or against which reserves have been set up, and all transfers from reserves ~~from reserves~~ to surplus or undivided profits (other than transfers made to reflect recoveries already treated as gross earnings), shall be considered gross earnings for the respective periods during which such recoveries or transfers are effected.

(6) Application of net profits.--As long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, the Corporation, on each February 1 and August 1 (except that, as provided in paragraph (b) hereof, no payment shall be required pursuant to the provisions of such paragraph prior to August 1, 1936), shall apply net profits of the Corporation for the six months' period ending on the next preceding December 31 or June 30, as the case may be, to the following purposes and in the following order of priority: (a) To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock accrued to such February 1 or August 1, as the case may be. (b) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 3 of this article) on August 1, 1936, of a sum equal to three-quarters of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter, to and including February 1, 1940, of a sum equal to one-quarter of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter of a sum equal to one-half of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding. In the event that the net profits of the Corporation shall on any such February 1 or August 1 be insufficient to permit the payment into such preferred stock retirement fund of the full amount hereinabove provided for, the deficiency shall be fully paid before any net profits of the Corporation shall be thereafter applied to any of the purposes hereinafter specified in this section 6. (c) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article _____) of a sum equal to forty per cent of the remainder, if any, of such net profits: Provided, however, That the aggregate amount paid into the preferred stock retirement fund in any one year in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph (c) Need not exceed five per cent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding, whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever; Pro- action of its Board of Directors, it shall not be required to make such payment into the preferred stock retirement fund required by this paragraph (c) except from such net profits as may have accrued from and after December 31, 1935. Subject to compliance with the provisions of section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, any balance of net profits for any such period may be applied from time to time to such lawful purposes as may be determined by the Board of Directors, subject, however, to the provisions of section 7 of this article _____.

(7) Limitations on retirement of stock.--Except with the approval of the State Comptroller no preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement by the Corporation unless the then unimpaired capital, surplus and undivided profits of the Corporation, and the retirement funds provided for herein (after giving effect to the proceeds of the issuance of any stock issued to provide funds for such retirement) exceed $78,000.00 (4) by an amount at least equal to the sum necessary to effect such retirement. No shares of preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement unless all accrued dividends (whether or not earned or declared) to the dividend payment date next preceding the date of such retirement shall have been paid on all shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(8) Retirement of preferred stock by purchase.--Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article _____, whenever the balance in the preferred stock retirement fund shall amount to as much as $1,000.00 (5), the Corporation shall (unless the Board of Directors shall elect to use the entire amount of such balance in the preferred stock retirement fund for the retirement of preferred stock by call as provided in section 9 hereof) within ten days thereafter mail, first-class postage prepaid, to all holders of record of preferred stock at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice specifying the balance in such fund and stating that the same is available for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock at the lowest prices (not in excess of the par value thereof and accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, to the date of purchase) offered within twenty days after the date of such notice. At the expiration of such twenty days, the Corporation shall apply such balance to the purchase for retirement of preferred stock, if obtainable, in accordance with the terms of such notice. Within ten days after such expiration, subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article _____, The Corporation shall call for retirement, in the manner provided in section 9 hereof, the largest number of shares of preferred stock which can be retired from the balance in such retirement fund remaining after deducting the amount paid or to be paid for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock as aforesaid, and shall set aside from such retirement fund the sum necessary to effect such retirement, but the minimum capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law. Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article _____, at any time and from time to time the Corporation may make such lawful transfers from its surplus and/or undivided profits to the preferred stock retirement fund as the Board of Directors may determine. All shares of preferred stock purchased for retirement by the Corporation, whether from the retirement fund or otherwise, shall be cancelled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(9) Retirement of preferred stock by call.--Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article _____, the Corporation may at any time, at its election as expressed by resolution of the Board of Directors, retire the outstanding preferred stock as a whole, or from time to time in part, pro rata, or by lot in such equitable manner to carry out the purpose of this section 9 as the Board of Directors of the Corporation in its discretion shall from time to time determine, (and provided always that the capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law) by paying for each share to be retired a retirement price equal to the par value thereof plus all accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of such retirement. At least thirty days prior written notice of every such retirement, stating the retirement date and the retirement price, and the place of payment thereof, shall be mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to the holder of record of each share to be retired, at the address of such holder as shown on the books of the Corporation. Such notice having been so mailed, each holder of shares so called for retirement shall be entitled to receive payment of the retirement price of such shares (without interest) upon surrender to the Corporation, on or after the retirement date, at the place designated in such notice, of the certificate or certificates therefor in transferable form and, if required, properly stamped for transfer. In case less than all of the shares represented by any such certificate are retired, a new certificate shall be issued representing the unretired shares. From and after the retirement date (unless the Corporation shall default in payment of the retirement price), all dividends on shares called for retirement shall cease to accrue, such shares shall be deemed to be no longer outstanding, and all rights of the holders thereof as shareholders of the Corporation, except the right to receive the retirement price, shall terminate. All shares so retired shall be canceled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(10) Increase or decrease of capital stock: Amendments of Articles of Incorporation, etc.--By the affirmative vote of the holders, voting by classes, of at least two-thirds of the shares of each class of stock at the time outstanding, and not otherwise, and subject to such approval by the State Comptroller and such other conditions as at the time may be required by law--

* Insert June 30 or December 31 next succeeding the Recapitalization Date.

4 This figure, representing approximately the unimpaired capital structure of the Corporation after giving effect to the issue of the preferred stock, will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation prior to the purchase of the preferred stock.

5 This figure will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

(a) The capital stock of the Corporation may be increased at any time and from time to time through issuing additional shares of preferred stock and/or common stock, and/or through the creation of one or more additional classes of stock; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of preferred stock shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock if the entire proceeds of such issue are to be used for the retirement of shares of preferred stock; and provided further, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock as a stock dividend, pursuant to the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article _____ in connection with the retirement of shares of preferred stock; (b) The capital stock of the Corporation may be decreased at any time and from time to time to any amount not below the amount at the time required by law; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to the retirement of preferred stock; (c) The name of the Corporation and/or the place where its operations of discount and deposit are to be carried on may be changed, but this clause shall not be construed to abridge the powers of the Board of Directors under applicable law with reference to the establishment or change of location or closing of branches; (d) These Articles of Incorporation may be amended at any time and from time to time in any other respect, but not so as to change the respective voting rights of the preferred stock and common stock so long as any of the preferred stock remains outstanding; (e) The Corporation may be consolidated or merged into or with any other bank or may acquire all or substantially all of the assets and business of any banking corporation or trust company; (f) All or substantially all of the assets and business of the Corporation may be sold or otherwise disposed of; (g) The Corporation may go into voluntary liquidation; and (h) Any plan of reorganization of the Corporation may be carried into effect--Provided, however, that if and as long as the voting rights of the preferred stock are increased in accordance with the provisions of sections 12 or 13 of this Article _____ and the fair value of the assets of the Corporation as determined by the State Comptroller shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding any of the actions specified in the foregoing paragraphs (a) to (h) inclusive, of this section 10 may be taken by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled, and not otherwise, except that the Corporation may not be put into voluntary liquidation without the approval of the State Comptroller.

(11) Preemptive rights.--In case of any increase in the capital stock of the Corporation of any class other than by way of a stock dividend, the new shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all shares of stock of that class at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of shares of such stock of that class held by them respectively, by mailing, first-class postage prepaid, to such holders, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, transferable subscription warrants exercisable at any time on or before thirty days from the date of such mailing. If at the expiration of such subscription rights, any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all other shares of stock of all other classes at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of such shares held by them respectively, and notice shall be given as above provided. If at the expiration of both of such subscription rights any of the new shares ^{have not been subscribed for,} may be issued and sold at such price, not less than the par value thereof, to such persons and on such terms as the Board of Directors may determine.

(12) Voting rights.--(a) Except as otherwise provided in sections 10 and 13 of this article _____ and in this section 12, each holder of stock of any class shall be entitled to vote on all matters ~~one~~ vote for each share of stock of any class held by him. (b) In all elections of directors, each holder of stock of any class shall have the right to vote the votes allocable to the number of shares, owned by him for as many persons as there are directors to be elected, or to cumulate such votes and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of votes allocable to his shares shall equal, or to distribute such votes on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall think fit. (c) In case as many as two semi-annual ^{dividend} payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock shall be in arrears (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock), then, and until all arrears of dividends upon the preferred stock shall have been paid and the full dividend on the outstanding preferred stock for the then current semi-annual dividend period shall have been declared and funds set apart for the payment thereof, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled. (d) At any time while the votes of the preferred stock are increased as provided in paragraph (c) of this section 12 or in subparagraph (2) of section 13 of this article _____, any one or more of the directors, officers, or employees of the Corporation may be removed at any annual or special meeting of shareholders for or without cause, and their successors elected, by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled.

(13) Other voting rights.--If at any time while the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall hold not less than twenty-five per cent of the total number of shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding--(a) The Corporation shall be in arrears in the payment of as many as two-semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock); or (b) The amounts paid into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article _____) in accordance with the requirements of paragraph (c) of section 6 of this article _____ on and after February 1, 1937, shall have not amounted in the aggregate to five per cent of the maximum par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding (whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever) multiplied by the number of calendar years which shall have elapsed since January 1, 1936; or (c) The fair value of the assets of the banking corporation as determined by an examination of the banking corporation by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (which may be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation once in each calendar year if the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall so elect), or as determined by the State Comptroller, shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding; or (d) The Corporation shall violate or fail to observe any of the terms, provisions, or conditions of its Articles of Incorporation--then after written notice from Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the existence of any of said conditions and so long as any of said conditions in (a), (b), (c) and (d) above shall continue:

(1) All directors, officers, and employees of the Corporation shall receive compensation at rates not exceeding such maximum limitations as may be fixed by the vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(2) In case Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with the approval of the State Comptroller, at any time shall notify the Corporation that any director, officer or employee of the Corporation is regarded by Reconstruction Finance Corporation as unsatisfactory, and in case such director, officer or employee is not removed from office (and, if requested by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, replaced with a director, officer, or employee satisfactory to it) within thirty days after receipt by the Corporation of such notice, then, and until such removal and replacement shall have been effected, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled. (3) The Corporation shall not directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire any real estate for its own use, or lease any real estate for its own use for a term longer than one year, without in each case the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, or a written waiver of voting rights in respect thereto by the holders of such majority; provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to real estate acquired under the provisions of sub-divisions 2 and 3 of Section 53 of Senate Bill 227, Laws of 1934. (4) The Corporation shall not incur indebtedness maturing more than one year from the creation thereof, without the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding or a written waiver of voting rights with respect thereto by the holders of such majority, but the indebtedness herein referred to shall not be construed to include the issuance of circulating notes and the acceptance of time deposits, which may continue to be accepted by the Corporation under such conditions as may be provided by law.

(14) Rights of preferred stock on liquidation.--In the event of any receivership, conservatorship, liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, before any payment or other distribution, whether in cash, property, or otherwise shall be made to the holders of common stock, the holders of preferred stock shall be entitled to receive, for each share of such stock held by them, an amount equal to the par value thereof, plus an amount equal to all unpaid dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of payment, but shall not be entitled to any other or further payment; provided, however, that a merger or consolidation in accordance with law and these Articles of Incorporation, shall not be deemed a liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation within the meaning of this section 14.

(a) Officers.--The Board of Directors shall elect one of its members President of the Corporation. The Board may designate a director in lieu of the President to be Chairman of the Board, who shall perform such duties as may be designated by the Board. The directors shall have power to elect one or more Vice Presidents, at least one of whom shall also be a member of the Board of Directors, and who shall be authorized in the absence or inability of the President from any cause, to perform all acts and duties pertaining to the office of president except such as the President only is authorized by law to perform; and to elect or appoint a Cashier, and such other officers and clerks as may be required to transact the business of the Corporation; and subject to the provisions of subparagraphs (1) and (2) of section 13 of article ___ hereof, to fix the salaries to be paid to them, and to continue them in office or to dismiss them as in the opinion of a majority of the Board the interests of the Corporation may demand; (b) Powers of Board of Directors.--The Board of Directors shall have the power to define the duties of the officers and clerks of the Corporation, to require bonds from them and to fix the penalty thereof; to regulate the manner in which election of directors shall be held and to appoint judges of the elections; to make all by-laws that it may be proper for them to make, not inconsistent with law and these Articles of Incorporation, for the general regulation of the business of the Corporation and the management of its affairs, and generally to do and perform all acts that it may be legal for a board of directors to do and perform according to law and within the limits of these Articles of Incorporation. Special meetings of shareholders.--Except as otherwise specifically provided by statute, special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose at any time by the Board of Directors or by the holders of at least ten per cent of the then outstanding shares of any class. Every such special meeting shall be called by mailing, not less than ten days before the time fixed for the meeting, to all shareholders of record entitled to act and vote at such meeting, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice stating the purpose of the meeting. Such notice may be waived in writing. RESOLVED FOURTH, That each shareholder of record may subscribe within five days from and after the date of this meeting to such issue of preferred stock in proportion to the number of shares of common stock of the Corporation standing on the books of the Corporation in his name; and RESOLVED FIFTH, That the Board of Directors through its proper officers, at the expiration of the said five days, shall sell the unsubscribed portion of such preferred stock at such price (not less than the par value thereof) to Reconstruction Finance Corporation and/or to such other person or persons as the Board of Directors may deem advisable. At a meeting of the shareholders of Farmers and Merchants Bank (Name of Bank), Forest (City), Mississippi (State), held on March 13, 1935, five days' notice of the proposed business having been given by registered mail, all of the foregoing resolutions were adopted by the following vote,--the affirmative vote representing 70% of the total number of shares of capital stock outstanding. Total number of shares of capital stock 300. Total number of shares represented at the meeting 210. Total number of shares voted in favor of the resolution 210. Total number of shares voted against the resolution 0. I hereby certify that this is a true and correct report (a) of the number of days' notice, given by registered mail, of the meeting of shareholders of this bank held on the date above mentioned; (b) of the vote and (c) of the resolutions adopted at said meeting and (d) that a complete list of the shareholders voting therefor and the number of shares voted by each is on file in the bank; (e) that no shares of stock of this bank owned by this bank were voted at said meeting; (f) that no shares of stock held by this bank as sole trustee were voted at said meeting; and (g) that no shares of stock of this bank held by this bank as co-trustee were voted at said meeting by this bank; and (H) that no director, other officer or employee acted as proxy at said meeting. R. L. Goodwin, Vice-Pres., H. E. Bishop, Cashier. (SEAL OF BANK). Subscribed and sworn to before me this 20th day of March, A.D., 1935. B. R. Nichols, Chy. Clerk, (SEAL)

State of Mississippi, Department of Bank Supervision, Jackson.

I, M. D. Brett, State Comptroller, State of Mississippi, do hereby certify that I have examined the proposed amendment to the Charter of Incorporation of Farmers and Merchants Bank, Forest, Mississippi, wherein it is proposed to increase the capital stock of said bank in the sum of $30,000.00 by the issuance of $30,000.00 of Preferred Stock under the provisions of Section 52 of Chapter 146 of the Laws of the State of Mississippi for the year 1934, making the total capital of Farmers and Merchants Bank $60,000.00, $30,000.00 of which Preferred Stock and $30,000.00 is Common Stock, and I do hereby approve the proposed amendment.

Given under my hand and the seal of the Department of Bank Supervision, this the 23rd day of March, 1935. M. D. Brett, State Comptroller. (SEAL)

Received at the office of the Secretary of State, this the 23rd. day of March, A.D., 1935, together with the sum of $60.00 deposited to cover the recording fee, and referred to the Attorney General for his opinion. Walker Wood, Secretary of State.

Jackson, Miss., March 23, 1935.

I have examined this amendment of charter of incorporation of Farmers and Merchants Bank, and am of the opinion that it is not violative of the Constitution and laws of this State or of the United States. Greek L. Rice, Attorney General. By W. W. Pierce, Assistant Attorney General,

Amendment to the Charter of Incorporation of

FOR AMENDMENT SEE BOOK 12-43 PAGE 254

BE IT RESOLVED, that paragraph four (4) of the Charter of Incorporation of Supreme Instruments Corporation, be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

"4. The amount of authorized capital stock is Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000.00) which shall be evidenced by (a) Ninety thousand shares of common stock without nominal or par value; (b) Fifty shares of preferred stock of the par value of One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) each.

Said preferred stock is entitled to preference and priority over the common stock as follows; to-wit: To receive cumulative dividends at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, before any dividend on common stock shall be paid, and upon dissolution, after the debts of the Corporation have been paid, the assets, property and effects of the Corporation shall first be applied to the payment of said preferred stock at par, with any unpaid accumulations thereon, before any payment is made to the holders of the common stock. Any balance shall be applied to the payment of the common stock. The common stock shall be entitled to all the net earnings and profits in excess of the cumulative dividends of six per cent per annum on said preferred stock, payable semi-annually. The corporation may retire said preferred stock, or such portion thereof as its directors may determine, at par plus any unpaid cumulative dividends, at any time after five years from its issuance; but before retiring said preferred stock, the President or Secretary, shall mail to each holder of said preferred stock, as shown by the corporation's books, ten days notice in advance of the date of said retirement. Except as required by Section 194 of the Mississippi Constitution of 1890, said preferred stock shall have no voting powers, unless dividends thereon are two years in default, and in that event said preferred stock shall have the right to vote equally with the common stock."

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Vice President and Secretary of this corporation, be and they are hereby authorized and directed, for and in behalf of this corporation, to do any and all things necessary to effectuate and give full force to the foregoing resolution."

We, D. N. Dulweber, Vice President, and Chas. A. Carroll, Secretary, respectively of the corporation known as "Supreme Instruments Corporation" hereby certify that the foregoing is a true, complete and correct copy of the resolutions unanimously adopted at a special meeting of the stockholders of said Supreme Instruments Corporation, held at the office of the corporation in Greenwood, Mississippi, on the 12th day of March, 1935, duly called for the purpose of amending said Charter of Incorporation of said Corporation.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION OF

Bank of Utica

Utica

(City)

(County)

Mississippi

(State)

RESOLVED, FIRST, that the capital of this Corporation be increased in the sum of $ 25,000 by the issuance of $ 25,000 of preferred stock under the provisions of Section 52 of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, making the total capital of the Corporation $ 40,000, of which $ 25,000 is preferred and $ 15,000 is common stock.

RESOLVED, SECOND, that the Articles of Incorporation be amended by ~~striking out Article~~ adding a Section thereto to be designated as Article Six as follows:

"The Board of Directors shall consist of such number of shareholders, not less than five nor more than twenty-five, as from time to time shall be determined by a majority of the votes to which all shareholders are at the time entitled. A majority of the Board of Directors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business."

RESOLVED, THIRD, that the Articles of Incorporation be further amended by striking out Articles Two and inserting in the place thereof the following:

(1) Amount, classes, and shares of capital stock.—The amount of capital stock of the Corporation shall be $ 40,000 divided into classes and shares as follows:

(a) $ 25,000 par value of preferred stock (subject to retirement as hereinafter provided) divided into 200 shares of the par value of $ 125.00 each; and

(4) The per share par value of the preferred stock will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

(b) $ 15,000 par value of common stock (subject to increase upon retirement of preferred stock as provided in the second and third paragraphs of section 4 of this Article) divided into 150 shares of the par value of $ 100.00 each.

(2) Assessability of stock.—The holders of preferred stock shall not be held individually responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts, or engagements of the Corporation, and shall not be liable for assessments to restore impairments in the capital of the Corporation.

(3) Dividends on preferred stock.—The holders of preferred stock, in preference to the holders of common stock, shall be entitled to receive, when and as declared by the Board of Directors, out of net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this Article Two) accruing after January 17th 1935 (2), (hereinafter referred to as the "Recapitalization Date"), cash dividends thereon to and including March 31, 1935, at the rate of four percent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter at the rate of five percent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more. Such dividends shall be payable semi-annually on each February 1 and August 1, and shall accrue, as to any given share of such stock, from the date of issuance of such share; provided, however, that, in the case of any share of such stock issued after August 1st 1935, (3), such dividends shall accrue on such share from the February 1 or August 1, as the case may be, next preceding the date of issuance thereof. Such dividends shall be cumulative so that if dividends at the full rate required by this section 3 to be paid on the preferred stock shall not have been paid upon or declared and set apart for such preferred stock, the deficiency shall be fully paid or declared and set apart before any dividend or other distribution, whether in cash, property, stock, or otherwise, shall be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock. Dividends on the preferred stock shall be deemed to accrue from day to day.

(4) Dividends on common stock.—Dividends or other distributions, whether in cash, property, stock or otherwise, shall, so long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, be declared, ordered, set apart, paid or made in respect of the common stock only out of the net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this Article Two) accruing after the Recapitalization Date.

If any call or purchase for retirement of preferred stock pursuant to the provisions of sections 8 or 9 of this Article Two would reduce the outstanding capital of the Corporation below the minimum amount at the time required by law, the Board of Directors, prior to or simultaneously with such retirement, shall declare on the common stock out of net profits of the Corporation accruing after the Recapitalization Date, a dividend in an amount equal to the sum required to maintain the capital of the Corporation at such minimum amount after giving effect to such retirement, such dividend to be payable in shares of common stock which shall be issued (without any action on the part of the holders of stock of any class or on the part of the Superintendent of Banks) pro rata to the holders of common stock.

(2) Insert date on which Articles of Incorporation amended by shareholders.

(2) Insert the February 1 or August 1 next succeeding the proposed date of purchase of preferred stock.

(5) Determination of net profits.—For the purpose of this Article Two, the net profits or net loss (as distinguished from usage of term "net profits" and "net loss" in reports required by the Superintendent of Banks) of the Corporation shall be determined for each six months' period ending on December 31 or June 30 by deducting from the gross earnings from all sources for such period:

(a) All expenses for such period;
(b) All interest accrued during such period;
(c) All losses determined during such period, and such charge-offs and write-downs of assets and transfers to reserves (whether from income, undivided profits or surplus) for such period (including all charge-offs, write-downs and transfers to reserves requested by the Superintendent of Banks for such period) as may be reasonably necessary to make proper provision for doubtful assets, depreciation, and undetermined losses, but to the extent only that such losses, determined or undetermined, charge-offs, and write-downs of assets exceed reserves previously set up therefor in such period or any prior period, or available unallocated reserves;

(d) Provision for all taxes for such period, including taxes measured by income and taxes based on the ownership of stock in the Corporation paid or payable by the Corporation for the account of its shareholders, without prejudice to such right as the Corporation may have to recover the same;

(e) Such transfers for such period to surplus as may be required by law; provided, however, that transfers to earned surplus as required by section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, shall not be deducted from gross earnings in determining net profits available for the dividend and retirement requirements of the preferred stock; and

(f) The net loss, if any, determined in accordance with the provisions of this section 5, accrued since the Recapitalization Date, accumulated to and existing at the beginning of such period; provided, however, that no deductions from gross earnings for the six months' period ending January 30th 1935 (4), shall be required by reason of any charge-offs or write-downs of assets or transfers to reserves made during said period on account of losses sustained on or prior to the Recapitalization Date.

All recoveries over net book value on assets previously charged off or written down or against which reserves have been set up, and all transfers from reserves to surplus or undivided profits (other than transfers made to reflect recoveries already treated as gross earnings) shall be considered gross earnings for the respective periods during which such recoveries or transfers are effected.

(6) Application of net profits.—As long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding the Corporation, on each February 1 and August 1, shall apply the net profits of the Corporation for the six months' period ending on the next preceding December 31 and June 30, as the case may be, to the following purposes and in the following order of priority:

(a) To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock accrued to such February 1 or August 1, as the case may be;

(4) Insert June 30 or December 31 next succeeding the Recapitalization Date.

(b) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this Article Two) of a sum equal to forty per cent of the remainder, if any, of such net profits; provided, however, that the aggregate amount paid into the preferred stock retirement fund in any one year need not exceed five per cent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding, whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever; provided, further, however, that unless otherwise elected, from time to time, by the Corporation by action of its Board of Directors, it shall not be required to make such payment into the preferred stock retirement fund except from such net profits as may have accrued from and after December 31, 1935;

Subject to compliance with the provisions of Section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, any balance of net profits for any such period may be applied from time to time to such lawful purposes as may be determined by the Board of Directors, subject, however, to the provisions of section 7 of this Article Two.

(7) Limitations on retirement of stock.—Except with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks no preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement by the Corporation unless the then unimpaired capital, surplus and undivided profits of the Corporation, and the retirement funds provided for herein (after giving effect to the proceeds of the issuance of any stock issued to provide funds for such retirement) exceed $ 44,000 (5) by an amount at least equal to the sum necessary to effect such retirement. No shares of preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement unless all accrued dividends (whether or not earned or declared) to the dividend payment date next preceding the date of such retirement shall have been paid on all shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(8) Retirement of preferred stock by purchase.—Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article Two, whenever the balance in the preferred stock retirement fund shall amount to as much as $ 1,000 (6), the Corporation shall (unless the Board of Directors shall elect to use the entire amount of such balance in the preferred stock retirement fund for the retirement of preferred stock by call as provided in section 9 hereof) within ten days thereafter mail, first-class postage prepaid, to all holders of record of preferred stock at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice specifying the balance in such fund and stating that the same is available for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock at the lowest prices (not in excess of the par value thereof and accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, to the date of purchase) offered within twenty days after the date of such notice. At the expiration of such twenty days, the Corporation shall apply such balance to the purchase for retirement of preferred stock, if obtainable, in accordance with the terms of such notice. Within ten days after such expiration, subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article Two, the Corporation shall call for retirement, in the manner provided in section 9 hereof, the largest number of shares of preferred stock which can be retired from the balance in such retirement fund remaining after deducting the amount paid or to be paid for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock as aforesaid, and shall set aside from such retirement fund the sum necessary to effect such retirement, but the minimum capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law.

(5) This figure, representing approximately the unimpaired capital structure of the Corporation after giving effect to the issue of the preferred stock, will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation prior to the purchase of the preferred stock.

(6) This figure will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article Two, at any time and from time to time the Corporation may make such lawful transfers from its surplus and/or undivided profits to the preferred stock retirement fund as the Board of Directors may determine. All shares of preferred stock purchased for retirement by the Corporation, whether from the retirement fund or otherwise, shall be cancelled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(9) Retirement of preferred stock by call.—Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article Two, the Corporation may at any time, at its election as expressed by resolution of the Board of Directors, retire the outstanding preferred stock as a whole, or from time to time in part, pro rata, or by lot in such equitable manner to carry out the purpose of this section 9 as the Board of Directors of the Corporation in its discretion shall from time to time determine, and provided always that the capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount required by law, by paying for each share to be retired a retirement price equal to the par value thereof plus all accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of such retirement. At least thirty days prior written notice of every such retirement, stating the retirement date and the retirement price, and the place of payment thereof, shall be mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to the holder of record of each share to be retired, at the address of such holder as shown on the books of the Corporation. Such notice having been so mailed, each holder of shares so called for retirement shall be entitled to receive payment of the retirement price of such shares (without interest) upon surrender to the Corporation, on or after the retirement date, at the place designated in such notice, of the certificate or certificates therefor in transferable form and, if required, properly stamped for transfer. In case less than all of the shares represented by any such certificate are retired, a new certificate shall be issued representing the unretired shares. From and after the retirement date (unless the Corporation shall default in payment of the retirement price), all dividends on shares called for retirement shall cease to accrue, such shares shall be deemed to be no longer outstanding, and all rights of the holders thereof as shareholders of the Corporation, except the right to receive the retirement price, shall terminate. All shares so retired shall be cancelled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(10) Increase or decrease of capital stock; Amendments of Articles of Incorporation, etc.—By the affirmative vote of the holders, voting by classes, of at least two-thirds of the shares of each class of stock at the time outstanding, and not otherwise, and subject to such approval by the Superintendent of Banks and such other conditions as at the time may be required by law—

(a) The capital stock of the Corporation may be increased at any time and from time to time through issuing additional shares of preferred stock and/or common stock, and/or through the creation of one or more additional classes of stock; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of preferred stock shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock if the entire proceeds of such issue are to be used for the retirement of shares of preferred stock; and provided further, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock as a stock

dividend, pursuant to the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article Two in connection with the retirement of shares of preferred stock;

(b) The capital stock of the Corporation may be decreased at any time and from time to time to any amount not below the amount at the time required by law; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to the retirement of preferred stock;

(c) The name of the Corporation and/or the place where its operations of discount and deposit are to be carried on may be changed, but this clause shall not be construed to abridge the powers of the Board of Directors under applicable law with reference to the establishment or change of location or closing of branches;

(d) These Articles of Incorporation may be amended at any time and from time to time in any other respect, but not so as to change the respective voting rights of the preferred stock and common stock so long as any of the preferred stock remains outstanding;

(e) The Corporation may be consolidated or merged into or with any other bank;

RECORD OF CHARTERS 34-35--STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

(f) All or substantially all of the assets and business of the Corporation may be sold or otherwise disposed of;
 (g) The Corporation may go into voluntary liquidation; and
 (h) Any plan or reorganization of the Corporation may be carried into effect—
 Provided, however, that if and as long as the voting rights of the preferred stock are increased in accordance with the provisions of sections 12 or 13 of this Article, the fair value of the assets of the Corporation as determined by the Superintendent of Banks shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding, any of the actions specified in the foregoing paragraphs (a) to (h) inclusive, of this section 10 may be taken by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled, and not otherwise, except that the Corporation may not be put into voluntary liquidation without the approval of the Superintendent of Banks.

(11) Preemptive rights.—In case of any increase in the capital stock of the Corporation of any class other than by way of a stock dividend, the new shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all shares of stock of that class at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of shares of that class held by them respectively, by mailing, first-class postage prepaid, to such holders, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, transferable subscription warrants exercisable at any time on or before thirty days from the date of such mailing. If at the expiration of such subscription rights, any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all other shares of stock of all other classes at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of such shares held by them respectively, and notice shall be given as above provided. If at the expiration of both of such subscription rights any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such unsubscribed new shares may be issued and sold at such price, not less than the par value thereof, to such persons and on such terms as the Board of Directors may determine.

(12) Voting rights.—(a) Except as otherwise provided in sections 10 and 13 of this Article, and in this section 12, each holder of stock of any class shall be entitled to vote on all matters one vote for each share of stock of any class held by him.
 (b) In all elections of directors, each holder of stock of any class shall have the right to vote the votes allocable to the number of shares owned by him for as many persons as there are directors to be elected, or to cumulate such votes and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of votes allocable to his shares shall equal, or to distribute such votes on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall think fit.
 (c) In case as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock shall be in arrears (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock), then, and until all arrears of dividends upon the preferred stock shall have been paid and the full dividend on the outstanding preferred stock for the then current semi-annual dividend period shall have been declared and funds set apart for the payment thereof, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.
 (d) At any time while the votes of the preferred stock are increased as provided in paragraph (c) of this section 12 or in sub-paragraph (2) of section 13 of this Article, any one or more of the directors, officers, or employees of the Corporation, may be removed at any annual or special meeting of shareholders, for or without cause, and those shareholders elected, by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled.

(13) Other voting rights.—If at any time while the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall hold not less than twenty-five per cent of the total number of shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding—
 (a) The Corporation shall be in arrears in the payment of as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock); or
 (b) The amounts paid into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this Article) on and after February 1, 1937, shall not have amounted to the aggregate to five per cent of the maximum par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding (whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever) multiplied by the number of calendar years which shall have elapsed since January 1, 1934; or
 (c) The fair value of the assets of the banking corporation as determined by an examination of the banking corporation by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (which may be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation once in each calendar year if the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall so elect), or as determined by the Superintendent of Banks, shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding; or
 (d) The Corporation shall violate or fail to observe any of the terms, provisions, or conditions of its Articles of Incorporation—
 then after written notice from Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the existence of any of said conditions and so long as any of said conditions in (a), (b), (c) and (d) above shall continue:

(1) All directors, officers, and employees of the Corporation shall receive compensation at rates not exceeding such maximum limitations as may be fixed by the vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.
 (2) In case Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks, at any time shall notify the Corporation that any director, officer or employee of the Corporation is regarded by Reconstruction Finance Corporation as unsatisfactory, and in case such director, officer, or employee is not removed from office (and, if requested by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, replaced with a director, officer, or employee, satisfactory to it) within thirty days after receipt by the Corporation of such notice, then and until such removal and replacement shall have been effected, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.
 (3) The Corporation shall not directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire any real estate for its own use, or lease any real estate for its own use for a term longer than one year, without in each case the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, or a written waiver of voting rights in respect thereof by the holders of such majority; provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to real estate acquired under the provisions of subdivisions 2 and 3 of Section 53 of Senate Bill 227, Laws of 1934.
 (4) The Corporation shall not incur indebtedness maturing more than one year from the creation thereof, without the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding or a written waiver of voting rights with respect thereto by the holders of such majority, but the indebtedness herein referred to shall not be construed to include the issuance of circulating notes and the acceptance of time deposits, which may continue to be accepted by the Corporation, under such conditions as may be provided by law.
 (14) Rights of preferred stock on liquidation.—In the event of any receivership, conservatorship, liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, before any payment or other distribution, whether in cash, property, or otherwise shall be made to the holders of common stock, the holders of preferred stock shall be entitled to receive, for each share of such stock held by them, an amount equal to the par value thereof, plus an amount equal to all unpaid dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of payment, but shall not be entitled to any other or further payment; provided, however, that a merger or consolidation in accordance with law and these Articles of Incorporation, shall not be deemed a liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation within the meaning of this section 14.

(a) Officers.—The Board of Directors shall elect one of its members President of the Corporation. The Board may designate a director in lieu of the President to be Chairman of the Board, who shall perform such duties as may be designated by the Board. The directors shall have power to elect one or more Vice-Presidents, at least one of whom shall also be a member of the Board of Directors, and who shall be authorized, in the absence or inability of the President from any cause, to perform all acts and duties pertaining to the office of president except such as the President only is authorized by law to perform; and to elect or appoint a Cashier, and such other officers and clerks as may be required to transact the business of the Corporation; and, subject to the provisions of sub-paragraphs (1) and (2) of section 13 of Article 12 hereof, to fix the salaries to be paid to them, and to continue them in office or to dismiss them as in the opinion of a majority of the Board the interests of the Corporation may demand.

(b) Powers of Board of Directors.—The Board of Directors shall have the power to define the duties of the officers and clerks of the Corporation, to require bonds from them, and to fix the penalty thereof; to regulate the manner in which election of directors shall be held and to appoint judges of the elections; to make all by-laws that it may be proper for them to make, not inconsistent with law and these Articles of Incorporation, for the general regulation of the business of the Corporation and the management of its affairs, and generally to do and perform all acts that it may be legal for a board of directors to do and perform according to law and within the limits of these Articles of Incorporation.

Special meetings of shareholders.—Except as otherwise specifically provided by statute, special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose at any time by the Board of Directors or by the holders of at least ten per cent of the then outstanding shares of any class. Every such special meeting shall be called by mailing, not less than ten days before the time fixed for the meeting, to all shareholders of record entitled to act and vote at such meeting, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice stating the purpose of the meeting. Such notice may be waived in writing.

RESOLVED, FOURTH, that each shareholder of record may subscribe within five days from and after the date of this meeting to such issue of preferred stock in proportion to the number of shares of common stock of the Corporation standing on the books of the Corporation in his name; and

SUGGESTED FORM OF SHAREHOLDERS' RESOLUTION TO REDUCE COMMON CAPITAL STOCK AND TO REVISE DIVIDEND RATES OF PREFERRED STOCK RESOLUTION TO REDUCE COMMON CAPITAL STOCK AND REVISE DIVIDED RATES ON PREFERRED STOCK OF BANK OF QUITMAN, QUITMAN, MISSISSIPPI

RESOLVED FIRST, that the common capital stock of this Corporation be reduced ⁱⁿ to the sum of $15,000, leaving the total common capital, after said reduction, $5,000, when approved by the Superintendent of Banks of Mississippi.

RESOLVED SECOND, that the par value of the common capital stock of this Corporation be changed from $100 to $50 per share.

RESOLVED THIRD, that this Corporation make, and that it be a condition of the aforesaid reduction that this Corporation make no distribution of cash or any other assets to the shareholders on account of such reduction of the common capital stock of the Corporation, but that the amount by which the common capital stock is reduced as result of said reduction shall be used to charge off or write down losses, sub-standard and/or non-acceptable assets and/or shall be transferred to surplus, undivided profits or reserves in accordance with the requirements of the Superintendent of Banks of Mississippi.

RESOLVED FOURTH, that the Articles of Incorporation be amended by striking out sections (1), (3), (6), (7) and (13) of Article 3 and inserting in the place thereof the following;

"(1) Amount, classes and shares of capital stock. The amount of capital stock of the Corporation shall be $30,000, divided into classes and shares as follows: "(a) $25,000 par value of preferred stock (subject to retirement as hereinafter provided) divided into 400 shares of the par value of $62.50 each, and "(b) $5,000 par value of common stock as provided in the second paragraph of section (4) of this Article 3) divided into 100 shares of the par value of $50 each."

"(3) Dividends on preferred stock. The holders of preferred stock in preference to the holders of common stock, shall be entitled to receive, when and as declared by the Board of Directors out of net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section (5) of this Article 3) accruing after October 16, 1934 (hereinafter referred to as the "Recapitalization Date"), cash dividends thereon to and including January 31, 1935, at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter to and including January 31, 1940, at the rate of three and one-half per cent, per annum of the par value thereof and no more, and thereafter at the rate of four per cent, per annum of the par value thereof, and no more. Such dividends shall be payable semiannually on each February 1 and August 1, and shall accrue, as to any given share of such stock from the date of issuance of such share. Such dividends shall be cumulative, so that if dividends at the full rates per annum required by this section (3) to be paid on the preferred stock shall not have been paid upon or declared and set apart for such stock, the deficiency shall be fully paid or declared and set apart before any dividend or other distribution, whether in cash, property, stock or otherwise, shall be declared, ordered, set apart, paid or made in respect of the common stock. Dividends on the preferred stock shall be deemed to accrue from day to day.

"(6) Application of net profits. As long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, the Corporation, on each February 1 and August 1 (except that, as provided in paragraph (b) hereof, no payments shall be required pursuant to the provisions of such paragraph prior to August 1, 1936), shall apply the net profits of the Corporation for the six months' period ending on the next preceeding December 31, or June 30, as the case may be, to the following purposes and in the following order of priority:

(a) To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock accrued to such February 1 or August 1, as the case may be;

(b) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section (8) of this Article 3) on August 1, 1936, of a sum equal to three-quarters of one per cent, of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each August 1 and February 1 thereafter, to and including February 1, 1940 of a sum equal to one-quarter of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter of a sum equal to one-half of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding. In the event that the net profits of the Corporation shall on any such February 1 or August 1 be insufficient to permit the payment into such preferred stock retirement fund of the full amount hereinabove provided for, the deficiency shall be fully paid before any net profits of the Corporation shall be thereafter applied to any of the purposes herein-after specified in this section (6).

(c) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section (8) of this Article 3) of a sum equal to forty per cent of the remainder, if any, of such net profits: provided, however, that the aggregate amount paid into the preferred stock retirement fund in any one year in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph (c) need not exceed five per cent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding, whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever: Provided further, however, that unless otherwise elected, from time to time, by the Corporation by action of its Board of Directors, it shall not be required to make such payment into the preferred stock retirement fund required by this paragraph (c) except from such net profits as may have accrued from and after December 31, 1935;

Subject to compliance with the provisions of Section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, any balance of net profits for any such period may be applied from time to time to such lawful purposes as may be determined by the Board of Directors, subject, however, to the provisions of section (7) of this Article 3.

"(7) Limitations on retirement of stock. Except with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks no preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement by the Corporation unless the then unimpaired capital, surplus and undivided profits of the Corporation, and the retirement funds provided for herein (after giving effect to the proceeds of the issuance of any stock issued to provide funds for such retirement) exceed $30,000 by an amount at least equal to the sum necessary to effect such retirement. No shares of preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement unless all accrued dividends (whether or not earned or declared) to the dividend payment date next preceeding the date of such retirement shall have been paid on all shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding."

"(13) Other voting rights. If at any time while the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall hold not less than twenty-five per cent of the total number of shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding--

(a) The Corporation shall be in arrears in the payment of as many as two semiannual ^{dividend} payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock); or (b) The amounts paid into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section (8) of this Article 3) in accordance with the requirements of paragraph (c) of section (6) of this Article 3 on and after February 1, 1937, shall not have amounted in the aggregate to five per cent, of the maximum par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding (whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever) multiplied by the number of calendar years which shall have elapsed since January 1, 1936; or (c) The fair value of the assets of the banking corporation as determined by an examination of the banking corporation by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (which may be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation once in each calendar year if the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall so elect), or as determined by the Superintendent of Banks, shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding; or (d) The Corporation shall violate or fail to observe any of the terms, provisions, or conditions of its Articles of Incorporation--then after written notice from Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the existence of any of said conditions and so long as any of said conditions in (a), (b), (c) and (d) above shall continue:

(1) All directors, officers, and employees of the Corporation shall receive compensation at rates not exceeding such maximum limitations as may be fixed by the vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(2) In case Reconstruction Finance Corporation with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks, at any time shall notify the Corporation that any director, officer or employee of the Corporation is regarded by Reconstruction Finance Corporation as unsatisfactory, and in case such director, officer, or employee is not removed from office (and, if requested by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, replaced with a director, officer, or employee, satisfactory to it) within thirty days after receipt by the Corporation of such notice, then, and until such removal and replacement shall have been effected, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled,

(3) The Corporation shall not directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire any real ~~estate~~ estate for its own use, or lease any real estate for its own use for a term longer than one year, without in each case the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, or a written waiver of voting rights in respect thereto by the holders of such majority; provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to real estate acquired under the provisions of subdivisions 2 and 3 of Section 53 of Senate Bill 227, Laws of 1934.

(4) The Corporation shall not incur indebtedness maturing more than one year from the creation thereof, without the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding or a written waiver of voting rights with respect thereto by the holders of such majority but the indebtedness herein referred to shall not be construed to include the issuance of circulating notes and the acceptance of time deposits, which may continue to be accepted by the Corporation under such conditions as may be provided by law.

At a Special meeting of the shareholders of Bank of Quitman, Quitman, Mississippi, held on March 12th, 1935, Nineteen days' notice of the proposed business having been given by Registered mail, all of the foregoing resolutions were adopted by the following vote,--the affirmative vote representing One hundred per cent of the total number of shares of common stock outstanding and One hundred per cent of the total number of shares of preferred stock outstanding. Total number of shares of preferred stock outstanding 400. Total number of shares of preferred stock represented at the meeting 400. Total number of shares of preferred stock voted in favor of the resolutions 400. Total number of shares of preferred stock voted against the resolutions None. Total number of shares of common stock outstanding 200. Total number of shares of common stock represented at the meeting 200. Total number of shares of common stock voted ~~against the resolutions 200~~ in favor of the resolutions 200. Total number of shares of common stock voted against the resolutions None.

I hereby certify that this is a true and correct report (a) of the number of days' notice, given by registered mail, of the meeting of shareholders of this bank held on the date above mentioned; (b) of the vote and (c) of the resolutions adopted at said meeting and (d) that a complete list of the shareholders voting therefor and the number of shares voted by each is on file in the bank; (e) that no shares of stock of this bank owned by this bank were voted at said meeting; (f) that no shares of stock held by this bank as sole trustee were voted at said meeting; and (g) that no shares of stock of this bank held by this bank as co-trustee were voted at said meeting by this bank; and (h) that no director, other officer or employee acted as proxy at said meeting.

Executive Office,
Jackson,

The within and foregoing Amendment to the Charter of Incorporation of BANK OF QUITMAN is hereby approved.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Mississippi to be affixed, this 1st day of April, 1935. By the Governor Sennett Conner, Governor. Walker Wood, Secretary of State.

RECORDED: April 6, 1935.

TUCKER PRINTING HOUSE JACKSON MISS

SUGGESTED FORM OF AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION FOR CONTINUING
MISSISSIPPI STATE BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES ISSUING
ONE CLASS OF PREFERRED STOCK.

Proposed Amendments to Articles of Incorporation of Merchants and Farmers Bank, Starkville, Oktibbeha, Mississippi.

(County) (State)

Resolved First, That the capital of this Corporation be increased in the sum of $50,000.00, by the issuance of $50,000.00 of preferred stock under the provisions of Section 52 of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, making the total capital of the Corporation $65,000.00, of which $50,000.00 is preferred and $15,000.00 is common stock.

Resolved Second, That the Articles of Incorporation be amended by striking out Article ____ and inserting in place thereof the following:

"The Board of Directors shall consist of such number of shareholders, not less than five nor more than twenty-five, as from time to time shall be determined by a majority of the votes to which all shareholders are at the time entitled. A majority of the Board of Directors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business."

Resolved Third, That the Articles of Incorporation be further amended by striking out Article ____ and inserting in the place thereof the following:

(1) Amount, classes, and shares of capital stock.-- The amount of capital stock of the Corporation shall be $65,000.00 divided into classes and shares as follows:

(a) $50,000.00 par value of preferred stock (subject to retirement as hereinafter provided) divided into 800 shares of the par value of $62.50 (1) each; and (b) $15,000.00 par value of common stock (subject to increase upon retirement of preferred stock as provided in the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article ____) divided into 250 shares of the par value of $60.00 each

(3) Dividends on preferred stock.-- The holders of preferred stock, in preference to the holders of common stock, shall be entitled to receive, when and as declared by the Board of Directors, out of net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this article ____) accruing after ____ , 193__ (2) (hereinafter referred to as the "Recapitalization Date"), cash dividends thereon to and including January 31, 1935, at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter to and including January 31, 1940, at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more. Such dividends shall be payable semi-annually on each February 1 and August 1, and shall accrue, as to any given share of such stock, from the date of issuance of such share. Such dividends shall be cumulative, so that if dividends at the full rates required by this section 3 to be paid on the preferred stock shall not have been paid upon or declared and set apart for such preferred stock, the deficiency shall be fully paid or declared and set apart before any dividend or other distribution, whether in cash, property, stock, or otherwise, shall be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock. Dividends on the preferred stock shall be deemed to accrue from day to day.

(4) Dividends on common stock.-- Dividends or other distributions whether in cash, property, stock or otherwise, shall, so long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock only out of the net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this article ____) accruing after the Recapitalization Date.

If any retirement of preferred stock would decrease the outstanding capital of the Corporation below the minimum amount required by law, the Board of Directors, prior to or simultaneously with such retirement, shall transfer an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired from reserves set up for the retirement of preferred stock to a special reserve fund, for the payment of common stock dividends, and shall declare on the common stock out of such special reserve fund, a dividend payable in common stock in an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired, and the shares of common stock required for the payment of any such stock dividend shall be issuable without any further vote on the part of the holders of stock of any class or any further approval on the part of the State Comptroller.

(5) Determination of net profits.-- For the purpose of this article ____, the net profits or net loss (as distinguished from usage of terms "net profits" and "net loss" in reports required by the State Comptroller of the Corporation shall be determined for each six months' period ending on December 31 or June 30 by deducting from the gross earnings from all sources for such period: (a) All expenses for such period; (b) All interest accrued during such period; (c) All losses determined during such period, and such charge-offs and write-downs of assets and transfers to reserves (whether from income, undivided profits or surplus) for such period (including all charge-offs, write-downs and transfers to reserves requested by the State Comptroller for such period) as may be reasonably necessary to make proper provision for doubtful assets, depreciation, and undetermined losses, but to the extent only that such losses, determined or undetermined, charge-offs, and write-downs of assets exceed reserves previously set up therefor in such period or any prior period, or available unallocated reserves; (d) Provision for all taxes for such period, including taxes measured by income and taxes based on the ownership of stock in the Corporation paid or payable by the Corporation for the account of its shareholders, without prejudice to such right as the Corporation may have to recover the same; (e) Such transfers for such period to surplus as may be required by law; provided, however, that transfers to earned surplus as required by section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, shall not be deducted from gross earnings in determining net profits available for the dividend and retirement requirements of the preferred stock; and (f) The net loss, if any, determined in accordance with the provisions of this section 5, accrued since the Recapitalization Date, accumulated to and existing at the beginning of such period; provided, however, that no deductions from gross earnings for the six months' period ending ____, 193__(3) need be made by reason of any charge-offs or write-downs of assets or transfers to reserves required by the State Comptroller and approved in writing by Reconstruction Finance Corporation made on account of loss incurred prior to or depreciation in assets existing at the Recapitalization Date.

All recoveries over net book value on assets previously charged off or written down or against which reserves have been set up, and all transfers from reserves to surplus or undivided profits (other than transfers made to reflect recoveries already treated as gross earnings), shall be considered gross earnings for the respective periods during which such recoveries or transfers are effected.

(6) Application of net profits.-- As long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, the Corporation, on each February 1 and August 1 (except that, as provided in paragraph (b) hereof, no payments shall be required pursuant to the provisions of such paragraph prior to August 1, 1936), shall apply the net profits of the Corporation for the six months' period ending on the next preceding December 31 or June 30, as the case may be, to the following purposes and in the following order of priority:

(a) To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock accrued to such February 1 or August 1, as the case may be. (b) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article) on August 1, 1936, of a sum equal to three-quarters of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1, thereafter, to and including February 1, 1940, of a sum equal to one-quarter of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter of a sum equal to one-half of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding. In the event that the net profits of the Corporation shall on any such February 1 or August 1 be insufficient to permit the payment into such preferred stock retirement fund of the full amount hereinabove provided for, the deficiency shall be fully paid before any net profits of the Corporation shall be thereafter applied to any of the purposes hereinafter specified in this section 6. (c) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article) of a sum equal to forty per cent of the remainder, if any, of such net profits: Provided, however, That the aggregate amount paid into the preferred stock retirement fund in any one year in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph (c) need not exceed five per cent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding, whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever: Provided, further, however, That unless otherwise elected, from time to time, by the Corporation by action of its Board of Directors, it shall not be required to make such payment into the preferred stock retirement fund required by this paragraph (c) except from such net profits as may have accrued from and after December 31, 1935.

Subject to compliance with the provisions of section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, any balance of net profits for any such period may be applied from time to time to such lawful purposes as may be determined by the Board of Directors, subject, however, to the provisions of section 7 of this article.

(7) Limitations on retirement of stock. -- Except with the approval of the State Comptroller no preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement by the Corporation unless the then unimpaired capital, surplus and undivided profits of the Corporation, and the retirement funds provided for herein (after giving effect to the proceeds of the issuance of any stock issued to provide funds for such retirement) exceed $71,000.00 (4) as an amount at least equal to the sum necessary to effect such retirement. No shares of preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement unless all accrued dividends (whether or not earned or declared) to the dividend payment date next preceding the date of such retirement shall have been paid on all shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(8) Retirement of preferred stock by purchase.-- Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article whenever the balance in the preferred stock retirement fund shall amount to as much as $1,000.00, the Corporation shall (unless the Board of Directors shall elect to use the entire amount of such balance in the preferred stock retirement fund for the retirement of preferred stock by call as provided in section 9 hereof) within ten days thereafter mail, first class postage prepaid, to all holders of record of preferred stock at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice specifying the balance in such fund and stating that the same is available for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock at the lowest prices (not in excess of the par value thereof and accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, to the date of purchase) offered within twenty days after the date of such notice. At the expiration of such twenty days, the Corporation shall apply such balance to the purchase for retirement of preferred stock, if obtainable, in accordance with the terms of such notice. Within ten days after such expiration, subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article, the Corporation shall call for retirement, in the manner provided in section 9 hereof, the largest number of shares of preferred stock which can be retired from the balance in such retirement fund remaining after deducting the amount paid or to be paid for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock as aforesaid, and shall set aside from such retirement fund the sum necessary to effect such retirement, but the minimum capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law. Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article, at any time and from time to time the Corporation may make such lawful transfers from its surplus and/or undivided profits to the preferred stock retirement fund as the Board of Directors may determine. All shares of preferred stock purchased for retirement by the Corporation, whether from the retirement fund or otherwise, shall be cancelled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(9) Retirement of preferred stock by call.-- Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article, the Corporation may at any time, at its election as expressed by resolution of the Board of Directors, retire the outstanding preferred stock as a whole, or from time to time in part pro rata, or by lot in such equitable manner to carry out the purpose of this section 9 as the Board of Directors of the Corporation in its discretion shall from time to time determine, (and provided always that the capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law) by paying for each share to be retired a retirement price equal to the par value thereof plus all accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of such retirement.

At least thirty days prior written notice of every such retirement, stating the retirement date and the retirement price, and the place of payment thereof, shall be mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to the holder of record of each share to be retired, at the address of such holder as shown on the books of the Corporation. Such notice having been so mailed, each holder of shares so called for retirement shall be entitled to receive payment of the retirement price of such shares (without interest) upon surrender to the Corporation, on or after the retirement date, at the place designated in such notice, of the certificate or certificates therefor in transferable form and, if required, properly stamped for transfer. In case less than all of the shares represented by any such certificate are retired, a new certificate shall be issued representing the unretired shares. From and after the retirement date (unless the Corporation shall default in payment of the retirement price), all dividends on shares called for retirement shall cease to accrue, such shares shall be deemed to be no longer outstanding, and all rights of the holders thereof as shareholders of the Corporation, except the right to receive the retirement price, shall terminate. All shares so called shall be canceled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(10) Increase or decrease of capital stock: Amendments of Articles of Incorporation, etc. -- By the affirmative vote of the holders, voting by classes, of at least two-thirds of the shares of each class of stock at the time outstanding, and not otherwise, and subject to such approval by the State Comptroller and such other conditions as at the time may be required by law -- (a) The capital stock of the Corporation may be increased at any time and from time to time through issuing additional shares of preferred stock and/or common stock, and/or through the creation of one or more additional classes of stock; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of preferred stock shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock if the entire proceeds of such issue are to be used for the retirement of shares of preferred stock; and provided further, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock as a stock dividend, pursuant to the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article _____ in connection with the retirement of shares of preferred stock; (b) The capital stock of the Corporation may be decreased at any time and from time to time to any amount not below the amount at the time required by law; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to the retirement of preferred stock; (c) The name of the Corporation and/or the place where its operations of discount and deposit are to be carried on may be changed, but this clause shall not be construed to abridge the powers of the Board of Directors under applicable law with reference to the establishment or change of location or closing of branches; (d) These Articles of Incorporation may be amended at any time and from time to time in any other respect, but not so as to change the respective voting rights of the preferred stock and common stock so long as any of the preferred stock remains outstanding; (e) The Corporation may be consolidated or merged into or with any other bank, or may acquire all or substantially all of the assets and business of any banking corporation or trust company; (f) All or substantially all of the assets and business of the Corporation may be sold or otherwise disposed of; (g) The Corporation may go into voluntary liquidation; and (h) Any plan of reorganization of the Corporation may be carried into effect -- Provided, however, that if and as long as the voting rights of the preferred stock are increased in accordance with the provisions of sections 12 or 13 of this Article _____ and the fair value of the assets of the Corporation as determined by the State Comptroller shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding, and of the actions specified in the foregoing paragraphs (a) to (h) inclusive, of this section 10 may be taken by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled, and not otherwise, except that the Corporation may not be put into voluntary liquidation without the approval of the State Comptroller.

(11) Preemptive rights. -- In case of any increase in the capital stock of the Corporation of any class other than by way of a stock dividend, the new shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all shares of stock of that class as the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of shares of such stock of that class held by them respectively, by mailing, first-class postage prepaid, to such holders, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, transferable subscription warrants exercisable at any time on or before thirty days from the date of such mailing. If at the expiration of such subscription rights, any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all other shares of stock of all other classes as the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of such shares held by them respectively, and notice shall be given as above provided. If at the expiration of both of such subscription rights any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such unsubscribed new shares may be issued and sold at such price, not less than the par value thereof, to such persons and on such terms as the Board of Directors may determine.

(12) Voting rights. -- (a) Except as otherwise provided in sections 10 and 13 of this article _____ and in this section 12, each holder of stock of any class shall be entitled to vote on all matters one vote for each share of such stock of any class held by him. (b) In all elections of directors, each holder of stock of any class shall have the right to vote the votes allocable to the number of shares owned by him for as many persons as there are directors to be elected, or to cumulate such votes and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of votes allocable to his shares shall equal, or to distribute such votes on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall think fit. (c) In case as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock shall be in arrears (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock) then and until all arrears of dividends upon the preferred stock shall have been paid and the full dividend on the outstanding preferred stock for the then current semi-annual dividend period shall have been declared and funds set apart for the payment thereof, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled. (d) At any time while the votes of the preferred stock are increased as provided in paragraph (c) of this section 12 or in paragraph (2) of section 13 of this article _____, any one or more of the directors, officers, or employees of the Corporation may be removed at any annual or special meeting of shareholders, for or without cause, and their successors elected, by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled.

(13) Other voting rights. -- If at any time while the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall hold not less than twenty-five per cent of the total number of shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding -- (a) The Corporation shall be in arrears in the payment of as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock); or (b) The amounts paid into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article _____) in accordance with the requirements of paragraph (c) of section 6 of this article _____ on and after February 1, 1937, shall not have amounted in the aggregate to five per cent of the maximum par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding (whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever) multiplied by the number of calendar years which shall have elapsed since January 1, 1936; or (c) The fair value of the assets of the banking corporation as determined by an examination of the banking corporation by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (which may be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation once in each calendar year if the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall so elect), or as determined by the State Comptroller, shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding; or (d) The Corporation shall violate or fail to observe any of the terms, provisions, or conditions of its Articles of Incorporation -- then after written notice from Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the existence of any of said conditions and so long as any of said conditions in (a), (b), (c) and (d) above shall continue:

(1) All directors, officers, and employees of the Corporation shall receive compensation at rates not exceeding such maximum limitations as may be fixed by the vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(2) In case Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with the approval of the State Comptroller, at any time shall notify the Corporation that any director, officer or employee of the Corporation is regarded by Reconstruction Finance Corporation as unsatisfactory, and in case such director, officer, or employee is not removed from office (and, if requested by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, replaced with a director, officer, or employee satisfactory to it) within thirty days after receipt by the Corporation of such notice, then, and until such removal and replacement shall have been effected, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(3) The Corporation shall not directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire any real estate for its own use, or lease any real estate for its own use for a term longer than one year, without in each case the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, or a written waiver of voting rights in respect thereto by the holders of such majority; provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to real estate acquired under the provisions of sub-division 2 and 3 of Section 53 of Senate Bill 227, Laws of 1934.

(4) The Corporation shall not incur indebtedness maturing more than one year from the creation thereof without the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding or a written waiver of voting rights with respect thereto by the holders of such majority, but the indebtedness herein referred to shall not be construed to include the issuance of circulating notes and the acceptance of time deposits, which may continue to be accepted by the Corporation under such conditions as may be approved by law.

(14) Rights of preferred stock on liquidation. -- In the event of any receivership, conservatorship, liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, before any payment or other distribution, whether in cash, property, or otherwise shall be made to the holders of common stock, the holders of preferred stock shall be entitled to receive, for each share of such stock held by them, an amount equal to the par value thereof, plus an amount equal to all unpaid dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of payment, but shall not be entitled to any other or further payment; provided, however, that a merger or consolidation in accordance with law and these Articles of Incorporation, shall not be deemed a liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation within the meaning of this section 14.

(a) Officers. -- The Board of Directors shall elect one of its members President of the Corporation. The Board may designate a director in lieu of the President to be Chairman of the Board, who shall perform such duties as may be designated by the Board. The directors shall have power to elect one or more Vice Presidents, at least one of whom shall also be a member of the Board of Directors, and who shall be authorized, in the absence or inability of the President from any cause, to perform all acts and duties pertaining to the office of president except such as the President only is authorized by law to perform; and to elect or appoint a Cashier, and such other officers and clerks as may be required to transact the business of the Corporation; and subject to the provisions of sub-paragraph (1) and (2) of section 13 of article _____ hereof, to fix the salaries to be paid to them, and to continue them in office or to dismiss them as in the opinion of a majority of the Board the interests of the Corporation may demand;

(b) Powers of Board of Directors. -- The Board of Directors shall have the power to define the duties of the officers and clerks of the Corporation, to require bonds from them, and to fix the penalty thereof; to regulate the manner in which election of directors shall be held and to appoint judges of the elections; to make all by-laws that it may be proper for them to make, not inconsistent with law and these Articles of Incorporation, for the general regulation of the business of the Corporation and the management of its affairs, and generally to do and perform all acts that it may be legal for a board of directors to do and perform according to law and within the limits of these Articles of Incorporation.

(c) Special meetings of shareholders. -- Except as otherwise specifically provided by statute, special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose at any time by the Board of Directors or by the holders of at least ten per cent of the then outstanding shares of any class. Every such special meeting shall be called by mailing, not less than ten days before the time fixed for the meeting, to all shareholders of record entitled to act and vote at such meeting, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice stating the purpose of the meeting. Such notice may be waived in writing.

Resolved Fourth, That each shareholder of record may subscribe within five days from and after the date of this meeting to such issue of preferred stock in proportion to the number of shares of common stock of the Corporation standing on the books of the Corporation in his name; and

Resolved Fifth, That the Board of Directors through its proper officers, at the expiration of the said five days, shall sell the unsubscribed portion of such preferred stock at such price (not less than the par value thereof) to Reconstruction Finance Corporation and/or to such other person or persons as the Board of Directors may deem advisable.

Minutes of a Meeting of the Alabama-Mississippi Adventist Religious Society.

At a regular meeting of the Alabama-Mississippi Adventist Religious Society, held in the President's office of the Mississippi Alabama-Mississippi Conference of Seventh Day Adventists, in Meridian, Mississippi, April 1st, 1935, at which meeting all of the members of the Alabama-Mississippi Adventist Religious Society were present, the following resolution was passed by said members at said meeting:

Whereas, it is the judgment of said Society that it would be to the best interest of said Society and would further the purpose of said Society to incorporate same as is provided by the laws of the State of Mississippi, and that the following named members of the said Society are duly authorized to apply for and obtain a charter as is provided for under Section 4131 of the Mississippi Code of 1930, to-wit: R. I. Keate, L. A. Butterfield, T. D. Strickland, Mrs. T. D. Strickland, Hazel King, Lois Duncan, W. R. McAnally.

That the purpose of said incorporation shall be for religious, educational, benevolent, fraternal and humane purposes, and to disseminate the doctrine of the Seventh Day Adventist Church and to do all things necessary and helpful to further the above purposes of said organization;

That said corporation shall issue no shares of stock, divide no dividends or profits among its members, shall make expulsion the only remedy for non-payment of dues, shall vest in each member the right to one vote in the election of all officers, shall make loss of membership by death or otherwise the termination of all interest of such member or members in the corporate assets; that there shall be no individual liability against the members for the corporate debts, but the entire corporate property shall be liable for the claims of the creditors.

Said above resolutions being unanimously adopted at said meeting.

R. I. Keate, President
T. D. Strickland, Secretary.
Hazel King, Treasurer.

We hereby certify that the above and foregoing is a true and correct copy of the minutes of the Alabama-Mississippi Adventist Religious Society authorizing the members of said Society named in said minutes to apply for and obtain a charter for said religious society, said minutes appearing on page 3 of Minute Book of said religious society.

This the 15th day of April, 1935.

RESOLVED, FIRST, that the capital of this Corporation be increased in the sum of $ 5,500.00 by the issuance of $ 5,500.00 of preferred stock under the provisions of Section 52 of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, making the total capital of the Corporation $ 31,500.00, of which $ 5,500.00 is preferred and $ 26,000.00 is common stock.

RESOLVED, SECOND, that the Articles of Incorporation be amended by ~~striking out Article~~ inserting therein as Seventh Article Seventh and ~~inserting in place thereof~~ the following:

"The Board of Directors shall consist of such number of shareholders, not less than five nor more than twenty-five, as from time to time shall be determined by a majority of the votes to which all shareholders are at the time entitled. A majority of the Board of Directors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business."

RESOLVED, THIRD, that the Articles of Incorporation be further amended by striking out Articles Fourth and inserting in the place thereof the following:

(1) Amount, classes, and shares of capital stock.—The amount of capital stock of the Corporation shall be $ 31,500.00 divided into classes and shares as follows:

(a) $ 5,500.00 par value of preferred stock (subject to retirement as hereinafter provided) divided into 55 shares of the par value of $ 100.00 each; and

(1) The per share par value of the preferred stock will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

(b) $ 26,000.00 par value of common stock (subject to increase upon retirement of preferred stock as provided in the second and third paragraphs of section 4 of this Article) divided into 260 shares of the par value of $ 100.00 each.

(2) Assessability of stock.—The holders of preferred stock shall not be held individually responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts, or engagements of the Corporation, and shall not be liable for assessments to restore impairments in the capital of the Corporation.

(3) Dividends on preferred stock.—The holders of preferred stock, in preference to the holders of common stock, shall be entitled to receive, when and as declared by the Board of Directors, out of net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this Article) accruing after 1934 (2), (hereinafter referred to as the "Recapitalization Date"), cash dividends thereon to and including March 31, 1935, at the rate of four percent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter at the rate of five percent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more. Such dividends shall be payable semi-annually on each February 1 and August 1, and shall accrue, as to any given share of such stock, from the date of issuance of such share; provided, however, that, in the case of any share of such stock issued after February 1, 1935 (3), such dividends shall accrue on such share from the February 1 or August 1, as the case may be, next preceding the date of issuance thereof. Such dividends shall be cumulative so that if dividends at the full rate required by this section 3 to be paid on the preferred stock shall not have been paid upon or declared and set apart for such preferred stock, the deficiency shall be fully paid or declared and set apart before any dividend or other distribution, whether in cash, property, stock, or otherwise, shall be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock. Dividends on the preferred stock shall be deemed to accrue from day to day.

(4) Dividends on common stock.—Dividends or other distributions, whether in cash, property, stock or otherwise, shall, so long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, be declared, ordered, set apart, paid or made in respect of the common stock only out of the net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this Article) accruing after the Recapitalization Date.

If any call or purchase for retirement of preferred stock pursuant to the provisions of sections 8 or 9 of this Article would reduce the outstanding capital of the Corporation below the minimum amount at the time required by law, the Board of Directors, prior to or simultaneously with such retirement, shall declare on the common stock out of net profits of the Corporation accruing after the Recapitalization Date, a dividend in an amount equal to the sum required to maintain the capital of the Corporation at such minimum amount after giving effect to such retirement, such dividend to be payable in shares of common stock which shall be issued (without any action on the part of the holders of stock of any class or on the part of the Superintendent of Banks) pro rata to the holders of common stock.

(2) Insert date on which Articles of Incorporation amended by shareholders.

(3) Insert the February 1 or August 1 next succeeding the proposed date of purchase of preferred stock.

(5) Determination of net profits.—For the purpose of this Article, the net profits or net loss (as distinguished from usage of term "net profits" and "net loss" in reports required by the Superintendent of Banks) of the Corporation shall be determined for each six months' period ending on December 31 or June 30 by deducting from the gross earnings from all sources for such period:

- (a) All expenses for such period;
- (b) All interest accrued during such period;
- (c) All losses determined during such period, and such charge-offs and write-downs of assets and transfers to reserves (whether from income, undivided profits or surplus) for such period (including all charge-offs, write-downs and transfers to reserves requested by the Superintendent of Banks for such period) as may be reasonably necessary to make proper provision for doubtful assets, depreciation, and undetermined losses, but to the extent only that such losses, determined or undetermined, charge-offs, and write-downs of assets exceed reserves previously set up therefor in such period or any prior period, or available unallocated reserves;
- (d) Provision for all taxes for such period, including taxes measured by income and taxes based on the ownership of stock in the Corporation paid or payable by the Corporation for the account of its shareholders, without prejudice to such right as the Corporation may have to recover the same;
- (e) Such transfers for such period to surplus as may be required by law; provided, however, that transfers to earned surplus as required by section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, shall not be deducted from gross earnings in determining net profits available for the dividend and retirement requirements of the preferred stock; and
- (f) The net loss, if any, determined in accordance with the provisions of this section 5, accrued since the Recapitalization Date, accumulated to and existing at the beginning of such period; provided, however, that no deductions from gross earnings for the six months' period ending 1934 (4), shall be required by reason of any charge-offs or write-downs of assets or transfers to reserves made during said period on account of losses sustained on or prior to the Recapitalization Date.

All recoveries over net book value on assets previously charged off or written down or against which reserves have been set up, and all transfers from reserves to surplus or undivided profits (other than transfers made to reflect recoveries already treated as gross earnings) shall be considered gross earnings for the respective periods during which such recoveries or transfers are effected.

(6) Application of net profits.—As long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding the Corporation, on each February 1 and August 1, shall apply the net profits of the Corporation for the six months' period ending on the next preceding December 31 and June 30, as the case may be, to the following purposes and in the following order of priority:

(a) To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock accrued to such February 1 or August 1, as the case may be;

(4) Insert June 30 or December 31 next succeeding the Recapitalization Date.

(b) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this Article) of a sum equal to forty per cent of the remainder, if any, of such net profits; provided, however, that the aggregate amount paid into the preferred stock retirement fund in any one year need not exceed five per cent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding, whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever; provided, further, however, that unless otherwise elected, from time to time, by the Corporation by action of its Board of Directors, it shall not be required to make such payment into the preferred stock retirement fund except from such net profits as may have accrued from and after December 31, 1935;

Subject to compliance with the provisions of Section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, any balance of net profits for any such period may be applied from time to time to such lawful purposes as may be determined by the Board of Directors, subject, however, to the provisions of section 7 of this Article.

(7) Limitations on retirement of stock.—Except with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks no preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement by the Corporation unless the then unimpaired capital, surplus and undivided profits of the Corporation, and the retirement funds provided for herein (after giving effect to the proceeds of the issuance of any stock issued to provide funds for such retirement) exceed $ 31,500.00 (5) by an amount at least equal to the sum necessary to effect such retirement. No shares of preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement unless all accrued dividends (whether or not earned or declared) to the dividend payment date next preceding the date of such retirement shall have been paid on all shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(8) Retirement of preferred stock by purchase.—Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article, whenever the balance in the preferred stock retirement fund shall amount to as much as $ 1,000.00 (6), the Corporation shall (unless the Board of Directors shall elect to use the entire amount of such balance in the preferred stock retirement fund for the retirement of preferred stock by call as provided in section 9 hereof) within ten days thereafter mail, first-class postage prepaid, to all holders of record of preferred stock at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice specifying the balance in such fund and stating that the same is available for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock at the lowest prices (not in excess of the par value thereof and accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, to the date of purchase) offered within twenty days after the date of such notice. At the expiration of such twenty days, the Corporation shall apply such balance to the purchase for retirement of preferred stock, if obtainable, in accordance with the terms of such notice. Within ten days after such expiration, subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article, the Corporation shall call for retirement, in the manner provided in section 9 hereof, the largest number of shares of preferred stock which can be retired from the balance in such retirement fund remaining after deducting the amount paid or to be paid for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock as aforesaid, and shall set aside from such retirement fund the sum necessary to effect such retirement, but the minimum capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law.

(5) This figure, representing approximately the unimpaired capital structure of the Corporation after giving effect to the issue of the preferred stock, will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation prior to the purchase of the preferred stock.

(6) This figure will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article, at any time and from time to time the Corporation may make such lawful transfers from its surplus and/or undivided profits to the preferred stock retirement fund as the Board of Directors may determine. All shares of preferred stock purchased for retirement by the Corporation, whether from the retirement fund or otherwise, shall be cancelled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(9) Retirement of preferred stock by call.—Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article, the Corporation may at any time, at its election as expressed by resolution of the Board of Directors, retire the outstanding preferred stock as a whole, or from time to time in part, pro rata, or by lot in such equitable manner to carry out the purpose of this section 9 as the Board of Directors of the Corporation in its discretion shall from time to time determine, and provided always that the capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount required by law, by paying for each share to be retired a retirement price equal to the par value thereof plus all accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of such retirement. At least thirty days prior written notice of every such retirement, stating the retirement date and the retirement price, and the place of payment thereof, shall be mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to the holder of record of each share to be retired, at the address of such holder as shown on the books of the Corporation. Such notice having been so mailed, each holder of shares so called for retirement shall be entitled to receive payment of the retirement price of such shares (without interest) upon surrender to the Corporation, on or after the retirement date, at the place designated in such notice, of the certificate or certificates therefor in transferable form and, if required, properly stamped for transfer. In case less than all of the shares represented by any such certificate are retired, a new certificate shall be issued representing the unretired shares. From and after the retirement date (unless the Corporation shall default in payment of the retirement price), all dividends on shares called for retirement shall cease to accrue, such shares shall be deemed to be no longer outstanding, and all rights of the holders thereof as shareholders of the Corporation, except the right to receive the retirement price, shall terminate. All shares so retired shall be cancelled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(10) Increase or decrease of capital stock; Amendments of Articles of Incorporation, etc.—By the affirmative vote of the holders, voting by classes, of at least two-thirds of the shares of each class of stock at the time outstanding, and not otherwise, and subject to such approval by the Superintendent of Banks and such other conditions as at the time may be required by law—

(a) The capital stock of the Corporation may be increased at any time and from time to time through issuing additional shares of preferred stock and/or common stock, and/or through the creation of one or more additional classes of stock; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of preferred stock shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock if the entire proceeds of such issue are to be used for the retirement of shares of preferred stock; and provided further, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock as a stock

dividend, pursuant to the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article, in connection with the retirement of shares of preferred stock;

(b) The capital stock of the Corporation may be decreased at any time and from time to time to any amount not below the amount at the time required by law; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to the retirement of preferred stock;

(c) The name of the Corporation and/or the place where its operations of discount and deposit are to be carried on may be changed, but this clause shall not be construed to abridge the powers of the Board of Directors under applicable law with reference to the establishment or change of location or closing of branches;

(d) These Articles of Incorporation may be amended at any time and from time to time in any other respect, but not so as to change the respective voting rights of the preferred stock and common stock so long as any of the preferred stock remains outstanding;

(e) The Corporation may be consolidated or merged into or with any other bank;

RECORD OF CHARTERS 34-35--STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

(f) All or substantially all of the assets and business of the Corporation may be sold or otherwise disposed of;

(g) The Corporation may go into voluntary liquidation; and

(h) Any plan or reorganization of the Corporation may be carried into effect—

Provided, however, that if and as long as the voting rights of the preferred stock are increased in accordance with the provisions of sections 12 or 13 of this Article..... and the fair value of the assets of the Corporation as determined by the Superintendent of Banks shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding, any of the actions specified in the foregoing paragraphs (a) to (h) inclusive, of this section 10 may be taken by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled, and not otherwise, except that the Corporation may not be put into voluntary liquidation without the approval of the Superintendent of Banks.

(11) Preemptive rights.—In case of any increase in the capital stock of the Corporation of any class other than by way of a stock dividend, the new shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all shares of stock of that class at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of shares of such stock of that class held by them respectively, by mailing, first-class postage prepaid, to such holders, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, transferable subscription warrants exercisable at any time on or before thirty days from the date of such mailing. If at the expiration of such subscription rights, any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all other shares of stock of all other classes at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of such shares held by them respectively, and notice shall be given as above provided. If at the expiration of both of such subscription rights any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such unsubscribed new shares may be issued and sold at such price, not less than the par value thereof, to such persons and on such terms as the Board of Directors may determine.

(12) Voting rights.—(a) Except as otherwise provided in sections 10 and 13 of this Article..... and in this section 12, each holder of stock of any class shall be entitled to vote on all matters one vote for each share of stock of any class held by him.

(b) In all elections of directors, each holder of stock of any class shall have the right to vote the votes allocable to the number of shares owned by him for as many persons as there are directors to be elected, or to cumulate such votes and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of votes allocable to his shares shall equal, or to distribute such votes on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall think fit.

(c) In case as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock shall be in arrears (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock), then, and until all arrears of dividends upon the preferred stock shall have been paid and the full dividend on the outstanding preferred stock for the then current semi-annual dividend period shall have been declared and funds set apart for the payment thereof, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(d) At any time while the votes of the preferred stock are increased as provided in paragraph (c) of this section 12 or in sub-paragraph (2) of section 13 of this Article..... any one or more of the directors, officers, or employees of the Corporation, may be removed at any annual or special meeting of shareholders, for or without cause, and their successors elected, by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled.

(13) Other voting rights.—If at any time while the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall hold not less than twenty-five per cent of the total number of shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding—

(b) The amounts paid into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this Article.....) on and after February 1, 1937, shall not have amounted in the aggregate to five per cent of the maximum par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding (whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever) multiplied by the number of calendar years which shall have elapsed since January 1, 1936; or

(c) The fair value of the assets of the banking corporation as determined by an examination of the banking corporation by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (which may be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation once in each calendar year if the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall so elect), or as determined by the Superintendent of Banks, shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding; or

(d) The Corporation shall violate or fail to observe any of the terms, provisions, or conditions of its Articles of Incorporation—

then after written notice from Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the existence of any of said conditions and so long as any of said conditions in (a), (b), (c) and (d) above shall continue:

(1) All directors, officers, and employees of the Corporation shall receive compensation at rates not exceeding such maximum limitations as may be fixed by the vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(2) In case Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks, at any time shall notify the Corporation that any director, officer or employee of the Corporation is regarded by Reconstruction Finance Corporation as unsatisfactory, and in case such director, officer, or employee is not removed from office (and, if requested by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, replaced with a director, officer, or employee, satisfactory to it) within thirty days after receipt by the Corporation of such notice, then, and until such removal and replacement shall have been effected, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(3) The Corporation shall not directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire any real estate for its own use, or lease any real estate for its own use for a term longer than one year, without the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, or a written waiver of voting rights in respect thereof by the holders of such majority; provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to real estate acquired under the provisions of subdivisions 2 and 3 of Section 53 of Senate Bill 227, Laws of 1934.

(4) The Corporation shall not incur indebtedness maturing more than one year from the creation thereof, without the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding or a written waiver of voting rights with respect thereto by the holders of such majority, but the indebtedness herein referred to shall not be constrained to include the issuance of circulating notes and the acceptance of time deposits, which may continue to be accepted by the Corporation, under such conditions as may be provided by law.

(14) Rights of preferred stock on liquidation.—In the event of any receivership, conservatorship, liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, before any payment or other distribution, whether in cash, property, or otherwise shall be made to the holders of common stock, the holders of preferred stock shall be entitled to receive, for each share of such stock held by them, an amount equal to the par value thereof, plus an amount equal to all unpaid dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of payment, but shall not be entitled to any other or further payment; provided, however, that a merger or consolidation in accordance with law and these Articles of Incorporation, shall not be deemed a liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation within the meaning of this section 14.

(a) Officers.—The Board of Directors shall elect one of its members President of the Corporation. The Board may designate a director in lieu of the President to be Chairman of the Board, who shall perform such duties as may be designated by the Board. The directors shall have power to elect one or more Vice-Presidents, at least one of whom shall also be a member of the Board of Directors, and who shall be authorized, in the absence or inability of the President from any cause, to perform all acts and duties pertaining to the office of president except such as the President only is authorized by law to perform; and to elect or appoint a Cashier, and such other officers and clerks as may be required to transact the business of the Corporation; and, subject to the provisions of sub-paragraphs (1) and (2) of section 13 of Article.....hereof, to fix the salaries to be paid to them, and to continue them in office or to dismiss them as in the opinion of a majority of the Board the interests of the Corporation may demand.

(b) Powers of Board of Directors.—The Board of Directors shall have the power to define the duties of the officers and clerks of the Corporation, to require bonds from them, and to fix the penalty thereof; to regulate the manner in which election of directors shall be held and to appoint judges of the elections; to make all by-laws that it may be proper for them to make, not inconsistent with law and these Articles of Incorporation, for the general regulation of the business of the Corporation and the management of its affairs, and generally to do and perform all acts that it may be legal for a board of directors to do and perform according to law and within the limits of these Articles of Incorporation.

Special meetings of shareholders.—Except as otherwise specifically provided by statute, special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose at any time by the Board of Directors or by the holders of at least ten per cent of the then outstanding shares of any class. Every such special meeting shall be called by mailing, not less than ten days before the time fixed for the meeting, to all shareholders of record entitled to act and vote at such meeting, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice stating the purpose of the meeting. Such notice may be waived in writing.

RESOLVED, FOURTH, that each shareholder of record may subscribe within five days from and after the date of this meeting to such issue of preferred stock in proportion to the number of shares of common stock of the Corporation standing on the books of the Corporation in his name; and

RESOLVED, FIFTH, that the Board of Directors through its proper officers, at the expiration of the said five days, shall sell the unsubscribed portion of such preferred stock at such price (not less than the par value thereof) to Reconstruction Finance Corporation and/or to such other person or persons as the Board of Directors may deem advisable.

Suggested Form of Amendments to Articles of Incorporation for continuing Mississippi Banks and Trust Companies Issuing One Class of Preferred Stock.

Proposed Amendments to Articles of Incorporation of

MISSISSIPPI SOUTHERN BANK

PORT GIBSON,
(City)

CLAIBORNE
(County)

MISSISSIPPI
(State)

Resolved First, That the capital of this Corporation be increased in the sum of $20,000.00, by the issuance of $20,000.00 of preferred stock under the provisions of Section 52 of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, making the total capital of the Corporation $50,000.00, of which $20,000.00 is preferred and $30,000.00 is common stock.

Resolved Second, That the Articles of Incorporation be amended by striking out Section 2 Article 7 and inserting in place thereof the following:

"The Board of Directors shall consist of such number of shareholders, not less than five nor more than twenty-five, as from time to time shall be determined by a majority of the votes to which all shareholders are at the time entitled. A majority of the Board of Directors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business."

Resolved Third, That the Articles of Incorporation be further amended by striking out Articles 4 & 5 and inserting in place thereof the following:

Article 4. (1) Amount, classes and shares of capital stock.---The amount of capital stock of the Corporation shall be $50,000.00 divided into classes and shares as follows:

(a) $20,000.00 par value of preferred stock (subject to retirement as hereinafter provided) divided into 266-2/3 shares of the par value of $75.00 (1) each; and

(b) $30,000.00 par value of common stock (subject to increase upon retirement of preferred stock as provided in the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article 4) divided into 500 shares of the par value of $60.00 each.

(2) Assessability of stock.--- The holders of preferred stock shall not be held individually responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts, or engagements of the Corporation, and shall not be liable for assessments to restore impairments in the capital of the Corporation.

(3) Dividends on preferred stock.---The holders of preferred stock, in preference to the holders of common stock, shall be entitled to receive, when and as declared by the Board of Directors, out of net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this article 4) accruing after April 2, 1935, (hereinafter referred to as the "Recapitalization Date"), cash dividends thereon to and including January 31, 1935, at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more and thereafter to and including January 31, 1940, at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter, at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more. Such dividends shall be payable semi-annually on each February 1 and August 1, and shall accrue, as to any given share of such stock, from the date of issuance of such share. Such dividends shall be cumulative, so that if dividends at the full rates required by this section 3 to be paid on the preferred stock shall not have been paid upon or declared and set apart for such preferred stock, the deficiency shall be fully paid or declared and set apart before any dividend or other distribution, whether in cash, property, stock, or otherwise, shall be declared, ordered, set part, paid, or made in respect of the common stock. Dividends on the preferred stock shall be deemed to accrue from day to day.

(4) Dividends on common stock.---Dividends or other distributions whether in cash, property, stock or otherwise, shall, so long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock only out of the net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this article 4) accruing after the Recapitalization Date.

If any retirement of preferred stock would decrease the outstanding capital of the Corporation below the minimum amount required by law, the Board of Directors, prior to or simultaneously with such retirement, shall transfer an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired from reserves set up for the retirement of preferred stock to a special reserve fund for the payment of common stock dividends, and shall declare on the common stock, out of such special reserve fund, a dividend payable in common stock in an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired, and the shares of common stock required for the payment of any such stock dividend shall be issuable without any further vote on the part of the holders of stock of any class or any further approval on the part of the State Comptroller.

(5) Determination of net profits.---For the purpose of this article 4, the net profits or net loss (as distinguished from usage of terms "net profits" and "net loss" in reports required by the State Comptroller of the Corporation shall be determined for each six months' period ending on December 31 or June 30 by deducting from the gross earnings from all sources for such period:

(a) All expenses for such period;

(b) All interest accrued during such period;

(c) All losses determined during such period, and such charge-offs and write-downs of assets and transfers to reserves (whether from income, undivided profits or surplus) for such period (including all charge-offs, write-downs and transfers to reserves ~~to reserves~~ requested by the State Comptroller for such period) as may be reasonably necessary to make proper provisions for doubtful assets, depreciation, and undetermined losses, but to the extent only that such losses, determined or undetermined, charge-offs, and write-downs of assets exceed reserves previously set up therefor in such period or any prior period, or available unallocated reserves;

(d) Provisions for all taxes for such period, including taxes measured by income and taxes based on the ownership of stock in the Corporation paid or payable by the Corporation for the account of its shareholders, without prejudice to such right as the Corporation may have to recover the same;

(e) Such transfers for such period to surplus as may be required ~~as may be required~~ by law; provided, however, that transfers to earned surplus as required by section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, shall not be deducted from gross earnings in determining net profits available for the dividend and retirement requirements of the preferred stock; and

1. The per share par value of the preferred stock will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

2. Insert date on which Articles of Incorporation amended by shareholders.

(f) The net loss, if any, determined in accordance with the provisions of this section 5, accrued since the Recapitalization Date, accumulated to and existing at the beginning of such period; provided, however, that no deductions from gross earnings for the six months' period ending June 30, 1935, need be made by reason of any charge-offs or write-downs of assets or transfers to reserves required by the State Comptroller and approved in writing by Reconstruction Finance Corporation made on account of loss incurred prior to or depreciation in assets existing at the Recapitalization Date.

All recoveries over net book value on assets previously charged off or written down or against which reserves have been set up, and all transfers from reserves to surplus or undivided profits (other than transfers made to reflect recoveries already treated as gross earnings), shall be considered gross earnings for the respective periods during which such recoveries or transfers are effected.

(6) Application of net profits.---As long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, the Corporation, on each February 1 and August 1 (except that, as provided in paragraph (b) hereof, no payments shall be required pursuant to the provisions of such paragraph prior to August 1, 1936), shall apply the net profits of the Corporation for the six months' period ending on the next preceding December 31 or June 30, as the case may be, to the following purposes and in the following order of priority:

(a) To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock accrued to such February 1 or August 1, as the case may be.

(b) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article 4) on August 1, 1936, of a sum equal to three-quarters of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter to and including February 1, 1940, of a sum equal to one-quarter of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter of a sum equal to one-half of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding. In the event that the net profits of the Corporation shall on any such February 1 or August 1 be insufficient to permit the payment into such preferred stock retirement fund of the full amount hereinabove provided for, the deficiency shall be fully paid before any net profits of the Corporation shall be thereafter applied to any of the purposes hereinafter specified in this section 6.

(c) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article 4) of a sum equal to forty per cent of the remainder, if any, of such net profits; Provided, however, That the aggregate amount paid into the preferred stock retirement fund in any one year in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph (c) need not exceed five per cent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding, whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever; Provided further, however, That unless otherwise elected, from time to time, by the Corporation by action of its Board of Directors, it shall not be required to make such payments into the preferred stock retirement fund required by this paragraph (c) except from such net profits as may have accrued from and after December 31, 1935.

Subject to compliance with the provisions of section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, any balance of net profits for any such period may be applied from time to time to such lawful purposes as may be determined by the Board of Directors, subject, however, to the provisions of section 7 of this article 4.

(7) Limitations on retirement of stock.--Except with the approval of the State Comptroller no preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement by the Corporation unless the then unimpaired capital, surplus and undivided profits of the Corporation, and the retirement funds provided for herein (after giving effect to the proceeds of the issuance of any stock issued to provide funds for such retirement) exceed $58,000.00 by an amount at least equal to the sum necessary to effect such retirement. No shares of preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement unless all accrued dividends (whether or not earned or declared) to the dividend payment date next preceding the date of such retirement shall have been paid on all shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(8) Retirement of preferred stock by purchase.--Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article 4, whenever the balance in the preferred stock retirement fund shall amount to as much as $1,000.00, the Corporation shall (unless the Board of Directors shall elect to use the entire amount of such balance in the preferred stock retirement fund for the retirement of preferred stock by call as provided in section 9 hereof) within ten days thereafter mail, first-class postage prepaid, to all holders of record of preferred stock at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice specifying the balance in such fund and stating that the same is available for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock at the lowest prices (not in excess of the par value thereof and accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, to the date of purchase) offered within twenty days after the date of such notice. At the expiration of such twenty days, the Corporation shall apply such balance to the purchase for retirement of preferred stock, if obtainable, in accordance with the terms of such notice. Within ten days after such expiration, subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article 4, the Corporation shall call for retirement, in the manner provided in section 9 thereof, the largest number of shares of preferred stock which can be retired from the balance in such retirement fund remaining after deducting the amount paid or to be paid for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock as aforesaid, and shall set aside from such retirement fund the sum necessary to effect such retirement, but the minimum capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law. Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article 4, at any time and from time to time the Corporation may make such lawful transfers from its surplus and/or undivided profits to the preferred stock retirement fund as the Board of Directors may determine. All shares of preferred stock purchased for retirement by the Corporation, whether from the retirement fund or otherwise, shall be cancelled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(9) Retirement of preferred stock by call.--Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article 4, the Corporation may at any time, at its election as expressed by resolution of the Board of Directors, retire the outstanding preferred stock as a whole, or from time to time in part, pro rata, or by lot in such equitable manner to carry out the purpose of this section 9 as the Board of Directors of the Corporation in its discretion shall from time to time determine, (and provided always that the capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law) by paying for each share to be retired a retirement price equal to the par value thereof plus all accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of such retirement.

At least thirty days prior written notice of every such retirement, stating the retirement date and the retirement price, and the place of payment thereof, shall be mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to the holder of record of each share to be retired, at the address of such holder as shown on the books of the Corporation. Such notice having been so mailed, each holder of shares so called for retirement shall be entitled to receive payment of the retirement price of such shares (without interest) upon surrender to the Corporation, on or after the retirement date, at the place designated in such notice, of the certificate or certificates therefor in transferable form and, if required, properly stamped for transfer. In case less than all of the shares represented by any such certificate are retired, a new certificate shall be issued representing the unretired shares. From and after the retirement date (unless the Corporation shall default in payment of the retirement price), all dividends on shares called for retirement shall cease to accrue, such shares shall be deemed to be no longer outstanding, and all rights of the holders thereof as shareholders of the Corporation, except the right to receive the retirement price, shall terminate. All shares so retired shall be canceled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

10. Increase or decrease of capital stock: Amendments of Articles of Incorporation, etc.--By the affirmative vote of the holders, voting by classes, of at least two-thirds of the shares of each class of stock at the time outstanding, and not otherwise, and subject to such approval by the State Comptroller and such other conditions as at the time may be required by law--

3. Insert June 30 or December 31 next succeeding the Recapitalization Date.

4. This figure, representing approximately the unimpaired capital structure of the Corporation after giving effect to the issue of the preferred stock, will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation prior to the purchase of the preferred stock.

5. This figure will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

(a) The capital stock of the Corporation may be increased at any time and from time to time through issuing additional shares of preferred stock and/or common stock, and/or through the creation of one or more additional classes of stock; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of preferred stock shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock if the entire proceeds of such issue are to be used for the retirement of shares of preferred stock; and provided further, that no vote of the holders of any class shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock as a stock dividend, pursuant to the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article 4 in connection with the retirement of shares of preferred stock; (b) The capital stock of the Corporation may be decreased at any time and from time to time to any amount not below the amount at the time required by law; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to the retirement of preferred stock; (c) The name of the Corporation and/or the place where its operations of discount and deposit are to be carried on may be changed, but this clause shall not be construed to abridge the powers of the Board of Directors under applicable law with reference to the establishment or change of location or closing of branches; (d) These articles of Incorporation may be amended at any time and from time to time in any other respect, but not so as to change the respective voting rights of the preferred stock and common stock so long as any of the preferred stock remains outstanding; (e) The Corporation may be consolidated or merged into or with any other bank, or may acquire all or substantially all of the assets and business of the Corporation or trust company; (f) All or substantially all of the assets and business of the Corporation may be sold or otherwise disposed of; (g) The Corporation may go into voluntary liquidation; and (h) Any plan of reorganization of the Corporation may be carried into effect---Provided, however, that if and as long as the voting rights of the preferred stock are increased in accordance with the provisions of sections 12 or 13 of this Article 4 and the fair value of the assets of the Corporation as determined by the State Comptroller shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding, any of the actions specified in the foregoing paragraphs (a) to (h) inclusive, of this section 10 may be taken by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled, and not otherwise, except that the Corporation may not be put into voluntary liquidation without the approval of the State Comptroller.

(11) Preemptive rights.---In case of any increase in the capital stock of the Corporation of any class other than by way of a stock dividend, the new shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all shares of stock of that class at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of shares of such stock of that class held by them respectively, by mailing, first-class postage prepaid, to such holders, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, transferable subscription warrants exercisable at any time on or before thirty days from the date of such mailing. If at the expiration of such subscription rights, any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all other shares of stock of all other classes at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of such shares held by them respectively, and notice shall be given as above provided. If at the expiration of both of such subscription rights any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such unsubscribed new shares may be issued and sold at such price, not less than the par value thereof, to such persons and on such terms as the Board of Directors may determine.

(12) Voting rights.---(a) Except as otherwise provided in sections 10 and 13 of this article 4 and in this section 12, each holder of stock of any class shall be entitled to vote on all matters one vote for each share of stock of any class held by him. (b) In all elections of directors, each holder of stock of any class shall have the right to vote the votes allocable to the number of shares owned by him for as many persons as there are directors to be elected, or to cumulate such votes and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of votes allocable to his shares shall equal, or to distribute such votes on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall think fit. (c) In case as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock shall be in arrears (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock), then, and until all arrears of dividends upon the preferred stock shall have been paid and the full dividend on the outstanding preferred stock for the then current semi-annual dividend period shall have been declared and funds set apart for the payment thereof, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled. (d) At any time while the votes of the preferred stock are increased as provided in paragraph (c) of this section 12 or in subparagraph (2) of section 13 of this article 4, any one or more of the directors, officers, or employees of the Corporation may be removed at any annual or special meeting of shareholders, for or without cause, and their successors elected, by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled.

(13) Other voting rights.---If at any time while the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall hold not less than twenty-five per cent of the total number of shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding---(a) The Corporation shall be in arrears in the payment of as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock); or (b) The amounts paid into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article 4) in accordance with the requirements of paragraph (c) of section 6 of this article 4 on and after February 1, 1937, shall not have amounted in the aggregate to five per cent of the maximum par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding (whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever) multiplied by the number of calendar years which shall have elapsed since January 1, 1935; or (c) The fair value of the assets of the banking corporation as determined by an examination of the banking corporation by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (which may be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation once in each calendar year if the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall so elect), or as determined by the State Comptroller, shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding; or (d) The Corporation shall violate or fail to observe any of the terms, provisions, or conditions of its Articles of Incorporation---then after written notice from Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the existence of any of said conditions and so long as any of said conditions in (a), (b), (c) and (d) above shall continue: (1) All directors, officers, and employees of the Corporation shall receive compensation at rates not exceeding such maximum limitations as may be fixed by the vote of the holders of ~~the~~ a majority of the shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding. (2) In case Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with the approval of the State Comptroller, at any time shall notify the Corporation that any director, officer or employee of the Corporation, ~~with the approval of the State Comptroller, at any time shall notify the Corporation that any director, officer or employee of the Corporation is regarded by Reconstruction Finance Corporation as unsatisfactory, and in case such director, officer, or employee is not removed from office (and, if requested by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, replaced with a director, officer, or employee satisfactory to it) within thirty days after receipt by the Corporation of such notice, then, and until such removal and replacement shall have been effected, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a replacement shall have been effected, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.~~ (3) The Corporation shall not directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire any real estate for its own use, or lease any real estate for its own use for a term longer than one year, without in each case the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, or a written waiver of voting rights in respect thereto by the holders of such majority; provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to real estate acquired under the provisions of sub-divisions 2 and 3 of Section 53 of Senate Bill 227, Laws of 1934. (4) The Corporation shall not incur indebtedness maturing more than one year from the creation thereof, without the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding or a written waiver of voting rights with respect thereto by the holders of such majority, but the indebtedness herein referred to shall not be construed to include the issuance of circulating notes and the acceptance of time deposits, which may continue to be accepted by the Corporation under such ~~terms and~~ conditions as may be provided by law.

(14) Rights of preferred stock on liquidation.---In the event of any receivership, conservatorship, liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, before any payment or other distribution, whether in cash, property, or otherwise shall be made to the holders of common stock, the holders of preferred stock shall be entitled to receive, for each share of such stock held by them, an amount equal to the par value thereof, plus an amount equal to all unpaid dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of payment, but shall not be entitled to any other or further payment; provided, however, that a merger or consolidation in accordance with law and these Articles of Incorporation, shall not be deemed a liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation within the meaning of this section 14.

Article 5. (a) Officers.---The Board of Directors shall elect one of its members President of the Corporation. The Board may designate a director in lieu of the President to be Chairman of the Board, who shall perform such duties as may be designated by the Board. The Directors shall have power to elect one or more Vice Presidents, at least one of whom shall also be a member of the Board of Directors, and who shall be authorized, in the absence or inability of the President from any cause, to perform all acts and duties pertaining to the office of president except such as the President only is authorized by law to perform; and to elect or appoint a Cashier, and such other officers and clerks as may be required to transact the business of the Corporation; and subject to the provisions of subparagraphs (1) and (2) of section 13 of article 4 hereof, to fix the salaries to be paid to them, and to continue them in office or to dismiss them as in the opinion of a majority of the Board the interests of the Corporation may demand:

(b) Powers of Board of Directors.---The Board of Directors shall have the power to define the duties of the officers and clerks of the Corporation, to require bonds from them, and to fix the penalty thereof; to regulate the manner in which election of directors shall be held and to appoint judges of the elections; to make all by-laws that it may be proper for them to make, not inconsistent with law and these Articles of Incorporation, for the general regulation of the business of the Corporation and the management of its affairs, and generally to do and perform all acts that it may be legal for a board of directors to do and perform according to law and within the limits of these Articles of Incorporation.

Article 5A. Special meetings of shareholders.---Except as otherwise specifically provided by statute, special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose at any time by the Board of Directors or by the holders of at least ten per cent of the then outstanding shares of any class. Every such special meeting shall be called by mailing not less than ten days before the time fixed for the meeting, to all shareholders of record entitled to act and vote at such meeting, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice stating the purpose of the meeting. Such notice may be waived in writing.

Resolved Fourth, That each shareholder of record may subscribe within five days from and after the date of this meeting to such issue of preferred stock in proportion to the number of shares of common stock of the Corporation standing on the books ^{in his name} and

Resolved Fifth, That the Board of Directors through its proper officers, at the expiration of the said five days, shall sell the unsubscribed portion of such preferred stock at such price (not less than the par value thereof) to Reconstruction Finance Corporation and/or to such other person or persons as the Board of Directors may deem advisable.

The meeting was called to order by S. E. Dunlap, President, and the following matters and things were had and done ---

Proposed Amendments to Articles of Incorporation of Bank of Wiggins, Wiggins, Mississippi.

RESOLVED, that the Articles of Incorporation of this Corporation be amended by striking out Sections 3, 6 and 13 of Article fourth and inserting in the place thereof the following:

"(3) Dividends on preferred stock. -- The holders of preferred stock, in preference to the holders of common stock, shall be entitled to receive, when and as declared by the Board of Directors, out of net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this article fourth) accruing after November 2, 1934 (hereinafter referred to as the "Recapitalization Date"), cash dividends thereon to and including January 31, 1935, at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter to and including January 31, 1940, at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more. Such dividends shall be payable semi-annually on each February 1 and August 1, and shall accrue, as to any given share of such stock, from the date of issuance of such share. Such dividends shall be cumulative, so that if dividends at the full rate required by this section 3 to be paid on the preferred stock shall not have been paid upon or declared and set apart for such preferred stock, the deficiency shall be fully paid or declared and set apart before any dividend or other distribution, whether in cash, property, stock, or otherwise, shall be declared, ordered, set apart, paid or made in respect of the common stock. Dividends on the preferred stock shall be deemed to accrue from day to day."

"(6) Application of net profits. -- As long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, the Corporation, on each February 1 and August 1 (except that, as provided in paragraph (b) hereof, no payments shall be required pursuant to the provisions of such paragraph prior to August 1, 1936), shall apply the net profits of the corporation for the six months period ending on the next preceding December 31 or June 30, as the case may be, to the following purposes and in the following order of priority:

(a) To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock accrued to such February 1 or August 1, as the case may be. (b) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article fourth) on August 1, 1936, of a sum equal to three-quarters of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter, to and including February 1, 1940, of a sum equal to one-quarter of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter of a sum equal to one-half of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding. In the event that the net profits of the corporation shall on any such February 1 or August 1 be insufficient to permit the payment into such preferred stock retirement fund of the full amount hereinabove provided for, the deficiency shall be fully paid before any net profits of the Corporation shall be thereafter applied to any of the purposes hereinafter specified in this section 6. (c) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article fourth) of a sum equal to forty per cent of the remainder, if any, of such net profits: Provided, however, That the aggregate amount paid into the preferred stock retirement fund in any one year in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph (c) need not exceed five per cent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding, whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever: Provided, further, however, that unless otherwise elected from time to time, by the Corporation by action of its Board of Directors, it shall not be required to make such payment into the preferred stock retirement fund required by this paragraph (c) except from such net profits as may have accrued from and after December 31, 1935. Subject to compliance with the provisions of section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, any balance of net profits for any such period may be applied from time to time to such lawful purposes as may be determined by the Board of Directors, subject, however, to the provisions of section 7 of this article fourth."

"(13) Other voting rights. -- If at any time while the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall hold not less than twenty-five per cent of the total number of shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding -- (a) The Corporation shall be in arrears in the payment of as many as two semi-annual dividends payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock); or (b) The amounts paid into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article fourth) in accordance with the requirements of paragraph (c) of section 6 of this article fourth on and after February 1, 1937, shall not have amounted in the aggregate to five per cent of the maximum par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding (whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever) multiplied by the number of calendar years which shall have elapsed since January 1, 1936; or (c) The fair value of the assets of the banking corporation as determined by an examination of the banking corporation by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (which may be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation once in each calendar year if the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall so elect), or as determined by the Superintendent of Banks, shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding; or (d) The Corporation shall violate or fail to observe any of the terms, provisions, or conditions of its Articles of Incorporation -- then after written notice from Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the existence of any of said conditions and so long as any of said conditions in (a), (b), (c) and (d) above shall continue: (1) All directors, officers, and employees of the Corporation shall receive compensation at rates not exceeding such maximum limitations as may be fixed by the vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding. (2) In case Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks, at any time shall notify the Corporation that any director, officer or employee of the Corporation is regarded by Reconstruction Finance Corporation as unsatisfactory, and in case such director, officer or employee is not removed from office, (and, if requested by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, replaced with a director, officer, or employee satisfactory to it) within thirty days after receipt by the Corporation of such notice, then, and until such removal and replacement shall have been effected, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled to, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and such holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled. (3) The Corporation shall not directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire any real estate for its own use, or lease any real estate for its own use for a term longer than one year, without in each case the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, or a written waiver of voting rights in respect thereto by the holders of such majority; Provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to real estate acquired under the provisions of subdivisions 2 and 3 of section 53 of Senate Bill 227, Laws of 1934. (4) The Corporation shall not incur indebtedness maturing more than one year from the creation thereof, without the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding or a written waiver of voting rights with respect thereto by the holders of such majority, but the indebtedness herein referred to shall not be construed to include the issuance of circulating notes and the acceptance of time deposits, which may continue to be accepted by the Corporation under such conditions as may be provided by law."

TUCKER PRINTING HOUSE JACKSON MISS

Suggested Form of Amendments to Articles of Incorporation for Continuing Mississippi State Banks and Trust Companies Issuing One Class of Preferred Stock.

Proposed Amendments to Articles of Incorporation of
MERCHANTS AND FARMERS BANK

STARKVILLE, OKTIBBEHA, MISSISSIPPI
 (City) (County) (State)

Resolved First, That the capital of this Corporation be increased in the sum of $50,000.00, by the issuance of $50,000.00 of preferred stock under the provisions of Section 52 of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, making the total capital of the Corporation $65,000.00, of which $50,000.00 is preferred and $15,000.00 is common stock.

Resolved Second, That the Articles of Incorporation be amended by striking out Article _____ and inserting in place thereof the following:

"The Board of Directors shall consist of such number of shareholders, not less than five nor more than twenty-five, as from time to time shall be determined by a majority of the votes to which all shareholders are at the time entitled. A majority of the Board of Directors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business."

Resolved Third, That the Articles of Incorporation be further amended by striking out Articles _____ and inserting in the place thereof the following:

(1) Amount, classes, and shares of capital stock.---The amount of capital stock of the Corporation shall be $65,000.00 divided into classes and shares as follows: (a) $50,000.00 par value of preferred stock (subject to retirement as hereinafter provided) divided into 800 shares of the par value of $62.50 (1) each; and (b) $15,000.00 par value of common stock (subject to increase upon retirement of preferred stock as provided in the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article) divided into 250 shares of the par value of $60.00 each.

(2) Assessability of stock.---The holders of preferred stock shall not be held individually responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts, or engagements of the Corporation, and shall not be liable for assessments to restore impairments in the capital of the Corporation.

(3) Dividends on preferred stock.---The holders of preferred stock, in preference to the holders of common stock, shall be entitled to receive, when and as declared by the Board of Directors, out of the net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this article) accruing after _____, 193____ (2) (hereinafter referred to as the "Recapitalization Date"), cash dividends thereon to and including January 31, 1935, at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter to and including January 31, 1940, at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more. Such dividends shall be payable semi-annually on each February 1 and August 1, and shall accrue, as to any given share of such stock, from the date of issuance of such share. Such dividends shall be cumulative, so that if dividends at the full rates required by this section 3 to be paid on the preferred stock shall not have been paid upon or declared and set apart for such preferred stock, the deficiency shall be fully paid or declared and set apart before any dividend or other distribution, whether in cash, property, stock or otherwise, shall be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock. Dividends on the preferred stock shall be deemed to accrue from day to day.

(4) Dividends on common stock.---Dividends or other distributions whether in cash, property, stock or otherwise, shall, so long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock only out of the net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this article) accruing after the Recapitalization Date. If any retirement of preferred stock would decrease the outstanding capital of the Corporation below the minimum amount required by law, the Board of Directors, prior to or simultaneously with such retirement, shall transfer an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired from reserves set up for the retirement of preferred stock to a special reserve fund for the payment of common stock dividends, and shall declare on the common stock, out of such special reserve fund, a dividend payable in common stock in an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired, and the shares of common stock required for the payment of any such stock dividend shall be issuable without any further vote on the part of stock of any class or any further approval on the part of the State Comptroller.

(5) Determination of net profits.---For the purpose of this article _____, the net profits or net loss (as distinguished from usage of terms "net profits" and "net loss" in reports required by the State Comptroller of the Corporation shall be determined for each six months period ending on December 31 or June 30 by deducting from the gross earnings from all sources for such period: (a) All expenses for such period; (b) All interest accrued during such period; (c) All losses determined during such period, and such charge-offs and write-downs of assets and transfers to reserves (whether from income, undivided profits or surplus) for such period (including all charge-offs, write-downs and transfers to reserves requested by the State Comptroller for such period) as may be reasonably necessary to make proper provision for doubtful assets, depreciation, and undetermined losses, but to the extent only that such losses, determined or undetermined, charge-offs, and write-downs of assets exceed reserves previously set up therefor in such period or any prior period, or available unallocated reserves; (d) Provision for all taxes for such period, including taxes measured by income and taxes based on the ownership of stock in the Corporation paid or payable by the Corporation for the account of its shareholders, without prejudice to such right as the Corporation may have to recover the same; (e) Such transfers for such period to surplus as may be required by law; provided, however, that transfers to earned surplus as required by section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, shall not be deducted from gross earnings in determining net profits available for the dividend and retirement requirements of the preferred stock; and

(1) The per share par value of the preferred stock will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

(2) Insert date on which Articles of Incorporation amended by shareholders.

(f) The net loss, if any, determined in accordance with the provisions of this section 5, accrued since the Recapitalization Date, accumulated to and existing at the beginning of such period; provided, however, that no deductions from gross earnings for the six months' period ending _____, 193____ (3) need be made by reason of any charge-offs or write-downs of assets or transfers to reserves required by the State Comptroller and approved in writing by Reconstruction Finance Corporation made on account of loss incurred prior to or depreciation in assets existing at the Recapitalization Date.

All recoveries over net book value on assets previously charged off or written down or against which reserves have been set up, and all transfers from reserves to surplus or undivided profits (other than transfers made to reflect recoveries already treated as gross earnings), shall be considered gross earnings for the respective periods during which such recoveries or transfers are effected.

(6) Application of net profits.---As long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, the Corporation, on each February 1 and August 1 (except that, as provided in paragraph (b) hereof, no payments shall be required pursuant to the provisions of such paragraph prior to August 1, 1936), shall apply the net profits of the Corporation for the six months' period ending on the next preceding December 31 or June 30, as the case may be, to the following purposes and in the following order of priority: (a) To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock accrued to such February 1 or August 1, as the case may be. (b) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article) on August 1, 1936, of a sum equal to three quarters of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter, to and including February 1, 1940, of a sum equal to one-quarter of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter of a sum equal to one-half of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding. In the event that the net profits of the Corporation shall on any such February 1 or August 1 be insufficient to permit the payment into such preferred stock retirement fund of the sum so required, the net profits shall be applied to the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock.

shall be fully paid before any net profits of the Corporation shall be thereafter applied to any of the purposes hereinafter specified in this section 6. (c) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article _____) of a sum equal to forty per cent of the remainder, if any, of such net profits: Provided, however, That the aggregate amount paid into the preferred stock retirement fund in any one year in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph (c) need not exceed five per cent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding, whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever; Provided further, however, That unless otherwise elected, from time to time, by the Corporation by action of its Board of Directors, it shall not be required to make such payment into the preferred stock retirement fund required by this paragraph (c) except from such net profits as may have accrued from and after December 31, 1935. Subject to compliance with the provisions of section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, any balance of net profits for any such period may be applied from time to time to such lawful purposes as may be determined by the Board of Directors, subject, however, to the provisions of section 7 of this article _____.

(7) Limitations on retirement of stock.---Except with the approval of the State Comptroller no preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement by the Corporation unless the then unimpaired capital, surplus and undivided profits of the Corporation, and the retirement funds provided for herein (after giving effect to the proceeds of the issuance of any stock issued to provide funds for such retirement) exceed $71,000.00 (4) by an amount at least equal to the sum necessary to effect such retirement. No shares of preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement unless all accrued dividends (whether or not earned or declared) to the dividend payment date next preceding the date of such retirement shall have been paid on all shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(8) Retirement of preferred stock by purchase.---Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article _____, whenever the balance in the preferred stock retirement fund shall amount to as much as $1,000.00, the Corporation shall (unless the Board of Directors shall elect to use the entire amount of such balance in the preferred stock retirement fund for the retirement of preferred stock by call as provided in section 9 hereof) within ten day thereafter mail, first-class postage prepaid, to all holders of record of preferred stock at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice specifying the balance in such fund and stating that the same is available for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock at the lowest prices (not in excess of the par value thereof and accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, to the date of purchase) offered with twenty days after the date of such notice. At the expiration of such twenty days, the Corporation shall apply such balance to the purchase for retirement of preferred stock, if obtainable, in accordance with the terms of such notice. Within ten days after such expiration, subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article _____, the Corporation shall call for retirement, in the manner provided in section 9 hereof, the largest number of shares of preferred stock which can be retired from the balance in such retirement fund remaining after deducting the amount paid or to be paid for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock as aforesaid, and ~~set~~ shall set aside from such retirement fund the sum necessary to effect such retirement, but the minimum capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law. Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article _____, at any time and from time to time the Corporation may make such lawful transfers from its surplus and/or undivided profits to the preferred stock retirement fund as the Board of Directors may determine. All shares of preferred stock purchased for retirement by the Corporation, whether from the retirement fund or otherwise, shall be cancelled forthwith and shall not be re-issued.

(9) Retirement of preferred stock by call.---Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article _____, the Corporation may at any time, at its election as expressed by resolution of the Board of Directors, retire the outstanding preferred stock as a whole, or from time to time in part, pro rata, or by lot in such equitable manner to carry out the purpose of this section 9 as the Board of Directors of the Corporation in its discretion shall from time to time determine, (and provided always that the capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law) by paying for each share to be retired a retirement price equal to the par value thereof plus all accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of such retirement.

At least thirty days prior written notice of every such retirement, stating the retirement date and the retirement price, and the place of payment thereof, shall be mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to the holder of record of each share to be retired, at the address of such holder as shown on the books of the Corporation. Such notice having been so mailed, each holder of shares so called for retirement shall be entitled to receive payment of the retirement price of such shares (without interest) upon surrender to the Corporation, on or after the retirement date, at the place designated in such notice, of the certificate ^{therefor} in transferable form and, if required, properly stamped for transfer. In case less than all of the shares represented by any such certificate are retired, a new certificate shall be issued representing the unretired shares. From and after the retirement date (unless the Corporation shall default in payment of the retirement price), all dividends on shares called for retirement shall cease to accrue, such shares shall be ^{deemed to be} no longer outstanding, and all rights of the holders thereof as shareholders of the Corporation, except the right to receive the retirement price, shall terminate. All shares so retired shall be canceled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(10) Increase or decrease of capital stock. Amendments of Articles of Incorporation, etc.---By the affirmative vote of the holders, voting by classes, of at least two-thirds of the shares of each class of stock at the time outstanding, and not otherwise, and subject to such approval by the State Comptroller and such other conditions as at the time may be required by law---

(3) Insert June 30 or December 31 next succeeding the Recapitalization Date. (4) This figure, representing approximately the unimpaired capital structure of the Corporation after giving effect to the issue of the preferred stock will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation prior to the purchase of the preferred stock. (5) This figure will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

(a) The capital stock of the Corporation may be increased at any time and from time to time through issuing additional shares of preferred stock and/or common stock, and/or through the creation of one or more additional classes of stock; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of preferred stock shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock if the entire proceeds of such issue are to be used for the retirement of shares of preferred stock; and provided further, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock as a stock dividend, pursuant to the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article _____ in connection with the retirement of shares of preferred stock; (b) The capital stock of the Corporation may be decreased at any time and from time to time to any amount not below the amount at the time required by law; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to the retirement of preferred stock; (c) The name of the Corporation and/or the place where its operations of discount and deposit are to be carried on may be changed, but this clause shall not be construed to abridge the powers of the Board of Directors under applicable law with reference to the establishment or change of location or closing of branches; (d) These Articles of Incorporation may be amended at any time and from time to time in any other respect, but not so as to change the respective voting rights of the preferred stock and common stock so long as any of the preferred stock remains outstanding; (e) The Corporation may be consolidated or merged into or with any other bank, or may acquire all or substantially all of the assets and business of any banking corporation or trust company; (f) All or substantially all of the assets and business of the Corporation may be sold or otherwise disposed of; (g) The Corporation may go into voluntary liquidation; and (h) Any plan of reorganization of the Corporation may be carried into effect---Provided, however, that if and as long as the voting rights of the preferred stock are increased in accordance with the provisions of sections 12 or 13 of this Article and the fair value of the assets of the Corporation as determined by the State Comptroller shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding, any of the actions specified in the foregoing paragraphs (a) to (h) inclusive, of this section 10 may be taken by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled, and not otherwise, except that the Corporation may not be put into voluntary liquidation without the approval of the State Comptroller.

(11) Preemptive rights.---In case of any increase in the capital stock of the Corporation of any class other than by way of a stock dividend, the new shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all shares of stock of that class at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of shares of such stock of that class held by them respectively, by mailing, first-class postage prepaid, to such holders, at their respective addresses as shown by the books of the Corporation, transferable subscription warrants exercisable at any time on or before Thirty days from the date of such mailing. If at the expiration of such subscription rights, any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all other shares of stock of all other classes at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of such shares held by them respectively, and notice shall be given as above provided. If at the expiration of both of such subscription rights any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such unsubscribed new shares may be issued and sold at such price, not less than the par value thereof, to such persons and on such terms as the Board of Directors may determine.

(12) Voting rights.---(a) Except as otherwise provided in sections 10 and 13 of this article and in this section 12, each holder of stock of any class shall be entitled to vote on all matters one vote for each share of stock of any class held by him. (b) In all elections of directors, each holder of stock of any class shall have the right to vote the votes allocable to the number of shares owned by him for as many persons as there are directors to be elected, or to cumulate such votes and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of votes allocable to his shares shall equal, or to distribute such votes on the same principle among as many candidate as he shall think fit. (c) In case as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock shall be in arrears (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock), then, and until all arrears of dividends upon the preferred stock shall have been paid and the full dividend on the outstanding preferred stock for the then current semi-annual dividend period shall have been declared and funds set apart for the payment thereof, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, ~~to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.~~ (d) At any time while the votes of the preferred stock are increased as provided in paragraph (c) of this section 12 or in subparagraph (2) of section 13 of this article, any one or more of the directors, officers, or employees of the Corporation may be removed at any annual or special meeting of shareholders, for or without cause, and their successors elected, by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled.

(13) Other voting rights.---If at any time while the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall hold not less than twenty-five per cent of the total number of shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding---(a) The Corporation shall be in arrears in the payment of as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock); or (b) The amounts paid into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article) in accordance with the requirements of paragraph (c) of section 6 of this article on and after February 1, 1937, shall not have amounted in the aggregate to five per cent of the maximum par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding (whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever) multiplied by the number of calendar years which shall have elapsed since January 1, 1936; or (c) The fair value of the assets of the banking corporation as determined by an examination of the banking corporation ~~as determined by an examination of the banking corporation~~ by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (which may be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation once in each calendar year if the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall so elect), or as determined by the State Comptroller, shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding; or (d) The Corporation shall violate or fail to observe any of the terms, provisions, or conditions of its Articles of Incorporation---then after written notice from Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the existence of any of said conditions and so long as any of said conditions in (a), (b), (c), and (d) above shall continue: (1) All directors, officers, and employees of the Corporation shall receive compensation at rates not exceeding such maximum limitations as may be fixed by the vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding. (2) In case Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with the approval of the State Comptroller, at any time shall notify the Corporation that any director, officer or employee of the Corporation is regarded by Reconstruction Finance Corporation as unsatisfactory, and in case such director, officer, or employee is not removed from office (and, if requested by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, replaced with a director, officer, or employee satisfactory to it) within thirty days after receipt by the Corporation of such notice, then, and until such removal and replacement shall have been effected, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled. (3) The Corporation shall not directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire any real estate for its own use, or lease any real estate for its own use for a term longer than one year, without in each case the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, or a written waiver of voting rights in respect thereto by the holders of such majority; provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to real estate acquired under the provisions of sub-divisions 2 and 3 of Section 3 of Section 53 of Senate Bill 227, Laws of 1934. (4) The Corporation shall not incur indebtedness maturing more than one year from the creation thereof, without the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding or a written waiver of voting rights with respects thereto by the holders of such majority, but the indebtedness herein referred to shall not be construed to include the issuance of circulating notes and the acceptance of time deposits, which may ~~be~~ continue to be accepted by the Corporation under such conditions as may be provided by law.

(14) Rights of preferred stock on liquidation.---In the event of any receivership, conservatorship, liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, before any payment or other distribution, whether in cash, property, or otherwise shall be made to the holders of common stock, the holders of preferred stock shall be entitled to receive, for each share of such stock held by them, an amount equal to the par value thereof, plus an amount equal to all unpaid dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of payment, but shall not be entitled to any other or further payment; provided, however, that a merger or consolidation in accordance with law and these Articles of Incorporation shall not be deemed a liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation within the meaning of this section 14.

(a) Officers.---The Board of Directors shall elect one of its members President of the Corporation. The Board may designate a director in lieu of the President to be Chairman of the Board, who shall perform such duties as may be designated by the Board. The directors shall have power to elect one or more Vice Presidents, at least one of whom shall also be a member of the Board of Directors, and who shall be authorized, in the absence or inability of the President from any cause, to perform all acts and duties pertaining to the office of president except such as the President only is authorized by law to perform; and to elect or appoint a Cashier, and such other officers and clerks as may be required to transact the business of the Corporation; and subject to the provisions of subparagraphs (1) and (2) of section 13 of article _____ hereof, to fix the salaries to be paid to them, and to continue them in office or to dismiss them as in the opinion of a majority of the Board the interests of the Corporation may demand; (b) Powers of Board of Directors.---The Board of Directors shall have the power to define the duties of the officers and clerks of the Corporation, to require bonds from them, and to fix the penalty thereof; to regulate the manner in which election of directors shall be held and to appoint judges of the elections; to make all by-laws that it may be proper for them to make, not inconsistent ~~with law and these Articles of Incorporation~~ with law and these Articles of Incorporation, for the general regulation of the business of the Corporation and the management of its affairs, and generally to do and perform all acts that it may be legal for a board of directors to do and perform according to law and within the limits of these Articles of Incorporation.

. Special meetings of shareholders.---Except as otherwise specifically provided by Statute, special meetings of the shareholders may be called for ^{any purpose at} any time by the Board of Directors or by the holders of at least ten per cent of the then outstanding shares of any class. Every such special meeting shall be called by mailing, not less than ten days before the time fixed for the meeting, to all shareholders of record entitled to act and vote at such meeting, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice stating the purpose of the meeting. Such notice may be waived in writing.

Resolved Fourth, That each shareholder of record may subscribe within five days from and after the date of this meeting to such issue of preferred stock in proportion to the number of shares of common stock of the Corporation standing on the books of the Corporation in his name; and

Resolved Fifth, That the Board of Directors through its proper officers, at the expiration of the said five days, shall sell the unsubscribed portion of such preferred stock at such price (not less than the par value thereof) to Reconstruction Finance Corporation and/or to such other person or persons as the Board of Directors may deem advisable.

At a meeting of the shareholders of Merchants and Farmers Bank, Starkville, Mississippi, held on April 8th, 1935, 5 days' notice of the proposed business having been given by registered mail, all of the foregoing resolutions were adopted by the following vote,---the affirmative vote representing 84% of the total number of shares of capital stock outstanding.

Total Number of Shares of capital stock 250. Total number of shares presented at the meeting 210. Total number of shares voted in favor of the resolution 210. Total number of shares voted against the resolution NONE.

I hereby certify that this is a true and correct report (a) of the number of days' notice, given by registered mail, of the meeting of shareholders of this bank on the date above mentioned; (b) of the vote and (c) of the resolutions adopted at said meeting and (d) that a complete list of the shareholders voting therefor and the number of shares voted by each is on file in the bank; (e) that no shares of stock of this bank owned by this bank were voted at said meeting; (f) that no shares of stock held by this bank as sole trustee were voted at said meeting; and (g) that no shares of stock of this bank held by this bank as co-trustee were voted at said meeting; and (h) that no director, other officer or employee acted as proxy at said meeting.

RECORD OF CHARTERS 34-35---STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION OF

BAY SPRINGS BANK,
(Name of Bank)BAY SPRINGS,
(City)JASPER,
(County)MISSISSIPPI.
(State)

RESOLVED, First, that the capital of this Corporation be increased in the sum of $35,000.00 by the issuance of $35,000.00 of preferred stock under the provisions of Section 52 of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, making the total capital of the Corporation $55,000.00, of which $35,000.00 is preferred and $20,000.00 is common stock.

RESOLVED, Second, that the Articles of Incorporation be amended by striking out Article _____ and inserting in place thereof the following: "The Board of Directors shall consist of such number of shareholders, not less than five nor more than twenty-five, as from time to time shall be determined by a majority of the votes to which all shareholders are at the time entitled. A majority of the Board of Directors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business."

RESOLVED, Third, that the Articles of Incorporation be further amended by striking out Article _____ and inserting in the place thereof the following:

(1) Amounts, classes, and shares of capital stock.-- The amount of capital stock of the Corporation shall be $55,000.00, divided into classes and shares as follows: (a) $35,000.00 par value of preferred stock (subject to retirement as hereinafter provided) divided into 280 shares of the par value of $125.00 (1) each; and (b) $20,000.00 par value of common stock (subject to increase upon retirement of preferred stock as provided in the second and third paragraphs of Section 4 of this Article _____) divided into 200 shares of the par value of $100.00 each.

(2) Assessability of stock. -- The holders of preferred stock shall not be held individually responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts, or engagements of the Corporation, and shall not be liable for assessments to restore impairments in the capital of the Corporation.

(3) Dividends on preferred stock. -- The holders of preferred stock, in preference to the holders of common stock, shall be entitled to receive, when and as declared by the Board of Directors, out of net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in Section 5 of this Article _____) accruing after November 28, 1934 (2), (hereinafter referred to as the "Recapitalization Date", cash dividends thereon to and including March 31, 1939, at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter at the rate of five per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more. Such dividends shall be payable semi-annually on each February 1 and August 1, and shall accrue, as to any given share of such stock, from the date of issuance of such share; provided, however, that, in the case of any share of such stock issued after February 1, 1935 (3), such dividends shall accrue on such share from the February 1 or August 1, as the case may be, next preceding the date of issuance thereof. Such dividends shall be cumulative so that if dividends at the full rate required by this section 3 to be paid on the preferred stock shall not have been paid upon or declared and set apart for such preferred stock, the deficiency shall be fully paid or declared and set apart before any dividend or other distribution, whether in cash, property, stock, or otherwise, shall be declared, ordered, set apart, paid or made in respect of the common stock. Dividends on the preferred stock shall be deemed to accrue from day to day.

(4) Dividends on common stock. -- Dividends or other distributions whether in cash, property, stock or otherwise, shall so long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock only out of the net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this Article _____) accruing after the Recapitalization Date.

If any call or purchase for retirement of preferred stock pursuant to the provisions of sections 8 or 9 of this Article _____ would reduce the outstanding capital of the Corporation below the minimum amount at the time required by law, the Board of Directors, prior to or simultaneously with such retirement shall declare on the common stock out of the net profits of the Corporation accruing after the Recapitalization Date, a dividend in an amount equal to the sum required to maintain the capital of the Corporation at such minimum amount after giving effect to such retirement, such dividend to be payable in shares of common stock which shall be issued (without any action on the part of the holders of stock of any class or on the part of the Superintendent of Banks) pro rata to the holders of common stock.

(5) Determination of net profits. -- For the purpose of this Article _____, the net profits or net loss (as distinguished from usage of terms, "net profits" and "net loss" in reports required by the Superintendent of Banks) of the Corporation shall be determined for each six months' period ending on December 31 or June 30 by deducting from the gross earnings from all sources for such period;

(a) All expenses for such period; (b) All interest accrued during such period, and such charge-offs and write-downs of assets and transfers to reserves (whether from income, undivided profits or surplus) for such period (including all charge-offs, write-downs and transfers to reserves requested by the Superintendent of Banks for such period) as may be reasonably necessary to make proper provision for doubtful assets, depreciation, and undetermined losses, but to the extent only that such losses, determined or undetermined, charge-offs, and write-downs of assets exceed reserves previously set up therefor in such period or any prior period, or available unallocated reserves; (c) Provision for all taxes for such period, including taxes measured by income and taxes based on the ownership of stock in the Corporation paid or payable by the Corporation for the account of its shareholders, without prejudice to such rights as the Corporation may have to recover the same; (d) Such transfers for such period to surplus as may be required by law; provided, however, that transfers to earned surplus as required by section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, shall not be deducted from gross earnings in determining net profits available for the dividend and retirement requirements of the preferred stock; and (f) The net loss, if any, determined in accordance with the provisions of this section 5, accrued since the Recapitalization Date, accumulated to and existing at the beginning of such period; provided, however, that no deductions from gross earnings for the six months' period ending _____, 193____ (4), shall be required by reason of any charge-offs or write-downs of assets or transfers to reserves made during said period on account of losses sustained on or prior to the Recapitalization Date. All recoveries over net book value on assets previously charged off or written down or against which reserves have been set up, and all transfers from reserves to surplus or undivided profits (other than transfers made to reflect recoveries already treated as gross earnings), shall be considered gross earnings for the respective periods during which such recoveries or transfers are effected.

(6) Application of net profits. -- As long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding the Corporation, on each February 1 and August 1, shall apply the net profits of the Corporation for the six months' period ending on the next preceding December 31 and June 30, as the case may be, to the following purposes and in the following order of priority: (a) To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock accrued to such February 1 or August 1, as the case may be; (b) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this Article _____) of a sum equal to forty per cent of the remainder, if any, of such net profits; provided, however, that the aggregate amount paid into the preferred stock retirement fund in any one year need not exceed five per cent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding, whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever; provided, further, however, that unless otherwise elected, from time to time, by the Corporation by action of its Board of Directors, it shall not be required to make such payment into the preferred stock retirement fund except from such net profits as may have accrued from and after December 31, 1935.

Subject to compliance with the provisions of Section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, any balance of net profits for any such period may be applied from time to time to such lawful purposes as may be determined by the Board of Directors, subject, however, to the provisions of section 7 of this Article.

(7) Limitations on retirement of stock. -- Except with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks no preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement by the Corporation unless the then unimpaired capital, surplus and undivided profits of the Corporation, and the retirement funds provided for herein (after giving effect to the proceeds of the issuance of any stock issued to provide funds for such retirement) exceed $60,000.00 (5) by an amount at least equal to the sum necessary to effect such retirement. No shares of preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement unless all accrued dividends (whether or not earned or declared) to the dividend payment date next preceding the date of such retirement shall have been paid on all shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(8) Retirement of preferred stock by purchase. -- Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article, whenever the balance in the preferred stock retirement fund shall amount to as much as $1,000.00 (6), the Corporation shall (unless the Board of Directors shall elect to use the entire amount of such balance in the preferred stock retirement fund for the retirement of preferred stock by call as provided in section 9 hereof) within ten days thereafter mail, first class postage prepaid, to all holders of record of preferred stock at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice specifying the balance in such fund and stating that the same is available for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock at the lowest prices (not in excess of the par value thereof and accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, to the date of purchase) offered within twenty days after the date of such notice. At the expiration of such twenty days, the Corporation shall apply such balance to the purchase for retirement of preferred stock, if obtainable, in accordance with the terms of such notice. Within ten days after such expiration, subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article, the Corporation shall call for retirement in the manner provided in section 9 hereof, the largest number of shares of preferred stock which can be retired from the balance in such retirement fund remaining after deducting the amount paid or to be paid for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock as aforesaid, and shall set aside from such retirement fund the sum necessary to effect such retirement, but the minimum capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law. Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article, at any time and from time to time the Corporation may make such lawful transfers from its surplus and/or undivided profits to the preferred stock retirement fund as the Board of Directors may determine. All shares of preferred stock purchased for retirement by the Corporation, whether from the retirement fund or otherwise, shall be canceled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(9) Retirement of preferred stock by call. -- Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article, the Corporation may at any time, at its election as expressed by resolution of the Board of Directors, retire the outstanding preferred stock as a whole, or from time to time in part, pro rata, or by lot in such equitable manner to carry out the purpose of this section 9 as the Board of Directors of the Corporation in its discretion shall from time to time determine, and provided always that the capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount required by law, by paying for each share to be retired a retirement price equal to the par value thereof plus all accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of such retirement. At least thirty days prior written notice of every such retirement, stating the retirement date and the retirement price, and the place of payment thereof, shall be mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to the holder of record of each share to be retired, at the address of such holder as shown on the books of the Corporation. Such notice having been so mailed, each holder of shares so called for retirement shall be entitled to receive payment of the retirement price of such shares (without interest) upon surrender to the Corporation, on or after the retirement date, at the place designated in such notice, of the certificate or certificates therefor in transferable form and, if required, properly stamped for transfer. In case less than all of the shares represented by any such certificate are retired, a new certificate shall be issued representing the unretired shares. From and after the retirement date (unless the Corporation shall default in payment of the retirement price), all dividends on shares called for retirement shall cease to accrue, such shares shall be deemed to be no longer outstanding, and all rights of the holders thereof as shareholders of the Corporation, except the right to receive the retirement price, shall terminate. All shares so retired shall be canceled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(10) Increase or decrease of capital stock: Amendments of Articles of Incorporation, etc. -- By the affirmative vote of the holders, voting by classes, of at least two-thirds of the shares of each class of stock at the time outstanding, and not otherwise, and subject to such approval by the Superintendent of Banks and such other conditions as at the time may be required by law - (a) The capital stock of the Corporation may be increased at any time and from time to time through issuing additional shares of preferred stock and/or common stock, and/or through the creation of one or more additional classes of stock; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of preferred stock shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock if the entire proceeds of such issue are to be used for the retirement of shares of preferred stock; and provided further, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock as a stock dividend, pursuant to the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article in connection with the retirement of shares of preferred stock; (b) The capital stock of the Corporation may be decreased at any time and from time to time to any amount not below the amount at the time required by law; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to the retirement of preferred stock; (c) The name of the Corporation and/or the place where its operations of discount and deposit are to be carried on may be changed, but this clause shall not be construed to abridge the powers of the Board of Directors under applicable law with reference to the establishment or change of location or closing of branches; (d) These Articles of Incorporation may be amended at any time and from time to time in any other respect, but not so as to change the respective voting rights of the preferred stock and common stock so long as any of the preferred stock remains outstanding; (e) The Corporation may be consolidated or merged into or with any other bank; (f) All or substantially all of the assets and business of the Corporation may be sold or otherwise disposed of; (g) The Corporation may go into voluntary liquidation; and (h) Any plan or reorganization of the Corporation may be carried into effect -- Provided, however, that if and as long as the voting rights of the preferred stock are increased in accordance with the provisions of sections 12 and 13 of this Article and the fair value of the assets of the Corporation as determined by the Superintendent of Banks shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding, any of the actions specified in the foregoing paragraphs (a) to (h) inclusive, of this section 10 may be taken by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled, and not otherwise, except that the Corporation may not be put into voluntary liquidation without the approval of the Superintendent of Banks.

(11) Preemptive rights. -- In case of any increase in the capital stock of the Corporation of any class other than by way of a stock dividend, the new shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all shares of stock of that class at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of shares of such stock of that class held by them respectively, by mailing, first-class postage prepaid, to such holders, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, transferable subscription warrants exercisable at any time on or before thirty days from the date of such mailing. If at the expiration of such subscription rights, any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all other shares of stock of all other classes at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of such shares held by them respectively, and notice shall be given as above provided. If at the expiration of both of such subscription rights any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such unsubscribed new shares may be issued and sold at such price, not less than the par value thereof, to such persons and on such terms as the Board of Directors may determine.

(12) Voting rights. -- (a) Except as otherwise provided in sections 10 and 13 of this Article and in this section 12, each holder of stock of any class shall be entitled to vote on all matters one vote for each share of stock of any class held by him. (b) In all elections of directors, each holder of stock of any class shall have the right to vote the votes allocable to the number of shares owned by him for as many persons as there are directors to be elected, or to cumulate such votes and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of votes allocable to his shares shall equal, or to distribute such votes on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall think fit. (c) In case as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock shall be in arrears (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock), then, and until all arrears of dividends upon the preferred stock shall have been paid and the full dividend on the outstanding preferred stock for the then current semi-annual dividend period shall have been declared and funds set apart for the payment thereof, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled. (d) At any time while the votes of the preferred stock are increased as provided in paragraph (c) of this section 12 or in sub-paragraph (2) of Section 13 of this Article, any one or more of the directors, officers, or employees of the Corporation may be removed at any annual or special meeting of shareholders, for or without cause, and their successors elected, by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled.

(13) Other voting rights. -- If at any time while the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall hold not less than twenty-five per cent of the total number of shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding -- (a) The Corporation shall be in arrears in the payment of as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock; or (b) The amounts paid into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this Article) on and after February 1, 1937, shall not have amounted in the aggregate to five per cent of the maximum par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding (whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever) multiplied by the number of calendar years which shall have elapsed since January 1, 1936; or (c) The fair value of the assets of the banking corporation as determined by an examination of the banking corporation by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (which may be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation once in each calendar year if the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall so elect), or as determined by the Superintendent of Banks, shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding; or, (d) The Corporation shall violate or fail to observe any of the terms, provisions, or conditions of its Articles of Incorporation -- then after written notice from Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the existence of any of said conditions and so long as any of said conditions in (a), (b), (c) and (d) above shall continue: (1) All directors, officers, and employees of the Corporation shall receive compensation at rates not exceeding such maximum limitations as may be fixed by the vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding. (2) In case Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks, at any time shall notify the Corporation that any director, officer or employee of the Corporation is regarded by Reconstruction Finance Corporation as unsatisfactory, and in case such director, officer, or employee is not removed from office (and, if requested by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, replaced with a director, officer, or employee, satisfactory to it) within thirty days after receipt by the Corporation of such notice, then, and until such removal and replacement shall have been effected, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled. (3) The Corporation shall not directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire any real estate for its own use, or lease any real estate for its own use for a term longer than one year, without in each case the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, or a written waiver of voting rights in respect thereto by the holders of such majority; provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to real estate acquired under the provisions of sub-divisions 2 and 3 of Section 53 of Senate Bill 227, Laws of 1934. (4) The Corporation shall not incur indebtedness maturing more than one year from the creation thereof, without the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding or a written waiver of voting rights with respect thereto by the holders of such majority, but the indebtedness herein referred to shall not be construed to include the issuance of circulating notes and the acceptance of time deposits, which may continue to be accepted by the Corporation, under such conditions as may be provided by law.

and these Articles of Incorporation, shall not be deemed a liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation within the meaning of this section14.

(a) Officers -- The Board of Directors shall elect one of its members President of the Corporation. The Board may designate a director in lieu of the President to be Chairman of the Board, who shall perform such duties as may be designated by the Board. The directors shall have power to elect one or more Vice Presidents, at least one of whom shall be a member of the Board of Directors, and who shall be authorized, in the absence or inability of the President from any cause, to perform all acts and duties pertaining to the office of President except such as the President only is authorized by law to perform; and to elect or appoint a Cashier, and such other officers and clerks as may be required to transact the business of the Corporation; and, subject to the provisions of sub-paragraphs (1) and (2) of section 13 of Article _____ hereof, to fix the salaries to be paid to them, and to continue them in office or to dismiss them as in the opinion of a majority of the Board the interests of the Corporation may demand. (b) Powers of Board of Directors. -- The Board of Directors shall have the power to define the duties of the officers and clerks of the Corporation, to require bonds from them, and to fix the penalty thereof; to regulate the manner in which election of directors shall be held and to appoint judges of the elections; to make all by-laws that it may be proper for them to make, not inconsistent with law and these Articles of Incorporation, for the general regulation of the business of the Corporation and the management of its affairs, and generally to do and perform all acts that it may be legal for a board of directors to do and perform according to law and within the limits of these Articles of Incorporation.

Special meetings of shareholders. -- Except as otherwise specifically provided by statute, special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose at any time by the Board of Directors or by the holders of at least ten per cent of the then outstanding shares of any class. Every such special meeting shall be called by mailing, not less than ten days before the time fixed for the meeting, to all shareholders of record entitled to act and vote at such meeting, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice stating the purpose of the meeting. Such notice may be waived in writing.

RESOLVED FOURTH, That each shareholder of record may subscribe within five days from and after the date of this meeting to such issue of preferred stock in proportion to the number of shares of common stock of the Corporation standing on the books of the Corporation in his name; and

RESOLVED FIFTH, that the Board of Directors, through its proper officers, at the expiration of the said five days, shall sell the unsubscribed portion of such preferred stock at such price (not less than the par value thereof) to Reconstruction Finance Corporation and/or to such other person or persons as the Board of Directors may deem advisable.

At a meeting of the shareholders of Bay Springs Bank, Bay Springs, Miss., held on November 28, 1934, 5 days notice of the proposed business having been given by registered mail, all of the foregoing resolutions were adopted by the following vote, -- the affirmative vote representing 87 1/2% of the total number of shares of capital stock outstanding.

Total number of shares of capital stock	200
Total number of shares represented at the meeting	175
Total number of shares voted in favor of the resolutions	175
Total number of shares voted against the resolutions	none

I hereby certify that this is a true and correct report (a) of the number of days notice, given by registered mail, of the meeting of shareholders of this bank held on the date above mentioned; (b) of the vote and (c) of the resolutions adopted at said meeting and (d) that a complete list of the shareholders voting therefor and the number of shares voted by each is on file in the bank; (e) that voting permits were procured from the Federal Reserve Board by such holding company affiliates of this bank as voted at said meeting the stock of this bank owned by such holding company affiliates; (f) that no shares of stock of this bank owned by this bank were voted at said meeting; (g) that no shares of stock held by this bank as sole trustee were voted at said meeting; and (h) that no shares of stock of this bank held by this bank as co-trustee were voted at said meeting by this bank; and (i) that no director, other officer or employee acted as proxy at said meeting.

Suggested Form of Amendments to Articles of Incorporation for Continuing Mississippi State Banks and Trust Companies issuing One Class of Preferred Stock.

Proposed Amendments to Articles of Incorporation

Drew
(City)

Sunflower
(County)

Mississippi
(State)

Resolved First, That the capital of this Corporation be increased in the sum of $25,000.00, by the issuance of $25,000.00 of preferred stock under the provisions of Section 52 of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, making the total capital of the Corporation $75,000.00, of which $25,000.00 is preferred and $50,000.00 is common stock.

Resolved Second, That the Articles of Incorporation be amended by striking out Article 7, Section III, and inserting in place thereof the following:

"The Board of Directors shall consist of such number of shareholders, not less than five nor more than twenty-five, as from time to time shall be determined by a majority of the votes to which all shareholders are at the time entitled. A majority of the Board of Directors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business."

Resolved Third, That the Articles of Incorporation be further amended by striking out Articles 4 and 5 and inserting in the place thereof the following:

(1) Amount, classes, and shares of capital stock.---The amount of capital stock of the Corporation shall be $75,000.00 divided into classes and shares as follows:

(a) $25,000.00 par value of preferred stock (subject to retirement as hereinafter provided) divided into 1,000 shares of the par value of $25.00 (1) each; and

(b) $50,000.00 par value of common stock (subject to increase upon retirement of preferred stock as provided in the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article) divided into 2,000 shares of the par value of $25.00 each.

(2) Assessability of stock.---The holders of preferred stock shall not be held individually responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts, or engagements of the Corporation, and shall be liable for assessments to restore impairments in the capital of the Corporation.

(3) Dividends on preferred stock.---The holders of preferred stock, in preference to the holders of common stock, shall be entitled to receive, when and as declared by the Board of Directors, out of net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this article 5) accruing after February 26th, 1935 (2) (hereinafter referred to as the "Recapitalization Date"), cash dividends thereon to and including January 31, 1935, at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter to and including January 31, 1940, at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more. Such dividends shall be payable semi-annually on each February 1 and August 1, and shall accrue, as to any given share of such stock, from the date of issuance of such share. Such dividend shall be cumulative, so that if dividends at the full rates required by this section 3 to be paid on the preferred stock shall not have been paid upon or declared and set apart for such preferred stock, the deficiency shall be fully paid or declared and set apart before any dividend or other distribution, whether in cash, property, stock, or otherwise, shall be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock. Dividends on the preferred stock shall be deemed to accrue from day to day.

(4) Dividends on common stock.---Dividends or other distributions whether in cash, property, stock or otherwise, shall, so long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock only out of the net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this article 5) accruing after the Recapitalization Date.

If any retirement of preferred stock would decrease the outstanding capital of the Corporation below the minimum amount required by law, the Board of Directors, prior to or simultaneously with such retirement, shall transfer an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired from reserves set up for the retirement of preferred stock to a special reserve fund for the payment of common stock dividends, and shall declare on the common stock, out of such special reserve fund, a dividend payable in common stock in an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired, and the shares of common stock required for the payment of any such stock dividend shall be issuable without any further vote on the part of the holders of stock of any class or any further approval on the part of the State Comptroller.

(5) Determination of net profits.---For the purpose of this article 5, the net profits or net loss (as distinguished from usage of terms "net profits" and "net loss" in reports required by the State Comptroller of the Corporation shall be determined for each six months' period ending on December 31 or June 30 by deducting from the gross earnings from all sources for such period:

(a) All expenses for such period; (b) All interest accrued during such period; (c) All losses determined during such period, and such charge-offs and write-downs of assets and transfers to reserves (whether from income, undivided profits or surplus) for such period (including all charge-offs, write-downs and transfers to reserves requested by the State Comptroller for such period) as may be reasonably necessary to make proper provision for doubtful assets, depreciation, and undetermined losses, but to the extent only that such losses, determined or undetermined, charge-offs, and write-downs of assets exceed reserves previously set up therefor in such period, or available unallocated reserves; (d) Provision for all taxes for such period, including taxes measured by income and taxes based on the ownership of stock in the Corporation paid or payable by the Corporation for the account of its shareholders, without prejudice to such right as the Corporation may have to recover the same; (e) Such transfers for such period to surplus as may be required by law; provided, however, that transfers to earned surplus as required by section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, shall not be deducted from gross earnings in determining net profits available for the dividend and retirement requirements of the preferred stock; and

(1) The per share par value of the preferred stock will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation. (2) Insert date on which Articles of Incorporation amended by shareholders.

(f) The net loss, if any, determined in accordance with the provisions of this section 5, accrued since the Recapitalization Date, accumulated to and existing at the beginning of such period; provided, however, that no deductions from gross earnings for the six months' period ending June 30th, 1935 (3) need be made by reason of any charge-offs or write-downs of assets or transfers to reserves required by the State Comptroller and approved in writing by Reconstruction Finance Corporation made on account of loss incurred prior to or depreciation in assets existing at the Recapitalization Date.

All recoveries over net book value on assets previously charged off or written down against which reserves have been set up, and all transfers from reserves to surplus or undivided profits (other than transfers made to reflect recoveries already treated as gross earnings), shall be considered gross earnings for the respective periods during which such recoveries or transfers are effected.

(6) Application of net profits.---As long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, the Corporation, on each February 1 and August 1 (except that, as provided in paragraph (b) hereof, no payments shall be required pursuant to the provisions of such paragraph prior to August 1, 1936) shall apply the net profits of the Corporation for the six months' period ending on the next preceding December 31 or June 30, as the case may be, to the following purposes and in the following order of priority:

RECORD OF CHARTERS 34-35---STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

(a) To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock accrued to such February 1 or August 1, as the case may be. (b) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article 5) on August 1, 1936, of a sum equal to three-quarters of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter, to and including February 1, 1940, of a sum equal to one-quarter of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter of a sum equal to one-half of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding. In the event that the net profits of the Corporation shall on any such February 1 or August 1 be insufficient to permit the payment into such preferred stock retirement fund of the full amount hereinabove provided for, the deficiency shall be fully paid before any net profits of the Corporation shall be thereafter applied to any of the purposes hereinafter specified in this section 6. (c) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article 5) of a sum equal to forty per cent of the remainder, if any, of such net profits: Provided, however, That the aggregate amount paid into the preferred stock retirement fund in any one year in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph (c) need not exceed five per cent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding, whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever; Provided, further, however, That unless otherwise elected, from time to time, by the Corporation by action of its Board of Directors, it shall not be required to make such payments into the preferred stock retirement fund required by this paragraph (c) except from such net profits as may have accrued from and after December 31, 1935.

Subject to compliance with the provisions of section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, any balance of net profits for any such period may be applied from time to time to such lawful purposes as may be determined by the Board of Directors, subject, however, to the provisions of section 7 of this article 5.

(7) Limitations on retirement of stock.---Except with the approval of the State Comptroller no preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement by the Corporation unless the then unimpaired capital, surplus and undivided profits of the Corporation, and the retirement funds provided for herein (after giving effect to the proceeds of the issuance of any stock issued to provide funds for such retirement) exceed $82,000.00 (4) by an amount at least equal to the sum necessary to effect such retirement. No shares of preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement unless all accrued dividends (whether or not earned or declared) to the dividend payment date next preceding the date of such retirement shall have been paid on all shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(8) Retirement of preferred stock by purchase.---Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article 5, whenever the balance in the preferred stock retirement fund shall amount to as much as $1,000.00 (5) the Corporation shall (unless the Board of Directors shall elect to use the entire amount of such balance in the preferred stock retirement fund for the retirement of preferred stock by call as provided in section 9 hereof) within ten days thereafter mail, first-class postage prepaid, to all holders of record of preferred stock at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice specifying the balance in such fund and stating that the same is available for the purchase for retirement, of preferred stock at the lowest prices (not in excess of the par value thereof and accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, to the date of purchase) offered within twenty days after the date of such notice. At the expiration of such twenty days, the Corporation shall apply such balance to the purchase for retirement of preferred stock, if obtainable, in accordance with the terms of such notice. Within ten days after such expiration, subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article 5, the Corporation shall call for retirement, in the manner provided in section 9 hereof, the largest number of shares of preferred stock which can be retired from the balance in such retirement fund remaining after deducting the amount paid or to be paid for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock as aforesaid, and shall set aside from such retirement fund the sum necessary to effect such retirement, but the minimum capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law. Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article 5, at any time and from time to time the Corporation may make such lawful transfers from its surplus and/or undivided profits to the preferred stock retirement fund as the Board of Directors may determine. All shares of preferred stock purchased for retirement by the Corporation, whether from the retirement fund or otherwise, shall be cancelled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(9) Retirement of preferred stock by call.---Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article 5, the Corporation may at any time, at its election as expressed by resolution of the Board of Directors, retire the outstanding preferred stock as a whole, or from time to time in part, pro rata, or by lot in such equitable manner to carry out the purpose of this section 9 as the Board of Directors of the Corporation in its discretion shall from time to time determine, (and provided always that the capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law) by paying for each share to be retired a retirement price equal to the par value thereof plus all accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of such retirement.

At least thirty days prior written notice of every such retirement, stating the retirement date and the retirement price, and the place of payment thereof, shall be mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to the holder of record of each share to be retired, at the address of such holder as shown on the books of the Corporation. Such notice having been so mailed, each holder of shares so called for retirement shall be entitled to receive payment of the retirement price of such shares (without interest) upon surrender to the Corporation, on or after the retirement date, at the place designated in such notice, of the certificate or certificates therefor in transferable form and, if required, properly stamped for transfer. In case less than all of the shares represented by any such certificate are retired, a new certificate shall be issued representing the unretired shares. From and after the retirement date (unless the Corporation shall default in payment of the retirement price), all dividends on shares called for retirement shall cease to accrue, such shares shall be deemed to be no longer outstanding, and all rights of the holders thereof as shareholders of the Corporation, except the right to receive the retirement price, shall terminate. All shares so retired shall be canceled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(10) Increase or decrease of capital stock: Amendments of Articles of Incorporation, etc.---By the affirmative vote of the holders, voting by classes, of at least two-thirds of the shares of each class of stock at the time outstanding, and not otherwise, and subject to such approval by the State Comptroller and such other conditions as at the time may be required by law---

(3) Insert June 30 or December 31 next succeeding the Recapitalization Date. (4) This figure, representing approximately the unimpaired capital structure of the Corporation after giving effect to the issue of the preferred stock, will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation prior to the purchase of the preferred stock. (5) This figure will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

(a) The capital stock of the Corporation may be increased at any time and from time to time through issuing additional shares of preferred stock and/or common stock, and/or through the creation of one or more additional classes of stock; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of preferred stock shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock if the entire proceeds of such issue are to be used for the retirement of shares of preferred stock; and provided further, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock as a stock dividend, pursuant to the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article 5 in connection with the retirement of shares of preferred stock; (b) The capital stock of the Corporation may be decreased at any time and from time to time to any amount not below the amount at the time required by law; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to the retirement of preferred stock;

(c) The name of the Corporation and/or the place where its operations of discount and deposit are to be carried on may be changed, but this clause shall not be construed to abridge the powers of the Board of Directors under applicable law with reference to the establishment or change of location or closing of branches; (d) These Articles of Incorporation may be amended at any time and from time to time in any other respect, but not so as to change the respective voting rights of the preferred stock and common stock so long as any of the preferred stock remains outstanding; (e) The Corporation may be consolidated or merged into or with any other bank, or may acquire all or substantially all of the assets and business of any banking corporation or trust company; (f) All or substantially all of the assets and business of the Corporation may be sold or otherwise disposed of; (g) The Corporation may go into voluntary liquidation; and (h) Any plan of reorganization of the Corporation may be carried into effect---Provided, however, that if and as long as the voting rights of the preferred stock are increased in accordance with the provisions of section 12 or 13 of this Article 5 and the fair value of the assets of the Corporation as determined by the State Comptroller shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding, any of the action specified in the foregoing paragraphs (a) to (h) inclusive, of this section 10 may be taken by the affirmative vote of two thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled, and not otherwise, except that the Corporation may not be put into voluntary liquidation without the approval of the State Comptroller.

(11) Preemptive rights.---In case of any increase in the capital stock of the Corporation of any class other than by way of a stock dividend, the new shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all shares of stock of that class at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of shares of such stock of that class held by them respectively, by mailing, first-class postage prepaid, to such holders, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, transferable subscription warrants, exercisable at any time on or before thirty days from the date of such mailing. If at the expiration of such subscription rights, any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all other shares of stock of all other classes at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of such shares held by them respectively, and notice shall be given as above provided. If at the expiration of both of such subscription rights any of the new shares ~~shall~~ not have been subscribed for, such unsubscribed new shares may be issued and sold at such price, not less than the par value thereof, to such persons and on such terms as the Board of Directors may determine.

(12) Voting rights.---(a) Except as otherwise provided in sections 10 and 13 of this article 5 and in this section 12, each holder of stock of any class shall be entitled to vote on all matters one vote for each share of stock of any class held by him. (b) In all elections of directors, each holder of stock of any class shall have the right to vote the votes allocable to the number of shares owned by him for as many persons as there are directors to be elected, or to cumulate such votes and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of votes allocable to his shares shall equal, or to distribute such votes on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall think fit. (c) In case as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock shall be in arrears (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock), then, and until all arrears of dividends upon the preferred stock shall have been paid and the full dividend on the outstanding preferred stock for the then current semi-annual period shall have been declared and funds set apart for the payment thereof, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled. (d) At any time while the votes of the preferred stock are increased as provided in paragraph (c) of this section 12 or in subparagraph (2) of section 13 of this article 5, any one or more of the directors, officers, or employees of the Corporation may be removed at any annual or special meeting of shareholders, for or without cause, and their successors elected, by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled.

(13) Other Voting rights.---If at any time while the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall hold not less than twenty-five per cent of the total number of shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding---

(a) The Corporation shall be in arrears in the payment of as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock); or (B) The amounts paid into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article 5) in accordance with the requirements of paragraph (c) of section 6 of this article 5 on and after February 1, 1937, shall not have amounted in the aggregate to five per cent of the maximum par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding (whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever) multiplied by the number of calendar years which shall have elapsed since January 1, 1936; or (c) The fair value of the assets of the banking corporation as determined by an examination of the banking corporation by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (which may be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation once in each calendar year if the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall so elect), or as determined by the State Comptroller, shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding; or (D) The Corporation shall violate or fail to observe any of the terms, provisions, or conditions of its Articles of Incorporation---then after written notice from Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the existence of any of said conditions and so long as any of said conditions in (a), (b), (c) and (d) above shall continue:

(1) All directors, officers and employees of the Corporation shall receive compensation at rates not exceeding such maximum limitations as may be fixed by the vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding. (2) In case Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with the approval of the State Comptroller, at any time shall notify the Corporation that any director, officer or employee of the Corporation is regarded by Reconstruction Finance Corporation as unsatisfactory, and in case such director, officer, or employee is not removed from office (and, if requested by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, replaced with a director, officer or employee satisfactory to it) within thirty days after receipt by the Corporation of such notice, then, and until such removal and replacement shall have been effected, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled. (3) The Corporation shall not directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire any real estate for its own use, or lease any real estate for its own use for a term longer than one year, without in each case the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, or a written waiver of voting rights in respect thereto by the holders of such majority; provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to real estate acquired under the provisions of sub-divisions 2 and 3 of Section 53 of Senate Bill 227, Laws of 1934. (4) The Corporation shall not incur indebtedness maturing more than one year from the creation thereof, without the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding or a written waiver of voting rights with respect thereto by the holders of such majority, but the indebtedness herein referred to shall not be construed to include the issuance of circulating notes and the acceptance of time deposits, which may continue to be accepted by the Corporation under such conditions as may be

(14) Rights of preferred stock on liquidation.---In the event of any receivership, conservatorship, liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, before any payment or other distribution, whether in cash, property, or otherwise shall be made to the holders of common stock, the holders of preferred stock shall be entitled to receive for each share of such stock held by them, an amount equal to the par value thereof, plus an amount equal to all unpaid dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of payment, but shall not be entitled to any other or further payment; provided, however, that a merger or consolidation in accordance with law and these Articles of Incorporation, shall not be deemed a liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation within the meaning of this section 14.

(a) Officers.---The Board of Directors shall elect one of its members President of the Corporation. The Board may designate a director in lieu of the President to be Chairman of the Board, who shall perform such duties as may be designated by the Board. The directors shall have power to elect one or more Vice Presidents, at least one of whom shall also be a member of the Board of Directors, and who shall be authorized, in the absence or inability of the president from any cause, to perform all acts and duties pertaining to the office of president except such as the President only is authorized by law to perform; and to elect or appoint a Cashier, and such other officers and clerks as may be required to transact the business of the Corporation; and subject to the provisions of sub-paragraphs (1) and (2) of section 13 of article 5 hereof, to fix the salaries to be paid to them, and to continue them in office or to dismiss them as in the opinion of a majority of the Board if the interests of the Corporation may demand;

(b) Powers of Board of Directors.---The Board of Directors shall have the power to define the duties of the officers and clerks of the Corporation, to require bonds from them, and to fix the penalty thereof; to regulate the manner in which election of directors shall be held and to appoint judges of the elections; to make all by-laws that it may be proper for them to make, not inconsistent with law and these Articles of Incorporation, for the general regulation of the business of the Corporation and the management of its affairs, and generally to do and perform all acts that it may be legal for a board of directors to do and perform according to law and within the limits of these Articles of Incorporation.

Special meeting of shareholders.---Except as otherwise specifically provided by statute, special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose at any time by the Board of Directors or by the holders of at least ten per cent of the then outstanding shares of any class. Every such special meeting shall be called by mailing, not less than ten days before the time fixed for the meeting, to all shareholders of record entitled to act and vote at such meeting, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice stating the purpose of the meeting. Such notice may be waived in writing.

Resolved Fourth, That each shareholder of record may subscribe within five days from and after the date of this meeting to such issue of preferred stock in proportion to the number of shares of common stock of the Corporation standing on the books of the Corporation in his name; and

Resolved Fifth, That the Board of Directors through its proper officers, at the expiration of the said five days, shall sell the unsubscribed portion of such preferred stock at such price (not less than the par value thereof) to Reconstruction Finance Corporation and/or to such other person or persons as the Board of Directors may deem advisable.

At a meeting of the shareholders of The Merchants & Planters Bank of Drew, Drew, Mississippi, held on February 26th, 1935, six days' notice of the proposed business having been given by registered mail, all of the foregoing resolutions were adopted by the following vote,--the affirmative vote representing 67.3% of the total number of shares of capital stock outstanding.

Total number of shares of capital stock.....	2,000
Total number of shares represented at the meeting.....	1,346
Total number of shares voted in favor of the resolution.....	1,346
Total number of shares voted against the resolution.....	NONE

I, hereby certify that this is a true and correct report (a) of the number of days' notice, given by registered mail, of the meeting of shareholders of this bank held on the date above mentioned; (b) of the vote and (c) of the resolutions adopted at said meeting and (d) that a complete list of the shareholders voting therefor and the number of shares voted by each is on file in the bank; (e) that no shares of stock of this bank owned by this bank were voted at said meeting; (f) that no shares of stock held by this bank as sole trustee were voted at said meeting; and (g) that no shares of stock of this bank held by this bank as co-trustee were voted at said meeting by this bank; and (h) that no director, other officer or employee acted as proxy at said meeting.

TUCKER PRINTING HOUSE JACKSON MISS

SUGGESTED FORM OF AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION FOR CONTINUING MISSISSIPPI STATE BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES ISSUING ONE CLASS OF PREFERRED STOCK.

Proposed Amendments to Articles of Incorporation of

Bank of Michigan City, Michigan City, Mississippi.
(Name of Bank) (City) (State)

RESOLVED FIRST, That the capital of this Corporation be increased in the sum of $5,000.00, by the issuance of $5,000.00 of preferred stock under the provisions of Section 52 of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, making the total ^{capital} of the Corporation $20,000.00, of which $5,000.00 is preferred and $15,000.00 is common stock.

RESOLVED SECOND, That, under the provisions of _____, the common capital stock of this Corporation be reduced in the sum of $5,000.00, leaving the total common capital, after said reduction, $10,000.00.

RESOLVED THIRD, That no distribution of assets shall be made to the shareholders of the Corporation by reason of the reduction ~~of the reduction~~ of the common capital stock of the Corporation, but a sum equal to the amount of said reduction shall be used to charge or write down losses, sub-standard and/or non-acceptable assets and/or shall be transferred to surplus or undivided profits in accordance with the requirements of the Federal Reserve Board and/or the State Comptroller.

RESOLVED FOURTH, That the Articles of Incorporation be amended by striking out Article _____ and inserting in the place thereof the following: "The Board of Directors shall consist of such number of shareholders, not less than five nor more than twenty-five, as from time to time shall be determined by a majority of the votes to which all shareholders are at the time entitled. A majority of the Board of Directors shall be ~~necessary~~ to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business."

RESOLVED FIFTH, That the Articles of Incorporation be further amended by striking out Articles _____ and inserting in the place thereof the following:

(1) Amount, classes, and shares of capital stock. -- The amount of capital stock of the Corporation shall be $15,000.00 divided into classes and shares as follows: (a) $5,000.00 par value of preferred stock (subject to retirement as hereinafter provided) divided into 60 shares of the par value of $83 1/3 (1) each; and (b) $10,000.00 par value of common stock (subject to increase upon retirement of preferred stock as provided in the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article _____) divided into 150 shares of the par value of $66 2/3 each.

(2) Assessability of stock. -- The holders of preferred stock shall not be held individually responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts, or engagements of the Corporation, and shall not be liable for assessments to restore impairments in the capital of the Corporation.

(3) Dividends on preferred stock. -- The holders of preferred stock, in preference to the holders of common stock, shall be entitled to receive, when and as declared by the Board of Directors, out of net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this article _____) accruing after Feby. 15, 1935 (2) (hereinafter referred to as the "Recapitalization Date"), cash dividends thereon to and including January 31, 1935, at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter to and including January 31, 1940, at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more. Such dividends shall be payable semi-annually on each February 1 and August 1, and shall accrue, as to any given share of such stock, from the date of issuance of such share. Such dividends shall be cumulative, so that if dividends at the full rates required by this section 3 to be paid on the preferred stock shall not have been paid upon or declared and set apart for such preferred stock, the deficiency shall be fully paid or declared and set apart before any dividend of other distribution, whether in cash, property, stock, or otherwise, shall be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock. Dividends on the preferred stock shall be deemed to accrue from day to day.

(4) Dividends on common stock. -- Dividends or other distributions whether in cash, property, stock or otherwise, shall, so long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock only out of the net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this article _____) accruing after the recapitalization date.

If any retirement of preferred stock would decrease the outstanding capital of the Corporation below the minimum amount required by law, the Board of Directors, prior to or simultaneously with such retirement, shall transfer an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired from reserves set up for the retirement of preferred stock to a special reserve fund for the payment of common stock dividends, and shall declare on the common stock, out of such special reserve fund, a dividend payable in common stock in an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired, and the shares of common stock required for the payment of any such stock dividend shall be issuable without any further vote on the part of the holders of stock of any class or any further approval on the part of the State Comptroller.

(5) Determination of net profits. -- For the purpose of this article _____, the net profits or net loss (as distinguished from usage of terms "net profits" and "net loss" in reports required by the State Comptroller of the Corporation shall be determined for each six months' period ending on December 31 or June 30 by deducting from the gross earnings from all sources for such period: (a) All expenses for such period; (b) All interest accrued during such period; (c) All losses determined during such period, and such charge-offs and write-downs of assets and transfers to reserves (whether from income, undivided profits or surplus) for such period (including all charge-offs, write-downs and transfers to reserves requested by the State Comptroller for such period) as may be reasonably necessary to make proper provision for doubtful assets, depreciation, and undetermined losses, but to the extent only that

1. The per share par value of the preferred stock will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation.
2. Insert date on which Articles of Incorporation amended by shareholders.

such losses, determined or undetermined, charge-offs, and write-downs of assets exceed reserves previously set up therefor in such period or any prior period, or available unallocated reserves; (d) Provision for all taxes for such period, including taxes measured by income and taxes based on the ownership of stock in the Corporation paid or payable by the Corporation for the account of its shareholders, without prejudice to such right as the Corporation may have to recover the same; (e) Such transfers for such period to surplus as may be required by law; provided, however, that transfers to earned surplus as required by Section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, shall not be deducted from gross earnings in determining net profits available for the dividend and retirement requirements of the preferred stock; and (f) The net loss, if any, determined in accordance with the provisions of this section 5, accruing since the Recapitalization Date, accumulated to and existing at the beginning of such period; provided, however, that no deductions from gross earnings for the six months³ period ending June 30, 1935, (3) need be made by reason of any charge-offs or write-downs of assets or transfers to reserves required by the State Comptroller and approved in writing by Reconstruction Finance Corporation made on account of loss incurred prior to or depreciation in assets existing at the Recapitalization Date. All recoveries over net book value on assets previously charged off or written down or against which reserves have been set up, and all transfers from reserves to surplus or undivided profits (other than transfers made to reflect recoveries already treated as gross earnings), shall be considered gross earnings for the respective periods during which such recoveries or transfers are effected.

(6) Application of Net Profits. -- As long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, the Corporation, on each February 1 and August 1 (except, that, as provided in paragraph (b) hereof, no payments shall be required pursuant to the provisions of such paragraph prior to August 1, 1936), shall apply the net profits of the Corporation for the six months' period ending on the next preceding December 31 or June 30, as the case may be, to the following purposes and in the following order of priority: (a) To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock accrued to such February 1 or August 1, as the case may be. (b) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article) on August 1, 1936, of a sum equal to three-quarters of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter, to and including February 1, 1940, of a sum equal to one-quarter of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter of a sum equal to one-half of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding. In the event that the net profits of the Corporation shall on any such February 1 or August 1 be insufficient to permit the payment into such preferred stock retirement fund of the full amount hereinabove provided for, the deficiency shall be fully paid before any net profits of the Corporation shall be thereafter applied to any of the purposes hereinafter specified in this section 6. (c) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article) of a sum equal to forty per cent of the remainder, if any, of such net profits: Provided, however, That the aggregate amount paid into the preferred stock retirement fund in any one year in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph (c) need not exceed five per cent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding, whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever: Provided further, however, That unless otherwise elected, from time to time, by the Corporation by action of its Board of Directors, it shall not be required to make such payment into the preferred stock retirement fund required by this paragraph (c) except from such net profits as may have accrued from and after December 31, 1935. Subject to compliance with the provisions of section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, any balance of net profits for any such period may be applied from time to time to such lawful purposes as may be determined by the Board of Directors, subject, however, to the provisions of section 7 of this article.

(7) Limitations on retirement of stock. -- Except with the approval of the State Comptroller no preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement by the Corporation unless the then unimpaired capital, surplus and undivided profits of the Corporation, and the retirement funds provided for herein (after giving effect to the proceeds of the issuance of any stock issued to provide funds for such retirement) exceed $19,000.00 (4) by an amount at least equal to the sum necessary to effect such retirement. No shares of preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement unless all accrued dividends (whether or not earned or declared) to the dividend payment date next preceding the date of such retirement shall have been paid on all shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(8) Retirement of preferred stock by purchase. -- Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article, whenever the balance in the preferred stock retirement fund shall amount to as much as $1,000.00, the Corporation shall (unless the Board of Directors shall elect to use the entire amount of such balance in the preferred stock retirement fund for the retirement of preferred stock by call as provided in section 9 hereof) within ten days thereafter mail, first class postage prepaid, to all holders of record of preferred stock at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice specifying the balance in such fund and stating that the same is available for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock at the lowest prices (not in excess of the par value thereof and accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, to the date of purchase) offered within twenty days after the date of such notice. At the expiration of such twenty days, the Corporation shall apply such balance to the purchase for retirement of preferred stock, if obtainable, in accordance with the terms of such notice. Within ten days after such expiration, subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article, the Corporation shall call for retirement, in the manner provided in section 9 hereof, the largest number of shares of preferred stock which can be retired from the balance in such retirement fund remaining after deducting the amount paid or to be paid for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock as aforesaid, and shall set aside from such retirement fund the sum necessary to effect such retirement, but the minimum capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law. Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article, at any time and from time to time the Corporation may make such lawful transfers from its surplus and/or undivided profits to the preferred stock retirement fund as the Board of Directors may determine. All shares of preferred stock purchased for retirement by the Corporation, whether from the retirement fund or otherwise, shall be cancelled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(9) Retirement of preferred stock by call. -- Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article, the Corporation may at any time, at its election as expressed by resolution of the Board of Directors, retire the outstanding preferred stock as a whole, or from time to time in part, pro rata, or by lot in such equitable manner to carry out the purpose of this article 9 as the Board of Directors of the Corporation in its discretion shall from time to time determine, (and provided always that the capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law) by paying for such share to be retired a retirement price equal to the par value thereof plus all accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of such retirement. At least thirty days prior notice of every such retirement, stating the retirement date and the retirement price, and the place of payment thereof, shall be mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to the holder of record of each share to be retired, at the address of such holder as shown on the books of the Corporation. Such notice having been so mailed, each holder of shares so called for retirement shall be entitled to receive payment of the retirement price of such shares (without interest) upon surrender to the Corporation, on or after the retirement date, at the place designated in such notice, of the certificate or certificates therefor in transferable form, and, if required, properly stamped for transfer. In case less than all senting the unretired shares. From and after the retirement date (unless the Corporation shall default in payment of the retirement price), all dividends on shares called for retirement shall cease to accrue, such shares shall be deemed to be no longer outstanding, and all rights of the holders thereof as shareholders of the Corporation, except the right to receive the retirement price, shall terminate. All shares so retired shall be canceled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(10) Increase or decrease of capital stock: Amendments of Articles of Incorporation, etc. -- By the affirmative vote of the holders, voting by classes, of at least two-thirds of the shares of each class of stock at the time outstanding, and not otherwise, and subject to such approval by the State Comptroller and such other conditions as at the time may be required by law -- (a) The capital stock of the Corporation may be increased at any time and from time to time through issuing additional shares of preferred stock and/or common stock, and/or through the creation of one or more additional classes of stock; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of preferred stock shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock if the entire proceeds of such issue are to be used for the retirement of shares of preferred stock; and provided further, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock as a stock dividend, pursuant to the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article _____ in connection with the retirement of shares of preferred stock; (b) The capital stock of the Corporation may be decreased at any time and from time to time to any amount not below the amount at the time required by law; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to the retirement of preferred stock; (c) The name of the Corporation and/or the place where its operations of discount and deposits are to be carried on may be changed, but this clause shall not be construed to abridge the powers of the Board of Directors under applicable law with reference to the establishment or change of location or closing of branches; (d) These Articles of Incorporation may be amended at any time and from time to time in any other respect, but not so as to change the respective voting rights of the preferred stock and common stock so long as any of the preferred stock remains outstanding; (e) The Corporation may be consolidated or merged into or with any other bank, or may acquire all or substantially all of the assets and business of any banking corporation or trust company; (f) All or substantially all of the assets and business of the Corporation may be sold or otherwise disposed of; (g) The Corporation may go into voluntary liquidation; and (h) Any plan of reorganization of the Corporation may be carried into effect -- Provided, however, that if and as long as the voting rights of the preferred stock are increased in accordance with the provisions of sections 12 or 13 of this Article _____ and the fair value of the assets of the Corporation as determined by the State Comptroller shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding, any of the actions specified in the foregoing paragraphs (a) to (h) inclusive, of this section 10 may be taken by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled, and not otherwise, except that the Corporation may not be put into voluntary liquidation without the approval of the State Comptroller.

(11) Preemptive rights. -- In case of any increase in the capital stock of the Corporation of any class other than by way of a stock dividend, the new shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all shares of stock of that class at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of shares of such stock of that class held by them respectively, by mailing, first-class postage prepaid, to such holders, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, transferable subscription warrants exercisable at any time on or before thirty days from the date of such mailing. If at the expiration of such subscription rights, any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all other shares of stock of all other classes at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of such shares held by them respectively, and notice shall be given as above provided. If at the expiration of both of such subscription rights any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such unsubscribed new shares may be issued and sold at such price, not less than the par value thereof, to such persons and on such terms as the Board of Directors may determine.

(12) Voting rights. -- (a) Except as otherwise provided in sections 10 and 13 of this article _____ and in this section 12, each holder of stock of any class shall be entitled to vote on all matters one vote for each share of stock of any class held by him. (b) In all elections of directors, each holder of stock of any class shall have the right to vote the votes allocable to the number of shares owned by him for as many persons as there are directors to be elected, or to cumulate such votes and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of votes allocable to his shares shall equal, or to distribute such votes on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall think fit. (c) In case as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock shall be in arrears (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock), then, and until all arrears of dividends upon the preferred stock shall have been paid and the full dividend on the outstanding preferred stock for the then current semi-annual dividend period shall have been declared and funds set apart for the payment thereof, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled. (d) At any time while the votes of the preferred stock are increased as provided in paragraph (c) of this section 12 or in subparagraph (2) of section 13 of this article _____, any one or more of the directors, officers, or employees of the Corporation may be removed at any annual or special meeting of shareholders, with or without cause, and their successors elected, by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled.

(13) Other voting rights. -- If at any time while the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall hold not less than twenty-five per cent of the total number of shares or preferred stock at the time outstanding -- (a) The Corporation shall be in arrears in the payment of as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock); or (b) The amounts paid into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 3 of this article _____) in accordance with the requirements of paragraph (c) of section 6 of this article _____ on and after February 1, 1937, shall not have amounted in the aggregate to five per cent of the maximum par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding (whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever) multiplied by the number of calendar years which shall have elapsed since January 1, 1936; or (c) The fair value of the assets of the banking corporation as determined by an examination of the banking corporation by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (which may be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation once in each calendar year if the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall so elect), or as determined by the State Comptroller, shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding; or (d) The Corporation shall violate or fail to observe any of the terms, provisions, or conditions of its Articles of Incorporation -- then after written notice from Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the existence of any of said conditions and so long as any of said conditions in (a), (b), (c) and (d) above shall continue: (1) All directors, officers, and employees of the Corporation shall receive compensation at rates not exceeding such maximum limitations as may be fixed by the vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding. (2) In case Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with the approval of the State Comptroller, at any time shall notify the Corporation that any director, officer or employee of the Corporation is regarded by Reconstruction Finance Corporation as unsatisfactory, and in case such director, officer, or employee is not removed from office, (and, if requested by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, replaced with a director, officer, or employee satisfactory to it) within thirty days after receipt by the Corporation of such notice, then, and until such removal and replacement shall have been effected, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled. (3) The Corporation shall not directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire any real estate for its own use, or lease any real estate for its own use for a term longer than one year, without in each case the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, or a written waiver of voting rights in respect thereto by the holders of such majority; provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to real estate acquired under the provisions of sub-divisions 2 and 3 of Section 53 of Senate Bill 227, Laws of 1934. (4) The Corporation shall not incur indebtedness maturing more than one year from the creation thereof, without the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding or a written waiver of voting rights with respect thereto by the holders of such majority, but the indebtedness herein referred to shall not be construed to include the issuance of circulating notes and the acceptance of time deposits, which may continue to be accepted by the Corporation under such conditions as may be provided by law.

(14) Rights of preferred stock on liquidation. -- In the event of any receivership, conservatorship, liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, before any payment or other distribution, whether in cash, property, or otherwise, shall be made to the holders of common stock, the holders of preferred stock shall be entitled to receive, for each share of such stock held by them, an amount equal to the par value thereof, plus an amount equal to all unpaid dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of payment, but shall not be entitled to any ~~other~~ or further payment; provided, however, that a merger or consolidation in accordance with law and these Articles of Incorporation, shall not be deemed a liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation within the meaning of this section 14.

(a) Officers. -- The Board of Directors shall elect one of its members President of the Corporation. The Board may designate a director in lieu of the President to be Chairman of the Board, who shall perform such duties as may be designated by the Board. The directors shall have power to elect one or more Vice Presidents, at least one of whom shall also be a member of the Board of Directors, and who shall be authorized, in the absence of inability of the President from any cause, to perform all acts and duties pertaining to the office of president except such as the President only is authorized by law to perform; and to elect or appoint a Cashier, and such other officers and clerks as may be required to transact the business of the Corporation; and subject to the provisions of sub-paragraphs (1) and (2) of section 13 of article _____ hereof, to fix the salaries to be paid to them, and to continue them in office or to dismiss them as in the opinion of a majority of the Board the interests of the Corporation may demand;

(b) Powers of Board of Directors. -- The Board of Directors shall have the power to define the duties of the officers and clerks of the Corporation, to require bonds from them, and to fix the penalty thereof; to regulate the manner in which election of directors shall be held and to appoint judges of the elections; to make all by-laws that it may be proper for them to make, not inconsistent with law and these Articles of Incorporation, for the general regulation of the business of the Corporation and the management of its affairs, and generally to do and perform all acts that it may be legal for a board of directors to do and perform according to law and within the limits of these Articles of Incorporation.

Special meetings of shareholders. -- Except as otherwise specifically provided by statute, special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose at any time by the Board of Directors or by the holders of at least ten per cent of the then outstanding shares of any class. Every such special meeting shall be called by mailing, not less than ten days before the time fixed for the meeting, to all shareholders of record entitled to act and vote at such meeting, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice stating the purpose of the meeting. Such notice may be waived in writing.

RESOLVED SIXTH, That each shareholder of record may subscribe within five days from and after the date of this meeting to such issue of preferred stock in proportion to the number of shares of common stock of the Corporation standing on the books of the Corporation in his name; and

RESOLVED SEVENTH, That the Board of Directors through its proper officers, at the expiration of the said five days, shall sell the unsubscribed portion of such preferred stock at such price (not less than the par value thereof) to Reconstruction Finance Corporation and/or to such other person or persons as the Board of Directors may deem advisable.

RECORD OF CHARTERS 34-35---STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

TUCKER PRINTING HOUSE JACKSON MISS

SUGGESTED FORM OF AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION FOR CONTINUING MISSISSIPPI STATE BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES ISSUING ONE CLASS OF PREFERRED STOCK.

Proposed Amendments to Articles of Incorporation of Bank of Mantee, Mantee, Webster, Mississippi.
 (Name of Bank) (City) (County) (State)

RESOLVED FIRST, That the capital of this Corporation be increased in the sum of $5,000.00, by the issuance of $5,000.00 of preferred stock under the provisions of Section 52 of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, making the total capital of the Corporation $15,000.00, of which $5,000.00 is preferred and $10,000.00 is common stock.

RESOLVED SECOND, That the Articles of Incorporation be amended by striking out Article _____ and inserting in place thereof the following: "The Board of Directors shall consist of such number of shareholders, not less than five nor more than twenty-five, as from time to time shall be determined by a majority of the votes to which all shareholders are at the time entitled. A majority of the Board of Directors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business."

RESOLVED THIRD, That the Articles of Incorporation be further amended by striking out Article _____ and inserting in the place thereof the following: _____ (1) Amount, classes, and shares of capital stock. The amount of capital stock of the Corporation shall be $15,000.00 divided into classes and shares as follows: (a) $5,000.00 par value of preferred stock (subject to retirement as hereinafter provided) divided into 50 shares of the par value of $100.00 (1) each; and (b) $10,000.00 par value of common stock (subject to increase upon retirement of preferred stock as provided in the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article _____) divided into 100 shares of the par value of $100.00 each.

(2) Assessability of stock. -- The holders of preferred stock shall not be held individually responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts, or engagements of the Corporation, and shall not be liable for assessments to restore impairments in the capital of the Corporation.

(3) Dividends on preferred stock. The holders of preferred stock, in preference to the holders of common stock, shall be entitled to receive, when and as declared by the Board of Directors, out of net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this article _____) accruing after _____, 193____ (2) (hereinafter referred to as the "Recapitalization Date"), cash dividends thereon to and including January 31, 1935, at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter to and including January 31, 1940, at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more. Such dividends shall be payable semi-annually on each February 1 and August 1, and shall accrue, as to any given share of such stock, from the date of issuance of such stock. Such dividends shall be cumulative, so that if dividends at the full rates required by this section 3 to be paid on the preferred stock shall not have been paid upon or declared and set apart for such preferred stock, the deficiency shall be fully paid or declared and set apart before any dividend or other distribution, whether in cash, property, stock, or otherwise, shall be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock. Dividends on the preferred stock shall be deemed to accrue from day to day.

(4) Dividends on common stock. -- Dividends or other distributions whether in cash, property, stock or otherwise, shall so long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock only out of the net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this article _____) accruing after the Recapitalization Date. If any retirement of preferred stock would decrease the outstanding capital of the Corporation below the minimum amount required by law, the Board of Directors, prior to or simultaneously with such retirement, shall transfer an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired from reserves set up for the retirement of preferred stock to a special reserve fund for the payment of common stock dividends, and shall declare on the common stock, out of such special reserve fund, a dividend payable in common stock in an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired, and the shares of common stock required for the payment of any such stock dividend shall be issuable without any further vote on the part of the holders of stock of any class or any further approval on the part of the State Comptroller.

(5) Determination of net profits. -- For the purpose of this article _____, the net profits or net loss (as distinguished from usage of terms "net profits" and "net loss" in reports required by the State Comptroller of the Corporation shall be determined for each six months' period ending on December 31 or June 30 by deducting from the gross earnings from all sources for such period: (a) All expenses for such period; (b) All interest accrued during such period; (c) All losses determined during such period, and such charge-offs and write-downs of assets and transfers to reserves (whether from income, undivided profits or surplus) for such period (including all charge-offs, write-downs and transfers to reserves requested by the State Comptroller for such period) as may be reasonably necessary to make proper provision for doubtful assets, depreciation, and undetermined losses, but to the extent only that such losses, determined or undetermined, charge-offs, and write-downs of assets exceed reserves previously set up therefor in such period or any prior period, or available unallocated reserves; (d) Provision for all taxes for such period including taxes measured by income and taxes based on the ownership of stock in the Corporation paid or payable by the Corporation for the account of its shareholders, without prejudice to such right as the Corporation may have to recover the same; (e) Such transfers for such period to surplus as may be required by law; provided, however, that transfers to earned surplus as required by section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, shall not be deducted from gross earnings in determining net profits available for the dividend and retirement requirements of the preferred stock; and (f) The net loss, if any, determined in accordance with the provisions of this section 5, accrued since the Recapitalization Date, accumulated to and existing at the beginning of such period; provided, however, that no deductions from gross earnings for the six months' period ending _____, 193____ (3) need be made by reason of any charge-offs or write-downs of assets or transfers to reserves required by the State Comptroller and approved in writing by Reconstruction Finance Corporation made on account of loss incurred prior to or depreciation in assets existing at the Recapitalization Date. All recoveries over net book value on assets previously charged off or written down or against which reserves have been set up, and all transfers from reserves to surplus or undivided profits (other than transfers made to reflect recoveries already created as gross earnings), shall be considered gross earnings for the respective periods during which such recoveries or transfers are effected.

(6) Application of net profits. -- As long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, the Corporation, on each February 1 and August 1 (except that, as provided in paragraph (b) hereof, no payments shall be required pursuant to the provisions of such paragraph prior to August 1, 1936), shall apply the net profits of the Corporation for the six months' period ending on the next preceding December 31 or June 30, as the case may be, to the following purposes and in the following order of priority: (a) To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock accrued to such February 1 or August 1, as the case may be. (b) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in Section 8 of this article _____) on August 1, 1936, of a sum equal to three-quarters of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter, to and including February 1, 1940, of a sum equal to one-quarter of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter of a sum equal to one-half of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding. In the event that the net profits of the Corporation shall on any such February 1 or August 1 be insufficient to permit the payment into such preferred stock retirement fund of the full amount hereinabove provided for, the deficiency shall be fully paid before any net profits of the Corporation shall be thereafter applied to any of the purposes hereinafter specified in this section 6. (c) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article _____) of a sum equal to forty per cent of the remainder, if any, of such net profits; Provided, however, That the aggregate amount paid into the preferred stock retirement fund in any one year in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph (c) need not exceed five per cent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding, whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever; Provided further, however, That unless otherwise elected, from time to time, by the Corporation by action of its Board of Directors, it shall not be required to make such payment into the preferred stock retirement fund required by this paragraph (c) except from such net profits as may have accrued from and after December 31, 1935. Subject to compliance with the provisions of section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, any balance of net profits for any such period may be applied from time to time to such lawful purposes as may be determined by the Board of Directors, subject, however, to the provisions of section 7 of this article _____.

(7) Limitations on retirement of stock. -- Except with the approval of the State Comptroller no preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement by the Corporation unless the then unimpaired capital, surplus and undivided profits of the Corporation, and the retirement funds provided for herein (after giving effect to the proceeds of the issuance of any stock issued to provide funds for such retirement) exceed $17,000.00 (4) by an amount at least equal to the sum necessary to effect such retirement. No shares of preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement unless all accrued dividends (whether or not earned or declared) to the dividend payment date next preceding the date of such retirement shall have been paid on all shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(8) Retirement of preferred stock by purchase. -- Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article _____, whenever the balance in the preferred stock retirement fund shall amount to as much as $1,000.00 (5), the Corporation shall (unless the Board of Directors shall elect to use the entire amount of such balance in the preferred stock retirement fund for the retirement of preferred stock by call as provided in section 9 hereof) within ten days thereafter mail, first-class postage prepaid, to all holders of record of preferred stock at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice specifying the balance in such fund and stating that the same is available for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock at the lowest prices (not in excess of the par value thereof and accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, to the date of purchase) offered within twenty days after the date of such notice. At the expiration of such twenty days, the Corporation shall apply such balance to the purchase for retirement of preferred stock, if obtainable, in accordance with the terms of such notice. Within ten days after such expiration, subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article _____, the Corporation shall call for retirement from the balance in such retirement fund remaining after deducting the amount paid or to be paid for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock as aforesaid, and shall set aside from such retirement fund the sum necessary to effect such retirement, but the minimum capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law. Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article _____, at any time and from time to time the Corporation may make such lawful transfers from its surplus and/or undivided profits to the preferred stock retirement fund as the Board of Directors may determine. All shares of preferred stock purchased for retirement by the Corporation, whether from the retirement fund or otherwise, shall be cancelled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(9) Retirement of preferred stock by call. -- Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article _____, the Corporation may at any time, at its election as expressed by resolution of the Board of Directors, retire the outstanding preferred stock as a whole, or from time to time in part, pro rata, or by lot in such equitable manner to carry out the purpose of this section 9 as the Board of Directors of the Corporation in its discretion shall from time to time determine, (and provided always that the capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law) by paying for each share to be retired a retirement price equal to the par value thereof, plus all accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of such retirement. At least thirty days prior written notice of every such retirement, stating the retirement date and the retirement price, and the place of payment thereof, shall be mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to the holder of record of each share to be retired, at the address of such holder as shown on the books of the Corporation. Such notice having been so mailed, each holder of shares so called for retirement shall be entitled to receive payment of the retirement price of such shares (without interest) upon surrender to the Corporation, on or after the retirement date, at the place designated in such notice, of the certificate or certificates therefor in transferable form and, if required, properly stamped for transfer. In case less than all of the shares represented by any such certificate are retired, a new certificate shall be issued representing the unretired shares. From and after the retirement date (unless the Corporation shall default in payment of the retirement price), all dividends on shares called for retirement shall cease to accrue, such shares shall be deemed to be no longer outstanding, and all rights of the holders thereof as shareholders of the Corporation, except the rights to receive the retirement price, shall terminate. All shares so retired shall be canceled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(10) Increase or decrease of capital stock: Amendments of Articles of Incorporation, etc. -- By the affirmative vote of the holders, voting by classes, of at least two-thirds of the shares of each class of stock at the time outstanding, and not otherwise, and subject to such approval by the State Comptroller and such other conditions as at the time may be required by law -- (a) The capital stock of the Corpora-and from time to time to any amount not below the amount at the time required by law; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to the retirement of preferred stock; (c) The name of the Corporation and/or the place where its operations of discount and deposit are to be carried on may be changed, but this clause shall not be construed to abridge the powers of the Board of Directors under applicable law with reference to the establishment or change of location or closing of branches; (d) These Articles of Incorporation may be amended at any time and from time to time in any other respect, but not so as to change the respective voting rights of the preferred stock and common stock so long as any of the preferred stock remains outstanding; (e) The Corporation may be consolidated or merged into or with any other bank, or may acquire all or substantially all of the assets and business of any banking corporation or trust company; (f) All or substantially all of the assets and business of the Corporation may be sold or otherwise disposed of; (g) The Corporation may go into voluntary liquidation; and (h) Any plan of reorganization of the Corporation may be carried into effect --- Provided, however, that if and as long as the voting rights of the preferred stock are increased in accordance with the provisions of sections 12 or 13 of this Article _____ and the fair value of the assets of the Corporation as determined by the State Comptroller shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding, any of the actions specified in the foregoing paragraphs (a) to (h) inclusive, of this section 10 may be taken by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled, and not otherwise, except that the Corporation may not be put into voluntary liquidation without the approval of the State Comptroller.

(11) Preemptive rights. -- In case of any increase in the capital stock of the Corporation of any class other than by way of a stock dividend, the new shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all shares of stock of that class at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of shares of such stock of that class held by them respectively, by mailing, first-class postage prepaid, to such holders, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, transferable subscription warrants exercisable at any time on or before thirty days from the date of such mailing. If at the expiration of such subscription rights, any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all other shares of stock of all other classes at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of such shares held by them respectively, and notice shall be given as above provided. If at the expiration of both of such subscription rights any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such unsubscribed new shares may be issued and sold at such price, not less than the par value thereof, to such persons and on such terms as the Board of Directors may determine.

(12) Voting rights. -- (a) Except as otherwise provided in sections 10 and 13 of this article _____ and in this section 12, each holder of stock of any class shall be entitled to vote on all matters one vote for each share of stock of any class held by him. (b) In all elections of directors, each holder of stock of any class shall have the right to vote the votes allocable to the number of shares owned by him for as many persons as there are directors to be elected, or to cumulate such votes and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of votes allocable to his shares shall equal, or to distribute such votes on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall think fit. (c) In case as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock shall be in arrears (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock), then, and until all arrears of dividends upon the preferred stock shall have been paid and the full dividend on the outstanding preferred stock for the then current semi-annual dividend period shall have been declared and funds set apart for the payment thereof, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled. (d) At any time while the votes of the preferred stock are increased as provided in paragraph (c) of this section 12 or in sub-paragraph (2) of section 13 of this article _____, any one or more of the directors, officers, or employees of the Corporation may be removed at any annual or special meeting of shareholders, for or without cause, and their successors elected, by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled.

(13) Other voting rights. -- If at any time while the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall hold not less than twenty-five per cent of the total number of shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding -- (a) The Corporation shall be in arrears in the payment of as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock); or (b) The amounts paid into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article _____) in accordance with the requirements of paragraph (c) of section 6 of this article _____ on and after February 1, 1937, shall not have amounted in the aggregate to five per cent of the maximum par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding (whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever) multiplied by the number of calendar years which shall have elapsed since January 1, 1936; or (c) The fair value of the assets of the banking corporation as determined by an examination of the banking corporation by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (which may be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation once in each calendar year if the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall so elect), or as determined by the State Comptroller, shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding; or (d) The Corporation shall violate or fail to observe any of the terms, provisions, or conditions of its Articles of Incorporation -- then after written notice from Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the existence of any of said conditions and so long as any of said conditions in (a), (b), (c) and (d) above shall continue: (1) All directors, officers, and employees of the Corporation shall receive compensation at rates not exceeding such maximum limitations as may be fixed by the holders of a majority of the shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding. (2) In case Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with the approval of the State Comptroller, at any time shall notify the Corporation that any director, officer or employee of the Corporation is regarded by Reconstruction Finance Corporation as unsatisfactory, and in case such director, officer, or employee is not removed from office (and, if requested by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, replaced with a director, officer, or employee satisfactory to it) within thirty days after receipt by the Corporation of such notice, then, and until such removal and replacement shall have been effected, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled. (3) The Corporation shall not directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire any real estate for its own use, or lease any real estate for its own use for a term longer than one year, without in each case the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, or a written waiver of voting rights in respect thereto by the holders of such majority; provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to real estate acquired under the provisions of sub-divisions 2 and 3 of Section 53 of Senate Bill 227, Laws of 1934. (4) The Corporation shall not incur indebtedness maturing more than one year from the creation thereof, without the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding or a written waiver of voting rights with respect thereto by the holders of such majority, but the indebtedness herein referred to shall not be construed to include the issuance of circulating notes and the acceptance of time deposits, which may continue to be accepted by the Corporation under such conditions as may be provided by law.

(14) Rights of preferred stock on liquidation. -- In the event of any receivership, conservatorship, liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, before any payment or other distribution, whether in cash, property, or otherwise shall be made to the holders of common stock, the holders of preferred stock shall be entitled to receive, for each share of such stock held by them, an amount equal to the par value thereof, plus an amount equal to all unpaid dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of payment, but shall not be entitled to any other or further payment; provided, however, that a merger or consolidation in accordance with law and these Articles of Incorporation, shall not be deemed a liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation within the meaning of this section 14.

(a) Officers. -- The Board of Directors shall elect one of its members President of the Corporation. The Board may designate a director in lieu of the President to be Chairman of the Board, who shall perform such duties as may be designated by the Board. The directors shall have power to elect one or more Vice Presidents, at least one of whom shall also be a member of the Board of Directors, and who shall be authorized, in the absence or inability of the President from any cause, to perform all acts and duties pertaining to the office of president except such as the President only is authorized by law to perform; and to elect or appoint a Cashier, and such other officers and clerks as may be required to transact the business of the Corporation; and subject to the provisions of sub-paragraphs (1) and (2) of section 13 of article _____ hereof, to fix the salaries to be paid to them, and to continue them in office or to dismiss them as in the opinion of a majority of the Board the interests of the Corporation may demand;

(b) Powers of Board of Directors. -- The Board of Directors shall have the power to define the duties of the officers and clerks of the Corporation, to require bonds from them, and to fix the penalty thereof; to regulate the manner in which election of directors shall be held and to appoint judges of the elections; to make all by-laws that it may be proper for them to make, not inconsistent with law and these Articles of Incorporation, for the general regulation of the business of the Corporation and the management of its affairs, and generally to do and perform all acts that it may be legal for a board of directors to do and perform according to law and within the limits of these Articles of Incorporation.

Special meetings of shareholders. -- Except as otherwise specifically provided by statute, special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose at any time by the Board of Directors or by the holders of at least ten per cent of the then outstanding shares of any class. Every such special meeting shall be called by mailing, not less than ten days before the time fixed for the meeting, to all shareholders of record entitled to act and vote at such meeting, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice stating the purpose of the meeting. Such notice may be waived in writing.

RESOLVED FOURTH, That each shareholder of record may subscribe within five days from and after the date of this meeting to such issue of preferred stock in proportion to the number of shares of common stock of the Corporation standing on the books of the Corporation in his name; and

RESOLVED FIFTH, That the Board of Directors through its proper officers, at the expiration of the said five days, shall sell the unsubscribed portion of such preferred stock at such price (not less than the par value thereof) to Reconstruction Finance Corporation and/or to such other person or persons as the Board of Directors may deem advisable.

Suggested Form of Amendments to Articles of Incorporation for Continuing Mississippi^{State} Banks and Trust Companies Issuing One Class of Preferred Stock.

Proposed Amendments to Articles of Incorporation

THE BANK OF LAMBERT, LAMBERT, QUITMAN, MISSISSIPPI
(Name of Bank) (City) (County) (State)

Resolved First, That the capital of this Corporation be increased in the sum of $20,000.00, by the issuance of $20,000.00 of preferred stock under the provisions of Section 52 of Senate Bill NO. 227, Laws of 1934, making the total capital of the Corporation $45,000.00, of which $20,000.00 is preferred and $25,000.00 is common stock.

Resolved Second, That, under the provisions of _____, the common capital of this Corporation be reduced in the sum of $20,000.00, leaving the total common capital, after said reduction $5,000.00.

Resolved Third, That no distribution of assets shall be made to the shareholders of the Corporation by reason of the reduction of the common capital stock of the Corporation, but a sum equal to the said amount of said reduction shall be used to charge off or write down losses, substandard and/or non-acceptable assets and/or shall be transferred to surplus or undivided profits in accordance with the requirements of the Federal Reserve Board and/or the State Comptroller.

Resolved Fourth, That the Articles of Incorporation be amended by striking out Article _____ and inserting in place thereof the following: "The Board of Directors shall consist of such number of shareholders, not less than five nor more than twenty-five, as from time to time shall be determined by a majority of the votes to which all shareholders are at the time entitled. A majority of the Board of Directors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business."

Resolved Fifth, That the Articles of Incorporation be further amended by striking out Articles IV and inserting in the place thereof the following:

(1) Amount, classes, and shares of capital stock.---The amount of capital stock of the Corporation shall be $25,000.00 divided into classes and shares as follows: (a) $20,000.00 par value of preferred stock (subject to retirement as hereinafter provided) divided into 1,000 shares of the par value of $20.00 (1) each; and (b) $5,000.00 par value of common stock (subject to increase upon retirement of preferred stock as provided in the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article _____) divided into 500 shares of the par value of $10.00 each.

(2) Assessability of stock.---The holders of preferred stock shall not be held individually responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts, or engagements of the Corporation, and shall not be liable for assessments to restore impairments in the capital of the Corporation.

(3) Dividends on preferred stock.---The holders of preferred stock, in preference to the holders of common stock, shall be entitled to receive, when and as declared by the Board of Directors, out of net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this article of Inc.) accruing after February 15, 1935 (2) (hereinafter referred to as the "Recapitalization Date") cash dividends thereon to and including January 31, 1935, at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter to and including January 31, 1940, at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more. Such dividends shall be payable semi-annually on each February 1 and August 1, and shall accrue, as to any given share of such stock, from the date of issuance of such share. Such dividends shall be cumulative, so that if dividends at the full rates required by this section 3 to be paid on the preferred stock shall not have been paid upon or declared and set apart for such preferred stock, the deficiency shall be fully paid or declared and set apart before any dividend or other distribution, whether in cash, property, stock, or otherwise, shall be declared, ordered, set apart, apid, or made in respect of the common stock. Dividends on the preferred stock shall be deemed to accrue from day to day.

(4) Dividends on common stock.---Dividends or other distributions whether in cash, property, stock or otherwise, shall, so long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock only out of the net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this article of Inc) accruing after the Recapitalization Date. If any retirement of preferred stock would decrease the outstanding capital of the Corporation below the minimum amount required by law, the Board of Directors, prior to or simultaneously with such retirement, shall transfer an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired from reserves set up for the retirement of preferred stock to a special reserve fund for the payment of common ~~capital~~ stock dividends, and shall declare on the common stock out of such special reserve fund, a dividend payable in common stock in an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired, and the shares of common stock required for the payment of any such stock dividend shall be issuable without any further vote on the part of the holders of stock of any class or any further approval on the part of the State Comptroller.

(5) Determination of net profits.---For the purpose of this article of Inc., the net profits or net loss (as distinguished from usage of terms "net profits" and "net loss" in reports required by the State Comptroller of the Corporation shall be determined for each six months period ending on December 31 or June 30 by deducting from the gross earnings from all sources for such period: (a) All expenses for such period; (b) All interest accrued during such period; (c) All losses determined during such period, and such charge-offs and write-downs of assets and transfers to reserves (whether from income, undivided profits or surplus) for such period (including all charge-offs, write-downs and transfers to reserves requested by the State Comptroller for such period) as may be reasonably necessary to make proper provisions for doubtful assets, depreciation, and undermined losses, but to the extent only

(1) The per share par value of the preferred stock will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

(2) Insert date on which Articles of Incorporation amended by shareholders.

that such losses, determined or undetermined, charge-offs, and write-downs of assets exceed reserves previously set up therefor in such period or any prior period, or available unallocated reserves; (d) Provision for all taxes for such period, including taxes measured by income and taxes based on the ownership of stock in the Corporation paid or payable by the Corporation for the account of its shareholders, without prejudice to such rights as the Corporation may have to recover the same; (e) Such transfers for such period to surplus as may be required by law, however, that transfers to earned surplus as required by section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, shall not be deducted from gross earnings in determining net profits available for the dividend and retirement requirements of the preferred stock; and (f) The net loss, if any, determined in accordance with the provisions of this section 5, accrued since the Recapitalization Date, accumulated to and existing at the beginning of such period; provided, however, that no deductions from gross earnings for the six months' period ending June 30, 1935 (3) need be made by reason of any charge-offs or write-downs of assets or transfers to reserves required by the State Comptroller and approved in writing by Reconstruction Finance Corporation made on account of loss incurred prior to or depreciation in assets existing at the Recapitalization Date. All recoveries over net book value on assets previously charged off or written down or against which reserves have been set up, and all transfers from reserves to surplus or undivided profits (other than transfers made to reflect recoveries already treated as gross earnings), shall be considered gross earnings for the respective periods during which such recoveries or transfers are effected.

(6) Application of net profits.---As long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, the Corporation, on each February 1 and August 1 (except that, as provided in paragraph (b) hereof, no payment shall be required pursuant to the provisions of such paragraph prior to August 1, 1936), shall apply the net profits of the Corporation for the six months' period ending on the next preceding December 31 or June 30, as the case may be, to the following purposes and in the following order of priority: (a) To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock accrued to such February 1 or August 1, as the case may be; (b) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article of Inc.) on August 1, 1936, of a sum equal to three-quarters of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter, to and including February 1, 1940, of a sum equal to one-quarter of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter of a sum equal to one-half of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding. In the event that the net profits of the Corporation shall on any such February 1 or August 1 be insufficient to permit the payment into such preferred stock retirement fund of the full amount hereinabove provided for, the deficiency shall be fully paid before any net profits of the Corporation shall be thereafter applied to any of the purposes hereinafter specified in section 6.

(c) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article of Inc.) of a sum equal to forty per cent of the remainder, if any, of such net profits: Provided, however, That the aggregate amount paid into the preferred stock retirement fund in any one year in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph (c) need not exceed five per cent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding, whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever: Provided further, However, That unless otherwise elected, from time to time, by the Corporation by action of its Board of Directors, it shall not be required to make such payment into the preferred stock retirement fund required by this paragraph (c) except from such net profits as may have accrued from and after December 31, 1935.

Subject to compliance with the provisions of section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, any balance of net profits for any such period may be applied from time to time such lawful purposes as may be determined by the Board of Directors, subject, however, to the provisions of section 7 of this article of Inc.

(7) Limitations on retirement of stock.---Except with the approval of the State Comptroller no preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement by the Corporation unless the then unimpaired capital, surplus and undivided profits of the Corporation, and the retirement funds provided for herein (after giving effect to the proceeds of the issuance of any stock issued to provide funds for such retirement) exceed $25,000.00 (4) by an amount at least equal to the sum necessary to effect such retirement. No shares of preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement unless all accrued dividends (whether or not earned or declared) to the dividend payment date next preceding the date of such retirement shall have been paid on all shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(8) Retirement of preferred stock by purchase.---Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article of Inc. whenever the balance in the preferred stock retirement fund shall amount to as much as $1,000.00 (5), the Corporation shall (unless the Board of Directors shall elect to use the entire amount of such balance in the preferred stock retirement fund for the retirement of preferred stock by call as provided in section 9 hereof) within ten days thereafter, first-class postage prepaid, to all holders of record of preferred stock at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice specifying the balance in such fund and stating that the same is available for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock at the lowest prices (not in excess of the par value thereof and accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, to the date of purchase) offered within twenty days after the date of such notice. At the expiration of such twenty days, the Corporation shall apply such balance to the purchase for retirement of preferred stock, if obtainable, in accordance with the terms of such notice. Within ten days after such expiration, subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article of Inc., the Corporation shall call for retirement, in the manner provided in section 9 hereof, the largest number of shares of preferred stock which can be retired from the balance in such retirement fund remaining after deducting the amount paid or to be paid for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock as aforesaid, and shall set aside from such retirement fund the sum necessary to effect such retirement, but the minimum capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law. Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article of Inc., at any time and from time to time the Corporation may make such lawful transfers from its surplus and or undivided profits to the preferred stock retirement fund as the Board of Directors may determine. All shares of preferred stock purchased for retirement by the Corporation, whether from the retirement fund or otherwise, shall be cancelled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(9) Retirement of preferred stock by call.---Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article of Inc., the corporation may at any time, at its election as expressed by resolution of the Board of Directors, retire the outstanding preferred stock as a whole, or from time to time in part, pro rata, or by lot in such equitable manner to carry out the purpose of this section 9 as the Board of Directors of the Corporation in its discretion shall from time to time determine (and provided always that the capital ~~of~~ shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law) by paying for each share to be retired a retirement price equal to the par value thereof plus all accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of such retirement.

At least thirty days prior written notice of every such retirement, stating the retirement date and the retirement price, and the place of payment thereof, shall be mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to the holder of record of each share to be retired, at the address of such holder as shown on the books of the Corporation. Such notice having been so mailed, each holder of shares so called for retirement shall be entitled to receive payment of the retirement price of such shares (without interest) upon surrender to the Corporation on or before the retirement date, at the place designated in such notice, of the Certificate or certificates therefor in transferable form and, if required,

(3) Insert June 30 or December 31 next succeeding the Recapitalization Date. (4) This figure, representing approximately the unimpaired capital structure of the Corporation after giving effect to the issue of the preferred stock, will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation prior ~~to~~ to the purchase of the preferred stock. (5) This figure will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation. properly stamped for transfer. In case less than all of the shares represented by any such certificate are retired a new certificate shall be issued representing the unretired shares. From and after the retirement date (unless the Corporation shall default in payment of the retirement price), all dividends on shares called for retirement shall cease to accrue, such shares shall be deemed to be no longer outstanding, and all rights of the holders thereof as shareholders of the Corporation, except the right to receive the retirement price, shall terminate. All shares so retired shall be canceled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(10) Increase or decrease of capital stock: Amendments of Articles of Incorporation, etc.---By the affirmative vote of the holders, voting by classes, of at least two-thirds of the shares of each class of stock at the time outstanding, and not otherwise, and subject to such approval by the State Comptroller and such other conditions as at the time may be required by law---(a) The capital stock of the Corporation may be increased at any time and from time to time through issuing additional shares of preferred stock and/or common stock, and/or through the creation of one or more additional classes of stock; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of preferred stock shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock if the entire proceeds of such issue are to be used for the retirement of shares of preferred stock; and provided further, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock, dividend, pursuant to the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article of Inc., in connection with the retirement of shares of preferred stock; (b) The capital stock of the Corporation may be decreased at any time and from time to time to any amount not below the amount at the time required by law; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to the retirement of preferred stock; (c) The name of the Corporation and/or the place where its operations of discount and deposit are to be carried on may be changed, but this clause shall not be construed to abridge the powers of the Board of Directors under applicable law with reference to the establishment or change of location or closing of branches;

(d) These Articles of Incorporation may be amended at any time and from time to time in any other respect, but not so as to change the respective voting rights of the preferred stock and common stock so long as any of the preferred stock remains outstanding; (e) The Corporation may be consolidated or merged into or with any other bank, or may require all or substantially all of the assets and business of any banking corporation or trust company; (f) All or substantially all of the assets and business of the Corporation may be sold or otherwise disposed of; (g) The Corporation may go into voluntary liquidation; and (h) Any plan of reorganization of the Corporation may be carried into effect---Provided, however, that if and as long as the voting rights of the preferred stock are increased in accordance with the provisions of sections 12 or 13 of this Article of Inc., and the fair value of the assets of the Corporation as determined by the State Comptroller shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding, any of the actions specified in the foregoing paragraphs (a) to (h) inclusive, of this section 10 may be taken by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled, and not otherwise, except that the Corporation may not be put into voluntary liquidation without the approval of the State Comptroller.

(11) Preemptive rights.---In case of any increase ~~in~~ the capital stock of the Corporation of any class other than by way of a stock dividend, the new shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all shares of stock of that class at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of shares of such stock of that class held by them respectively, by mailing, first class postage prepaid, to such holders, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, transferable subscription warrants exercisable at any time on or before thirty days from the date of such mailing. If at the expiration of such subscription rights, any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all other shares of stock of all other classes at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of such shares held by them respectively, and notice shall be given as above provided. If at the expiration of both of such subscription rights any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such unsubscribed new shares may be issued and sold at such price, not less than the par value thereof, to such persons and on such terms as the Board of Directors may determine.

(12) Voting rights.---(a) Except as otherwise provided in sections 10 and 13 of this article of Inc., and in this section 12, each holder of stock of any class shall be entitled to vote on all matters one vote for each share of stock of any class held by him. (b) In all elections of directors, each holder of stock of any class shall have the right to vote the votes allocable to the number of shares owned by him for as many persons as there are directors to be elected, or to cumulate such votes and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of votes allocable to his shares shall equal, or to distribute such votes on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall think fit. (c) In case as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock shall be in arrears (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock), then, and until all arrears of dividends upon the preferred stock shall have been paid and the full dividend on the outstanding preferred stock for the then current semi-annual dividend period shall have been declared and funds set apart for the payment thereof, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled. (d) At any time while the votes of the preferred stock are increased as provided in paragraph (c) of this section 12 or in subparagraph (2) of section 13 of this article of Inc., any one or more of the directors, officers, or employees of the Corporation may be removed at any annual or special meeting of shareholders, for or without cause, and their successors elected, by the affirmative vote of two-thirds to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled.

(13) Other voting rights.---If at any time while the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall hold not less than twenty-five per cent of the total number of shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding---(a) The Corporation shall be in arrears in the payment of as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock); or (b) The amounts paid into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article of Inc.), in accordance with the requirements of paragraph (c) of section 6 of this article of Inc., on and after February 1, 1937, shall not have amounted in the aggregate to five per cent of the maximum par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding (whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever) multiplied by the number of ~~year~~ calendar years which shall have elapsed since January 1, 1936; or (c) The fair value of the assets of the banking corporation as determined by an examination of the banking corporation by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (which may be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation once in each calendar year if the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall so elect), or as determined by the State Comptroller, shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding; or (d) The Corporation shall violate or fail to observe any of the terms, provisions, or conditions of its Articles of Incorporation---then after written notice from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the existence of any of said conditions and so long as any of said conditions in (a), (b), (c) and (d) above shall continue: (1) All directors, officers, and employees of the Corporation shall receive compensation at rates not exceeding such maximum limitations as may be fixed by the vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding; (2) In case Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with the approval of the State Comptroller, at any time shall notify the Corporation that any director, officer or employee of the Corporation is regarded by Reconstruction Finance Corporation as unsatisfactory, and in case such director, officer, or employee is not removed from office (and, if requested by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, replaced with a director, officer, or employee satisfactory to it) within thirty days after receipt by the Corporation of such notice, then, and until such removal and replacement shall have been effected, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled. (3) The Corporation shall not directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire any real estate for its own use, or lease any real estate for its own use for a term longer than one year, without in each case the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, or a written waiver of voting rights in respect thereto by the holders of such majority; provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to real estate acquired under the provisions of sub-divisions 2 and 3 of Section 53 of Senate Bill 227, Laws of 1934. (4) ~~Indebtedness shall~~ The Corporation shall not incur indebtedness maturing more than one year from the creation thereof, without the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding or a written waiver of voting rights with respect thereto by the holders of such majority, but the indebtedness herein referred to shall not be construed to include the issuance of circulating notes and the acceptance of time deposits, which ~~may~~ may continue to be accepted by the Corporation under such conditions as may be provided by law.

(14) Rights of preferred stock on liquidation.---In the ~~case~~ event of any receivership, conservatorship, liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, before any payment or other distribution, whether in cash, property, or otherwise shall be made to the holders of common stock, the holders of preferred stock shall be entitled to receive, for each share of stock held by them, an amount equal to the par value thereof, plus an amount equal to all unpaid dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of payment, but shall not be entitled to any other or further payment; provided, however, that a merger or consolidation in accordance with law and these Articles of Incorporation, shall not be deemed a liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation within the meaning of this section 14.

----- (a) Officers.---The Board of Directors shall elect one of its members President of the Corporation. The Board may designate a director in lieu of the President to be Chairman of the Board, who shall perform such duties as may be designated by the Board. The directors shall have power to elect one or more Vice-Presidents, at least one of whom shall also be a member of the Board of Directors, and who shall be authorized, in the absence of inability of the President from any cause, to perform all acts and duties pertaining to the office of President except such as the President only is authorized by law to perform; and to elect or appoint a Cashier, and such other officers and clerks as may be required to transact the business of the Corporation; and subject to the provisions of sub-paragraphs (1) and (2) of section 13 of article of Inc., hereof, to fix the salaries to be paid to them, and to continue them in office or to dismiss them as in the opinion of a majority of the Board the interests of the Corporation may demand; (b) Powers of Board of Directors.---The Board of Directors shall have the power to define the duties of the officers and clerks of the Corporation, to require bonds from them, and to fix the penalty thereof; to regulate the manner in which election of directors shall be held and to appoint judges of the elections; to make all by-laws that it may be proper for them to make, not inconsistent with law and these Articles of Incorporation, for the general regulation of the business of the Corporation and the management of its affairs, and generally to do and perform all acts that it may be legal for a board of directors to do and perform according to law and within the limits of these Articles of Incorporation.

 Special meetings of shareholders.---Except as otherwise specifically provided by statute, special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose at any time by the Board of Directors or by the holders of at least ten per cent of the then outstanding shares of any class. Every such special meeting shall be called by mailing, not less than ten days before the time fixed for the meeting, to all shareholders of record entitled to act and vote at such meeting, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice stating the purpose of the meeting. Such notice may be waived in writing.

RESOLVED SIXTH, That each shareholder of record may subscribe within five days from and after the date of this meeting to such issue of preferred stock in proportion to the number of shares of common stock of the Corporation standing on the books of the Corporation in his name; and

Resolved Seventh, That the Board of Directors through its proper officers, at the expiration of the said five days, shall sell the unsubscribed portion of such preferred stock at such price (not less than the par value thereof) to Reconstruction Finance Corporation and/or to such other person or persons as the Board of Directors may deem advisable.

At a meeting of the shareholders of The Bank of Lambert, Lambert, Mississippi, held on February 15, 1935, 10 days' notice of the proposed business having been given by registered mail, all of the foregoing resolutions were adopted by the following vote,---the affirmative vote representing 70 ~~per~~ % of the total number of shares of capital stock outstanding.

Total number of shares of capital stock.....	500
Total number of shares represented at the meeting.....	352
Total number of shares voted in favor of the resolution.....	352
Total number of shares voted against the resolution.....	NONE

I hereby certify that this a true and correct report (a) of the number of days' notice, given by registered mail, of the meeting of shareholders of this bank held on the date above mentioned; (b) of the vote and (c) of the resolutions adopted at said meeting and (d) that a complete list of shareholders voting therefor and the number of shares voted by each is on file in the bank; (e) that no shares of stock of this bank were voted at said meeting; (f) that no shares of stock held by this bank as sole trustee were voted at said meeting; and (g) that no shares of stock of this bank, as co-trustee were voted at said meeting by this bank.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

STATE OF MISSISSIPPI, COUNTY OF PRENTISS

This day personally appeared before me, the undersigned authority: Claud Gray, Bessie Miller Jones (Mrs.), Joe Young, T. A. Cook, James M. Moore, incorporators of the corporation known as the PRENTISS COUNTY ELECTRIC POWER ASSOCIATION. Who acknowledged that they signed and executed the above and foregoing articles of incorporation as their act and deed on this the 28 day of March, 1935. M. W. Smith, Notary Public of Prentiss County, Miss., My commission expires Oct. 15, 1938 (SEAL OF NOTARY)

Received at the office of the Secretary of State, this the 30th. day of March, A.D., 1935, together with the sum of $10.00 deposited to cover the recording fee, and referred to the Attorney General for his opinion. Walker Wood, Secretary of State.

Jackson, Miss., April 1, 1935.

I have examined this charter of incorporation of Prentiss County Electric Power Association, and am of the opinion that it is not violative of the Constitution and laws of this State, or of the United States. Greek L. Rice, Attorney General. By W. W. Pierce, Assistant Attorney General.

State of Mississippi, Executive Office, Jackson,

The within and foregoing Charter of Incorporation of PRENTISS COUNTY ELECTRIC POWER ASSOCIATION is hereby approved. In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Mississippi to be affixed, this 1st day of April, 1935. By the Governor Sennett Conner, Governor. Walker Wood, Secretary of State.

A call was made by Mayor M. W. Smith for a mass meeting at the Court House Auditorium for March 25th, at 7:30 P.M. to discuss the organization of a PRENTISS COUNTY ELECTRIC ASSOCIATION, and to take steps to secure the Charter. At the time and place appointed there were a number of interested citizens of the county present. The meeting was called to order by Mayor M. W. Smith. Immediately thereafter, a motion was made by Dr. J. M. Bynum that Mayor M. W. Smith be elected temporary chairman, which motion was seconded by Rev. J. D. Thompson, and carried unanimously by vote of those present. Next, a motion was made by J. D. Thompson that Mrs. Bess Miller Jones be elected Secretary, which motion was seconded by J. E. Cunningham and carried unanimously by vote. Chairman M. W. Smith then announced that a round-table discussion of the purposes of the meeting would be in order. After the round-table discussion there was a motion made by E. T. Miller that we proceed to form an organization to be known as the PRENTISS COUNTY ELECTRIC POWER ASSOCIATION and the purpose of same shall be for Civic and Agricultural development, and that same is to be a Cooperative Association and without profit, which motion was seconded by J. D. Thompson and carried unanimously by vote of those present. The Temporary Chairman, M. W. Smith, then asked for nominations for Chairman of this Association. Whereupon, a motion was made by E. T. Miller that M. W. Smith be elected Chairman of this Association which motion was seconded by J. E. Cunningham and carried unanimously by vote of those present. Motion was then made by J. D. Thompson that Mrs. Bess M. Jones be elected Secretary of this Association, which motion was seconded by J. M. Bynum and carried unanimously by vote of those present. A motion was made by E. T. Miller that Dr. J. M. Bynum be elected Vice President of this Association, which motion was seconded by J. D. Thompson and carried unanimously. A resolution was then offered by E. T. Miller that the PRENTISS COUNTY ELECTRIC POWER ASSOCIATION be incorporated into a County wide company as a non-profit sharing Corporation, for the purpose of being able to deal legally with the Tennessee Valley Authority and for making contracts, borrowing money, and such other acts and things as might be necessary for the best interest of the Association or Corporation in procuring TVA power for the rural sections of Prentiss County. Be it further resolved that this Association authorize and instruct J. E. Cunningham to prepare suitable charter for the Corporation. Be it further resolved that this Association does hereby incorporate under the laws of the State of Mississippi, under the name of PRENTISS COUNTY ELECTRIC POWER ASSOCIATION, and that Claud Gray, Bess Miller, Joe Young, T. A. Cook, and James M. Moore be and they are hereby designated and appointed to sign Articles of Incorporation. Motion was made by Dr. J. M. Bynum that the foregoing Resolutions be adopted, which motion was seconded by J. D. Thompson, and carried unanimously by vote of those present. A motion was made by J. E. Cunningham that the Association adjourn subject to call of the President, which motion was seconded by J. M. Bynum and

AMENDMENT TO CHARTER OF CITIZENS BANK OF HATTIESBURG

WHEREAS, on the 6th day of April, 1934, the Charter of Citizens Bank, Hattiesburg, Mississippi, was amended by approving, confirming and ratifying the issuance of $150,000.00 of capital debentures theretofore issued by said Bank and sold to Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and also by reducing the outstanding common stock of said Bank from $125,000.00 to $62,500.00 and authorizing the issuance of $150,000.00 of Preferred Stock, which said amendment was duly recorded in the office of the Secretary of State of the State of Mississippi in Book 33-34, pages 582-583-584 of the Book of Incorporation on file in his office; and,

WHEREAS, in accordance with said amendment the common stock of this Bank was reduced to $62,500.00 par value, but the Preferred Stock therein authorized has never been issued; and,

WHEREAS, it is now deemed necessary and advisable to issue said Preferred Stock, but the form of said amendment in so far as said Preferred Stock is concerned not being in strict accordance with the form suggested by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to be used in such cases:

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the form suggested by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for amendments to charters of Banks authorizing the issuance of Preferred Stock, be adopted in lieu of and in substitution for that portion of said amendment providing for the issuance of Preferred Stock. AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION OF CITIZENS BANK OF HATTIESBURG (Name of Bank), HATTIESBURG (City), FOREST (County), MISSISSIPPI (State)

RESOLVED FIRST, That the capital of this Corporation be increased in the sum of $150,000.00, by the issuance of $150,000.00 of preferred stock under the provisions of Section 52 of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, making the total capital of the Corporation $212,500.00, of which $150,000.00 is preferred and $62,500.00 is common stock. ^{3 as amended}

RESOLVED SECOND, That the Articles of Incorporation be amended by striking out Article ~~1~~ and inserting in place thereof the following:

"The Board of Directors shall consist of such number of shareholders, not less than five nor more than twenty-five, as from time to time shall be determined by a majority of the votes to which all shareholders are at the time entitled. A majority of the Board of Directors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business."

RESOLVED THIRD, That the Articles of Incorporation be further amended by striking out Articles ~~2 and 3~~ and inserting in the place thereof the following:

~~Article 2~~ (1) Amount, classes, and shares of capital stock.--The amount of capital stock of the Corporation shall be $212,500.00 divided into classes and shares as follows: (a) $150,000.00 par value of preferred stock (subject to retirement as hereinafter provided) divided into 2,500 shares of the par value of $60.00 (1) each; and (b) $62,500.00 par value of common stock (subject to increase upon retirement of preferred stock as provided in the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article) divided into 1,250 shares of the par value of $50.00 each.

(2) Assessability of stock.--The holders of preferred stock shall not be held individually responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts, or engagements of the Corporation, and shall not be liable for assessments to restore impairments in the capital of the Corporation.

(3) Dividends of preferred stock.--The holders of preferred stock, in preference to the holders of common stock, shall be entitled to receive, when and as declared by the Board of Directors, out of net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this article 3) accruing after ~~January 1, 1935~~ (2) (hereinafter referred to as the "Recapitalization Date"), cash dividends thereon to and including January 31, 1935, at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter to and including January 31, 1940, at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more. Such dividends shall be payable semi-annually on each February 1 and August 1, and shall accrue, as to any given share of such stocks, from the date of issuance of such share. Such dividends shall be cumulative, so that if dividends at the full rates required by this section 3 to be paid on the preferred stock shall not have been paid upon or declared and set apart for such preferred stock, the deficiency shall be fully paid or declared and set apart before any dividend or other distribution, whether in cash, property, stock, or otherwise, shall be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock. Dividends on the preferred stock shall be deemed to accrue from day to day.

(4) Dividends on common stock.--Dividends or other distributions whether in cash, property, stock or otherwise, shall, so long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock only out of the net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this article 3) accruing after the Recapitalization Date. If any retirement of preferred stock would decrease the outstanding capital of the Corporation below the minimum amount required by law, the Board of Directors, prior to or simultaneously with such retirement, shall transfer an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired from reserves set up for the retirement of preferred stock to a special reserve fund for the payment of common stock dividends, and shall declare on the common stock, out of such special reserve fund, a dividend payable in common stock in an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired, and the shares of common stock required for the payment of any such stock dividend shall be issuable without any further vote on the part of the holders of stock of any class or any further approval on the part of the State Comptroller.

(5) Determination of net profits.--For the purpose of this article 3, the net profits or net loss (as distinguished from usage of terms "net profits" and "net loss" in reports required by the State Comptroller of the Corporation shall be determined for each six months' period ending on December 31 or June 30 by deducting from the gross earnings from all sources for such period: (a) All expenses for such period; (b) All interest accrued during such period; (c) All losses determined during such period, and such charge-offs and write-downs of assets and transfers to reserves (whether from income, undivided profits or surplus) for such period (including all charge-offs, write-downs and transfers to reserves requested by the State Comptroller for such period) as may be necessary to make proper provision for doubtful assets, depreciation, and undetermined losses, but to the extent only that such losses, determined or undetermined, charge-offs, and write-downs of assets exceed reserves previously set up therefor in such period or any prior period, or available unallocated reserves; (d) Provision for all taxes for such period, including taxes measured by income and taxes based on the ownership of stock in the Corporation paid or payable by the Corporation for the account of its shareholders, without prejudice to such rights as the Corporation may have to recover the same; (e) Such transfers for such period to surplus as may be required by law; provided, however, that transfers to earned surplus as required by section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, shall not be deducted from gross earnings in determining net profits available for the dividend and retirement requirements of the preferred stock; and

1. The per share par value of the preferred stock will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

2. Insert date on which Articles of Incorporation amended by shareholders.

(f) The net loss, if any, determined in accordance with the provisions of this section 5, accrued since the Recapitalization Date, accumulated to and existing at the beginning of such period; provided, however, that no deduction from gross earnings for the six months' period ending June 30, 1935 (3), need be made by reason of any charge-offs or write-downs of assets or transfers to reserves required by the State Comptroller and approved in writing by Reconstruction Finance Corporation made on account of loss incurred prior to or depreciation in assets existing at the Recapitalization Date. All recoveries over net book value on assets previously charged off or written down or against which reserves have been set up, and all transfers from reserves to surplus or undivided profits (other than transfers made to reflect recoveries already treated as gross earnings), shall be considered gross earnings for the respective periods during which recoveries or transfers are effected.

(6) Application of net profits.-- As long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, the Corporation, on each February 1 and August 1 (except that, as provided in paragraph (b) hereof, no payments shall be required pursuant to the provisions of such paragraph prior to August 1, 1936), shall apply the net profits of the Corporation for the six months' period ending on the next preceding December 31 or June 30, as the case may be, to the following purposes and in the following order of priority: (a) To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock accrued to such February 1 or August 1, as the case may be. (b) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article 3) on August 1, 1936, of a sum equal to three-quarters of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter, to and including February 1, 1940, of a sum equal to one-quarter of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter of a sum equal to one-half of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding. In the event that the net profits of the Corporation shall on any such February 1 or August 1 be insufficient to permit the payment into such preferred stock retirement fund of the full amount hereinabove provided for, the deficiency shall be fully paid before any net profits of the Corporation shall be thereafter applied to any of the purposes hereinafter specified in this section 6. (c) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article 3) of a sum equal to forty per cent of the remainder, if any, of such net profits: Provided, however, That the aggregate amount paid into the preferred stock retirement fund in any one year in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph (c) need not exceed five per cent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding, whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever: Provided further, however, That unless otherwise elected, from time to time, by the Corporation by action of its Board of Directors, it shall not be required to make such payment into the preferred stock retirement fund required by this paragraph (c) except from such net profits as may have accrued from and after December 31, 1935. Subject to complicate with the provisions of section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, any balance of net profits for any such period may be applied from time to time to such lawful purposes as may be determined by the Board of Directors, subject, however, to the provisions of section 7 of this article 3.

(7) Limitations on retirement of stock.--Except with the approval of the State Comptroller no preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement by the Corporation unless the then unimpaired capital, surplus and undivided profits of the Corporation, and the retirement funds provided for herein (after giving effect to the proceeds of the issuance of any stock issued to provide funds for such retirement) exceed $229,000.00 by an amount at least equal to the sum necessary to effect such retirement. No shares of preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement unless all accrued dividends (whether or not earned or declared) to the dividend payment date preceeding the date of such retirement shall have been paid on all shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(8) Retirement of preferred stock by purchase.--Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article 3, whenever the balance in the preferred stock retirement fund shall amount to as much as $3,000.00 (5), the Corporation shall (unless the Board of Directors shall elect to use the entire amount of such balance in the preferred stock retirement fund for the retirement of preferred stock by call as provided in section 9 hereof) within ten days thereafter mail, first-class postage prepaid, to all holders of record of preferred stock at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice specifying the balance in such fund and stating that the same is available for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock at the lowest prices (not in excess of the par value thereof and accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, to the date of purchase) offered within twenty days after the date of such notice. At the expiration of such twenty days, the Corporation shall apply such balance to the purchase for retirement of preferred stock, if obtainable, in accordance with the terms of such notice. Within ten days after such expiration, subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article 3, the Corporation shall call for retirement, in the manner provided in section 9 hereof, the largest number of shares of preferred stock which can be retired from the balance in such retirement fund remaining after deducting the amount paid or to be paid for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock as aforesaid, and shall set aside from such retirement fund the sum necessary to effect such retirement, but the minimum capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law. Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article 3, at any time and from time to time the Corporation may make such lawful transfers from its surplus and/or undivided profits to the preferred stock retirement fund as the Board of Directors may determine. All shares of preferred stock purchased for retirement by the Corporation, whether from the retirement fund or otherwise, shall be cancelled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(9) Retirement of preferred stock by call.--Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article 3, the Corporation may at any time, at its election as expressed by resolution of the Board of Directors, retire the outstanding preferred stock as a whole, or from time to time in part, pro rata, or by lot in such equitable manner to carry out the purpose of this section 9 as the Board of Directors of the Corporation in its discretion shall from time to time determine, (and provided always that the capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law) by paying for each share to be retired a retirement price equal to the par value thereof plus all accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of such retirement. At least thirty days prior written notice of every such retirement, stating the retirement date and the retirement price, and the place of payment thereof, shall be mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to the holder of record of each share to be retired, at the address of such holder as shown on the books of the Corporation. Such notice having been so mailed, each holder of shares so called for retirement shall be entitled to receive payment of the retirement price of such shares (without interest) upon surrender to the Corporation, on or after the retirement date, at the place designated in such notice, of the certificate or certificates therefor in transferable form and, if required, properly stamped for transfer. In case less than all of the shares represented by any such certificate are retired, a new certificate shall be issued representing the unretired shares. From and after the retirement date (unless the Corporation shall default in payment of the retirement price), all dividends on shares called for retirement shall cease to accrue, such shares shall be deemed to be no longer outstanding, and all rights of the holders thereof as shareholders of the Corporation, except the right to receive the retirement price, shall terminate. All shares so retired shall be cancelled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(10) Increase or decrease of capital stock: Amendments of Article of Incorporation, etc.--By the affirmative vote of the holders, voting by classes, of at least two-thirds of the shares of each class of stock at the time outstanding and not otherwise, and subject to such approval by the State Comptroller and such other conditions as at the time may be required by law--

3. Insert June 30 or December 31 next succeeding the Recapitalization Date.

4. This figure, representing approximately the unimpaired capital structure of the Corporation after giving ~~the~~ effect to the issue of the preferred stock, will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation prior to the purchase of the preferred stock.

5. This figure will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

(a) The capital stock of the Corporation may be increased at any time and from time to time through issuing additional shares of preferred stock and/or common stock, and/or through the creation of one or more additional classes of stock; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of preferred stock shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock if the entire proceeds of such issue are to be used for the retirement of shares of preferred stock; and provided further, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock as a stock dividend, pursuant to the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article 3 in connection with the retirement of shares of preferred stock; (b) The capital stock of the Corporation may be decreased at any time and from time to time to any amount not below the amount at the time required by law; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to the retirement of preferred stock; (c) The name of the Corporation and/or the place where its operations of discount and deposit are to be carried on may be changed, but this clause shall not be construed to abridge the powers of the Board of Directors under applicable law with reference to the establishment or change of location or closing of branches; (d) These Articles of Incorporation may be amended at any time and from time to time in any other respect, but not so as to change the respective voting rights of the preferred stock and common stock so long as any of the preferred stock remains outstanding; (e) The Corporation may be consolidated or merged into or with any other bank, or may acquire all or substantially all of the assets and business of any banking corporation or trust company; (f) All or substantially all of the assets and business of the Corporation may be sold or otherwise disposed of; (g) The Corporation may go into voluntary liquidation; and (h) Any plan of reorganization of the Corporation may be carried into effect-- Provided, however, that if and as long as the voting rights of the preferred stock are increased in accordance with the provisions of sections 12 or 13 of this Article 3 and the fair value of the assets of the Corporation as determined by the State Comptroller shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding, any of the actions specified in the foregoing paragraphs (a) to (h) inclusive, of this section 10 may be taken by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled, and not otherwise, except that the Corporation may not be put into voluntary liquidation without the approval of the State Comptroller.

(11) Preemptive rights.--In case of any increase in the capital stock of the Corporation of any class other than by way of a stock dividend, the new shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all shares of stock of that class at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of shares of such stock of that class held by them respectively, by mailing, first-class postage prepaid, to such holders, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, transferable subscription warrants, exercisable at any time on or before thirty days from the date of such mailing. If at the expiration of such subscription rights, any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all other shares of stock of all other classes at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of such shares held by them respectively, and notice shall be given as above provided. If at the expiration of both of such subscription rights any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such unsubscribed new shares may be issued and sold at such price, not less than the par value thereof, to such persons and on such terms as the Board of Directors may determine.

(12) Voting rights.--(a) Except as otherwise provided in sections 10 and 13 of this article 3 and in this section 12, each holder of stock of any class shall be entitled to vote on all matters one vote for each share of stock of any class held by him. (b) In all elections of directors, each holder of stock of any class shall have the right to vote the votes allocable to the number of shares owned by him for as many persons as there are directors to be elected, or to cumulate such votes and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of votes allocable to his shares shall equal, or to distribute such votes on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall think fit. (c) In case as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock shall be in arrears (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock), then, and until all arrears of dividends upon the preferred stock shall have been paid and the full dividend on the outstanding preferred stock for the then current semi-annual dividend period shall have been declared and funds set apart for the payment thereof, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled. (d) At any time the votes of the preferred stock are increased as provided in paragraph (c) of this section 12 or in subparagraph (2) of section 13 of this article 3 any one or more of the directors, officers, or employees of the Corporation may be removed at any annual or special meeting of shareholders, for or without cause, and their successors elected, by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled.

(13) Other voting rights.--If at any time while the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall hold not less than twenty-five per cent of the total number of shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding-- (a) The Corporation shall be in arrears in the payment of as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock); or (b) The amounts paid into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article 3) in accordance with the requirements of paragraph (c) of section 6 of this article 3 on and after February 1, 1937, shall not have amounted in the aggregate to five per cent of the maximum par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding (whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever) multiplied by the number of calendar years which shall have elapsed since January 1, 1936; or (c) The fair value of the assets of the banking corporation as determined by an examination of the banking corporation by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (which may be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation once in each calendar year if the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall so elect), or as determined by the State Comptroller, shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding; or (d) The Corporation shall violate or fail to observe any of the terms, provisions, or conditions of its Articles of Incorporation--then after written notice from Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the existence of any said conditions and so long as any of said conditions in (a), (b), (c), and (d) above shall continue: (1) All directors, officers, and employees of the Corporation shall receive compensation at rates not exceeding such maximum limitations as may be fixed by the vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding. (2) In case Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with the approval of the State Comptroller, at any time shall notify the Corporation that any director, officer, or employee of the Corporation is regarded by Reconstruction Finance Corporation as unsatisfactory, and in case such director, officer, or employee is not removed from office (and, if requested by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, replaced with a director, officer, or employee satisfactory to it) within thirty days after receipt by the Corporation of such notice, then, and until such removal and replacement shall have been effected, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(3) The Corporation shall not directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire any real estate for its own use, or lease any real estate for its own use for a term longer than one year, without in each case the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, or a written waiver of voting rights in respect thereto by the holders of such majority; provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to real estate acquired under the provisions of sub-divisions 2 and 3 of Section 53 of Senate Bill 227, Laws of 1934.

(4) The Corporation shall not incur indebtedness maturing more than one year from the creation thereof, without the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding or a written waiver of voting rights with respect thereto by the holders of such majority, but the indebtedness herein referred to shall not be construed to include the issuance of circulating notes and the acceptance of time deposits which may continue to be accepted by the Corporation under such conditions as may be provided by law.

(14) Rights of preferred stock on liquidation.--In the event of any receivership, conservatorship, liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, before any payment or other distribution, whether in cash, property, or otherwise shall be made to the holders of common stock, the holders of preferred stock shall be entitled to receive, for each share of such stock held by them, an amount equal to the par value thereof, plus an amount equal to all unpaid dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of payment, but shall not be entitled to any other or further payment; provided, however, that a merger or consolidation in accordance with law and these Articles of Incorporation, shall not be deemed a liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation within the meaning of this section 14.

~~Article IV~~ (a) Officers.--The Board of Directors shall elect one of its members President of the Corporation. The Board may designate a director in lieu of the President to be Chairman of the Board, who shall perform such duties as may be designated by the Board. The directors shall have power to elect one or more Vice Presidents, at least one of whom shall also be a member of the Board of Directors, and who shall be authorized, in the absence or inability of the President from any cause, to perform all acts and duties pertaining to the office of president except such as the President only is authorized by law to perform; and to elect or appoint a Cashier, and such other officers and clerks as may be required to transact the business of the Corporation; and subject to the provisions of subparagraphs (1) and (2) of section 13 of article 3 hereof, to fix the salaries to be paid to them, and to continue them in office or to dismiss them as in the opinion of a majority of the Board the interests of the Corporation may demand; (b) Powers of Board of Directors.--The Board of Directors shall have the power to define the duties of the officers and clerks of the Corporation, to require bonds from them, and to fix the penalty thereof; to regulate the manner in which election of directors shall be held and to appoint judges of the elections; to make all by-laws that it may be proper for them to make, not inconsistent with law and these Articles of Incorporation, for the general regulation of the business of the Corporation and the management of its affairs, and generally to do and perform all acts that it may be legal for a board of directors to do and perform according to law and within the limits of these Articles of Incorporation. ~~Article V~~ Special meetings of shareholders.--Except as otherwise specifically provided by statute, special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose at any time by the Board of Directors or by the holders of at least ten per cent of the then outstanding shares of any class. Every such special meeting shall be called by mailing, not less than ten days before the time fixed for the meeting, to all shareholders of record entitled to act and vote at such meeting, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice stating the purpose of the meeting. Such notice may be waived in writing.

RESOLVED FOURTH, that each shareholder of record may subscribe within five days from and after the date of this meeting to such issue of preferred stock in proportion to the number of shares of common stock of the Corporation standing on the books of the Corporation in his name; and

RESOLVED FIFTH, that the Board of Directors through its proper officers, at the expiration of the said five days, shall sell the unsubscribed portion of such preferred stock at such price (not less than the par value thereof) to Reconstruction Finance Corporation and/or to such other person or persons as the Board of Directors may deem advisable. At a meeting of the shareholders of Citizens Bank of Hattiesburg, (Name of Bank), Hattiesburg, (City), Mississippi, (State), held on February 15th, 1935, 5 days' notice of the proposed business having been given by registered mail, all of the foregoing resolutions were adopted by the following vote,--the affirmative vote representing 75.44 % of the total number of shares of capital stock outstanding. Total number of shares of capital stock 1250. Total number of shares represented at the meeting 943. Total number of shares voted in favor of the resolution 943. Total number of shares voted against the resolution None.

I hereby certify that this is a true and correct report (a) of the number of days' notice, given by registered mail, of the meeting of shareholders of this bank held on the date above mentioned; (b) of the vote and (c) of the resolutions adopted at said meeting and (d) that a complete list of the shareholders voting therefor and the number of shares voted by each is on file in the bank; (e) that no shares of stock of this bank owned by this bank were voted at said meeting; (f) that no shares of stock held by this bank as sole trustee were voted at said meeting; and (g) that no shares of stock of this bank held by this bank as co-trustee were voted at said meeting by this bank; and (h) that no director, other officer or employee acted as proxy at said meeting.

THE CHARTER OF INCORPORATION OF PEOPLE'S FINANCE CORPORATION.

1. The corporate title of said company is: PEOPLE'S FINANCE CORPORATION.

2. The names of the incorporators are: Wyatt Robinson, Post Office, Louisville, Miss.; W. A. Strong, Jr., Post Office, Louisville, Miss.

3. The domicile is at: LOUISVILLE, WINSTON COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI.

4. Amount of capital stock and particulars as to class or classes thereof: Four hundred and fifty (450) shares of preferred stock of the par value of Fifty Dollars ($50.00) per share, amounting to $22,500.00; and twenty five hundred (2500) shares of common stock of the par value of One Dollar ($1.00) per share, amounting to $2,500.00; the whole authorized capital stock amounting to $25,000. The holders of the preferred stock shall be entitled to receive, as and when declared by the Board of Directors, dividends from the surplus or net profits of the corporation at the rate of six per centum per annum, and no more, payable annually or semi-annually at such dates as may from time to time be fixed by the Board. Such dividends on the preferred stock shall be payable before any dividends shall be paid upon, or set apart for, the common stock, and shall be cumulative, so that if in any dividend period dividends at the rate of six per centum per annum shall not have been paid upon or set apart for the preferred stock the deficiency shall be fully paid or set apart, but without interest, before any dividends shall be paid or declared on the common stock. In the event of any dissolution, liquidation or winding up of the corporation the holders of preferred stock shall be entitled, before any assets of the corporation shall be distributed among or paid over to the holders of common stock, to be paid in full the par value of their shares, together with all accrued and unpaid dividends thereon; and if such liquidation be voluntary, then the holders of preferred stock shall be entitled to receive an additional amount equal to five per centum (5%) of the par value of such shares. The holders of common stock shall be entitled, to the exclusion of the holders of preferred stock, to share ratably in all assets of the corporation remaining after such payment to the holders of preferred stock.

The preferred stock may be redeemed by the corporation in whole or in part on any dividend payment date at the option of the Board of Directors, upon not less than thirty days' prior notice to the holders of record of the shares to be redeemed given in such form and manner as may be fixed by the by-laws or by resolutions of said Board, by payment in cash for each share of said stock so to be redeemed the sum of Fifty-two and 50/100 Dollars ($52.50), plus all unpaid dividends accrued thereon. Designation of the particular shares to be redeemed shall be by the Board of Directors, in any manner they may deem proper, and their action shall be final. From and after the date fixed for such redemption by said notices, unless the corporation shall fail to pay the redemption price, dividends shall cease to accrue on the stock to be so redeemed, and all rights of the holders thereof as stockholders of the corporation by virtue of such stock, except the right to receive such redemption price, shall cease and determine.

Each share of stock of the corporation, common or preferred, at any time issued and outstanding, shall have the right to vote upon all questions and in all elections at all meetings of the stockholders, each share having voting power, one vote for each share.

Out of any surplus or net profits of the corporation remaining after full cumulative dividends on the outstanding preferred stock for all previous dividend periods, but not beyond the call date of any stock previously called for redemption, shall have been paid, and for the current dividend period on stock not previously called for redemption shall have been declared and paid, provided for, then, and not otherwise so long as any of the preferred stock shall remain outstanding and not previously called for redemption, dividends may be declared and paid upon the common stock in such amounts and at such times as may be determined by the Board of Directors.

The corporation shall have the right to treat the person in whose name a share of stock is registered as the owner thereof for all purposes, and shall not be bound to recognize any claim of any other person thereto, except as may be provided by the laws of Mississippi; nor shall any stockholder have any preferential or pre-emptive right of subscription to any shares of any class of stock of the corporation now or hereafter created, unless such right be granted by the Board of Directors, and then and only to the extent so granted; and acceptance of certificates of stock shall constitute an agreement by the holder to all of the terms and conditions of this charter and the by-laws and minutes of the corporation.

5. Number of shares for each class and par value thereof: Four hundred and fifty (450) shares of preferred stock of the par value of Fifty Dollars ($50.00) per share; and twenty five hundred (2500) shares of common stock of the par value of One Dollar ($1.00) per share.

6. The period of existence (not to exceed fifty years) is : Fifty years.

7. The purpose for which it is created: To buy, sell, hold, own, borrow and loan money upon, and otherwise acquire and dispose of, deal in and negotiate all kinds of stocks, bonds, debentures, notes, mortgages, deeds of trust, warehouse receipts, bills of lading, accounts, claims and all other kinds of negotiable and non-negotiable instruments and securities, for its own account, or as agent or broker, upon commission or otherwise; to borrow and loan money without security, or with security upon all kinds of property, real or personal, or choses in action, and to buy, sell and negotiate loans of all kinds, for its own account or as agent or broker, upon commission or otherwise; and to do a general investment banking, brokerage and commission business, including the right to purchase, trade for, hold, own, sell, hypothecate, mortgage or otherwise dispose of all or any part of the assets of any financial institution or corporation in process of liquidation, winding up or dissolution, whether real or personal; and to issue, bonds, debentures, certificates, warrants or other obligations of the company from time to time, and to secure the same by mortgage, pledge, deed or trust or otherwise; and generally to own such property, real and personal, and to do and perform such acts as are necessary, usual or incident to the conduct of the business herein above set forth. The rights and powers that may be exercised by this corporation in addition to the foregoing are those conferred by Chapter 100 of the Mississippi Code of 1930, and the Acts amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto.

8. Number of shares of each class of stock to be subscribed and paid for before the corporation may begin business: 1 share preferred stock. 500 shares of common stock.

9. This charter is not for a street railway, telegraph or telephone company. Wyatt Robinson, W. A. Strong, Jr.,

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

State of Mississippi, Winston County. This day personally appeared before me, the undersigned Notary Public, in and for the City of Louisville, in said County and State, the above-named Wyatt Robinson, and W. A. Strong, Jr., incorporators of the corporation known as the PEOPLE'S FINANCE CORPORATION, who severally acknowledged that they signed and executed the above and foregoing articles of incorporation as their act and deed on this the 30 day of March, A.D., 1935. RECORD OF CHARTERS 34-35---STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

SUGGESTED FORM OF AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION FOR CONTINUING MISSISSIPPI STATE BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES ISSUING ONE CLASS OF
PREFERRED STOCK

Proposed Amendments to Articles of Incorporation
of

DEKALB (City), KEMPER (County), MISSISSIPPI (State)

RESOLVED FIRST, That the capital of this Corporation be increased in the sum of $15,000.00, by the issuance of $15,000.00 of preferred stock under the provisions of Section 52 of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, making the total capital of the Corporation $40,000.00, of which $15,000.00 is preferred and $25,000.00 is common stock.

RESOLVED SECOND, That the Articles of Incorporation be amended by striking out Article and inserting in place thereof the following: "The Board of Directors shall consist of such number of shareholders, not less than five nor more than twenty-five, as from time to time shall be determined by a majority of the votes to which all shareholders are at the time entitled. A majority of the Board of Directors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business."

RESOLVED THIRD, That the Articles of Incorporation be further amended by striking out Articles 4 and inserting in the place thereof the following:

(1) Amount, classes, and shares of capital stock.--The amount of capital stock of the Corporation shall be $40,000.00 divided into classes and shares as follows: (a) $15,000.00 par value of preferred stock (subject to retirement as hereinafter provided) divided into 150 shares of the par value of $100.00(1) each and (b) $25,000.00 par value of common stock (subject to increase upon retirement preferred stock as provided in the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article 4) divided into 250 shares of the par value of $100.00 each.

(2) Assessability of stock.--The holders of preferred stock shall not be held individually responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts, or engagements of the Corporation, and shall not be liable for assessments to restore impairments in the capital of the Corporation.

(3) Dividends on preferred stock.--The holders of preferred stock, in preference to the holders of common stock, shall be entitled to receive, when and as declared by the Board of Directors, out of net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this article 4) accruing after March 8th., 1935 (2) (hereinafter referred to as the "Recapitalization Date"), cash dividends thereon to and including January 31, 1935 at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter to and including January 31, 1940, at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more. Such dividends shall be payable semi-annually on each February 1 and August 1, and shall accrue, as to any given share of such stock, from the date of issuance of such share. Such dividends shall be cumulative, so that if dividends at the full rates required by this section 3 to be paid on the preferred stock shall not have been paid upon or declared and set apart for such preferred stock, the deficiency shall be fully paid or declared and set apart before any dividend or other distribution, whether in cash, property, stock, or otherwise, shall be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock. Dividends on the preferred stock shall be deemed to accrue from day to day.

(4) Dividends on common stock.--Dividends or other distributions whether in cash, property, stock or otherwise, shall, so long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, be declared, ordered, set apart, paid or made in respect of the common stock only out of the net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this article 4) accruing after the Recapitalization Date. If any retirement of preferred stock would decrease the outstanding capital of the Corporation below the minimum amount required by law, the Board of Directors, prior to or simultaneously with such retirement, shall transfer an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired from reserves set up for the retirement of preferred stock to a special reserve fund for the payment of common stock dividends, and shall declare on the common stock, out of such special reserve fund, a dividend payable in common stock in an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired, and the shares of common stock required for the payment of any such stock dividend shall be issuable without any further vote on the part of the holders of stock of any class or any further approval on the part of the State Comptroller.

(5) Determination of net profits.--For the purpose of this article 4, the net profits or net loss (as distinguished from usage of terms "net profits" and "net loss" in report required by the State Comptroller of the Corporation shall be determined for each six months' period ending on December 31 or June 30 by deducting from the gross earnings from all sources for such period: (a) All expenses for such period; (b) All interest accrued during such period; (c) All losses determined during such period, and such charge-offs and write-downs of assets and transfers to reserves (whether from income, undivided profits or surplus) for such period (including all charge-offs, write-downs and transfers to reserves requested by the State Comptroller for such period) as may be reasonably necessary to make proper provision for doubtful assets, depreciation, and undetermined losses, but to the extent only that such losses, determined or undetermined, charge-offs, and write-downs of assets exceed reserves previously set up therefor in such period or any prior period, or available unallocated reserves; (d) Provision for all taxes for such period, including taxes measured by income and taxes based on the ownership of stock in the Corporation paid or payable by the Corporation for the account of its shareholders, without prejudice to such rights as the Corporation may have to recover the same; (e) Such transfers, for such period to surplus as may be required by law; provided, however, that transfers to earned surplus as required by section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, shall not be deducted from gross earnings in determining net profits available for the dividend and retirement requirements of the preferred stock; and

1 The per share par value of the preferred stock will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

2 Insert date on which Articles of Incorporation amended by shareholders.

(f) The net loss, if any, determined in accordance with the provisions of this section 5, accrued since the Recapitalization Date, accumulated to and existing at the beginning of such period; provided, however, that no deductions from gross earnings for the six months' period ending June 30th., 1935, (3) need be made by reason of any charge-offs or write-downs of assets or transfers to reserves required by the State Comptroller and approved in writing by Reconstruction Finance Corporation made on account of loss incurred prior to or depreciation in assets existing at the Recapitalization Date. All recoveries over net book value on assets previously charged off or written down or against which reserves have been set up, and all transfers from reserves to surplus or undivided profits (other than transfers made to reflect recoveries already treated as gross earnings), shall be considered gross earnings for the respective periods during which such recoveries or transfers are effected.

(6) Application of net profits.--As long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, the Corporation, on each February 1 and August 1 (except that, as provided in paragraph (b) hereof, no payments shall be required pursuant to the provisions of such paragraph prior to August 1, 1936), shall apply the net profits of the Corporation for the six months' period ending on the next preceding December 31 or June 30, as the case may be, for the following purposes and in the following order of priority: (a) To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock accrued to such February 1 or August 1, as the case may be. (b) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article 4) on August 1, 1936, of a sum equal to three-quarters of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter, to and including February 1, 1940, of a sum equal to one-quarter of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter of a sum equal to one-half of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding. In the event that the net profits of the Corporation shall on any such February 1 or August 1 be insufficient to permit the payment into such preferred stock retirement fund of the full amount hereinabove provided for, the deficiency shall be fully paid before any net profits of the Corporation shall thereafter applied to any of the purposes hereinafter specified in this section 6. (c) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article 4) of a sum equal to forty per cent of the remainder, if any, of such net profits. Provided, however, That the aggregate amount paid into the preferred stock retirement fund in any one year in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph (c) need not exceed five per cent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding, whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever: Provided, further, however, That unless otherwise elected, from time to time, by the Corporation by action of its Board of Directors, it shall not be required to make such payment into the preferred stock retirement fund required by this paragraph (c) except from such net profits as may have accrued from and after December 31, 1935. Subject to compliance with the provisions of section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, any balance of net profits for any such period may be applied from time to time to such lawful purposes as may be determined by the Board of Directors, subject, however, to the provisions of section 7 of this article 4.

(7) Limitations on retirement of stock.--Except with the approval of the State Comptroller no preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement by the Corporation unless the then unimpaired capital, surplus and undivided profits of the Corporation, and the retirement funds provided for herein (after giving effect to the proceeds of the issuance of any stock issued to provide funds for such retirement) exceed $45,000.00 by an amount at least equal to the sum necessary to effect such retirement. No shares of preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement unless all accrued dividends (whether or not earned or declared) to the dividend payment date next preceding the date of such retirement shall have been paid on all shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(8) Retirement of preferred stock by purchase.--Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article 4, whenever the balance in the preferred stock retirement fund shall amount to as much as $1,000.00, the Corporation shall (unless the Board of Directors shall elect to use the entire amount of such balance in the preferred stock retirement fund for the retirement of preferred stock by call as provided in section 9 hereof) within ten days thereafter mail, first-class postage prepaid, to all holders of record of preferred stock at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice specifying the balance in such fund and stating that the same is available for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock at the lowest prices (not in excess of the par value thereof and accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, to the date of purchase) offered within twenty days after the date of such notice. At the expiration of such twenty days, the Corporation shall apply such balance to the purchase for retirement of preferred stock, if obtainable, in accordance with the terms of such notice. Within ten days after such expiration, subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article 4, the Corporation shall call for retirement, in the manner provided in section 9 hereof, the largest number of shares of preferred stock which can be retired from the balance in such retirement fund remaining after deducting the amount paid or to be paid for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock as aforesaid, and shall set aside from such retirement fund the sum necessary to effect such retirement, but the minimum capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law. Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article 4, at any time and from time to time the Corporation may make such lawful transfers from its surplus and/or undivided profits to the preferred stock retirement fund as the Board of Directors may determine. All shares of preferred stock purchased for retirement by the Corporation, whether from the retirement fund or otherwise, shall be cancelled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(9) Retirement of preferred stock by call.--Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article 4, the Corporation may at any time, at its election as expressed by resolution of the Board of Directors, retire the outstanding preferred stock as a whole, or from time to time in part, pro rata, or by lot in such equitable manner to carry out the purpose of this section 9 as the Board of Directors of the Corporation in its discretion shall from time to time determine (and provided always that the capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law) by paying for each share to be retired a retirement price equal to the par value thereof plus all accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of such retirement. At least thirty days prior written notice of every such retirement, stating the retirement date and the retirement price, and the place of payment thereof, shall be mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to the holder of record of each share to be retired, at the address of such holders as shown on the books of the Corporation. Such notice having been so mailed, each holder of shares so called for retirement shall be entitled to receive payment of the retirement price of such shares (without interest) upon surrender to the Corporation, on or after the retirement date, at the place designated in such notice, of the certificate or certificates therefor in transferable form and, if required, properly stamped for transfer. In case less than all of the shares represented by any such certificate are retired, a new certificate shall be issued representing the unretired shares. From and after the retirement date (unless the Corporation shall default in payment of the retirement price), all dividends on shares called for retirement shall cease to accrue, such shares shall be deemed to be no longer outstanding, and all rights of the holders thereof as shareholders of the Corporation, except the right to receive the retirement price, shall terminate. All shares so retired shall be cancelled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(10) Increase or decrease of capital stock.-- Amendments of Articles of Incorporation, etc.-- By the affirmative vote of the holders, voting by classes, of at least two-thirds of the shares of each class of stock at the time outstanding, and not otherwise, and subject to such approval by the State Comptroller and such other conditions as at the time may be required by law--

3 Insert June 30 or December 31 next succeeding the Recapitalization Date.

4 This figure, representing approximately the unimpaired capital structure of the Corporation after giving effect to the issue of the preferred stock, will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation prior to the purchase of the preferred stock.

5 This figure will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

(a) The capital stock of the Corporation may be increased at any time and from time to time through issuing additional shares of preferred stock and/or common stock, and/or through the creation of one or more additional classes of stock; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of preferred stock shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock if the entire proceeds of such issue are to be used for the retirement of shares of preferred stock; and provided further, that no vote of the holders of stock shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock as a stock dividend, pursuant to the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article 4 in connection with the retirement of shares of preferred stock; (b) The capital stock of the Corporation may be decreased at any time and from time to time to any amount and not below the amount at the time required by law; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to the retirement of preferred stock; (c) The name of the Corporation and/or the place where its operations of discount and deposit are to be carried on may be changed, but this clause shall not be construed to abridge the powers of the Board of Directors under applicable law with the reference to the establishment or change of location or closing of branches; (d) These Articles of Incorporation may be amended at any time and from time to time in any other respect, but so as to change the respective voting rights of the preferred stock and common stock so long as any of the preferred stock remains outstanding;

(e) The Corporation may be consolidated or merged into or with any other bank, or may acquire all or substantially all of the assets and business of any banking corporation or trust company; (f) All or substantially all of the assets and business of the Corporation may be sold or otherwise disposed of; (g) The Corporation may go into voluntary liquidation; and (h) Any plan of reorganization of the Corporation may be carried into effect--Provided, however, that if and as long as the voting rights of the preferred stock are increased in accordance with the provisions of sections 12 or 13 of this Article 4 and the fair value of the assets of the Corporation as determined by the State Comptroller shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding, any of the actions specified in the foregoing paragraphs (a) to (h) inclusive, of this section 10 may be taken by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled, and not otherwise, except that the Corporation may not be put into voluntary liquidation without the approval of the State Comptroller.

(11) Preemptive rights.--In case of any increase in the capital stock of the Corporation of any class other than by way of a stock dividend, the new shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of ~~the~~ record of all shares of stock of that class at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of shares of such stock of that class held by them respectively, by mailing, first-class postage prepaid, to such holders, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, transferable subscription warrants exercisable at any time on or before thirty days from the date of such mailing. If at the ~~time~~ expiration of such subscription rights, any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all other shares of stock of all other classes at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of such shares held by them respectively, and notice shall be given as above provided. If at the expiration of both of such subscription rights any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such unsubscribed new shares may be issued and sold at such price, not less than the par value thereof, to such persons and on such terms as the Board of Directors may determine.

(12) Voting rights.--(a) Except as otherwise provided in sections 10 and 13 of this article 4 and in this section 12, each holder of stock of any class shall be entitled to vote on all matters one vote for each share of stock of any class held by him. (b) In all elections of directors, each holder of stock of any class shall have the right to vote the votes allocable to the number of shares owned by him for as many persons as there are directors to be elected, or to cumulate such votes and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors, multiplied by the number of votes allocable to his shares shall equal, or to distribute such votes on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall think fit. (c) In case as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock shall be in arrears (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock), then, and until all arrears of dividends upon preferred stock shall have been paid and the full dividend on the outstanding preferred stock for the then current semi-annual dividend period shall have been declared and funds set apart for the payment thereof, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled. (d) At any time while the votes of the preferred stock are increased as provided in paragraph (c) of this section 12 or in subparagraph (2) of section 13 of this article 4, any one or more of the directors, officers, or employees of the Corporation may be removed at any annual or special meeting of shareholders, for or without cause, and their successors elected, by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled.

(13) Other voting rights.--If at any time while the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall hold not less than twenty-five per cent of the total number of shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding--(a) The Corporation shall be in arrears in the payment of as many as two semi-annual payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock); or (b) The amounts paid into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article 4) in accordance with the requirements of paragraph (c) of section 6 of this article 4 on and after February 1, 1937, shall not have amounted in the aggregate to five per cent of the maximum par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding (whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever) multiplied by the number of ~~calendar~~ years which shall have elapsed since January 1, 1936; or (c) The fair value of the assets of the banking corporation as determined by an examination of the banking corporation by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (which may be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation once in each calendar year if the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall so elect), or as determined by the State Comptroller, shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding; or (d) The Corporation shall violate or fail to observe any of the terms, provisions, or conditions of its Articles of Incorporation--then after written notice from Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the existence of any of said conditions and so long as any of said conditions in (a), (b), (c) and (d) above shall continue: (1) All directors, officers, and employees of the Corporation shall receive compensation at rates not exceeding such maximum limitations as may be fixed by the vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding. (2) In case Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with the approval of the State Comptroller, at any time shall notify the Corporation that any director, officer or employee of the Corporation is regarded by Reconstruction Finance Corporation as unsatisfactory, and in case such director, officer, or employee is not removed from office (and, if requested by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, replaced with a director, officer, or employee satisfactory to it) within thirty days after receipt by the Corporation of such notice, then, and until such removal and replacement shall have been effected, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(3) The Corporation shall not directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire any real estate for its own use, or lease any real estate for its own use for a term longer than one year, without in each case the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, or a written waiver of voting rights in respect thereto by the holders of such majority; provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to real estate acquired under the provisions of sub-divisions 2 and 3 of Section 53 of Senate Bill 227, Laws of 1934.

(4) The Corporation shall not incur indebtedness maturing more than one year from the creation thereof, without the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding or a written waiver of voting rights with respect thereto by the holders of such majority, but the indebtedness herein referred to shall not be construed to include the issuance of circulating notes and the acceptance of time deposits, which may continue to be accepted by the Corporation under such conditions as may be provided by law.

(14) Rights of preferred stock on liquidation.--In the event of any receivership, conservatorship, liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, before any payment or other distribution, whether in cash, property, or otherwise shall be made to the holders of common stock, the holders of preferred stock shall be entitled to receive, for each share of such stock held by them, an amount equal to the par value thereof, plus an amount equal to all unpaid dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of payment, but shall not be entitled to any other or further payment; provided, however, that a merger or consolidation in accordance with law and these Articles of Incorporation, shall not be deemed a liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation within the meaning of this section 14.

4 (a) Officers.--The Board of Directors shall elect one of its members President of the Corporation. The Board may designate a director in lieu of the President to be Chairman of the Board, who shall perform such duties as may be designated by the Board. The directors shall have power to elect one or more Vice Presidents, at least one of whom shall also be a member of the Board of Directors, and who shall be authorized, in the absence or inability of the President from any cause, to perform all acts and duties pertaining to the office of president except such as the President only is authorized by law to perform; and to elect or appoint a Cashier, and such other officers and clerks as may be required to transact the business of the Corporation; and subject to the provisions of sub-paragraphs (1) and (2) of section 13 of article 4 hereof, to fix the salaries to be paid to them, and to continue them in office or to dismiss them as in the opinion of a majority of the Board the interests of the Corporation may demand; (b) Powers of Board of Directors.--The Board of Directors shall have the power to define the duties of the officers and clerks of the Corporation, to require bonds from them, and to fix the penalty thereof; to regulate the manner in which the election of directors shall be held and to appoint judges of the election; to make all by-laws that it may be proper for them to make, not inconsistent with law and these Articles of Incorporation, for the general regulation of the business of the Corporation and the management of its affairs, and generally to do and perform all acts that it may be legal for a board of directors to do and perform according to law and within the limits of these Articles of Incorporation.

4 Special meetings of shareholders.--Except as otherwise specifically provided by statute, special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose at any time by the Board of Directors or by the holders of at least ten percent of the then outstanding shares of any class. Every such special meeting shall be called by mailing, not less than ten days before the time fixed for the meeting, to all shareholders of record entitled to act and vote at such meeting, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice stating the purpose of the of the meeting. Such notice may be waived in writing.

RESOLVED FOURTH, That each shareholder of record may subscribe within five days from and after the date of this meeting to such issue of preferred stock in proportion to the number of shares of common stock of the Corporation standing on the books of the Corporation in his name; and

RESOLVED FIFTH, That the Board of Directors through its proper officers, at the expiration of the said five days, shall sell the unsubscribed portion of such preferred stock at such price (not less than the par value thereof) to Reconstruction Finance Corporation and/or to such other person or persons as the Board of Directors may deem advisable.

At the meeting of the shareholders of Commercial Bank, (Name of Bank), DeKalb, (City), Miss., (State), held on March 8th., 1935, 5 days' notice of the proposed business having been given by registered mail, all of the foregoing resolutions were adopted by the following vote, --the affirmative vote representing 51.2% of the total number of shares of capital stock outstanding. Total number of shares of capital stock 250. Total number of shares represented at the meeting, 128 in person & 52 by proxies. Total number of shares voted in favor of the resolution 128. Total number of shares voted against the resolution, None. I hereby certify that this is a true and correct report (a) of the number of days' notice, given by registered mail, of the meeting of shareholders of this bank held on the date above mentioned; (b) of the vote and (c) of the resolutions adopted at said meeting and (d) that a complete list of the shareholders voting therefor and the number of shares voted by each is on file in the bank; (e) that no shares of stock of this bank owned by this bank were voted at said meeting; (f) that no shares of stock held by this bank as sole trustee were voted at said meeting; and (g) that no shares of stock of this bank held by this bank as co-trustee were voted at said meeting by this bank; and (g) that no director, other officer or employee as proxy at said meeting. T. A. Stennis, President.

AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION OF BANK OF WATER VALLEY-WATER VALLEY, MISSISSIPPI.

RESOLVED, that the Articles of Incorporation of this Corporation be amended by striking out Sections 3, 6 and 13 of Article two and inserting in the place thereof the following:

"(3) Dividends on preferred stock.--The holders of preferred stock, in preference to the holders of common stock, shall be entitled to receive, when and as declared by the Board of Directors, out of net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this article two) accruing after January 26, 1935 (hereinafter referred to as the recapitalization date), cash dividends thereon to and including January 31, 1935, at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter to and including January 31, 1940, at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more. Such dividends shall be payable semi-annually on each February 1 and August 1, and shall accrue, as to any given share of such stock, from the date of issuance of such share. Such dividends shall be cumulative, so that if dividends at the full rates required by this section 3 to be paid on the preferred stock shall not have been paid upon or declared and set apart for such preferred stock, the deficiency shall be fully paid or declared and set apart before any dividend or other distribution, whether in cash, property, stock, or otherwise, shall be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock. Dividends on the preferred stock shall be deemed to accrue from day to day."

"(6) Application of net profits.--As long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, the Corporation, on each February 1 and August 1 (except that, as provided in paragraph (b) hereof, no payments shall be required pursuant to the provisions of such paragraph prior to August 1, 1936), shall apply the net profits of the Corporation for the six months' period ending on the next preceding December 31 or June 30, as the case may be, to the following purposes and in the following order of priority: (a) To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock accrued to such February 1 or August 1, as the case may be. (b) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article two) on August 1, 1936, of a sum equal to three quarters of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter, to and including February 1, 1940, of a sum equal to one quarter of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter of a sum equal to one-half of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding. In the event that the net profits of the Corporation shall on any such February 1 or August 1 be insufficient to permit the payment into such preferred stock retirement fund of the full amount hereinabove provided for, the deficiency shall be fully paid before any net profits of the Corporation shall be thereafter applied to any of the purposes hereinabove specified in this section 6. (c) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article two) of a sum equal to forty per cent of the remainder, if any, of such net profits: Provided, however, that the aggregate amount paid into the preferred stock retirement fund in any one year in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph (c) need not exceed five per cent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding, whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever: Provided further, however, That unless otherwise elected, from time to time, by the Corporation by action of its Board of Directors, it shall not be required to make such payment into the preferred stock retirement fund required by this paragraph (c) except from such net profits as may have accrued from and after December 31, 1935. Subject to compliance with the provisions of section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, any balance of net profits for any such period may be applied from time to time to such lawful purposes as may be determined by the Board of Directors, subject, however, to the provisions of section 7 of this article two."

"(13) Other voting rights.--If at any time while the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall hold not less than twenty-five per cent of the total number of shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding--(a) The Corporation shall be in arrears in the payment of as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock); or (b) The amounts paid into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article two) in accordance with the requirements of paragraph (c) of section 6 of this article two on and after February 1, 1937, shall not have amounted in the aggregate to five per cent of the maximum par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding (whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever) multiplied by the number of calendar years which shall have elapsed since January 1, 1936; or (c) The fair value of the assets of the banking corporation as determined by an examination of the banking corporation by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (which may be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation once in each calendar year if the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall so elect), or as determined by the Superintendent of Banks, shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities including all capital stock outstanding; or (d) The Corporation shall violate or fail to observe any of the terms, provisions, or conditions of its Articles of Incorporation then after written notice from Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the existence of any of said conditions and so long as any of said conditions in (a), (b), (c) and (d) above shall continue:

(1) All directors, officers, and employees of the Corporations shall receive compensation at rates not exceeding such maximum limitations as may be fixed by the vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(2) In case Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks, at any time shall notify the Corporation that any director, officer, or employee of the Corporation is regarded by Reconstruction Finance Corporation as unsatisfactory, and in case such director, officer, or employee is not removed from office (and, if requested by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, replaced with a director, officer, or employee satisfactory to it) within thirty days after receipt by the Corporation of such notice, then, and until such removal and replacement shall have been effected, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rate share of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(3) The Corporation shall not directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise require any real estate for its own use, or lease any real estate for its own use for a term longer than one year, without in each case the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, or a written waiver of voting rights in respect thereto by the holders of such majority; Provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to real estate acquired under the provisions of sub-divisions 2 and 3 of Section 53 of Senate Bill 237, Laws of 1934.

(4) The Corporation shall not incur indebtedness maturing more than one year from the creation thereof, without the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding or a written waiver of voting rights with respect thereto by the holders of such majority, but the indebtedness herein referred to shall not be construed to include the issuance of circulating notes and the acceptance of time deposits, which may continue to be accepted by the Corporation under such conditions as may be provided by law."

At a meeting of the shareholders of BANK OF WATER VALLEY WATER VALLEY, MISSISSIPPI, held on March 23rd, 1935, pursuant to recess from March, 11th., 1935 of which meeting over five days' notice of the proposed business having been given by registered mail the foregoing resolution and amendments were adopted by the following vote, representing all of the shares of preferred stock outstanding and at least two-thirds of the total number of shares of

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CHARTER

TO; Secretary of State
State of Mississippi
Jackson, Mississippi

The Columbus Gravel Company, a Corporation, incorporated under the laws of the State of Mississippi on the 23rd day of March 1920, pursuant to Provisions of Chapter 24 of the Mississippi Code, 1906, recorded in the Book of Incorporations No. 22, Page 71, desires to amend its charter as follows:

That we are now carrying on our books an item entitled Leasehold for $112,060.41 as a capital asset and that this item can no longer be so classified or capitalized due to the fact that the Columbus Gravel Company has ceased its gravel digging operations on the above mentioned leasehold because the Lease or land under Lease have been depleted of all merchandiseable gravel and the plant moved therefrom;

That the Columbus Gravel Company does not have sufficient Surplus to absorb this Asset that is no longer valuable and no depletion reserve having been set up from year to year, it is therefore necessary that the Columbus Gravel Company reduce its Capital Stock in such amount necessary to absorb this worthless Asset, therefore;

The Columbus Gravel Company petitions that its charter be amended to read "Amount of Capital Stock $45,000.00" instead of "Amount of Capital Stock $150,000.00" as it now reads, and in doing so to retire completely and wholly 150 shares of Treasury Stock, now owned by the Company, which are carried on the books and capitalized at $9000.00.

And that there is attached to this petition "Resolution of Stockholders", "Balance Sheet as of February 28th, 1935", "Proposed Balance Sheet showing Changes Proposed", "Journal Entries Necessary to Effect Proposed Changes" and "Roster of Stockholders, Showing present and proposed shares"; all of which are acknowledged as a part of this petition in the attached Affidavit to this petition. RESOLUTION OF STOCKHOLDERS AT MEETING FEBRUARY 11th, 1935

Excerpt from Minutes of Stockholders Meeting:

"Mr. Harris, General Manager, suggested that due to the fact that the original Lease has been depleted and that the plant has been moved therefrom; that the Leasehold which is capitalized on the books at $112060.41, for which no depletion reserve has been set up from year to year, is a mis-leading figure on the financial statement as it is no longer a tangible Asset; that it be written off the books by a reduction of Capital Stock, as there is not enough in the Surplus & Undivided Profits to absorb same, from $150,000.00 to $45,000.00 and in this reduction to retire wholly the 150 shares of Treasury Stock carried on the books at $9000.00., that the reduction be made share and share alike proportionately according to the present shares now held. Mr. Harris further suggested and stated that this leasehold figure is mis-leading on the financial statement and does not reflect the true condition of the affairs of the Company and that its presence on the financial statement might affect the Company's credit rating with Banks, Dunn & Bradstreets, or other financial institutions and might hinder the Company should it desire to apply for a line of credit or a loan. It being found that the By-Laws provide that the Charter can be amended by a three-fourths vote of the Capital Stock and that such vote is present or represented, Mr. J. Meyer made motion that the Secretary proceed immediately with these changes; Seconded by Mr. Broadnax and unanimously carried."

RECORD OF CHARTERS 34-35---STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

SUGGESTED FORM OF AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION FOR CONTINUING MISSISSIPPI STATE BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES ISSUING ONE CLASS OF PREFERRED STOCK

Proposed Amendments to Articles of Incorporation of BANK OF CRENSHAW, CRENSHAW

PANOLA, MISSISSIPPI
(County) (State)

RESOLVED FIRST, That the capital of this Corporation be increased in the sum of $15,000.00, by the issuance of $15,000.00 of preferred stock under the provisions of Section 52 of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, making the total capital of the Corporation $35,000.00, of which $15,000.00 is preferred and $20,000.00 is common stock.

RESOLVED SECOND, That the Articles of Incorporation be amended by striking out Article _____ and inserting in place thereof the following: "The Board of Directors shall consist of such number of shareholders, not less than five nor more than twenty-five, as from time to time shall be determined by a majority of the votes to which all shareholders are at the time entitled. A majority of the Board of Directors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business."

RESOLVED THIRD, That the Articles of Incorporation be further amended by striking out Articles _____ and inserting in the place thereof the following:

(1) Amount, classes, and shares of capital stock.--The amount of capital stock of the Corporation shall be $35,000.00 divided into classes and shares as follows: (a) $15,000.00 par value of preferred stock (subject to retirement as hereinafter provided) divided into 150 shares of the par value of $100.00 (1) each; and (b) $20,000.00 par value of common stock (subject to increase upon retirement of preferred stock as provided in the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article _____) divided into 200 shares of the par value of $100.00 each.

(2) Assessability of stock.--The holders of preferred stock shall not be held individually responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts, or engagements of the Corporation, and shall not be liable for assessments to restore impairments in the capital of the Corporation.

(3) Dividends on preferred stock.--The holders of preferred stock, in preference to the holders of common stock, shall be entitled to receive, when and as declared by the Board of Directors, out of net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this article _____) accruing after _____, 193____ (2) (hereinafter referred to as the "Recapitalization Date"), cash dividends thereon to and including January 31, 1935, at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter to and including January 31, 1940, at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more. Such dividends shall be payable semi-annually on each February 1 and August 1, and shall accrue, as to any given share of such stock, from the date of issuance of such share. Such dividends shall be cumulative, so that if dividends at the full rates required by this section 3 to be paid on the preferred stock shall not have been paid upon or declared and set apart for such preferred stock, the deficiency shall be fully paid or declared and set apart before any dividend or other distribution, whether in cash, property stock, or otherwise, shall be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock. Dividends on the preferred stock shall be deemed to accrue from day to day.

(4) Dividends on common stock.--Dividends or other distributions whether in cash, property, stock or otherwise, shall, so long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock only out of the net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this article _____) accruing after the Recapitalization Date. If any retirement of preferred stock would decrease the outstanding capital of the Corporation below the minimum amount required by law, the Board of Directors, prior to or simultaneously with such retirement, shall transfer an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired from reserves set up for the retirement of preferred stock to a special reserve fund for the payment of common stock, dividends, and shall declare on the common stock, out of such special reserve fund, a dividend payable in common stock in an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired, and the shares of common stock required for the payment of any such stock dividend shall be issuable without any further vote on the part of the holders of stock of any class or any further approval on the part of the State Comptroller.

(5) Determination of net profits.--For the purpose of this article _____, the net profits or net loss (as distinguished from usage of terms "net profits" and "net loss" in reports required by the State Comptroller of the Corporation shall be determined for each six months' period ending on December 31 or June 30 by deducting from the gross earnings from all sources for such period: (a) All expenses for such period; (b) All interest accrued during such period; (c) All losses determined during such period, and such charge-offs and write-downs of assets and transfers to reserves (whether from income, undivided profits or surplus) for such period (including all charge-offs, write-downs and transfers to reserves requested by the State Comptroller for such period) as may be reasonably necessary to make proper provision for doubtful assets, depreciation, and undetermined losses, but to the extent only that such losses, determined or undetermined, charge-offs, and write-downs of assets exceed reserves previously set up therefor in such period or any prior period, or available unallocated reserves; (d) Provision for all taxes for such period, including taxes measured by income and taxes based on the ownership of stock in the Corporation paid or payable by the Corporation for the account of its shareholders, without prejudice to such right as the Corporation may have to recover the same; (e) Such transfers for such period to surplus as may be required by law; provided, however, that transfers to earned surplus as required by section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, shall not be deducted from gross earnings in determining net profits available for the dividend and retirement requirements of the preferred stock; and

1 The per share par value of the preferred stock will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation.
2 Insert date on which Articles of Incorporation amended by shareholders.

(f) The net loss, if any, determined in accordance with the provisions of this section 5, accrued since the Recapitalization Date, accumulated to and existing at the beginning of such period; provided, however, that no deductions from gross earnings for the six months' period ending _____, 193____ (3), need be made by reason of any charge-offs or write-downs of assets or transfers to reserves required by the State Comptroller and approved in writing by Reconstruction Finance Corporation made on account of loss incurred prior to or depreciation in assets existing at the Recapitalization Date. All recoveries over net book value on assets previously charged off or written down or against which reserves have been set up, and all transfers from reserves to surplus or undivided profits (other than transfers made to reflect recoveries already treated as gross earnings), shall be considered gross earnings for the respective periods during which such recoveries or transfers are effected.

(6) Application of net profits.--As long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, the Corporation, on each February 1 and August 1 (except that, as provided in paragraph (b) hereof, no payments shall be required pursuant to the provisions of such paragraph prior to August 1, 1936), shall apply the net profits of the Corporation for the six months' period ending on the next preceeding December 31 or June 30, as the case may be, to the following purposes and in the following order of priority: (a) To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock accrued to such February 1 or August 1, as the case may be. (b) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article _____) on August 1, 1936, of a sum equal to three-quarters of one percent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter, to and including February 1, 1940, of a sum equal to one-quarter of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter of a sum equal to one-half of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding. In the event that the net profits of the Corporation shall on any such February 1 or August 1 be insufficient to permit the payment into such preferred stock retirement fund of the full amount hereinabove provided for, the deficiency shall be fully paid before any net profits of the Corporation shall be thereafter applied to any of the purposes hereinafter specified in this section 6. (c) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article _____) of a sum equal to forty per cent of the remainder, if any, of such net profits; Provided, however, That the aggregate amount paid into the preferred stock retirement fund in any one year in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph (c) need not exceed five per cent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding, whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever; Provided, further, however, That unless otherwise elected, from time to time, by the Corporation by action of its Board of Directors, it shall not be required to make such payment into the preferred stock retirement fund required by this paragraph (c) except from such net profits as may have accrued from and after December 31, 1935. Subject to compliance with the provisions of section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, any balance of net profits for any such period may be applied from time to time to such lawful purposes as may be determined by the Board of Directors, subject however, to the provisions of section 7 of this article _____.

(7) Limitations on retirement of stock.--Except with the approval of the State Comptroller no preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement by the Corporation unless the then unimpaired capital, surplus and undivided profits of the Corporation, and the retirement funds provided for herein (after giving effect to the proceeds of the issuance of any stock issued to provide funds for such retirement) exceed $35,000.00 (4) by an amount at least equal to the sum necessary to effect such retirement. No shares of preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement unless all accrued dividends (whether or not earned or declared) to the dividend payment date next preceeding the date of such retirement shall have been paid on all shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(8) Retirement of preferred stock by purchase.--Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article _____, whenever the balance in the preferred stock retirement fund shall amount to as much as $1,000.00, the Corporation shall (unless the Board of Directors shall elect to use the entire ~~xx~~ amount of such balance in the preferred stock retirement fund for the retirement of preferred stock by call as provided in section 9 hereof) within ten days thereafter mail, first-class postage prepaid, to all holders of record of preferred stock at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice specifying the balance in such fund and stating that the same is available for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock at the lowest prices (not in excess of the par value thereof and accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, to the date of purchase) offered within twenty days after the date of such notice. At the expiration of such twenty days, the Corporation shall apply such balance to the purchase for retirement of preferred stock, if obtainable, in accordance with the terms of such notice. Within ten days after such expiration, subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article _____, the Corporation shall call for retirement, in the manner provided in section 9 hereof, the largest number of shares of preferred stock which ~~can~~ be retired from the balance in such retirement fund remaining after deducting the amount paid or to be paid for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock as aforesaid, and shall set aside from such retirement fund the sum necessary to effect such retirement, but the minimum capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law. Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article _____, at any time and from time to time the Corporation may make such lawful transfers from its surplus and/or undivided profits to the preferred stock retirement fund as the Board of Directors may determine. All shares of preferred stock purchased for retirement by the Corporation, whether from the retirement fund or otherwise, shall be cancelled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(9) Retirement of preferred stock by call.--Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article _____, the Corporation may at any time, at its election as expressed by resolution of the Board of Directors, retire the outstanding preferred stock, as a whole, or from time to time in part, pro rata, or by lot in such equitable manner to carry out the purpose of this section 9 as the Board of Directors of the Corporation in its discretion shall from time to time determine, (and provided always that the capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law) by paying for each share to be retired a retirement price equal to the par value thereof plus all accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of such retirement. At least thirty days prior written notice of every such retirement, stating the retirement date and the retirement price, and the place of payment thereof, shall be mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to the holder of record of each share to be retired, at the address of such holder as shown on the books of the Corporation. Such notice having been so mailed, each holder of shares so called for retirement shall be entitled to receive payment of the retirement price of such shares (without interest) upon surrender to the Corporation, on or after the retirement date at the place designated in such notice, of the certificate or certificates therefor in transferable form and, if required, properly stamped for transfer. In case less than all of the shares represented by any such certificate are retired, a new certificate shall be issued representing the unretired shares. From and after the retirement date (unless the Corporation shall default in payment of the retirement price), all dividends on shares called for retirement shall cease to accrue, such shares shall be deemed to be no longer outstanding, and all rights of the holders thereof as shareholders of the Corporation, except the right to receive the retirement price, shall terminate. All shares so retired shall be canceled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(10) Increase or decrease of capital stock: Amendments of Articles of Incorporation, etc.--By the affirmative vote of the holders, voting by classes, of at least two-thirds of the shares of each class of stock at the time outstanding, and not otherwise, and subject to such approval by the State Comptroller and such other conditions as at the time may be required by law--

3 Insert June 30 or December 31 next succeeding the Recapitalization Date.

4 This figure, representing approximately the unimpaired capital structure of the Corporation after giving effect to the issue of the preferred stock, will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation prior to the purchase of the preferred stock.

5 This figure will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

(a) The capital stock of the Corporation may be increased at any time and from time to time through issuing additional shares of preferred stock and/or common stock, and/or through the creation of one or more additional classes of stock; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of preferred stock shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock if the entire proceeds of such issue are to be used for the retirement of shares of preferred stock; and provided further, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock as a stock dividend, pursuant to the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article _____ in connection with the retirement of shares of preferred stock; (b) The capital stock of the Corporation may be decreased at any time and from time to time to any amount not below the amount at the time required by law; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to the retirement of preferred stock; (c) The name of the Corporation and/or the place where its operations of discount and deposit are to be carried on may be changed, but this clause shall not be construed to abridge the powers of the Board of Directors under applicable law with reference to the establishment or change of location or closing of branches; (d) These Articles of Incorporation may be amended at any time and from time to time in any other respect, but not so as to change the respective voting rights of the preferred stock and common stock so long as any of the preferred stock remains outstanding; (e) The Corporation may be consolidated or merged into or with any other bank, or may acquire all or substantially all of the assets and business of any banking corporation or trust company; (f) All or substantially all of the assets and business of the Corporation may be sold or otherwise disposed of; (g) The Corporation may go into voluntary liquidation; and (h) Any plan of reorganization of the Corporation may be carried into effect-- Provided, however, that if and as long as the voting rights of the preferred stock are increased in accordance with the provisions of sections 12 or 13 of this Article _____ and the fair value of the assets of the Corporation as determined by the State Comptroller shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding, any of the actions specified in the foregoing paragraphs (a) to (h) inclusive, of this section 10 may be taken by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled, and not otherwise, except that the Corporation may not be put into voluntary liquidation without the approval of the State Comptroller.

(11) Preemptive rights.--In case of any increase in the capital stock of the Corporation of any class other than by way of a stock dividend, the new shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all shares of stock of that class at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of shares of such stock of that class held by them respectively, by mailing first-class postage prepaid, to such holders, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, transferable subscription warrants exercisable at any time on or before thirty days from the date of such mailing. If at the expiration of such subscription rights, any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all other shares of stock of all other classes at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of such shares held by them respectively, and notice shall be given as above provided. If at the expiration of both of such subscription rights any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such unsubscribed new shares may be issued and sold at such price, not less than the par value thereof, to such persons and on such terms as the Board of Directors may determine.

(12) Voting rights.--(a) Except as otherwise provided in sections 10 and 13 of this article _____ and in this section 12, each holder of stock of any class shall be entitled to vote on all matters one vote for each share of stock of any class held by him. (b) In all elections of directors, each holder of stock of any class shall have the right to vote the votes allocated to the number of shares owned by him for as many persons as there are directors to be elected, or to cumulate such votes and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of votes allocable to his shares shall equal, or to distribute such votes on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall think fit. (c) In case as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock shall be in arrears (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock), then, and until all arrears of dividends upon the preferred stock shall have been paid and the full dividend on the outstanding preferred stock for the then current semi-annual dividend period shall have been declared and funds set apart for the payment thereof, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled. (d) At any time while the votes of the preferred stock are increased as provided in paragraph (c) of this section 12 or in subparagraph (2) of section 13 of this article _____, any one or more of the directors, officers, or employees of the Corporation may be removed at any annual or special meeting of shareholders, for or without cause, and their successors elected, by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled.

(13) Other voting rights.--If at any time while the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall hold not less than twenty-five per cent of the total number of shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding-- (a) The Corporation shall be in arrears in the payment of as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock); or (b) The amounts paid into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article _____) in accordance with the requirements of paragraph (c) of section 6 of this article _____ on and after February 1, 1937, shall not have amounted in the aggregate to five per cent of the maximum par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding (whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever) multiplied by the number of calendar years which shall have elapsed since January 1, 1936; or (c) The fair value of the assets of the banking corporation as determined by an examination of the banking corporation by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (which may be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation once in each calendar year if the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall so elect), or as determined by the State Comptroller, shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding; or (d) The Corporation shall violate or fail to observe any of the terms, provisions, or conditions of its Articles of Incorporation--then after written notice from Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the existence of any of said conditions and so long as any of said conditions in (a), (b), (c) and (d) above shall continue:

(1) All directors, officers, and employees of the Corporation shall receive compensation at rates not exceeding such maximum limitations as may be fixed by the vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(2) In case Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with the approval of the State Comptroller, at any time shall notify the Corporation that any director, officer or employee of the Corporation is regarded by Reconstruction Finance Corporation as unsatisfactory, and in case such director, officer, or employee of the Corporation is not removed from office (and, if requested by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, replaced with a director, officer, or employee satisfactory to it) within thirty days after receipt by the Corporation of such notice, then, and until such removal and replacement shall have been effected, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(3) The Corporation shall not directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire any real estate for its own use, or lease any real estate for its own use for a term longer than one year, without in each case the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, or a written waiver of voting rights in respect thereto by the holders of such majority; provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to real estate acquired under the provisions of sub-divisions 2 and 3 of Section 53 of Senate Bill 227, Laws of 1934.

(4) The Corporation shall not incur indebtedness maturing more than one year from the creation thereof, without the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding or a written waiver of voting rights with respect thereto by the holders of such majority, but the indebtedness herein referred to shall not be construed to include the issuance of circulating notes and the acceptance of time deposits, which may continue to be accepted by the Corporation under such conditions as may be provided by law.

(14) Rights of preferred stock on liquidation.--In the event of any receivership, conservatorship, liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, before any payment or other distribution, whether in cash, property, or otherwise shall be made to the holders of common stock, the holders of preferred stock shall be entitled to receive for each share of such stock held by them, an amount equal to the par value thereof, plus an amount equal to all unpaid dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of payment, but shall not be entitled to any other or further payment; provided, however, that a merger or consolidation in accordance with law and these Articles of Incorporation, shall not be deemed a liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation within the meaning of this section 14.

(a) Officers.--The Board of Directors shall elect one of its members President of the Corporation. The Board may designate a director in lieu of the President to be Chairman of the Board, who shall perform such duties as may be designated by the Board. The directors shall have power to elect one or more Vice Presidents, at least one of whom shall also be a member of the Board of Directors, and who shall be authorized, in the absence or inability of the President from any cause, to perform all acts and duties pertaining to the office of president except such as the President only is authorized by law to perform; and to elect or appoint a Cashier, and such other officers and clerks as may be required to transact the business of the Corporation; and subject to the provisions of sub-paragraphs (1) and (2) of section 13 of article _____ hereof, to fix the salaries to be paid to them, and to continue them in office or to dismiss them as in the opinion of a majority of the Board ~~the~~ interests of the Corporation may demand;

(b) Powers of Board of Directors.--The Board of Directors shall have the power to define the duties of the officers and clerks of the Corporation, to require bonds from them, and to fix the penalty thereof; to regulate the manner in which election of directors shall be held and to appoint judges of the election; to make all by-laws that it may be proper for them to make, not inconsistent with law and these Articles of Incorporation, for the general regulation of the business of the Corporation and the management of its affairs, and generally to do and perform all acts that it may be legal for a board of directors to do and perform according to law and within the limits of these Articles of Incorporation.

Special meetings of shareholders.--Except as otherwise specifically provided by statute, special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose at any time by the Board of Directors or by the holders of at least ten per cent of the then outstanding shares of any class. Every such special meeting shall be called by mailing, not less than ten days before the time fixed for the meeting, to all shareholders of record entitled to act and vote at such meeting, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice stating the purpose of the meeting. Such notice may be waived in writing.

RESOLVED FOURTH, That each share holder of record may subscribe within five days from and after the date of this meeting to such issue of preferred stock in proportion to the number of shares of common stock of the Corporation standing on the books of the Corporation in his name; and

RESOLVED FIFTH, That the Board of Directors through its proper officers, at the expiration of the said five days, shall sell the unsubscribed portion of such preferred stock at such price (not less than the par value thereof) to Reconstruction Finance Corporation and/or to such other person or persons as the Board of Directors may deem advisable. At a meeting of the shareholders of Bank of Crenshaw (Name of Bank), Crenshaw, (City); Mississippi, (State); held on March 6, 1935 5 days' notice of the proposed business having been given by registered mail, all of the foregoing resolutions were adopted by the following vote,--the affirmative vote representing 92.5% of the total number of shares of capital stock outstanding. Total number of shares of capital stock 200. Total number of shares represented at the meeting 185. Total number of shares voted in favor of the resolution 185. Total number of shares voted against the resolution None. I hereby certify that this is a true and correct report (a) of the number of days' notice, given by registered mail, of the meeting of shareholders of this bank held on the date above mentioned; (b) of the vote and (c) of the resolutions adopted at said meeting and (d) that a complete list of the shareholders voting therefor and the number of shares voted by each is on file in the bank; (e) that no shares of stock of this bank owned by this bank were voted at said meeting; (f) that no shares of stock held by this bank as sole trustee were voted at said meeting, and (g) that no shares of stock of this bank held by this bank as co-trustee were voted at said meeting by this bank; and (h) that no director, other officer or employee acted as proxy at said meeting. RECORD OF CHARTERS 34-35---STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

The Continental Turpentine and Rosin Corporation, Inc.

Be it remembered that there was convened in the offices of Welch and Cooper in The First National Bank Building, Laurel, Mississippi, beginning at two o'clock P. M. on April 19, 1935, a meeting of the stockholders of the Continental Turpentine and Rosin Corporation, Inc., at which meeting all stockholders of the said corporation were present, as follows to-wit: F. W. Kressman, Mrs. Mabel G. Kressman and W. S. Welch.

The matter of procuring an amendment to the charter of the said corporation so as to show with more particularity the difference in the rights of the various classes of stock and to authorize a merging or consolidation of this corporation with other corporations, domestic or foreign, and to authorize the holding of meetings of the stockholders without the state, were considered.

On motion, the following resolution was unanimously adopted, to-wit:

RESOLUTION.

Whereas, it seems desirable to the stockholders of the Continental Turpentine and Rosin Corporation, Inc., a Mississippi corporation, at which all stockholders are present, to procure an amendment of the charter of the corporation so as to show with more particularity the difference in the rights of the various classes of stock to be issued by the corporation and to obtain specific authority for the consolidation or merger of the said corporation with other corporations, domestic or foreign; now, therefore, be it resolved by the said stockholders of the Continental Turpentine and Rosin Corporation, Inc., that sections Four, Five and Seven of the said charter be amended so that the said sections in the said charter as amended will read as follows, to-wit:

Section 4. Amount of Capital Stock and Particulars as to Class or Classes Thereof: Seven per cent non-participating cumulative preferred stock to the amount of seventy five thousand dollars ($75,000.00). On a dissolution of the corporation, the preferred stock shall be retired at par with all accumulated dividends thereon before any distribution shall be made to the holders of common stock. Each share of preferred stock may be converted at any time within three years after April 1, 1935, into twenty shares of five dollars ($5.00) par value voting common stock. In addition to voting common stock with a par value of five dollars ($5.00) per share issued in exchange for preferred stock, the company may issue non-voting common stock to the amount of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00) represented by 10,000 shares of the par value of five dollars ($5.00) per share. Voting common stock shall not be issued except in change for preferred stock, twenty shares to be issued for each share of preferred stock exchanged. In all cases except in the election of Directors, the preferred stock outstanding shall have twenty times the voting power of voting common stock. The preferred stock may be called for retirement and retired on sixty days notice to the holders thereof on payment of par and all accumulated dividends and the further sum of seven dollars ($7.00) per share as a premium. This may be done at any time prior to or subsequent to April 1, 1935.

Section 5. Number of shares for each class and par value thereof: Seven hundred and fifty (750) shares of seven per cent non-participating cumulative stock of the par value of one hundred dollars ($100.00) per share. Ten thousand shares of non-voting common stock of the par value of five dollars ($5.00) per share. Voting common stock issued in lieu of preferred stock surrendered for exchange, shall have one twentieth the voting power of preferred stock. Non-voting common stock shall have no voting power except in the election of directors.

Section 7. The Purpose for Which It is Created: To engage in the business of manufacturing and dealing in chemicals and compounds; to engage in the business of extracting and distilling turpentine, tar, rosin, pine oil and their derivatives and compounds; to engage in the manufacture, purchase, sale and distribution of commodities of any kind or character; to buy and sell at wholesale or retail goods and chattels of any kind, nature or description; to own and operate tank cars for the transportation of its products; to own and operate trucks or other vehicles for the purpose of transportation; to engage in the business of engineering and in the business of improving and dealing in farm lands; to acquire, own, improve and sell real estate and factory sites; to do any lawful thing necessary or convenient for the operation of the said businesses or any one of them, and without limitations of its powers, but in aid thereof it may buy and sell merchandise, buy and sell securities; raise capital for corporate purposes; lend moneys and take securities therefor; issue notes and bills to secure the same; import and export chemicals, compounds and other articles of commerce; acquire patents and trade marks; purchase or otherwise acquire, hold, sell, transfer and assign shares of capital stock and bonds or other evidences of indebtedness of corporations and exercise all of the privileges of ownership; to manufacture, sell and distribute paints, varnishes and all ingredients thereof; and to make and enter into all kinds of contracts, agreements and obligations by or with any person or persons, corporations or corporations for the purchasing, acquiring, holding, manufacturing, selling or otherwise disposing of either as principal or agent for a commission or otherwise all articles of commerce, with full power to perform any acts connected therewith or arising therefrom, or incidental thereto and any and all acts proper or necessary for the purpose of the business. No power granted herein shall be considered as a limitation on any other power granted herein, but shall be construed as an enlargement or in aid thereof. The stockholders' meetings and meetings of the Board of Directors may be held within the State of Mississippi or without the state, as the stockholders may provide in the by-laws of the corporation. The corporation may merge with another corporation or with other corporations, domestic or foreign, or other corporation or corporations may be merged with this corporation by lawful action of a majority of the stockholders of the corporations involved, whether the said corporations involved, whether the said corporation or corporations merged with this one be domestic or foreign corporations. This corporation may be amalgamated with other corporations or may consolidate with another corporation or corporations, whether domestic or foreign, on appropriate and lawful action of a majority vote of the stockholders of the corporations involved. In the event another corporation, domestic or foreign, is merged with this corporation, stock in this corporation may be issued to stockholders of the corporation or corporations merged with this corporation in lieu of stock held by them in the corporation or corporations merged with this one, on terms agreed upon by a majority of the stockholders in the respective corporations.

Be it further resolved that the stockholders and incorporators be and they are hereby instructed to take the proper steps to procure the said amendment to the said charter of the corporation to the end that the said Sections Four, Five and Seven when amended shall read as above.....

We, F. W. Kressman and Mrs. Mabel G. Kressman, President and Secretary, respectively, of the Continental Turpentine and Rosin Corporation, Inc., do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true and correct copy of the minutes of a meeting of the stockholders of the said Continental Turpentine and Rosin Corporation, Inc., held at the time and place therein recited.

Proposed Amendments to Articles of Incorporation of Duck Hill Bank, (Name of Bank), Duck Hill (City) Montgomery (County) Mississippi (State)

RESOLVED FIRST, That the capital of this Corporation be increased in the sum of $15,000.00, by the issuance of $15,000.00 of preferred stock under the ^{PROVISIONS OF} Section 52 of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, making the total capital of the Corporation $30,000.00, of which $15,000.00 is preferred and $15,000.00 is common stock.

RESOLVED, SECOND, That, under the provisions of Section 9 of Senate Bill No. 227 Laws of 1934 the common capital stock of this Corporation be reduced in the sum of $7,500.00, leaving the total common capital, after said reduction, $7,500.00.

RESOLVED, THIRD, That no distribution of assets shall be made to the shareholders of the Corporation by reason of the reduction of the common capital stock of the Corporation, but a sum equal to the amount of said reduction shall be used to charge off or write down losses, substandard and/or non-acceptable assets and/or shall be transferred to surplus or undivided profits in accordance with the requirements of the Federal Reserve Board and/or the State Comptroller.

RESOLVED FOURTH, That the Articles of Incorporation be amended by striking out Section or Article 6 and inserting in place thereof the following: "The Board of Directors shall consist of such number of shareholders, not less than five nor more than twenty-five, as from time to time shall be determined by a majority of the votes to which all shareholders are at the time entitled. A majority of the Board of Directors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business."

RESOLVED FIFTH, That the Articles of Incorporation be further amended by striking out Section or Articles 2 and inserting in the place thereof the following:

Section 2 (1) Amount, classes and shares of capital stock.--The amount of capital stock of the Corporation shall be $22,500.00 divided into classes and shares as follows: (a) $15,000.00 par value of preferred stock (subject to retirement as hereinafter provided) divided into 375 shares of the par value of $40.00 (1) each; and (b) $7,500.00 par value of common stock (subject to increase upon retirement of preferred stock provided in the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article 2) divided into 150 shares of the par value of $50.00 each.

(2) Assessability of stock.--The holders of preferred stock shall not be held individually responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts, or engagements of the Corporation, and shall not be liable for assessments to restore impairments in the capital of the Corporation.

(3) Dividends on preferred stock.--The holders of preferred stock, in preference to the holders of common stock, shall be entitled to receive, when and as declared by the Board of Directors, out of net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this article 2) accruing after June 30, 1935 (2) (hereinafter referred to as the "Recapitalization Date"), cash dividends thereon including January 31, 1935, at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter to and including January 31, 1940, at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more. Such dividends shall be payable semi-annually on each February 1 and August 1, and shall accrue, as to any given share of such stock, from the date of issuance of such share. Such dividends shall be cumulative, so that if dividends at the full rates required by this section 3 to be paid on the preferred stock shall not have been paid upon or declared and set apart for such preferred stock, the deficiency shall be fully paid or declared and set apart before any dividend or other distribution, whether in cash, property, stock, or otherwise, shall be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock. Dividends on the preferred stock shall be deemed to accrue from day to day.

(4) Dividends on common stock.--Dividends or other distributions whether in cash, property, stock or otherwise, shall, so long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock only out of the net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this article 2) accruing after the Recapitalization Date. If any retirement of preferred stock would decrease the outstanding capital of the Corporation below the minimum amount required by law, the Board of Directors, prior to or simultaneously with such retirement, shall transfer an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired from reserves set up for the retirement of preferred stock to a special reserve fund for the payment of common stock dividends, and shall declare on the common stock, out of such special reserve fund, a dividend payable in common stock in an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired, and the shares of common stock required for the payment of any such stock dividend shall be issuable without any further vote on the part of the holders of stock of any class or any further approval on the part of the State Comptroller.

(5) Determination of net profits.--For the purpose of this article 2, the net profits or net loss (as distinguished from usage of terms "net profits" and "net loss" in reports required by the State Comptroller of the Corporation shall be determined for each six months' period ending on December 31 or June 30 by deducting from the gross earnings from all sources for such period: (a) All expenses for such period; (b) All interest accrued during such period; (c) All losses determined during such period, and such charge-offs and write-downs of assets and transfers to reserves (whether from income, undivided profits or surplus) for such period (including all charge-offs, write-downs and transfers to reserves requested by the State Comptroller for such period) as may be reasonably necessary to make proper provision for doubtful assets, depreciation, and undetermined losses, but to the extent only that such losses, determined or undetermined, charge-offs, and write-downs of assets exceed reserves previously set up therefor in such period or any prior period, or available unallocated reserves; (d) Provision for all taxes for such period, including taxes measured by income and taxes based on the ownership of stock in the Corporation paid or payable by the Corporation for the account of its shareholders, without prejudice to such right as the Corporation may have to recover the same; (e) Such transfers for such period to surplus as may be required by law; provided, however, that transfers to earned surplus as required by section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, shall not be deducted from gross earnings in determining net profits available for the dividend and retirement requirements of the preferred stock and (f) The net loss, if any, determined in accordance with the provisions of this section 5, accrued since the Recapitalization Date, accumulated to and existing at the beginning of such period; provided, however, that no deductions from gross earnings for the six months' period ending June 30, 1935 (3), need be made by reason of any charge-offs or write-downs of assets or transfers reserves required by the State Comptroller and approved in writing by Reconstruction Finance Corporation made on account of loss incurred prior to or depreciation in assets existing at the Recapitalization Date. All recoveries over net book value on assets previously charged off or written down or against which reserves have been set up, and all transfers from reserves to surplus or undivided profits (other than transfers made to reflect recoveries already treated as gross earnings), shall be considered gross earnings for the respective periods during which such recoveries or transfers are effected.

(6) Application of net profits.--As long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding the Corporation, on each February 1 and August 1 (except that, as provided in paragraph (b) hereof, no payments shall be required pursuant to the provisions of such paragraph prior to August 1, 1936) shall apply the net profits of the Corporation for the six months' period ending on the next preceding December 31 or June 30, as the case may be, to the following purposes and in the following order of priority: (a) To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock accrued to such February 1 or August 1, as the case may be. (b) To the payments into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article 2) on August 1, 1936, of a sum equal to three-quarters of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter, to and including February 1, 1940, of a sum equal to one-quarter of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter of a sum equal to one-half of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding. In the event that the net profits of the Corporation shall on any such February 1 or August 1 be insufficient to permit the payment into such preferred stock retirement fund of the full amount hereinabove provided for, the deficiency shall be fully paid before any net profits of the Corporation shall be thereafter applied to any of the purposes hereinafter specified in this section 6. (c) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article 2) of a sum equal to forty per cent of the remainder, if any, of such net profits; Provided, however, that the aggregate amount paid into the preferred stock retirement fund in any one year in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph (c) need not exceed five per cent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding, whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever: Provided, further, however, that unless otherwise elected, from time to time, by the Corporation by action of its Board of Directors, it shall not be required to make such payment into the preferred stock retirement fund required by this paragraph (c) except from such net profits as may have accrued from and after December 31, 1935. Subject to compliance with the provisions of section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, any balance of net profits for any such period may be applied from time to time to such lawful purposes as may be determined by the Board of Directors, subject, however, to the provisions of section 7 of this article 2.

(8) Retirement of preferred stock by purchase.--Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article 2, whenever the balance in the preferred stock retirement fund shall amount to as much as $1,000.00 the Corporation shall (unless the Board of Directors shall elect to use the entire amount of such balance in the preferred stock retirement fund for the retirement of preferred stock by call as provided in section 9 hereof) within ten days thereafter mail, first-class postage prepaid, to all holders of record of preferred stock at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice specifying the balance in such fund and stating that the same is available for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock at the lowest prices (not in excess of the par value thereof and accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, to the date of purchase) offered within twenty days after the date of such notice. At the expiration of such twenty days, the Corporation shall apply such balance to the purchase for retirement of preferred stock, if obtainable, in accordance with the terms of such notice. Within ten days after such expiration, subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article 2, the Corporation shall call for retirement, in the manner provided in section 9 hereof, the largest number of shares of preferred stock which can be retired from the balance in such retirement fund remaining after deducting the amount paid or to be paid for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock as aforesaid, and shall set aside from such retirement fund the sum necessary to effect such retirement, but the minimum capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law. Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article 2, at any time and from time to time the Corporation may make such lawful transfers from its surplus and/or undivided profits to the preferred stock retirement fund as the Board of Directors may determine. All shares of preferred stock purchased for retirement by the Corporation, whether from the retirement fund or otherwise, shall be cancelled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(9) Retirement of preferred stock by call.--Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article 2, the Corporation may at any time, at its election as expressed by resolution of the Board of Directors, retire the outstanding preferred stock, as a whole, or from time to time in part, pro rata, or by lot in such equitable manner to carry out the purpose of this section 9 as the Board of Directors of the Corporation in its discretion shall from time to time determine, (and provided always that the capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law) by paying for each share to be retired a retirement price equal to the par value thereof plus all accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of such retirement. At least thirty days prior written notice of every such retirement, stating the retirement date and the retirement price, and the place of payment thereof, shall be mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to the holder of record of each share to be retired, at the address of such holder as shown on the books of the Corporation. Such notice having been so mailed, each holder of shares so called for retirement shall be entitled to receive payment of the retirement price of such shares (without interest) upon surrender to the Corporation, on or after the retirement date, at the place designated in such notice, of the certificate or certificates therefor in transferable form and, if required, properly stamped for transfer. In case less than all of the shares represented by any such certificate are retired, a new certificate shall be issued representing the unretired shares. From and after the retirement date (unless the Corporation shall default in payment of the retirement price) all dividends on shares called for retirement shall cease to accrue, such shares shall be deemed to be no longer outstanding, and all rights of the holders thereof as shareholders of the Corporation except the right to receive the retirement price, shall terminate. All shares so retired shall be canceled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(10) Increase or decrease of capital stock: Amendments of Articles of Incorporation, etc.--By the affirmative vote of the holders, voting by classes, of at least two-thirds of the shares of each class of stock at the time outstanding, and not otherwise, and subject to such approval by the State Comptroller and such other conditions as at the time may be required by law--

(a) The capital stock of the Corporation may be increased at any time and from time to time through issuing additional shares of preferred stock and/or common stock, and/or through the creation of one or more additional classes of stock; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of preferred stock shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock if the entire proceeds of such issue are to be used for the retirement of shares of preferred stock; and provided further, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock as a stock dividend, pursuant to the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article 2 in connection with the retirement of shares of preferred stock;

(b) The capital stock of the Corporation may be decreased at any time and from time to time to any amount not below the amount at the time required by law; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to the retirement of preferred stock;

(c) The name of the Corporation and/or the place where its operations of discount and deposit are to be carried on may be changed, but this clause shall not be construed to abridge the powers of the Board of Directors under applicable law with reference to the establishment or change of location or closing of branches; (d) These Articles of Incorporation may be amended at any time and from time to time in any other respect, but not so as to change the respective voting rights of the preferred stock and common stock so long as any of the preferred stock remains outstanding;

(e) The Corporation may be consolidated or merged into or with any other bank, or may acquire all or substantially all of the assets and business of any banking corporation or trust company;

(f) All or substantially all of the assets and business of the Corporation may be sold or otherwise disposed of; (g) The Corporation may go into voluntary liquidation; and (h) Any plan of reorganization of the Corporation may be carried into effect--

Provided, however, that if and as long as the voting rights of the preferred stock are increased in accordance with the provisions of sections 12 or 13 of this Article 2 and the fair value of the assets of the Corporation as determined by the State Comptroller shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock, outstanding, any of the actions specified in the foregoing paragraphs (a) to (h) inclusive, of this section 10 may be taken by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled, and not otherwise, except that the Corporation may not be put into voluntary liquidation without the approval of the State Comptroller.

(11) Preemptive rights.-- In case of any increase in the capital stock of the Corporation of any class other than by way of a stock dividend, the new shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all shares of stock of that class at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of shares of such stock of that class held by them respectively, by mailing, first-class postage prepaid, to such holders, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, transferable subscription warrants, exercisable at any time on or before thirty days from the date of such mailing. If at the expiration of such subscription rights, any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all other shares of stock of all other classes at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of such shares held by them respectively, and notice shall be given as above provided. If at the expiration of both of such subscription rights any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such unsubscribed new shares may be issued and sold at such price, not less than the par value thereof, to such persons and on such terms as the Board of Directors may determine.

(12) Voting rights.-- (a) Except as otherwise provided in sections 10 and 13 of this article 2 and in this section 12, each holder of stock of any class shall be entitled to vote on all matters one vote for each share of stock of any class held by him. (b) In all elections of directors, each holder of stock of any class shall have the right to vote the votes allocable to the number of shares owned by him for as many persons as there are directors to be elected, or to cumulate such votes and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of votes allocable to his shares^{shall} equal, or to distribute such votes on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall think fit. (c) In case as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock shall be in arrears (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock), then, and until all arrears of dividends upon the preferred stock shall have been paid and the full dividend on the outstanding preferred stock for the then current semi-annual dividend period shall have been declared and funds set apart for the payment thereof, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled. (d) At any time while the votes of the preferred stock are increased as provided in paragraph (c) of this section 12 or in subparagraph (2) of section 13 of this article 2, any one or more of the directors, officers, or employees of the Corporation may be removed at any annual or special meeting of shareholders, for or without cause, and their successors elected, by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled.

(13) Other Voting Rights.-- If at any time while the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall hold not less than twenty-five per cent of the total number of shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding--(a) The Corporation shall be in arrears in the payment of as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock); or (b) The amounts paid into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article 2) in accordance with the requirements of paragraph (c) of section 6 of this article 2 on and after February 1, 1937, shall not have amounted in the aggregate to five per cent of the maximum par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding (whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever) multiplied by the number of calendar years which shall have elapsed since January 1, 1936; or (c) The fair value of the assets of the banking corporation as determined by an examination of the banking corporation by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (which may be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation once in each calendar year if the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall so elect), or as determined by the State Comptroller, shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding; or (d) The Corporation shall violate or fail to observe any of the terms, provisions, or conditions of its Articles of Incorporation--then after written notice from Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the existence of any of said conditions and so long as any of said conditions^{shall} (a), (b), (c) and (d) above shall continue: (1) All directors, officers, and employees of the Corporation shall receive compensation at the rates not exceeding such maximum limitations as may be fixed by the vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding. (2) In case Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with the approval of the State Comptroller, at any time shall notify the Corporation that any director, officer or employee of the Corporation is regarded by Reconstruction Finance Corporation as unsatisfactory, and in case such director, officer, or employee is not removed from office (and, if requested by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, replaced with a director, officer, or employee satisfactory to it) within thirty days after receipt by the Corporation of such notice, then, and until such removal and replacement shall have been effected, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata^{share} of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(3) The Corporation shall not directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire any real estate for its own use, or lease any real estate for its own use for a term longer than one year, without in each case the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, or a written waiver of voting rights in respect thereto by the holders of such majority provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to real estate acquired under the provisions of sub-divisions 2 and 3 of Section 53 of Senate Bill 227, Laws of 1934.

(4) The Corporation shall not incur indebtedness maturing more than one year from the creation thereof, without the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding or a written waiver of voting rights with respect thereto by the holders of such majority, but the indebtedness herein referred to shall not be construed to include the issuance of circulating notes and the acceptance of time deposits, which may continue to be accepted by the Corporation under such conditions as may be provided by law.

(14) Rights of preferred stock on liquidation.--In the event of any receivership, conservatorship, liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary before any payment or other distribution, whether in cash, property, or otherwise shall be made to the holders of common stock, the holders of preferred stock, shall be entitled to receive, for each share of such stock held by them, an amount equal to the par value thereof, plus an amount equal to all unpaid dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of payment but shall not be entitled to any other or further payment; provided, however, that a merger or consolidation in accordance with law and these Articles of Incorporation, shall not be deemed a liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation within the meaning of this section 14.

----- (a) Officers.--The Board of Directors shall elect one of its members President of the Corporation. The Board may designate a director in lieu of the President to be Chairman of the Board, who shall perform such duties as may be designated by the Board. The directors shall have power to elect one or more Vice Presidents, at least one of whom shall also be a member of the Board of Directors, and who shall be authorized, in the absence or inability of the President from any cause to perform all acts and duties pertaining to the office of president except such as the President only is authorized by law to perform; and to elect or appoint a Cashier, and such other officers and clerks as may be required to transact the business of the Corporation; and subject to the provisions of sub-paragraphs (1) and (2) of section 13 of article -- hereof, to fix the salaries to be paid to them, and to continue them in office or to dismiss them as in the opinion of a majority of the Board the interests of the Corporation may demand;

(b) Powers of Board of Directors.--The Board of Directors shall have the power to define the duties of the officers and clerks of the Corporation, to require bonds from them, and to fix the penalty thereof; to regulate the manner in which election of directors shall be held and to appoint judges of the elections; to make all by-laws that it may be proper for them to make, not inconsistent with law and these Articles of Incorporation, for the general regulation of the business of the Corporation and the management of its affairs, and generally to do and perform all acts that it may be legal for a board of directors to do and perform according to law and within the limits of these Articles of Incorporation.

-----Special meetings of shareholders.--Except as otherwise specifically provided by statute, special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose at any time by the Board of Directors or by the holders of at least ten per cent of the then outstanding shares of any class. Every such special meeting shall be called by mailing, not less than ten days before the time fixed for the meeting, to all shareholders of record entitled to act and vote at such meeting, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice stating the purpose of the meeting. Such notice may be waived in writing.

RESOLVED SIXTH, That each shareholder of record may subscribe within five days from and after the date of this meeting to such issue of preferred stock in proportion to the number of shares of common stock of the Corporation standing on the books of the Corporation in his name; and

RESOLVED SEVENTH, That the Board of Directors through its proper officers, at the expiration of the said five days, shall sell the unsubscribed portion of such preferred stock at such price (not less than the par value thereof) to Reconstruction Finance Corporation and/or to such other person or persons as the Board of Directors may deem advisable.

At a meeting of the shareholders of Duck Hill Bank (Name of Bank) Duck Hill (City), Mississippi (State), held on March 16, 1935, five days' notice of the proposed business having been given by registered mail, all of the foregoing resolutions were adopted by the following vote,--the affirmative vote representing 85% of the total number of shares of capital stock outstanding. Total number of shares of capital stock 150. Total number of shares represented at the meeting 128. Total number of shares voted in favor of the resolution 128. Total number of shares voted against the resolution none. I hereby certify that this is a true and correct report (a) of the number of days' notice, given by registered mail, of the meeting of shareholders of this bank held on the date above mentioned; (b) of the vote and (c) of the resolutions adopted at said meeting and (d) that a complete list of the shareholders voting therefor and the number of shares voted by each is on file in the bank; (e) that no shares of stock of this bank owned by this bank were voted at said meeting; (f) that no shares of stock held by this bank as sole trustee were voted at said meeting; and (g) that no director, other officer or employee acted as proxy at said meeting. (S E A L)

Lessie Ball, Notary Public.

My commission expires June 26, 1937.

At a meeting of the Units Club, a Masonic organization domiciled in the City of Jackson, Hinds County, Mississippi, held on January 14, 1935, there were present the following members:

John W. Patton, Jr., W. B. Pleasants, W. D. Owens, W. P. Harris, W. M. Mounger, E. H. Bradshaw, D. S. Downie, Paul Oparka, H. N. Eason, C. G. Holler, S. E. Birdsong, Jr., Hamner W. Bowen, Robert E. Lake, John Lorenz, W. T. Merritt, Wm. A. Kent, I. Lehman, Harry Loflin.

The meeting was called to order by John W. Patton, Jr., who announced that the election of a President and Secretary was in order. On nomination duly seconded, John W. Patton, Jr., and S. E. Birdsong, Jr., were unanimously elected President and Secretary respectively.

The matter of incorporating the Club was then discussed and considered at length, whereupon the following resolution was offered and unanimously adopted:

"Resolved that the Units Club incorporate under the laws of the State of Mississippi; resolved further that the President shall name a Committee of seven members who shall be known as the Incorporation Committee with authority to do any and all acts necessary to apply for and obtain a charter as provided by the laws of the State; that said Committee be requested to take steps to immediately effect said incorporation. Whereupon the President named S. E. Birdsong, Jr., Paul Oparka, C. G. Holler, Hamner W. Bowen, John Lorenz, Wm. A. Kent and Harry L. Loflin as such Committee provided for in the foregoing resolution.

There being no further business the meeting was adjourned.

S. E. Birdsong, Jr., Secretary. John W. Patton, Jr., President.
Jackson, Mississippi, February 12, 1935.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true and correct copy of the minutes of the Units Club as adopted and as now appears on the records thereof.

(County)

MISSISSIPPI
(State)

RESOLVED, FIRST, that the capital of this Corporation be increased in the sum of $ 6,000.00 by the issuance of $ 6,000.00 of preferred stock under the provisions of Section 52 of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, making the total capital of the Corporation $ 16,000.00, of which $ 6,000.00 is preferred and $ 10,000.00 is common stock.

Resolved, Second, that, under the provisions of the common capital stock of this Corporation be reduced in the sum of $ 5,000.00, leaving the total common capital, after said reduction, $ 5,000.00.

Resolved, Third, that no distribution of assets shall be made to the shareholders of the Corporation by reason of the reduction of the common capital stock of the Corporation, but a sum equal to the amount of said reduction shall be used to charge off or write-down losses, sub-standard and/or non-acceptable assets and/or shall be transferred to surplus or undivided profits in accordance with the requirements of the Federal Reserve Board and/or the Superintendent of Banks.

Resolved, Fourth, that the Articles of Incorporation be amended by striking out Article , and inserting in place thereof the following: "The Board of Directors shall consist of such number of shareholders, not less than five nor more than twenty-five, as from time to time shall be determined by a majority of the votes to which all shareholders are at the time entitled. A majority of the Board of Directors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business."

Resolved, Fifth, that the Articles of Incorporation be further amended by striking out Articles and inserting in the place thereof the following:

tion, and shall not be liable for assessments to restore impairments in the capital of the Corporation.

(3) Dividends on preferred stock.—The holders of preferred stock, in preference to the holders of common stock, shall be entitled to receive, when and as declared by the Board of Directors, out of net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this Article) accruing after 1934 (2), (hereinafter referred to as the "Recapitalization Date"), cash dividends thereon to and including March 31, 1939, at the rate of four percent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter at the rate of five percent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more. Such dividends shall be payable semi-annually on each February 1 and August 1, and shall accrue, as to any given share of such stock, from the date of issuance of such share; provided, however, that, in the case of any share of such stock issued after February 1, 1935, (3), such dividends shall accrue on such share from the February 1 or August 1, as the case may be, next preceding the date of issuance thereof. Such dividends shall be cumulative so that if dividends at the full rate required by this section 3 to be paid on the preferred stock shall not have been paid upon or declared and set apart for such preferred stock, the deficiency shall be fully paid or declared and set apart before any dividend or other distribution, whether in cash, property, stock, or otherwise, shall be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock. Dividends on the preferred stock shall be deemed to accrue from day to day.

(4) Dividends on common stock.—Dividends or other distributions, whether in cash, property, stock or otherwise, shall, so long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, be declared, ordered, set apart, paid or made in respect of the common stock only out of the net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this Article) accruing after the Recapitalization Date.

If any call or purchase for retirement of preferred stock pursuant to the provisions of sections 8 or 9 of this Article would reduce the outstanding capital of the Corporation below the minimum amount at the time required by law, the Board of Directors, prior to or simultaneously with such retirement, shall declare on the common stock out of net profits of the Corporation accruing after the Recapitalization Date, a dividend in an amount equal to the sum required to maintain the capital of the Corporation at such minimum amount after giving effect to such retirement, such dividend to be payable in shares of common stock which shall be issued (without any action on the part of the holders of stock of any class or on the part of the Superintendent of Banks) pro rata to the holders of common stock.

(2) Insert date on which Articles of Incorporation amended by shareholders.

(3) Insert the February 1 or August 1 next succeeding the proposed date of purchase of preferred stock.

(5) Determination of net profits.—For the purpose of this Article, the net profits or net loss (as distinguished from usage of term "net profits" and "net loss" in reports required by the Superintendent of Banks) of the Corporation shall be determined for each six months' period ending on December 31 or June 30 by deducting from the gross earnings from all sources for such period:

- All expenses for such period;
- All interest accrued during such period;
- All losses determined during such period, and such charge-offs and write-downs of assets and transfers to reserves (whether from income, undivided profits or surplus) for such period (including all charge-offs, write-downs and transfers to reserves requested by the Superintendent of Banks for such period) as may be reasonably necessary to make proper provision for doubtful assets, depreciation, and undetermined losses, but to the extent only that such losses, determined or undetermined, charge-offs, and write-downs of assets exceed reserves previously set up therefor in such period or any prior period, or available unallocated reserves;
- Provision for all taxes for such period, including taxes measured by income and taxes based on the ownership of stock in the Corporation paid or payable by the Corporation for the account of its shareholders, without prejudice to such right as the Corporation may have to recover the same;
- Such transfers for such period to surplus as may be required by law; provided, however, that transfers to earned surplus as required by section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, shall not be deducted from gross earnings in determining net profits available for the dividend and retirement requirements of the preferred stock; and
- The net loss, if any, determined in accordance with the provisions of this section 5, accrued since the Recapitalization Date, accumulated to and existing at the beginning of such period; provided, however, that no deductions from gross earnings for the six months' period ending , 1935, (4), shall be required by reason of any charge-offs or write-downs of assets or transfers to reserves made during said period on account of losses sustained on or prior to the Recapitalization Date.

All recoveries over net book value on assets previously charged off or written down or against which reserves have been set up, and all transfers from reserves to surplus or undivided profits (other than transfers made to reflect recoveries already treated as gross earnings) shall be considered gross earnings for the respective periods during which such recoveries or transfers are effected.

(6) Application of net profits.—As long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding the Corporation, on each February 1 and August 1, shall apply the net profits of the Corporation for the six months' period ending on the next preceding December 31 and June 30, as the case may be, to the following purposes and in the following order of priority:

- To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock accrued to such February 1 or August 1, as the case may be;

(4) Insert June 30 or December 31 next succeeding the Recapitalization Date.

- To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this Article) of a sum equal to forty per cent of the remainder, if any, of such net profits; provided, however, that the aggregate amount paid into the preferred stock retirement fund in any one year need not exceed five per cent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding, whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever; provided, further, however, that unless otherwise elected, from time to time, by the Corporation by action of its Board of Directors, it shall not be required to make such payment into the preferred stock retirement fund except from such net profits as may have accrued from and after December 31, 1935;

Subject to compliance with the provisions of Section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, any balance of net profits for any such period may be applied from time to time to such lawful purposes as may be determined by the Board of Directors, subject, however, to the provisions of section 7 of this Article.

(7) Limitations on retirement of stock.—Except with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks no preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement by the Corporation unless the then unimpaired capital, surplus and undivided profits of the Corporation, and the retirement funds provided for herein (after giving effect to the proceeds of the issuance of any stock issued to provide funds for such retirement) exceed $ 13,000.00 (5) by an amount at least equal to the sum necessary to effect such retirement. No shares of preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement unless all accrued dividends (whether or not earned or declared) to the dividend payment date next preceding the date of such retirement shall have been paid on all shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(8) Retirement of preferred stock by purchase.—Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article, whenever the balance in the preferred stock retirement fund shall amount to as much as $ 1,000.00 (6), the Corporation shall (unless the Board of Directors shall elect to use the entire amount of such balance in the preferred stock retirement fund for the retirement of preferred stock by call as provided in section 9 hereof) within ten days thereafter mail, first-class postage prepaid, to all holders of record of preferred stock at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice specifying the balance in such fund and stating that the same is available for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock at the lowest prices (not in excess of the par value thereof and accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, to the date of purchase) offered within twenty days after the date of such notice. At the expiration of such twenty days, the Corporation shall apply such balance to the purchase for retirement of preferred stock, if obtainable, in accordance with the terms of such notice. Within ten days after such expiration, subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article, the Corporation shall call for retirement, in the manner provided in section 9 hereof, the largest number of shares of preferred stock which can be retired from the balance in such retirement fund remaining after deducting the amount paid or to be paid for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock as aforesaid, and shall set aside from such retirement fund the sum necessary to effect such retirement, but the minimum capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law.

(5) This figure, representing approximately the unimpaired capital structure of the Corporation after giving effect to the issue of the preferred stock, will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation prior to the purchase of the preferred stock.

(6) This figure will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article, at any time and from time to time the Corporation may make such lawful transfers from its surplus and/or undivided profits to the preferred stock retirement fund as the Board of Directors may determine. All shares of preferred stock purchased for retirement by the Corporation, whether from the retirement fund or otherwise, shall be cancelled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(9) Retirement of preferred stock by call.—Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article, the Corporation may at any time, at its election as expressed by resolution of the Board of Directors, retire the outstanding preferred stock as a whole, or from time to time in part, pro rata, or by lot in such equitable manner to carry out the purpose of this section 9 as the Board of Directors of the Corporation in its discretion shall from time to time determine, and provided always that the capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount required by law, by paying for each share to be retired a retirement price equal to the par value thereof plus all accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of such retirement. At least thirty days prior written notice of every such retirement, stating the retirement date and the retirement price, and the place of payment thereof, shall be mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to the holder of record of each share to be retired, at the address of such holder as shown on the books of the Corporation. Such notice having been so mailed, each holder of shares so called for retirement shall be entitled to receive payment of the retirement price of such shares (without interest) upon surrender to the Corporation, on or after the retirement date, at the place designated in such notice, of the certificate or certificates therefor in transferable form and, if required, properly stamped for transfer. In case less than all of the shares represented by any such certificate are retired, a new certificate shall be issued representing the unretired shares. From and after the retirement date (unless the Corporation shall default in payment of the retirement price), all dividends on shares called for retirement shall cease to accrue, such shares shall be deemed to be no longer outstanding, and all rights of the holders thereof as shareholders of the Corporation, except the right to receive the retirement price, shall terminate. All shares so retired shall be cancelled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(10) Increase or decrease of capital stock; Amendments of Articles of Incorporation, etc.—By the affirmative vote of the holders, voting by classes, of at least two-thirds of the shares of each class of stock at the time outstanding, and not otherwise, and subject to such approval by the Superintendent of Banks and such other conditions as at the time may be required by law—

- The capital stock of the Corporation may be increased at any time and from time to time through issuing additional shares of preferred stock and/or common stock, and/or through the creation of one or more additional classes of stock; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of preferred stock shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock if the entire proceeds of such issue are to be used for the retirement of shares of preferred stock; and provided further, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock as a stock dividend, pursuant to the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article, in connection with the retirement of shares of preferred stock;

- The capital stock of the Corporation may be decreased at any time and from time to time to any amount not below the amount at the time required by law; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to the retirement of preferred stock;

- The name of the Corporation and/or the place where its operations of discount and deposit are to be carried on may be changed, but this clause shall not be construed to abridge the powers of the Board of Directors under applicable law with reference to the establishment or change of location or closing of branches;

- These Articles of Incorporation may be amended at any time and from time to time in any other respect, but not so as to change the respective voting rights of the preferred stock and common stock so long as any of the preferred stock remains outstanding;

RECORD OF CHARTERS 34-35--STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

(f) All or substantially all of the assets and business of the Corporation may be sold or otherwise disposed of;
 (g) The Corporation may go into voluntary liquidation; and
 (h) Any plan or reorganization of the Corporation may be carried into effect—
 Provided, however, that if and as long as the voting rights of the preferred stock are increased in accordance with the provisions of sections 12 or 13 of this Article, and the fair value of the assets of the Corporation as determined by the Superintendent of Banks shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding, any of the actions specified in the foregoing paragraphs (a) to (h) inclusive, of this section 10 may be taken by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled, and not otherwise, except that the Corporation may not be put into voluntary liquidation without the approval of the Superintendent of Banks.

(11) Presumptive rights.—In case of any increase in the capital stock of the Corporation of any class other than by way of a stock dividend, the new shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all shares of stock of that class at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of shares of such stock of that class held by them respectively, by mailing, first-class postage prepaid, to such holders, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, transferable subscription warrants exercisable at any time on or before thirty days from the date of such mailing. If at the expiration of such subscription rights, any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all other shares of stock of all other classes at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of such shares held by them respectively, and notice shall be given as above provided. If at the expiration of both of such subscription rights any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such unsubscribed new shares may be issued and sold at such price, not less than the par value thereof, to such persons and on such terms as the Board of Directors may determine.

(12) Voting rights.—(a) Except as otherwise provided in sections 10 and 13 of this Article, and in this section 12, each holder of stock of any class shall be entitled to vote on all matters one vote for each share of stock of any class held by him.
 (b) In all elections of directors, each holder of stock of any class shall have the right to vote the votes allocable to the number of shares owned by him for as many persons as there are directors to be elected, or to cumulate such votes and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of votes allocable to his shares shall equal, or to distribute such votes on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall think fit.
 (c) In case as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock shall be in arrears (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock), then, and until all arrears of dividends upon the preferred stock shall have been paid and the full dividend on the outstanding preferred stock for the then current semi-annual dividend period shall have been declared and funds set apart for the payment thereof, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.
 (d) At any time while the votes of the preferred stock are increased as provided in paragraph (c) of this section 12 or in sub-paragraph (2) of section 13 of this Article, any one or more of the directors, officers, or employees of the Corporation, may be removed at any annual or special meeting of shareholders, for or without cause, and their successors elected, by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled.

(13) Other voting rights.—If at any time while the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall hold not less than twenty-five per cent of the total number of shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding—
 (a) The Corporation shall be in arrears in the payment of as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock); or
 (b) The amounts paid into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this Article) on and after February 1, 1937, shall not have amounted in the aggregate to five per cent of the maximum par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding (whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever) multiplied by the number of calendar years which shall have elapsed since January 1, 1936; or
 (c) The fair value of the assets of the banking corporation as determined by an examination of the banking corporation by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (which may be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation once in each calendar year if the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall so elect), or as determined by the Superintendent of Banks, shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding; or
 (d) The Corporation shall violate or fail to observe any of the terms, provisions, or conditions of its Articles of Incorporation—
 then after written notice from Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the existence of any of said conditions and so long as any of said conditions in (a), (b), (c) and (d) above shall continue:
 (1) All directors, officers, and employees of the Corporation shall receive compensation at rates not exceeding such maximum limitations as may be fixed by the vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.
 (2) In case Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks, at any time shall notify the Corporation that any director, officer or employee of the Corporation is regarded by Reconstruction Finance Corporation as unsatisfactory, and in case such director, officer, or employee is not removed from office (and, if requested by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, replaced with a director, officer, or employee, satisfactory to it) within thirty days after receipt by the Corporation of such notice, then, and until such removal and replacement shall have been effected, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.
 (3) The Corporation shall not directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire any real estate for its own use, or lease any real estate for its own use for a term longer than one year, without in each case the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, or a written waiver of voting rights in respect thereto by the holders of such majority; provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to real estate acquired under the provisions of subdivisions 2 and 3 of Section 63 of Senate Bill 227, Laws of 1934.
 (4) The Corporation shall not incur indebtedness maturing more than one year from the creation thereof, without the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding or a written waiver of voting rights with respect thereto by the holders of such majority, but the indebtedness herein referred to shall not be construed to include the issuance of circulating notes and the acceptance of time deposits, which may continue to be accepted by the Corporation, under such conditions as may be provided by law.

(14) Rights of preferred stock on liquidation.—In the event of any receivership, conservatorship, liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, before any payment or other distribution, whether in cash, property, or otherwise shall be made to the holders of common stock, the holders of preferred stock shall be entitled to receive, for each share of such stock held by them, an amount equal to the par value thereof, plus an amount equal to all unpaid dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of payment, but shall not be entitled to any other or further payment; provided, however, that a merger or consolidation in accordance with law and these Articles of Incorporation, shall not be deemed a liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation within the meaning of this section 14.

(a) Officers.—The Board of Directors shall elect one of its members President of the Corporation. The Board may designate a director in lieu of the President to be Chairman of the Board, who shall perform such duties as may be designated by the Board. The directors shall have power to elect one or more Vice-Presidents, at least one of whom shall also be a member of the Board of Directors, and who shall be authorized, in the absence or inability of the President from any cause, to perform all acts and duties pertaining to the office of president except such as the President only is authorized by law to perform; and to elect or appoint a Cashier, and such other officers and clerks as may be required to transact the business of the Corporation; and, subject to the provisions of sub-paragraphs (1) and (2) of section 13 of Article, hereof, to fix the salaries to be paid to them, and to continue them in office or to dismiss them as in the opinion of a majority of the Board the interests of the Corporation may demand.

(b) Powers of Board of Directors.—The Board of Directors shall have the power to define the duties of the officers and clerks of the Corporation, to require bonds from them, and to fix the penalty therefor; to regulate the manner in which election of directors shall be held and to appoint judges of the elections; to make all by-laws that it may be proper for them to make, not inconsistent with law and these Articles of Incorporation, for the general regulation of the business of the Corporation and the management of its affairs, and generally to do and perform all acts that it may be legal for a board of directors to do and perform according to law and within the limits of these Articles of Incorporation.

Special meetings of shareholders.—Except as otherwise specifically provided by statute, special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose at any time by the Board of Directors or by the holders of at least ten per cent of the then outstanding shares of any class. Every such special meeting shall be called by mailing, not less than ten days before the time fixed for the meeting, to all shareholders of record entitled to act and vote at such meeting, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice stating the purpose of the meeting. Such notice may be waived in writing.

SIXTH
 RESOLVED, ~~that~~ that each shareholder of record may subscribe within five days from and after the date of this meeting to such issue of preferred stock in proportion to the number of shares of common stock of the Corporation standing on the books of the Corporation in his name; and

SEVENTH
 RESOLVED, ~~that~~ that the Board of Directors through its proper officers, at the expiration of the said five days, shall sell the unsubscribed portion of such preferred stock at such price (not less than the par value thereof) to Reconstruction Finance Corporation and/or to such other person or persons as the Board of Directors may deem advisable.

The within and foregoing Amendment to the Charter of Incorporation of The Bank of Falkner is hereby approved.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Mississippi to be affixed, this 19th day of February, 1935.

BY THE GOVERNOR. WALKER WOOD, Secretary of State.
SENNETT CONNER, Governor.

RECORDED: Feb 21 1935

SUGGESTED FORM OF AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION FOR CONTINUING MISSISSIPPI STATE BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES ISSUING ONE CLASS OF PREFERRED STOCK.

Proposed Amendment to Articles of Incorporation of

Commercial and Savings Bank	Friars Point	Coahoma	Mississippi
(Name of Bank)	(City)	(County)	(State)

Resolved First, That the capital of this Corporation be increased in the sum of $10,000.00, by the issuance of $10,000.00 of preferred stock under the provisions of Section 52 of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, making the total capital of the Corporation $20,000.00, of which $10,00.00 is preferred and $10,000.00 is common stock.

Resolved Second, That the Articles of Incorporation be amended by striking out Article 111 and inserting in place thereof the following Article 2:

"The Board of Directors shall consist of such number of shareholders, not less than five nor more than twenty-five, as from time to time shall be determined by a majority of the votes to which all shareholders are at the time entitled. A majority of the Board of Directors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business."

"Resolved Third, That the Articles of Incorporation be further amended by striking out Articles 2-4-5 and inserting in the place thereof the following:

Article 3 (1) Amount, classes, and shares of capital stock. --The amount of capital stock of the Corporation shall be $20,000.00, divided into classes and shares as follows:

(a) $10,000.00 par value of preferred stock (subject to retirement as hereinafter provided) divided into 80 shares of the par value of $125.00 1 each; and

(b) $10,000.00 par value of common stock (subject to increase upon retirement of preferred stock as provided in the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article ____) divided into 100 shares of the par value of $100.00 each.

(2) Assessability of stock. --The holders of preferred stock shall not be held individually responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts, or engagements of the Corporation, and shall not be liable for assessments to restore impairments in the capital of the Corporation.

(3) Dividends on preferred stock. --The holders of preferred stock, in preference to the holders of common stock, shall be entitled to receive, when and as declared by the Board of Directors, out of net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this Article 3) accruing after February 16th, 1935 2 (hereinafter referred to as the "Recapitalization Date"), cash dividends thereon to and including January 31, 1935, at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter to and including January, 31, 1940, at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more. Such dividends shall be payable semi-annually on each February 1 and August 1, and shall accrue, as to any given share of such stock, from the date of issuance of such share. Such dividends shall be cumulative, so that if dividends at the full rates required by this section 3 to be paid on the preferred stock shall not have been paid upon or declared and set apart for such preferred stock, the deficiency shall be fully paid or declared and set apart before any dividend or other distribution, whether in cash, property, stock, or otherwise, shall be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock. Dividends on the preferred stock shall be deemed to accrue from day to day.

(4) Dividends on common stock. --Dividends or other distributions whether in cash, property, stock or otherwise, shall, so long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock only out of the net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this article 3) accruing after the Recapitalization Date.

If any retirement of preferred stock would decrease the outstanding capital of the Corporation below the minimum amount required by law, the Board of Directors, prior to or simultaneously with such retirement, shall transfer an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired from reserves set up for the retirement of preferred stock to a special reserve fund for the payment of common stock dividends, and shall declare on the common stock, out of such special reserve fund, a dividend payable in common stock in an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired, and the shares of common stock required for the payment of any such stock dividend shall be issuable without any further vote on the part of the holders of stock of any class or any further approval on the part of the State Comptroller.

(5) Determination of net profits.--For the purpose of this article 3, the net profits or net loss (as distinguished from usage of terms "net pfofits" and "net loss" in reports required by the State Comptroller of the Corporation shall be determined for each six months' period ending on December 31 or June 30 by deducting from the gross earnings from all sources for such period:

(a) All expenses for such period; (b) All interest accrued during such period; (c) All losses determined during such period, and such charge-offs, and write-downs of assets and transfers to reserves (whether from income, undivided profits or surplus) for such period (including all charge-offs, write-downs and transfers to reserves requested by the State Comptroller for such period) as may be reasonably necessary to make proper provisions for doubtful assets, depreciation, and undetermined losses, but to the extent only, that such losses, determined or undetermined, charge-offs, and write-downs of assets exceed reserves previously set up therefor in such period or any prior period, or available unallocated reserves; (d) Provision for all taxes for such period, including taxes measured by income and taxes based on the ownership of stock in the Corporation paid or payable by the Corporation for the account of its shareholders, without prejudice to such right as the Corporation may have to recover the same; (e) Such transfers for such period to surplus as may be required by law; provided, however, that transfers to earned surplus as required by section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, shall not be deducted from gross earnings in determining net profits available for the dividend and retirement requirements of the preferred stock; and

1. The per share par value of the preferred stock will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

2. Insert date on which Articles of Incorporation amended by shareholders.

(f) The net loss, if any, determined in accordance with the provisions of this section 5, accrued since the Recapitalization Date, accumulated to and existing at the beginning of such period; provided, however, that no deductions from gross earnings for the six months' period ending June 30th, 1935, 3 need be made by reason of any charge-offs or write-downs of assets or transfers to reserves required by the State Comptroller and approved in writing by Reconstruction Finance Corporation made on account of loss incurred prior to or depreciation in assets existing at the Recapitalization Date.

All recoveries over net book value on assets previously charged off or written down or against which reserves have been set up, and all transfers from reserves to surplus or undivided profits (other than transfers made to reflect recoveries already treated as gross earnings), shall be considered gross earnings for the respective periods during which such recoveries or transfers are effected.

(6) Application of net profits. --As long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, the Corporation, on each February 1 and August 1 (except that, as provided in paragraph (b) hereof, no payments shall be required pursuant to the provisions of such paragraph prior to August 1, 1936), shall apply the net profits of the Corporation for the six months' period ending on the next preceding December 31 or June 30, as the case may be, to the following purposes and in the following order of priority:

(a) To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock accrued to such February 1 or August 1, as the case may be.

(b) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article 3) on August 1, 1936, of a sum equal to three-quarters of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter, to and including February 1, 1940, of a sum equal to one-quarter of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter of a sum equal to one-half of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding. In the event that the net profits of the Corporation shall on any such February 1 or August 1 be insufficient to permit the payment into such preferred stock retirement fund of the full amount hereinabove provided for, the deficiency shall be fully paid before any net profits of the Corporation shall be thereafter applied to any of the purposes hereinafter specified in this section 6.

(c) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article 3) of a sum equal to forty per cent of the remainder, if any, of such net profits; Provided, however, That the aggregate amount paid into the preferred stock retirement fund in any one year in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph (c) need not exceed five per cent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding, whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever; Provided, further, however, that unless otherwise elected, from time to time, by the Corporation by action of its Board of Directors, it shall not be required to make such payment into the preferred stock retirement fund required by this paragraph (c) except from such net profits as may have accrued from and after December 31, 1935.

Subject to compliance with the provisions of section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, any balance of net profits for any such period may be applied from time to time to such lawful purposes as may be determined by the Board of Directors, subject, however, to the provisions of section 7 of this article 3.

(7) Limitations on retirement of stock. --Except with the approval of the State Comptroller no preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement by the Corporation unless the then unimpaired capital, surplus and undivided profits of the Corporation, and the retirement funds provided for herein (after giving effect to the proceeds of the issuance of any stock issued to provide funds for such retirement) exceed $33,000.00 4 by an amount at least equal to the sum necessary to effect such retirement. No shares of preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement unless all accrued dividends (whether or not earned or declared) to the dividend payment date next preceding the date of such retirement shall have been paid on all shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(8) Retirement of preferred stock by purchase. --Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article 3, whenever the balance in the preferred stock retirement fund shall amount to as much as $1,000.00, the Corporation shall (unless the Board of Directors shall elect to use the entire amount of such balance in the preferred stock retirement fund for the retirement of preferred stock by call as provided in section 9 hereof) within ten days thereafter mail, first-class postage prepaid, to all holders of record of preferred stock at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice specifying the balance in such fund and stating that the same is available for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock at the lowest prices (not in excess of the par value thereof and accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, to the date of purchase) offered within twenty days after the date of such notice. At the expiration of such twenty days, the Corporation shall apply such balance to the purchase for retirement of preferred stock, if obtainable, in accordance with the terms of such notice. Within ten days after such expiration, subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article 3, the Corporation shall call for retirement, in the manner provided in section 9 hereof, the largest number of shares of preferred stock which can be retired from the balance in such retirement fund remaining after deducting the amount paid or to be paid for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock as aforesaid, and shall set aside from such retirement fund the sum necessary to effect such retirement, but the minimum capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law. Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article 3, at any time and from time to time the Corporation may make such lawful transfers from its surplus and/or undivided profits to the preferred stock retirement fund as the Board of Directors may determine. All shares of preferred stock purchased for retirement by the Corporation, whether from the retirement fund or otherwise, shall be cancelled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(9) Retirement of preferred stock by call. --Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article 3, the Corporation may at any time, at its election as expressed by resolution of the Board of Directors, retire the outstanding preferred stock as a whole, or from time to time in part, pro rata, or by lot in such equitable manner to carry out the purpose of this section 9 as the Board of Directors of the Corporation in its discretion shall from time to time determine, (and provided always that the capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law) by paying for each share to be retired a retirement price equal to the par value thereof plus all accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of such retirement.

At least thirty days prior written notice of every such retirement, stating the retirement date and the retirement price, and the place of payment thereof, shall be mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to the holder of record of each share to be retired, at the address of such holder as shown on the books of the corporation. Such notice having been so mailed, each holder of shares so called for retirement shall be entitled to receive payment of the retirement price of such shares (without interest) upon surrender to the Corporation, on or after the retirement date, at the place designated in such notice of the certificate or certificates therefor in transferable form and, if required, properly stamped for transfer. In case less than all of the shares represented by any such certificate are retired, a new certificate shall be issued representing the unretired shares. From and after the retirement date (unless the Corporation shall default in payment of the retirement price), all dividends on shares called for retirement shall cease to accrue, such shares shall be deemed to be no longer outstanding, and all rights of the holders thereof as shareholders of the Corporation, except the right to receive the retirement price, shall terminate. All shares so retired shall be canceled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(10) Increase or decrease of capital stock: Amendments of Articles of Incorporation, etc. -- By the affirmative vote of the holders, voting by classes, of at least two-thirds of the shares of each class of stock at the time outstanding, and not otherwise, and subject to such approval by the State Comptroller and such other conditions as at the time may be required by law--

3. Insert June 30 or December 31 next succeeding the Recapitalization Date.

4. This figure, representing approximately the unimpaired capital structure of the Corporation after giving effect to the issue of the preferred stock, will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, prior to the purchase of preferred stock.

5. This figure will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

(a) The capital stock of the Corporation may be increased at any time and from time to time through issuing additional shares of preferred stock and/or common stock, and/or through the creation of one or more additional classes of stock; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of preferred stock shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock if the entire proceeds of such issue are to be used for the retirement of shares of preferred stock; and provided further, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock as a stock dividend, pursuant to the second paragraph of section 4 of this article 3 in connection with the retirement of shares of preferred stock;

(b) The capital stock of the Corporation may be decreased at any time and from time to time to any amount not below the amount at the time required by law; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to the retirement of preferred stock;

(c) The name of the Corporation and/or the place where its operations of discount and deposit are to be carried on may be changed, but this clause shall not be construed to abridge the powers of the Board of Directors under applicable law with reference to the establishment or change of location or closing of branches;

(d) These Articles of Incorporation may be amended at any time and from time to time in any other respect, but not so as to change the respective voting rights of the preferred stock and common stock so long as any of the preferred stock remains outstanding;

(e) The Corporation may be consolidated or merged into or with any other bank, or may acquire all or substantially all of the assets and business of any banking corporation or trust company;

(f) All or substantially all of the assets and business of the Corporation may be sold or otherwise disposed of;

(g) The Corporation may go into voluntary liquidation; and

(h) Any plan of reorganization of the Corporation may be carried into effect-- Provided, however, that if and as long as the voting rights of the preferred stock are increased in accordance with the provisions of sections 12 or 13 of this Article 3 and the fair value of the assets of the Corporation as determined by the State Comptroller shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding, any of the actions specified in the foregoing paragraphs (a) to (h) inclusive, of this section 10 may be taken by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled, and not otherwise, except that the Corporation may not be put into voluntary liquidation without the approval of the State Comptroller.

(11) Preemptive rights.-- In case of any increase in the capital stock of the Corporation of any class other than by way of a stock dividend, the new shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all shares of stock of that class at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of shares of such stock of that class held by them respectively, by mailing first-class postage prepaid, to such holders, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, transferable subscription warrants exercisable at any time on or before thirty days from the date of such mailing. If at the expiration of such subscription rights, any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all other shares of stock of all other classes at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of such shares held by them respectively, and notice shall be given as above provided. If at the expiration of both such subscription rights any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such unsubscribed new shares may be issued and sold at such price, not less than the par value thereof, to such persons and on such terms as the Board of Directors may determine.

(12) Voting rights. -- (a) Except as otherwise provided in sections 10 and 13 of this article 3 and in this section 12, each holder of stock of any class shall be entitled to vote on all matters one vote for each share of stock of any class held by him.

(b) In all elections of directors, each holder of stock of any class shall have the right to vote the votes allocable to the number of shares owned by him for as many persons as there are directors to be elected, or to cumulate such votes and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of votes allocable to his shares shall equal, or to distribute such votes on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall think fit.

(c) In case as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock shall be in arrears (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock), then, and until all arrears of dividends upon the preferred stock shall have been paid and the full dividend on the outstanding preferred stock for the then current semi-annual dividend period shall have been declared and funds set apart for the payment thereof, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(d) At any time while the votes of the preferred stock are increased as provided in paragraph (c) of this section 12 or in sub-paragraph (2) of section 13 of this article 3, any one or more of the directors, officers, or employees of the Corporation may be removed at any annual or special meeting of shareholders, for or without cause, and their successors elected, by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled.

(13) Other voting rights.-- If at any time while the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall hold not less than twenty-five per cent of the total number of shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding--

(a) The Corporation shall be in arrears in the payment of as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock; or

(b) The amounts paid into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article 3) in accordance with the requirements of paragraph (c) of section 6 of this article 3 on and after February 1, 1937, shall not have amounted in the aggregate to five per cent of the maximum par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding (whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever) multiplied by the number of calendar years which shall have elapsed since January 1, 1936; or

(c) The fair value of the assets of the banking corporation as determined by an examination of the banking corporation by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (which may be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation once in each calendar year if the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall so elect), or as determined by the State Comptroller, shall be less than an amount equal to all of the liabilities including all capital stock outstanding; or

(d) The Corporation shall violate or fail to observe any of the terms, provisions, or conditions of its Articles of Incorporation-- then after written notice from Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the existence of any of said conditions and so long as any of said conditions in (a), (b), (c) and (d) above shall continue:

(1) All directors, officers, and employees of the Corporation shall receive compensation at rates not exceeding such maximum limitations as may be fixed by the vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(2) In case Reconstruction Finance Corporation with the approval of the State Comptroller, at any time shall notify the Corporation that any director, officer or employee of the Corporation is regarded by Reconstruction Finance Corporation as unsatisfactory, and in case such director, officer, or employee is not removed from office (and, if requested by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, replaced with a director, officer, or employee satisfactory to it) within thirty days after receipt by the Corporation of such notice, then, and until such removal and replacement shall have been effected, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(3) The Corporation shall not directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire any real estate for its own use, or lease any real estate for its own use for a term longer than one year, without in each case the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, or a written waiver of voting rights in respect thereto by the holders of such majority; provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to real estate acquired under the provisions of sub-division 2 and 3 of Section 53 of Senate Bill 227, Laws of 1934.

(4) The Corporation shall not incur indebtedness maturing more than one year from the creation thereof, without the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding or a written waiver of voting rights with respect thereto by the holders of such majority, but the indebtedness herein referred to shall not be construed to include the issuance of circulating notes and the acceptance of time deposits, which may continue to be accepted by the Corporation under such conditions as may be provided by law.

(14) Rights of preferred stock on liquidation.--In the event of any receivership, conservatorship, liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, before any payment or other distribution, whether in cash, property or otherwise, shall be made to the holders of common stock, the holders of preferred stock shall be entitled to receive, for each share of such stock held by them, an amount equal to the par value thereof, plus an amount equal to all dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of payment, but shall not be entitled to any other or further payment; provided, however, that a merger or consolidation in accordance with law and these Articles of Incorporation, shall not be deemed a liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation within the meaning of this section 41.14.

Article 4. (a) Officers. -- The Board of Directors shall elect one of its members President of the Corporation. The Board may designate a director in lieu of the President to be Chairman of the Board, who shall perform such duties as may be designated by the Board. The Directors shall have power to elect one or more Vice Presidents, at least one of whom shall also be a member of the Board of Directors, and who shall be authorized, in the absence or inability of the President from any cause, to perform all acts and duties pertaining to the office of President except such as the President only is authorized by law to perform; and to elect or appoint a cashier, and such other officers and clerks as may be required to transact the business of the Corporation; and subject to the provisions of sub-paragraphs (1) and (2) of section 13 of article 4 hereof, to fix the salaries to be paid to them, and to continue them in office or to dismiss them as in the opinion of a majority of the Board the interests of the Corporation may demand;

(b) Powers of Board of Directors.-- The Board of Directors shall have the power to define the duties of the officers and clerks of the Corporation, to require bonds from them, and to fix the penalty thereof; to regulate the manner in which election of directors shall be held and to appoint judges of the elections; to make all by-laws that it may be proper for them to make, not inconsistent with law and these Articles of Incorporation, for the general regulation of the business of the Corporation and the management of its affairs, and generally to do and perform all acts that it may be legal for a board of directors to do and perform according to law and within the limits of these Articles of Incorporation.

Article 5. Special Meetings of shareholders. -- Except as otherwise specifically provided by statute, special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose at any time by the Board of Directors or by the holders of at least ten per cent of the then outstanding shares of any class. Every such special meeting shall be called by mailing, not less than ten days before the time fixed for the meeting, to all shareholders of record entitled to act and vote at such meeting, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice stating the purpose of the meeting. Such notice may be waived in writing.

Resolved Fourth, That each shareholder of record may subscribe within five days from and after the date of this meeting to such issue of preferred stock in proportion to the number of shares of common stock of the Corporation standing on the books of the Corporation in his name; and

Resolved Fifth, That the Board of Directors through its proper officers, at the expiration of the said five days, shall sell the unsubscribed portion of such preferred stock at such price (not less than the par value thereof) to Reconstruction Finance Corporation and/or to such other person or persons as the Board of Directors may deem advisable.

At a meeting of the shareholders of Commercial & Savings Bank, Friars Point, Mississippi, held on February 16th, 1935, 10 days' notice of the proposed business having been given by registered mail, all of the foregoing resolutions were adopted by the following vote, -- the affirmative vote representing 69% of the total number of shares of capital stock outstanding.

RECORD OF CHARTERS 34-35---STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

THE COMMERCIAL BANK, WOODVILLE, WILKINSON, MISSISSIPPI
(Name of Bank) (City) (County) (State)

Proposed Amendments to Articles of Incorporation of

Resolved First, That the capital of this Corporation be increased in the sum of $25,000.00, by the issuance of $25,000.00 of preferred stock under the provisions of Section 52 of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, making the total capital of the Corporation $42,500.00, of which $25,000.00 is preferred and $17,500.00 is common stock.

Resolved Second, That the Articles of Incorporation be amended by striking out Article 1 and inserting in place thereof the following:

"The Board of Directors shall consist of such number of shareholders, not less than five nor more than twenty-five, as from time to time shall be determined by a majority of the votes to which all shareholders are at the time entitled. A majority of the Board of Directors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business."

Resolved Third, That the Articles of Incorporation be further amended by striking out Articles 4 and inserting in the place thereof the following:

(1) Amount, classes and shares of capital stock.---The amount of capital stock of the Corporation shall be $42,500.00 divided into classes and shares as follows:

(a) $25,000.00 par value of preferred stock (subject to retirement as hereinafter provided) divided into 500 shares of the par value of $50.00 (1) each; and

(b) $17,500.00 par value of common stock (subject to increase upon retirement of preferred stock as provided in the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article) divided into 350 shares of the par value of $50.00 each.

(2) Assessability of stock.---The holders of preferred stock shall not be held individually responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts, or engagements of the Corporation, and shall not be liable for assessments to restore impairments in the capital of the Corporation.

(3) Dividends on preferred stock.---The holders of preferred stock, in preference to the holders of common stock, shall be entitled to receive, when and as declared by the Board of Directors, out of net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in sections 5 of this article) accruing after February 12, 1935 (2) (hereinafter referred to as the "Recapitalization Date"), cash dividends thereon to and including January 31, 1935, at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter to and including January 31, 1940, at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more. Such dividends shall be payable semi-annually on each February 1 and August 1, and shall accrue, as to any given share of such stock, from the date of issuance of such share. Such dividends shall be cumulative, so that if dividends at the full rates required by this section 3 to be paid on the preferred stock shall not have been paid upon or declared and set apart for such preferred stock, the deficiency shall be fully paid or declared and set apart before any dividend or other distribution, whether in cash, property, stock, or otherwise, shall be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock. Dividends on the preferred stock shall be deemed to accrue from day to day.

(4) Dividends on common stock.---Dividends or other distributions whether in cash, property, stock or otherwise, shall, so long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock only out of the net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this article) accruing after the Recapitalization Date.

If any retirement of preferred stock would decrease the outstanding capital of the Corporation below the minimum amount required by law, the Board of Directors, prior to or simultaneously with such retirement, shall transfer an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired from reserves set up for the retirement of preferred stock to a special reserve fund for the payment of common stock dividends and shall declare on the common stock, out of such special reserve fund, a dividend payable in common stock in an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired, and the shares of common stock required for the payment of any such stock dividend shall be issuable without any further vote on the part of the holders of stock of any class or any further approval on the part of the State Comptroller.

(5) Determination of net profits.---For the purpose of this article, the net profits or net loss (as distinguished from usage of terms "net profits" and "net loss" in reports required by the State Comptroller of the Corporation shall be determined for each six months' period ending on December 31 or June 30 by deducting from the gross earnings from all sources for such period;

(a) All expenses for such period; (b) All interest accrued during such period; (c) All losses determined during such period, and such charge-offs and write-downs of assets and transfers to reserves (whether from income, undivided profits or surplus) for such period (including all charge-offs, write-downs and transfers to reserves requested by the State Comptroller for such period) as may be reasonably necessary to make proper provisions for doubtful assets, depreciation, and undetermined losses, but to the extent only that such losses, determined or undetermined, charge-offs, and write-downs of assets exceed reserves previously set up therefor in such period or any prior period, or available unallocated reserves; (d) Provision for all taxes for such period, including taxes measured by income and taxes based on the ownership of stock in the Corporation paid or payable by the Corporation for the account of its shareholders, without prejudice to such rights as the Corporation may have to recover the same; (e) Such transfers for such period to surplus as may be required by law; provided, however, that transfers to earned surplus as required by section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, shall not be deducted from gross earnings in determining net profits available for the dividend and retirement requirements of the preferred stock; and

(1) The per share par value of the preferred stock will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

(2) Insert date on which Articles of Incorporation amended by shareholders.
(a) The net loss, if any, determined in accordance with the provisions of this section 5, accrued since the Recapitalization Date, accumulated to and existing at the beginning of such period; provided, however, that no deductions from gross earnings for the six months' period ending June 30, 1935, need be made by the reason of any charge-offs or write-downs of assets or transfers to reserves required by the State Comptroller and approved in writing by Reconstruction Finance Corporation made on account of loss incurred prior to or depreciation in assets existing at the Recapitalization Date.

All recoveries over net book value on assets previously charged off or written down or against which reserves have been set up, and all transfers from reserves to surplus or undivided profits (other than transfers made to reflect recoveries already treated as gross earnings), shall be considered gross earnings for the respective periods during which such recoveries or transfers are effected.

(6) Application of net profits.---As long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, the Corporation, on each February 1 and August 1 (except that, as provided in paragraph (b) hereof, no payments shall be required pursuant to the provisions of such paragraph prior to August 1, 1936) shall apply the net profits of the Corporation for the six months' period ending on the next preceding December 31 or June 30, as the case may be, to the following purposes and in the following order of priority:

(a) To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock accrued to such February 1 or August 1, as the case may be. (b) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article) of a sum equal to three-quarters of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter, to and including February 1, 1940, of a sum equal to one-quarter of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter of a sum equal to one-half of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding. In the event that the net profits of the Corporation shall on any such February 1 or August 1 be insufficient to permit the payment into such preferred stock retirement fund of the full amount hereinabove provided for, the deficiency shall be fully paid before any net profits of the Corporation shall be thereafter applied to any of the purposes hereinafter specified in this section 6.

(c) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article) of a sum equal to forty per cent of the remainder, if any, of such net profits: Provided, however, That the aggregate amount paid into the preferred stock retirement fund in any one year in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph (c) need not exceed five per cent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding, whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever: Provided, further, however, That unless otherwise elected, from time to time, by the Corporation by action of its Board of Directors, it shall not be required to make such payment into the preferred stock retirement fund required by this paragraph (c) except from such net profits as may have accrued from and after December 31, 1935.

Subject to compliance with the provisions of section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, any balance of net profits for any such period may be applied from time to time to such lawful purposes as may be determined by the Board of Directors, subject, however, to the provisions of section 7 of this article.

(7) Limitations on retirement of stock.---Except with the approval of the State Comptroller no preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement by the Corporation unless the then unimpaired capital, surplus and undivided profits of the Corporation, and the retirement funds provided for herein (after giving effect to the proceeds of the issuance of any stock issued to provide funds for such retirement) exceed $45,500.00 (4) by an amount at least equal to the sum necessary to effect such retirement. No shares of preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement unless all accrued dividends (whether or not earned or declared) to the dividend payment date next preceding the date of such retirement shall have been paid on all shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(8) Retirement of preferred stock by purchase.---Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article, whenever the balance in the preferred stock retirement fund shall amount to as much as $1,000.00 (5), the Corporation shall (unless the Board of Directors shall elect to use the entire amount of such balance in the preferred stock retirement fund for the retirement of preferred stock by call as provided in section 9 hereof) within ten days thereafter mail, first-class postage prepaid, to all holders of record of preferred stock at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice specifying the balance in such fund and stating that the same is available for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock at the lowest prices (not in excess of the par value thereof and accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, to the date of purchase) offered within twenty days after the date of such notice. At the expiration of such twenty days, the Corporation shall apply such balance to the purchase for retirement of preferred stock, if obtainable, in accordance with the terms of such notice. Within ten days after such expiration, subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article, the Corporation shall call for retirement, in the manner provided in section 9 hereof, the largest number of shares of preferred stock which can be retired from the balance in such retirement fund remaining after deducting the amount paid or to be paid for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock as aforesaid, and shall set aside from such retirement fund the sum necessary to effect such retirement, but the minimum capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law. Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article, at any time and from time to time the Corporation may make such lawful transfers from its surplus and/or undivided profits to the preferred stock retirement fund as the Board of Directors may determine. All shares of preferred stock purchased for retirement by the Corporation, whether from the retirement fund or otherwise, shall be cancelled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(9) Retirement of preferred stock by call.---Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article, the Corporation may at any time, at its election as expressed by resolution of the Board of Directors, retire the outstanding preferred stock as a whole or from time to time in part, pro rata, or by lot in such equitable manner to carry out the purpose of this section 9 as the Board of Directors of the Corporation in its discretion shall from time to time determine, (and provided always that the capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law) by paying for each share to be retired a retirement price equal to the par value thereof, plus all accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of such retirement.

At least thirty days prior written notice of every such retirement, stating the retirement date and the retirement price, and the place of payment thereof, shall be mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to the holder of record of each share to be retired, at the address of such holder as shown on the books of the Corporation. Such notice having been so mailed, each holder of shares so called for retirement shall be entitled to receive payment of the retirement price of such shares (without interest) upon surrender to the Corporation, on or after the retirement date, at the place designated in such notice, of the certificate or certificate therefor in transferable form and, if required, properly stamped for transfer. In case less than all of the shares represented by any such certificate are retired, a new certificate shall be issued representing the unretired shares. From and after the retirement date (unless the Corporation shall default in payment of the retirement price), all dividends on shares called for retirement shall cease to accrue, such shares shall be deemed to be no longer outstanding, and all rights of the holders thereof as shareholders of the Corporation, except the right to receive the retirement price, shall terminate. All shares so retired shall be canceled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(10) Increase or decrease of capital stock: Amendments of Articles of Incorporation, etc.---By the affirmative vote of the holders, voting by classes, of at least two-thirds of the shares of each class at the time outstanding, and not otherwise, and subject to such approval by the State Comptroller and such other conditions as at the time may be required by law---

(3) Insert June 30 or December 31 next succeeding the Recapitalization Date. (4) This figure, representing approximately the unimpaired capital structure of the Corporation after giving effect to the issue of the preferred stock, will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation prior to the purchase of the preferred stock. (5) This figure will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

(a) The capital stock of the Corporation may be increased at any time and from time to time through issuing additional shares of preferred stock and/or common stock, and/or through the creation of one or more additional classes of stock; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of preferred stock shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock if the entire proceeds of such issue are to be used for the retirement of shares of preferred stock; and provided further, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock as a stock dividend, pursuant to the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article in connection with the retirement of shares of preferred stock; (b) The capital stock of the Corporation may be decreased at any time and from time to time to any amount not below the amount at the time required by law; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to the retirement of preferred stock; (c) The name of the Corporation and/or the place where its operations of discount and deposit are to be carried on may be changed, but this clause shall not be construed to abridge the powers of the Board of Directors under applicable law with reference to the establishment or change of location or closing of branches;

(d) These Articles of Incorporation may be amended at any time and from time to time in any other respect, but not so as to change the respective voting rights of the preferred stock and in common stock so long as any of the preferred stock remains outstanding; (e) The Corporation may be consolidated or merged into or with any other bank, or may acquire all or substantially all of the assets and business of any banking corporation or trust company; (f) All or substantially all of the assets and business of the Corporation may be sold or otherwise disposed of; (g) The Corporation may go into voluntary liquidation; and (h) Any plan of reorganization of the Corporation may be carried into effect---Provided, however, that if and as long as the voting rights of the preferred stock are increased in accordance with the provisions of section 12 or 13 of this Article and the fair value of the assets of the Corporation as determined by the State Comptroller shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding, any of the actions specified in the foregoing paragraphs (a) to (h) inclusive, of this section 10 may be taken by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stocks, voting as one class, are at the time entitled, and not otherwise, except that the Corporation may not be put into voluntary liquidation without the approval of the State Comptroller.

(11) Preemptive rights.---In case of any increase in the capital stock of the Corporation of any class other than by way of a stock dividend, the new shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all shares of stock of that class at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of shares of such stock of that class held by them respectively, by mailing, first-class postage prepaid, to such holders, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, transferable subscription warrants exercisable at any time on or before ~~thirty~~ thirty days from the date of such mailing. If at the expiration of such subscription rights, any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all other shares of stock of all other classes at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of such shares held by them respectively, and notice shall be given as above provided. If at the expiration of both of such subscription rights any of the new shares ~~shall not~~ have not been subscribed for, such unsubscribed new shares may be issued and sold at such price, not less than the par value thereof, to such persons and on such terms as the Board of Directors may determine.

(12) Voting rights.---(a) Except as otherwise provided in sections 10 and 13 of this article and in this section 12, each holder of stock of any class shall be entitled to vote on all matters one vote for each share of stock of any class held by him.

(b) In all elections of directors, each holder of stock of any class shall have the right to vote the votes allocable to the number of shares owned by him for as many persons as there are directors to be elected, or to cumulate such votes and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of votes allocable to his shares shall equal, or to distribute such votes on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall think fit.

(c) In case as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock shall be in arrears (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock), then, and until all arrears of dividends upon the preferred stock shall have been paid and the full dividend on the outstanding preferred stock for the then current semi-annual dividend period shall have been declared and funds set apart for the payment thereof, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(d) At any time while the votes of the preferred stock are increased, ^{as provided} in paragraph (c) of this section 12 or in subparagraph (2) of section 13 of this article, any one or more of the directors, officers, or employees of the Corporation may be removed at any annual or special meeting of shareholders, for or without cause, and their successors elected, by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled.

(13) Other voting rights.---If at any time while the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall hold not less than twenty-five per cent of the total number of shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding---

(b) The amounts paid into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article) in accordance with the requirements of paragraph (c) of section 6 of this article on and after February 1, 1937, shall not have amounted in the aggregate to five per cent of the maximum par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding (whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever) multiplied by the number of calendar years which shall have elapsed since January 1, 1936; or (c) The fair value of the assets of the banking corporation as determined by an examination of the banking corporation by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (which may be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation once in each calendar year if the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall so elect), or as determined by the State Comptroller, shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding; or

(d) The Corporation shall violate or fail to observe any of the terms, provisions, or conditions of its Articles of Incorporation---then after written notice from Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the existence of any of said conditions and so long as any of said conditions in (a), (b), (c) and (d) above shall continue:

(1) All directors, officers, and employees of the Corporation shall receive compensation at rates not exceeding such maximum limitations as may be fixed by the votes of the holders of a majority of the shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(2) In case Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with the approval of the State Comptroller, at any time shall notify the Corporation that any director, officer or employee of the Corporation is regarded by Reconstruction Finance Corporation as unsatisfactory, and in case such director, officer or employee is not removed from office (and, if requested by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, replaced with a director, officer, or employee satisfactory to it) within thirty days after receipt by the Corporation of such notice, then, and until such removal and replacement shall have been effected, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding, shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(3) The Corporation shall not directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire any real estate for its own use, or lease any real estate for its own use for a term longer than one year, without in each case the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, or a written waiver of voting rights in respect thereto by the holders of such majority; provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to real estate acquired under the provisions of sub-divisions 2 and 3 of Section 53 ~~of sub-divisions 2 and 3 of Section 53~~ of Senate Bill 227, Laws of 1934.

(4) The Corporation shall not incur indebtedness maturing more than one year from the creation thereof, without the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, or a written waiver of voting rights with respect thereto by the holders of such majority, but the indebtedness herein referred to shall not construed to include the issuance of circulating notes and the acceptance of time deposits, which may continue to be accepted by the Corporation under such conditions as may be provided by law.

(14) Rights of preferred stock on liquidation.---In the event of any receivership, conservatorship, liquidation, or winding up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, before any payment or other distribution, whether in cash, property, or otherwise shall be made to the holders of common stock, the holders of preferred stock shall be entitled to receive, for each share of each share of such stock held by them, an amount equal to the par value thereof, plus an amount equal to all unpaid dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of payment, but shall not be entitled to any other or further payment; provided, however, that a merger or consolidation in accordance with law and these Articles of Incorporation, shall not be deemed a liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation within the meaning of this section 14.

(a) Officers.---The Board of Directors shall elect one of its members President of the Corporation. The Board may designate a director in lieu of the President to be chairman of the Board, who shall perform such duties as may be designated by the Board. The directors shall have power to elect one or more Vice Presidents, at least one of whom shall also be a member of the Board of Directors, and who shall be authorized, in the absence or inability of the President from any cause, to perform all acts and duties pertaining to the office of president except such as the President only is authorized by law to perform; and to elect or appoint a Cashier, and such other officers and clerks as may be required to transact the business of the Corporation; and subject to the provisions of sub-paragraphs (1) and (2) of section 13 of article _____ hereof, to fix the salaries to be paid to them, and to continue them in office or to dismiss them as in the opinion of a majority of the Board the interests of the Corporation may demand;

(b) Powers of Board of Directors.---The Board of Directors shall have the powers to define the duties of the officers and clerks of the Corporation, to require bonds from them, and to fix the penalty thereof; to regulate the manner in which election of directors shall be held and to appoint judges of the elections; to make all by-laws that it may be proper for them to make, not inconsistent with law and these Articles of Incorporation, for the general regulation of the business of the Corporation and the management of its affairs, and generally to do and perform all acts that it may be legal for a board of directors to do and perform according to law and within the limits of these Articles of Incorporation.

Special meetings of shareholders.---Except as otherwise specifically provided by statute, special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose at any time by the Board of Directors or by the holders of at least ten per cent of the then outstanding shares of any class. Every such special meeting shall be called by mailing, not less than ten days before the time fixed for the meeting, to all shareholders of record entitled to act and vote at such meeting, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice stating the purpose of the meeting. Such notice may be waived in writing.

Resolved Fourth, That each shareholder of record may subscribe within five days from and after the date of this meeting to such issue of preferred stock in proportion to the number of shares of common stock of the Corporation standing on the books of the Corporation in his name; and

Resolved Fifth, That the Board of Directors through its proper officers, at the expiration of the said five days, shall sell the unsubscribed portion of such preferred stock at such price, (not less than the par value thereof) to Reconstruction Finance Corporation and/or to such other person or persons as the Board of Directors may deem advisable.

At a meeting of the share of Commercial Bank, Woodville, Mississippi, held on February 12th, 1935, 5 days' notice of the proposed business having been given by registered mail, all of the foregoing resolutions were adopted by the following vote,---the affirmative vote representing 57.4% of the total number of shares of capital stock outstanding.

Total numberx of shares of capital stock.....	350
Total number of shares represented at the meeting.....	201
Total number of shares voted in favor of the resolution.....	201
Total number of shares voted against the resolution.....	NONE

I hereby certify that this is a true and correct report (a) of the number of days' notice, given by registered mail, of the meeting of shareholders of this bank held on the date above mentioned; (b) of the vote and (c) of the resolutions adopted at said meeting and (d) that a complete list of the shareholders voting therefor and the number of shares voted by each is on file in the bank; (e) that no shares of stock of this bank owned by this bank were voted at said meeting; (f) that no shares of stock held by this bank as sole trustee were voted at said meeting; and (g) that no shares of stock of this bank as co-trustee were voted at said meeting by this bank; and (h) that no director, other officer or employee acted as proxy at said meeting.

RECORD OF CHARTERS 34-35--STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

MISSISSIPPI STATE BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES ISSUING ONE CLASS OF PREFERRED STOCK.

Bank of Yazoo City
(Name of Bank)Yazoo City
(City)Yazoo
(State)

Resolved First, That the capital of this Corporation be increased in the sum of $75,000.00, by the issuance of $75,000.00 of preferred stock under the provisions of Section 52 of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, making the total capital of the Corporation $175,000.00, of which $75,000.00 is preferred and $100,000.00 is common stock.

Resolved Second, That the Articles of Incorporation be amended by striking out Article ____ and inserting in place thereof the following:

"The Board of Directors shall consist of such number of shareholders, not less than five nor more than twenty-five, as from time to time shall be determined by a majority of the votes to which all shareholders are at the time entitled. A majority of the Board of Directors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business."

Resolved Third, That the Articles of Incorporation be further amended by striking out Article ____ and inserting in the place thereof the following:

(1) Amount, Classes, and shares of capital stock. -- The amount of capital stock of the Corporation shall be $175,000.00 divided into classes and shares as follows:

(a) $75,000.00 par value preferred stock (subject to retirement as hereinafter provided) divided into 1,200 shares of the par value of $62.50 each; and (b) $100,000.00 par value of common stock (subject to increase upon retirement of preferred stock as provided in the second paragraph of Section 4 of this Article ____) divided into 2,000 shares of the par value of $50.00 each.

(2) Assessability of stock. -- The holders of preferred stock shall not be held individually responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts, or engagements of the Corporation, and shall not be liable for assessments to restore impairments in the capital of the Corporation.

(3) Dividends on preferred stock. -- The holders of preferred stock, in preference to the holders of common stock, shall be entitled to receive, when and as declared by the Board of Directors, out of net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this article ____) accruing after _____, 193____2 (hereinafter referred to as the "Recapitalization Date"), cash dividends thereon to and including January 31, 1935, at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter to and including January 31, 1940, at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more. Such dividends shall be payable semi-annually on each February 1 and August 1, and shall accrue, as to any given share of such stock, from the date of issuance of such share. Such dividends shall be cumulative, so that if dividends at the full rates required by this section 3 to be paid on the preferred stock shall not have been paid upon or declared and set apart for such preferred stock, the deficiency shall be fully paid or declared and set apart before any dividend or other distribution, whether in cash, property, stock, or otherwise, shall be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock. Dividends on the preferred stock shall be deemed to accrue from day to day.

(4) Dividends on common stock.--Dividends or other distributions whether in cash, property, stock or otherwise, shall, so long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock only out of the net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this article ____) accruing after the Recapitalization Date.

If any retirement of preferred stock would decrease the outstanding capital of the Corporation below the minimum amount required by law, the Board of Directors, prior to or simultaneously with such retirement, shall transfer an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired from reserves set up for the retirement of preferred stock to a special reserve fund for the payment of common stock dividends, and shall declare on the common stock, out of such special reserve fund, a dividend payable in common stock in an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired, and the shares of common stock required for the payment of any such stock dividend shall be issuable without any further vote on the part of the holders of stock of any class or any further approval on the part of the State Comptroller.

(5) Determination of net profits.--For the purpose of this article ____, the net profits or net loss (as distinguished from usage of terms "net profits" and "net loss" in reports required by the State Comptroller of the Corporation shall be determined for each six months' period ending on December 31 or June 30 by deducting from the gross earnings from all sources for such period:

(a) All expenses for such period; (b) All interest accrued during such period; (c) All losses determined during such period, and such charge-offs and write-downs of assets and transfers to reserves (whether from income, undivided profits or surplus) for such period (including all charge-offs, write-downs and transfers to reserves requested by the State Comptroller for such period) as may be reasonably necessary to make proper provision for doubtful assets, depreciation, and undetermined losses, but to the extent only that such losses, determined or undetermined, charge-offs, and write-downs of assets exceed reserves previously set up therefor in such period or any prior period, or available unallocated reserves; (d) Provision for all taxes for such period, including taxes measured by income and taxes based on the ownership of stock in the Corporation paid or payable by the Corporation for the account of its shareholders, without prejudice to such right as the Corporation may have to recover the same; (e) Such transfers for such period to surplus as may be required by law; provided, however, that transfers to earned surplus as required by section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, shall not be deducted from gross earnings in determining net profits available for the dividend and retirement requirements of the preferred stock; and (f) The net loss, if any, determined in accordance with the provisions of this section 5, accruing since the Recapitalization Date, accumulated to and existing at the beginning of such period; provided, however, that no deductions from gross earnings for the six months' period ending _____, 193____3 need be made by reason of any charge-offs or write-downs of assets or transfers to reserves required by the State Comptroller and approved in writing by Reconstruction Finance Corporation made on account of loss incurred prior to or depreciation in assets existing at the Recapitalization Date. All recoveries over net book value on assets previously charged off or written down or against which reserves have been set up, and all transfers from reserves to surplus or undivided profits (other than transfers made to reflect recoveries already treated as gross earnings), shall be considered gross earnings, shall be considered gross earnings for the respective periods during which such recoveries or transfers are effected.

(6) Application of net profits.---As long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, the Corporation, on each February 1 and August 1 (except that, as provided in paragraph (b) hereof, no payments shall be required pursuant to the provisions of such paragraph prior to August 1, 1936), shall apply the net profits of the Corporation for the six months' period ending on the next preceding December 31 or June 30, as the case may be, to the following purposes and in the following order of priority:

(a) To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock accrued to such February 1 or August 1, as the case may be.

(b) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article) on August 1, 1936, of a sum equal to three-quarters of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter, to and including February 1, 1940, of a sum equal to one-quarter of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter of a sum equal to one-half of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding. In the event that the net profits of the Corporation shall on any such February 1 or August 1 be insufficient to permit the payment into such preferred stock retirement fund of the full amount hereinabove provided for, the deficiency shall be fully paid before any net profits of the Corporation shall be thereafter applied to any of the purposes hereinafter specified in this section 6.

(c) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article) of a sum equal to forty per cent of the remainder, if any, of such net profits: Provided, however, That the aggregate amount paid into the preferred stock retirement fund in any one year in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph (c) need not exceed five per cent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding, whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever: Provided, further, however, that unless otherwise elected, from time to time, by the Corporation by action of its Board of Directors, it shall not be required to make such payment into the preferred stock retirement fund required by this paragraph (c) except from such net profits as may have accrued from and after December 31, 1935.

Subject to compliance with the provisions of section 7(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, any balance of net profits for any such period may be applied from time to time to such lawful purposes as may be determined by the Board of Directors, subject, however, to the provisions of section 7 of this article.

(7) Limitations on retirement of stock. -- Except with the approval of the State Comptroller no preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement by the Corporation unless the then unimpaired capital, surplus and undivided profits of the Corporation, and the retirement funds provided for herein (after giving effect to the proceeds of the issuance of any stock issued to provide funds for such retirement) exceed $244,000.00 by an amount at least equal to the sum necessary to effect such retirement. No shares of preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement unless all accrued dividends (whether or not earned or declared) to the dividend payment date next preceding the date of such retirement shall have been paid on all shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(8) Retirement of preferred stock by purchase.--- Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article, whenever the balance in the preferred stock retirement fund shall amount to as much as $1,500.00, the Corporation shall (unless the Board of Directors shall elect to use the entire amount of such balance in the preferred stock retirement fund for the retirement of preferred stock by call as provided in section 9 hereof) within ten days thereafter, mail, first class postage prepaid, to all holders of record of preferred stock at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice specifying the balance in such fund and stating that the same is available for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock at the lowest prices (not in excess of the par value thereof and accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, to the date of purchase) offered within twenty days after the date of such notice. At the expiration of such twenty days, the Corporation shall apply such balance to the purchase for retirement of preferred stock, if obtainable, in accordance with the terms of such notice. Within ten days after such expiration, subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article, the Corporation shall call for retirement, in the manner provided in section 9 hereof, the largest number of shares of preferred stock which can be retired from the balance in such retirement fund remaining after deducting the amount paid or to be paid for such purchase for retirement of preferred stock as aforesaid, and shall set aside from such retirement fund the sum necessary to effect such retirement, but the minimum capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law. Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article, at any time and from time to time the Corporation may make such lawful transfers from its surplus and/or undivided profits to the preferred stock retirement fund as the Board of Directors may determine. All shares of preferred stock purchased for retirement by the Corporation, whether from the retirement fund or otherwise, shall be cancelled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(9) Retirement of preferred stock by call. -- Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article, the Corporation may at any time, at its election as expressed by resolution of the Board of Directors, retire the outstanding preferred stock as a whole, or from time to time in part, pro rata, or by lot in such equitable manner to carry out the purpose of this section 9 as the Board of Directors of the Corporation in its discretion shall from time to time determine, (and provided always that the capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law) by paying for each share to be retired a retirement price equal to the par value thereof plus all accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of such retirement.

At least thirty days prior written notice of every such retirement, stating the retirement date and the retirement price, and the place of payment thereof, shall be mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to the holder of record of each share to be retired, at the address of such holder as shown on the books of the Corporation. Such notice having been so mailed, each holder of shares so called for retirement shall be entitled to receive payment of the retirement price of such shares (without interest) upon surrender to the Corporation, on or after the retirement date, at the place designated in such notice, of the certificate or certificates therefor in transferable form and, if required, properly stamped for transfer. In case less than all the shares represented by any such certificate are retired, a new certificate shall be issued representing the unretired shares. From and after the retirement date (unless the Corporation shall default in payment of the retirement price), all dividends on shares called for retirement shall cease to accrue, such shares shall be deemed to be no longer outstanding, and all rights of the holders thereof as shareholders of the Corporation, except the right to receive the retirement price, shall terminate. All shares so retired shall be canceled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(10) Increase or decrease of capital stock; Amendments of Articles of Incorporation, etc. -- By the affirmative vote of the holders, voting by classes, of at least two-thirds of the shares of each class of stock at the time outstanding, and not otherwise, and subject to such approval by the State Comptroller and such other conditions as at the time may be required by law --

3. Insert June 30 or December 31 next succeeding the Recapitalization Date.

4. This figure, representing approximately the unimpaired capital structure of the Corporation after giving effect to the issue of the preferred stock, will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation prior to the purchase of the preferred stock.

5. This figure will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

(a) The capital stock of the Corporation may be increased at any time and from time to time through issuing additional shares of preferred stock and/or common stock, and/or through the creation of one or more additional classes of stock; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of preferred stock shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock if the entire proceeds of such issue are to be used for the retirement of shares of preferred stock; and provided further, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock as a stock dividend, pursuant to the second paragraph of section 4 of this article _____ in connection with the retirement of shares of preferred stock;

(b) The capital stock of the Corporation may be decreased at any time and from time to time to any amount not below the amount at the time required by law; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to the retirement of preferred stock;

(c) The name of the Corporation and/or the place where its operations of discount and deposit are to be carried on may be changed, but this clause shall not be construed to abridge the powers of the Board of Directors under applicable law with reference to the establishment or change of location or closing of branches;

(d) These Articles of Incorporation may be amended at any time and from time to time in any other respect, but not so as to change the respective voting rights of the preferred stock and common stock so long as any of the preferred stock remains outstanding;

(e) The Corporation may be consolidated or merged into or with any other bank, or may acquire all or substantially all of the assets and business of any banking corporation or trust company;

(f) All or substantially all of the assets and business of the Corporation may be sold or otherwise disposed of;

(g) The Corporation may go into voluntary liquidation; and

(h) Any plan of reorganization of the Corporation may be carried into effect -- Provided, however, that if and as long as the voting rights of the preferred stock are increased in accordance with the provisions of section 12 and 13 of this Article _____ and the fair value of the assets of the Corporation as determined by the State Comptroller shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding, any of the actions specified in the foregoing paragraphs (a) to (h) inclusive, of this section 10 may be taken by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled, and not otherwise, except that the Corporation may not be put into voluntary liquidation without the approval of the State Comptroller.

(11) Preemptive rights. -- In case of any increase in the capital stock of the Corporation of any class other than by way of a stock dividend, the new shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all shares of stock of that class at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of shares of such stock of that class held by them respectively, by mailing, first-class postage prepaid, to such holders, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, transferable subscription warrants exercisable at any time on or before thirty days from the date of such mailing. If at the expiration of such subscription rights, any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all other shares of stock of all other classes at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of such shares held by them respectively, and notice shall be given as above provided. If at the expiration of both such subscription rights any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such unsubscribed new shares may be issued and sold at such price, not less than the par value thereof, to such persons and on such terms as the Board of Directors may determine.

(12) Voting rights. -- (a) Except as otherwise provided in sections 10 and 13 of this article _____ and in section 12, each holder of stock of any class shall be entitled to vote on all matters one vote for each share of stock of any class held by him.

(b) In all elections of directors, each holder of stock of any class shall have the right to vote the votes allocable to the number of shares owned by him for as many persons as there are directors to be elected, or to cumulate such votes and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of votes allocable to his shares shall equal, or to distribute such votes on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall think fit.

(c) In case as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock shall be in arrears (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock), then, and until all arrears of dividends upon the preferred stock shall have been paid and the full dividend on the outstanding preferred stock for the then current semi-annual dividend period shall have been declared and funds set apart for the payment thereof, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(d) At any time while the votes of the preferred stock are increased as provided in paragraph (c) of this section 12 or in sub-paragraph (2) of section 13 of this article _____, any one or more of the directors, officers, or employees of the Corporation may be removed at any annual or special meeting of shareholders, for or without cause, and their successors elected, by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled.

(13) Other voting rights. -- If at any time while the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall hold not less than twenty-five per cent of the total number of shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding -- (a) The Corporation shall be in arrears in the payment of as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock); or (b) The amounts paid into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article _____) in accordance with the requirements of paragraph (c) of section 6 of this article _____ on and after February 1, 1937, shall not have amounted in the aggregate to five per cent of the maximum par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding (whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever) multiplied by the number of calendar years which shall have elapsed since January 1, 1936; or (c) The fair value of the assets of the banking corporation as determined by an examination of the banking corporation by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (which may be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation once in each calendar year if the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall so elect), or as determined by the State Comptroller, shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding; or (d) The Corporation shall violate or fail to observe any of the terms, provisions, or conditions of its Articles of Incorporation -- then after written notice from Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the existence of any of said conditions and so long as any of said conditions in (a), (b), (c) and (d) above shall continue:

(1) All directors, officers, and employees of the Corporation shall receive compensation at rates not exceeding such maximum limitations as may be fixed by the vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(2) In case Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with the approval of the State Comptroller, at any time shall notify the Corporation that any director, officer or employee of the Corporation is regarded by Reconstruction Finance Corporation as unsatisfactory, and in case such director, officer, or employee is not removed from office (and, if requested by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, replaced with a director, officer, or employee satisfactory to it) within thirty days after receipt by the Corporation of such notice, then, and until such removal and replacement shall have been effected, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(3) The Corporation shall not directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire any real estate for its own use, or lease any real estate for its own use for a term longer than one year, without in each case the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, or a written waiver of voting rights in respect thereto by the holders of such majority; provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to real estate acquired under the provisions of sub-divisions 2 and 3 of Section 53 of Senate Bill 227, Laws of 1934.

(4) The Corporation shall not incur indebtedness maturing more than one year from the creation thereof, without the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding or a written waiver of voting rights with respect thereto by the holders of such majority, but the indebtedness herein referred to shall not be construed to include the issuance of circulating notes and the acceptance of time deposits, which may continue to be accepted by the Corporation under such conditions as may be provided by law.

(14) Rights of preferred stock on liquidation. -- In the event of any receivership, conservatorship, liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, before any payment or other distribution, whether in cash, property, or otherwise shall be made to the holders of common stock, the holders of preferred stock shall be entitled to receive, for each share of such stock held by them, an amount equal to the par value thereof, plus an amount equal to all unpaid dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of payment, but shall not be entitled to any other or further payment; provided, however, that a merger or consolidation in accordance with law and these Articles of Incorporation, shall not be deemed a liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation within the meaning of this section 14.

(a) Officers. -- The Board of Directors shall elect one of its members President of the Corporation. The Board may designate a director in lieu of the President to be Chairman of the Board, who shall perform such duties as may be designated by the Board. The directors shall have power to elect one or more Vice Presidents, at least one of whom shall also be a member of the Board of Directors, and who shall be authorized, in the absence of inability of the President from any cause, to perform all acts and duties pertaining to the office of president except such as the President only is authorized by law to perform; and to elect or appoint a Cashier, and such other officers and clerks as may be required to transact the business of the Corporation; and subject to the provisions of sub-paragraphs (1) and (2) of section (13) of article V hereof, to fix the salaries to be paid to them, and to continue them in office or to dismiss them as in the opinion of a majority of the Board the interests of the Corporation may demand;

(b) Powers of Board of Directors. -- The Board of Directors shall have the power to define the duties of the officers and clerks of the Corporation, to require bonds from them, and to fix the penalty thereof; to regulate the manner in which election of directors shall be held and to appoint judges of the elections; to make all by-laws that it may be proper for them to make, not inconsistent with law and these Articles of Incorporation, for the general regulation of the business of the Corporation and the management of its affairs, and generally to do and perform all acts that it may be legal for a board of directors to do and perform according to law and within the limits of these Articles of Incorporation.

Special meetings of shareholders. -- Except as otherwise specifically provided by statute, special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose at any time by the Board of Directors or by the holders of at least ten per cent of the then outstanding shares of any class. Every such special meeting shall be called by mailing, not less than ten days before the time fixed for the meeting, to all shareholders of record entitled to act and vote at such meeting, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice stating the purpose of the meeting. Such notice may be waived in writing.

RESOLVED FOURTH, That each shareholder of record may subscribe within five days from and after the date of this meeting to such issue of preferred stock in proportion to the number of shares of common stock of the Corporation standing on the books of the Corporation in his name; and

RESOLVED FIFTH, That the Board of Directors through its proper officers, at the expiration of the said five days, shall sell the unsubscribed portion of such preferred stock at such price (not less than the par value thereof) to Reconstruction Finance Corporation and/or to such other person or persons as the Board of Directors may deem advisable.

Amendment to Articles of Association and Incorporation of

Stone County Farm Bureau (A.A.L.)

For the purpose of changing the name

STONE COUNTY COOPERATIVE (A. A. L.)

Section 2 of the said Articles of Association and Incorporation as now existing is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Section 2. The name of the organization shall be Stone County Cooperative (A.A.L.)"

In testimony of the adoption of the foregoing amendment to the Articles of Association and incorporation of this Association, now to be known as Stone County Cooperative (A.A.L.), witness the signatures of two executive officers thereof, in duplicate, under authority given them by a majority of the members thereof in accordance with law, and of the by-laws, on this 23 day of Feb. 1935.

H. V. Redfield, President.

C. P. Wiggins, Secretary.

State of Mississippi,
County of Stone.

Before me, the undersigned Notary Public in and for said county, personally came and appeared H. V. Redfield and C. P. Wiggins, who then and there acknowledged and on oath stated that they are respectively President and Secretary of Stone County Cooperative (A.A.L.) and executive officers thereof, and that acting for said Association and under specific authority conferred on them by a majority of the members thereof, they have executed and delivered the foregoing Amendment of the Articles of Association and Incorporation of said Association, particularly amending Section 2 thereof, on the date therein stated.

In testimony whereof, witness my signature and seal of office, this 23 day of Feb. 1935.

(SEAL)

Hohn N. Dale, Notary Public
Circuit Clerk.

State of Mississippi,
Office of
Secretary of State,

BANK OF WESSON

WESSON
(City)

COPIAH
(County)

MISSISSIPPI
(State)

RESOLVED, FIRST, that the capital of this Corporation be increased in the sum of $ 30,000.00 by the issuance of $ 30,000.00 of preferred stock under the provisions of Section 52 of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, making the total capital of the Corporation $ 60,000.00, of which $ 30,000.00 is preferred and $ 30,000.00 is common stock.

RESOLVED, SECOND, that the Articles of Incorporation be amended by striking out Article Three and inserting in place thereof the following:

"The Board of Directors shall consist of such number of shareholders, not less than five nor more than twenty-five, as from time to time shall be determined by a majority of the votes to which all shareholders are at the time entitled. A majority of the Board of Directors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business."

RESOLVED, THIRD, that the Articles of Incorporation be further amended by striking out Articles Three and inserting in the place thereof the following:

(1) Amount, classes, and shares of capital stock.—The amount of capital stock of the Corporation shall be $ 60,000.00 divided into classes and shares as follows:

(a) $ 30,000.00 par value of preferred stock (subject to retirement as hereinafter provided) divided into 375 shares of the par value of $ 80.00 (1) each; and

(1) The per share par value of the preferred stock will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

(b) $ 30,000.00 par value of common stock (subject to increase upon retirement of preferred stock as provided in the second and third paragraphs of section 4 of this Article Three) divided into 300 shares of the par value of $ 100.00 each.

(2) Assessability of stock.—The holders of preferred stock shall not be held individually responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts, or engagements of the Corporation, and shall not be liable for assessments to restore impairments in the capital of the Corporation.

(3) Dividends on preferred stock.—The holders of preferred stock, in preference to the holders of common stock, shall be entitled to receive, when and as declared by the Board of Directors, out of net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this Article Three) accruing after Jan. 25, 1935 (2), (hereinafter referred to as the "Recapitalization Date"), cash dividends thereon to and including March 31, 1935, at the rate of four percent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter at the rate of five percent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more. Such dividends shall be payable semi-annually on each February 1 and August 1, and shall accrue, as to any given share of such stock, from the date of issuance of such share; provided, however, that, in the case of any share of such stock issued after Aug. 1st, 1935 (3), such dividends shall accrue on such share from the February 1 or August 1, as the case may be, next preceding the date of issuance thereof. Such dividends shall be cumulative so that if dividends at the full rate required by this section 3 to be paid on the preferred stock shall not have been paid upon or declared and set apart for such preferred stock, the deficiency shall be fully paid or declared and set apart before any dividend or other distribution, whether in cash, property, stock, or otherwise, shall be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock. Dividends on the preferred stock shall be deemed to accrue from day to day.

(4) Dividends on common stock.—Dividends or other distributions, whether in cash, property, stock or otherwise, shall, so long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, be declared, ordered, set apart, paid or made in respect of the common stock only out of the net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this Article Three) accruing after the Recapitalization Date.

If any call or purchase for retirement of preferred stock pursuant to the provisions of sections 8 or 9 of this Article Three would reduce the outstanding capital of the Corporation below the minimum amount at the time required by law, the Board of Directors, prior to or simultaneously with such retirement, shall declare on the common stock out of net profits of the Corporation accruing after the Recapitalization Date, a dividend in an amount equal to the sum required to maintain the capital of the Corporation at such minimum amount after giving effect to such retirement, such dividend to be payable in shares of common stock which shall be issued (without any action on the part of the holders of stock of any class or on the part of the Superintendent of Banks) pro rata to the holders of common stock.

(2) Insert date on which Articles of Incorporation amended by shareholders.

(3) Insert the February 1 or August 1 next succeeding the proposed date of purchase of preferred stock.

(5) Determination of net profits.—For the purpose of this Article Three, the net profits or net loss (as distinguished from usage of term "net profits" and "net loss" in reports required by the Superintendent of Banks) of the Corporation shall be determined for each six months' period ending on December 31 or June 30 by deducting from the gross earnings from all sources for such period:

(a) All expenses for such period;

(b) All interest accrued during such period;

(c) All losses determined during such period, and such charge-offs and write-downs of assets and transfers to reserves (whether from income, undivided profits or surplus) for such period (including all charge-offs, write-downs and transfers to reserves requested by the Superintendent of Banks for such period) as may be reasonably necessary to make proper provision for doubtful assets, depreciation, and undetermined losses, but to the extent only that such losses, determined or undetermined, charge-offs, and write-downs of assets exceed reserves previously set up therefor in such period or any prior period, or available unallocated reserves;

(d) Provision for all taxes for such period, including taxes measured by income and taxes based on the ownership of stock in the Corporation paid or payable by the Corporation for the account of its shareholders, without prejudice to such right as the Corporation may have to recover the same;

(e) Such transfers for such period to surplus as may be required by law; provided, however, that transfers to earned surplus as required by section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, shall not be deducted from gross earnings in determining net profits available for the dividend and retirement requirements of the preferred stock; and

(f) The net loss, if any, determined in accordance with the provisions of this section 5, accrued since the Recapitalization Date, accumulated to and existing at the beginning of such period; provided, however, that no deductions from gross earnings for the six months' period ending June 30, 1935 (4), shall be required by reason of any charge-offs or write-downs of assets or transfers to reserves made during said period on account of losses sustained on or prior to the Recapitalization Date.

All recoveries over net book value on assets previously charged off or written down or against which reserves have been set up, and all transfers from reserves to surplus or undivided profits (other than transfers made to reflect recoveries already treated as gross earnings) shall be considered gross earnings for the respective periods during which such recoveries or transfers are effected.

(6) Application of net profits.—As long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding the Corporation, on each February 1 and August 1, shall apply the net profits of the Corporation for the six months' period ending on the next preceding December 31 and June 30, as the case may be, to the following purposes and in the following order of priority:

(a) To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock accrued to such February 1 or August 1, as the case may be;

(4) Insert June 30 or December 31 next succeeding the Recapitalization Date.

(b) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this Article Three) of a sum equal to forty per cent of the remainder, if any, of such net profits; provided, however, that the aggregate amount paid into the preferred stock retirement fund in any one year need not exceed five per cent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding, whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever; provided, further, however, that unless otherwise elected, from time to time, by the Corporation by action of its Board of Directors, it shall not be required to make such payment into the preferred stock retirement fund except from such net profits as may have accrued from and after December 31, 1935;

Subject to compliance with the provisions of Section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, any balance of net profits for any such period may be applied from time to time to such lawful purposes as may be determined by the Board of Directors, subject, however, to the provisions of section 7 of this Article Three.

(7) Limitations on retirement of stock.—Except with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks no preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement by the Corporation unless the then unimpaired capital, surplus and undivided profits of the Corporation, and the retirement funds provided for herein (after giving effect to the proceeds of the issuance of any stock issued to provide funds for such retirement) exceed $ 60,000.00 (5) by an amount at least equal to the sum necessary to effect such retirement. No shares of preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement unless all accrued dividends (whether or not earned or declared) to the dividend payment date next preceding the date of such retirement shall have been paid on all shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(8) Retirement of preferred stock by purchase.—Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article Three, whenever the balance in the preferred stock retirement fund shall amount to as much as $ 1,000.00 (6), the Corporation shall (unless the Board of Directors shall elect to use the entire amount of such balance in the preferred stock retirement fund for the retirement of preferred stock by call as provided in section 9 hereof) within ten days thereafter mail, first-class postage prepaid, to all holders of record of preferred stock at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice specifying the balance in such fund and stating that the same is available for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock at the lowest prices (not in excess of the par value thereof and accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, to the date of purchase) offered within twenty days after the date of such notice. At the expiration of such twenty days, the Corporation shall apply such balance to the purchase for retirement of preferred stock, if obtainable, in accordance with the terms of such notice. Within ten days after such expiration, subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article Three, the Corporation shall call for retirement, in the manner provided in section 9 hereof, the largest number of shares of preferred stock which can be retired from the balance in such retirement fund remaining after deducting the amount paid or to be paid for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock as aforesaid, and shall set aside from such retirement fund the sum necessary to effect such retirement, but the minimum capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law.

(5) This figure, representing approximately the unimpaired capital structure of the Corporation after giving effect to the issue of the preferred stock, will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation prior to the purchase of the preferred stock.

(6) This figure will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article Three, at any time and from time to time the Corporation may make such lawful transfers from its surplus and/or undivided profits to the preferred stock retirement fund as the Board of Directors may determine. All shares of preferred stock purchased for retirement by the Corporation, whether from the retirement fund or otherwise, shall be cancelled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(9) Retirement of preferred stock by call.—Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article Three, the Corporation may at any time, at its election as expressed by resolution of the Board of Directors, retire the outstanding preferred stock as a whole, or from time to time in part, pro rata, or by lot in such equitable manner to carry out the purpose of this section 9 as the Board of Directors of the Corporation in its discretion shall from time to time determine, and provided always that the capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount required by law, by paying for each share to be retired a retirement price equal to the par value thereof plus all accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of such retirement. At least thirty days prior written notice of every such retirement, stating the retirement date and the retirement price, and the place of payment thereof, shall be mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to the holder of record of each share to be retired, at the address of such holder as shown on the books of the Corporation. Such notice having been so mailed, each holder of shares so called for retirement shall be entitled to receive payment of the retirement price of such shares (without interest) upon surrender to the Corporation, on or after the retirement date, at the place designated in such notice, of the certificate or certificates therefor in transferable form and, if required, properly stamped for transfer. In case less than all of the shares represented by any such certificate are retired, a new certificate shall be issued representing the unretired shares. From and after the retirement date (unless the Corporation shall default in payment of the retirement price), all dividends on shares called for retirement shall cease to accrue, such shares shall be deemed to be no longer outstanding, and all rights of the holders thereof as shareholders of the Corporation, except the right to receive the retirement price, shall terminate. All shares so retired shall be cancelled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(10) Increase or decrease of capital stock; Amendments of Articles of Incorporation, etc.—By the affirmative vote of the holders, voting by classes, of at least two-thirds of the shares of each class of stock at the time outstanding, and not otherwise, and subject to such approval by the Superintendent of Banks and such other conditions as at the time may be required by law—

(a) The capital stock of the Corporation may be increased at any time and from time to time through issuing additional shares of preferred stock and/or common stock, and/or through the creation of one or more additional classes of stock; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of preferred stock shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock if the entire proceeds of such issue are to be used for the retirement of shares of preferred stock; and provided further, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock as a stock

dividend, pursuant to the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article Three in connection with the retirement of shares of preferred stock;

(b) The capital stock of the Corporation may be decreased at any time and from time to time to any amount not below the amount at the time required by law; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to the retirement of preferred stock;

(c) The name of the Corporation and/or the place where its operations of discount and deposit are to be carried on may be changed, but this clause shall not be construed to abridge the powers of the Board of Directors under applicable law with reference to the establishment or change of location or closing of branches;

(d) These Articles of Incorporation may be amended at any time and from time to time in any other respect, but not so as to change the respective voting rights of the preferred stock and common stock so long as any of the preferred stock remains outstanding;

(e) The Corporation may be consolidated or merged into or with any other bank;

RECORD OF CHARTERS 34-35---STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

(d) All or substantially all of the assets and business of the Corporation may be sold or otherwise disposed of;
 (e) The Corporation may go into voluntary liquidation; and
 (f) Any plan or reorganization of the Corporation may be carried into effect—
 Provided, however, that if and as long as the voting rights of the preferred stock are increased in accordance with the provisions of sections 12 or 13 of this Article, and the fair value of the assets of the Corporation as determined by the Superintendent of Banks shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding, any of the actions specified in the foregoing paragraphs (a) to (f) inclusive, of this section 10 may be taken by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled, and not otherwise, except that the Corporation may not be put into voluntary liquidation without the approval of the Superintendent of Banks.

(11) Presumptive rights.—In case of any increase in the capital stock of the Corporation of any class other than by way of a stock dividend, the new shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all shares of stock of that class at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of shares of such stock of that class held by them respectively, by mailing, first-class postage prepaid, to such holders, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, transferable subscription warrants exercisable at any time on or before thirty days from the date of such mailing. If at the expiration of such subscription rights, any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all other shares of stock of all other classes at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of such shares held by them respectively, and notice shall be given as above provided. If at the expiration of both of such subscription rights any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such unsubscribed new shares may be issued and sold at such price, not less than the par value thereof, to such persons and on such terms as the Board of Directors may determine.

(12) Voting rights.—(a) Except as otherwise provided in sections 10 and 13 of this Article Three and in this section 12, each holder of stock of any class shall be entitled to vote on all matters one vote for each share of stock of any class held by him.

(b) In all elections of directors, each holder of stock of any class shall have the right to vote the votes allocable to the number of shares owned by him for as many persons as there are directors to be elected, or to cumulate such votes and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of votes allocable to his shares shall equal, or to distribute such votes on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall think fit.

(c) In case as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock shall be in arrears (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock), then, and until all arrears of dividends upon the preferred stock shall have been paid and the full dividend on the outstanding preferred stock for the then current semi-annual dividend period shall have been declared and funds set apart for the payment thereof, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(d) At any time while the votes of the preferred stock are increased as provided in paragraph (c) of this section 12 or in sub-paragraph (2) of section 13 of this Article Three, any one or more of the directors, officers, or employees of the Corporation, may be removed at any annual or special meeting of shareholders, for or without cause, and their successors elected, by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled.

(13) Other voting rights.—If at any time while the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall hold not less than twenty-five per cent of the total number of shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding—

(a) The Corporation shall be in arrears in the payment of as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock); or

(b) The amounts paid into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this Article Three) on and after February 1, 1937, shall not have amounted in the aggregate to five per cent of the maximum par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding (whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever) multiplied by the number of calendar years which shall have elapsed since January 1, 1936; or

(c) The fair value of the assets of the banking corporation as determined by an examination of the banking corporation by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (which may be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation once in each calendar year if the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall so elect), or as determined by the Superintendent of Banks, shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding; or

(d) The Corporation shall violate or fail to observe any of the terms, provisions, or conditions of its Articles of Incorporation—
 then after written notice from Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the existence of any of said conditions and so long as any of said conditions in (a), (b), (c) and (d) above shall continue:

(1) All directors, officers, and employees of the Corporation shall receive compensation at rates not exceeding such maximum limitations as may be fixed by the vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(2) In case Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks, at any time shall notify the Corporation that any director, officer or employee of the Corporation is regarded by Reconstruction Finance Corporation as unsatisfactory, and in case such director, officer, or employee is not removed from office (and, if requested by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, replaced with a director, officer, or employee, satisfactory to it) within thirty days after receipt by the Corporation of such notice, then and until such removal and replacement shall have been effected, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(3) The Corporation shall not directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire any real estate for its own use, or lease any real estate for its own use for a term longer than one year, without in each case the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, or a written waiver of voting rights in respect thereto by the holders of such majority; provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to real estate acquired under the provisions of subdivisions 2 and 3 of Section 53 of Senate Bill 227, Laws of 1934.

(4) The Corporation shall not incur indebtedness maturing more than one year from the creation thereof, without the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding or a written waiver of voting rights with respect thereto by the holders of such majority, but the indebtedness herein referred to shall not be construed to include the issuance of circulating notes and the acceptance of time deposits, which may continue to be accepted by the Corporation, under such conditions as may be provided by law.

(14) Rights of preferred stock on liquidation.—In the event of any receivership, conservatorship, liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, before any payment or other distribution, whether in cash, property, or otherwise shall be made to the holders of common stock, the holders of preferred stock shall be entitled to receive, for each share of such stock held by them, an amount equal to the par value thereof, plus an amount equal to all unpaid dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of payment, but shall not be entitled to any other or further payment; provided, however, that a merger or consolidation in accordance with law and these Articles of Incorporation, shall not be deemed a liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation within the meaning of this section 14.

(15) Officers.—The Board of Directors shall elect one of its members President of the Corporation. The Board may designate a director in lieu of the President to be Chairman of the Board, who shall perform such duties as may be designated by the Board. The directors shall have power to elect one or more Vice-Presidents, at least one of whom shall also be a member of the Board of Directors, and who shall be authorized, in the absence or inability of the President from any cause, to perform all acts and duties pertaining to the office of president except such as the President only is authorized by law to perform; and to elect or appoint a Cashier, and such other officers and clerks as may be required to transact the business of the Corporation; and, subject to the provisions of sub-paragraphs (1) and (2) of section 13 of Article Three hereof, to fix the salaries to be paid to them, and to continue them in office or to dismiss them as in the opinion of a majority of the Board the interests of the Corporation may demand.

(16) Powers of Board of Directors.—The Board of Directors shall have the power to define the duties of the officers and clerks of the Corporation, to require bonds from them, and to fix the penalty thereof; to regulate the manner in which election of directors shall be held and to appoint judges of the elections; to make all by-laws that it may be proper for them to make, not inconsistent with law and these Articles of Incorporation, for the general regulation of the business of the Corporation and the management of its affairs, and generally to do and perform all acts that it may be legal for a board of directors to do and perform according to law and within the limits of these Articles of Incorporation.

Special meetings of shareholders.—Except as otherwise specifically provided by statute, special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose at any time by the Board of Directors or by the holders of at least ten per cent of the then outstanding shares of any class. Every such special meeting shall be called by mailing, not less than ten days before the time fixed for the meeting, to all shareholders of record entitled to act and vote at such meeting, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice stating the purpose of the meeting. Such notice may be waived in writing.

RESOLVED, FOURTH, that each shareholder of record may subscribe within five days from and after the date of this meeting to such issue of preferred stock in proportion to the number of shares of common stock of the Corporation standing on the books of the Corporation in his name; and

RESOLVED, FIFTH, that the Board of Directors through its proper officers, at the expiration of the said five days, shall sell the unsubscribed portion of such preferred stock at such price (not less than the par value thereof) to Reconstruction Finance Corporation and/or to such other person or persons as the Board of Directors may deem advisable.

RECORDED February 26th, 1935

Suggested Form of Amendments to Articles of Incorporation for Continuing Mississippi State Banks and Trust Companies issuing One Class of Preferred Stock.

Proposed Amendments to Articles of Incorporation of

THE CITIZENS SAVINGS BANK OF MAGNOLIA, MISSISSIPPI
Magnolia, Pike Mississippi
(City) (County) (State)

Resolved First, That the capital of this Corporation be increased in the sum of $20,000.00 by the issuance of $20,000.00 of preferred stock under the provisions of Section 52 of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, making the total capital of the Corporation $35,000.00, of which $20,000.00 is preferred and $15,000.00 is common stock.

Resolved Second, That the Articles of Incorporation be amended by striking out Article _____ and inserting in place thereof the following:

"The Board of Directors shall consist of such number of shareholders, not less than five nor more than twenty-five, as from time to time shall be determined by a majority of the votes to which all shareholders are at the time entitled. A majority of the Board of Directors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business."

Resolved Third, That the Articles of Incorporation be further amended by striking out Articles _____ and inserting in the place thereof the following:

(1) Amount, classes, and shares of capital stock.---The amount of capital stock of the Corporation shall be $35,000.00 divided into classes and shares as follows:

(a) $20,000.00 par value of preferred stock (subject to retirement as hereinafter provided) divided into 320 shares of the par value of $62.50 (1) each; and

(b) $15,000.00 par value of common stock (subject to increase upon retirement of preferred stock as provided in the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article _____) divided into 150 shares of the par value of $100.00 each.

(2) Assessability of stock.---The holders of preferred stock shall not be held individually responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts, or engagements of the Corporation, and shall not be liable for assessments to restore impairments in the capital of the Corporation.

(3) Dividends on preferred stock.---The holders of preferred stock, in preference to the holders of common stock, shall be entitled to receive, when and as declared by the Board of Directors, out of net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this article _____) accruing after _____, 193____ (2) (hereinafter referred to as the "Recapitalization Date"), cash dividends thereon to and including January 31, 1935, at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter to and including January 31, 1940, at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more. Such dividends shall be payable semi-annually on each February 1 and August 1, and shall accrue, as to any given share of such stock, from the date of issuance of such share. Such dividends shall be cumulative, so that if dividends at the full rates required by this section 3 to be paid on the preferred stock shall not have been paid upon or declared and set apart for such preferred stock, the deficiency shall be fully paid or declared and set apart before any dividend or other distribution, whether in cash, property, stock, or otherwise, shall be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock. Dividends on the preferred stock shall be deemed to accrue from day to day.

(4) Dividends on common stock.---Dividends or other distributions whether in cash, property, stock or otherwise, shall, so long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock only out of the net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this article _____) accruing after the Recapitalization Date.

If any retirement of preferred stock would decrease the outstanding capital of the Corporation below the minimum amount required by law, the Board of Directors, prior to or simultaneously with such retirement, shall transfer an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired from reserves set up for the retirement of preferred stock to a special reserve fund for the payment of common stock, in an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired, and the shares of common stock required for the payment of any such stock dividend shall be issuable without any further vote on the part of the holders of stock of any class or any further approval on the part of the State Comptroller.

(5) Determination of net profits.---For the purpose of this article _____, the net profits or net loss (as distinguished from usage of terms "net profits" and "net loss" in reports required by the State Comptroller of the Corporation shall be determined for each six months' period ending on December 31 or June 30 by deducting from the gross earnings from all sources for such period:

(a) All expenses for such period; (b) All interest accrued during such period; (c) All losses determined during such period, and such charge-offs and write-downs of assets and transfers to reserves (whether from income, undivided profits or surplus) for such period (including all charge-offs, write-downs and transfers to reserves requested by the State Comptroller for such period) as may be reasonably necessary to make proper provisions for doubtful assets, depreciation, and undetermined losses, but to the extent only that such losses, determined or undetermined, charge-offs, and write-downs of assets exceed reserves previously set up therefor in such period or any prior period, or available unallocated reserves; (d) Provision for all taxes for such period, including taxes measured by income and taxes based on the ownership of stock in the Corporation paid or payable by the Corporation for the account of its shareholders, without prejudice to such right as the Corporation may have to recover the same; (e) Such transfers for such period to surplus as may be required by law; provided, however, that transfers to earned surplus as required by section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, shall not be deducted from gross earnings in determining net profits available for the dividend and retirement requirements of the preferred stock; and &

(1) The per share par value of the preferred stock will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation. (2) Insert date on which Articles of Incorporation amended by shareholders.

(f) The net loss, if any, determined in accordance with the provisions of this section 5, accrued since the Recapitalization Date, accumulated to and existing at the beginning of such period; provided, however, that no deductions from gross earnings for the six month' period ending 193____, (3) need be made by reason of any charge-offs or write-downs of assets or transfers to reserves required by the State Comptroller and approved in writing by Reconstruction Finance Corporation made on account of loss incurred prior to or depreciation in assets existing at the Recapitalization Date.

All recoveries over net book value ^{ON ASSETS} previously charged off or written down or against which reserves have been set up, and all transfers from reserves to surplus or undivided profits (other than transfers made to reflect recoveries already ~~made~~ treated as gross earnings), shall be considered gross earnings for the respective periods during which such recoveries or transfers are effected.

(6) Application of net profits.---As long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, the Corporation, on each February 1 and August 1 (except that, as provided in paragraph (b) hereof, no payments shall be required pursuant to the provisions of such paragraph prior to August 1, 1936), shall apply the net profits of the Corporation for the six months' period ending on the next preceding December 31 or June 30, as the case may be, to the following purposes and in the following order of priority:

(a) To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock accrued to such February 1 or August 1, as the case may be.

(b) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article) on August 1, 1936, of a sum equal to three-quarters of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter, to and including February 1, 1940, of a sum equal to one-quarter of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 or August 1 thereafter of a sum equal to one-half of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding. In the event that the net profits of the Corporation shall on any such February 1 or August 1 be insufficient to permit of the payment into such preferred stock retirement fund of the full amount hereinabove provided for, the deficiency shall be fully paid before any net profits of the Corporation shall be thereafter applied to any of the purposes hereinafter specified in this section 8.

(c) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article) of a sum equal to forty per cent of the remainder, if any, of such net profits: Provided, however, That the aggregate amount paid into the preferred stock retirement fund in any one year in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph (c) need not exceed five per cent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding, whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever; Provided, further, however, That unless otherwise elected, from time to time, by the Corporation by action of its Board of Directors, it shall not be required to make such payment into the preferred stock retirement fund required by this paragraph (c) except from such net profits as may have accrued from and after December 31, 1935.

Subject to compliance with the provisions of section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, any balance of net profits for any such period may be applied from time to time to such lawful purposes as may be determined by the Board of Directors, subject, however, to the provisions of section 7 of this article.

(7) Limitations on retirement of stock.---Except with the approval of the State Comptroller, no preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement by the Corporation unless the then unimpaired capital, surplus and undivided profits of the Corporation, and the retirement funds provided for herein (after giving effect to the proceeds of the issuance of any stock issued to provide funds for such retirement) exceed $35,000.00, (4) by an amount at least equal to the sum necessary to effect such retirement. No shares of preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement unless all accrued dividends (whether or not earned or declared) to the dividend payment date next preceding the date of such retirement shall have been paid on all shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(8) Retirement of preferred stock by purchase.---Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article, whenever the balance in the preferred stock retirement fund shall amount to as much as $1,000.00, the Corporation shall (unless the Board of Directors shall elect to use the entire amount of such balance in the preferred stock retirement fund for the retirement of preferred stock by call as provided in section 9 hereof) within ten days thereafter mail, first-class postage prepaid, to all holders of record of preferred stock at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice specifying the balance in such fund and stating that the same is available for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock at the lowest prices (not in excess of the par value thereof and accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, to the date of purchase) offered within twenty after the date of such notice. At the expiration of such twenty days, the Corporation shall apply such balance to the purchase for retirement of preferred stock, if obtainable, in accordance with the terms of such notice. Within ten days after such expiration, subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article, the Corporation shall call for retirement in the manner provided in section 9 hereof, the largest number of shares of preferred stock which can be retired from the balance in such retirement fund remaining after deducting the amount paid or to be paid for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock as aforesaid, and shall set aside from such retirement fund the sum necessary to effect such retirement, but the minimum capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law. Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article, at any time and from time to time the Corporation may make such lawful transfers from its surplus and/or undivided profits to the preferred stock retirement fund as the Board of Directors may determine. All shares of preferred stock purchased for retirement by the Corporation, whether from the retirement fund or otherwise, shall be cancelled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(9) Retirement of preferred stock by call.---Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article, the Corporation may at any time, at its election as expressed by resolution of the Board of Directors, retire the outstanding preferred stock as a whole, or from time to time in part, pro rata, or by lot in such equitable manner to carry out the purpose of this section 9 as the Board of Directors of the Corporation in its discretion shall from time to time determine, (and provided always that the capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law) by paying for each share to be retired a retirement price equal to the par value thereof plus all accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of such retirement.

At least thirty days prior written notice of every such retirement, stating the retirement date and the retirement price, and the place of payment thereof, shall be mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to the holder of record of each share to be retired, at the address of such holder as shown on the books of the Corporation. Such notice having been so mailed, each holder of shares so called for retirement shall be entitled to receive payment of the retirement price of such shares (without interest) upon surrender to the Corporation, on or after the retirement date, at the place designated in such notice, of the certificate or certificates therefor in transferable form and, if required, properly stamped for transfer. In case less than all of the shares represented by an such certificate are retired, a new certificate shall be issued representing the unretired shares. From and after the retirement date (unless the Corporation shall default in payment of the retirement price), all dividends on shares called for retirement shall cease to accrue, such shares shall be deemed to be no longer outstanding, and all rights of the holders thereof as shareholders of the Corporation, except the right to receive the retirement price, shall terminate. All shares so retired shall be cancelled forthwith and shall not be re-issued.

(10) Increase or decrease of capital stock: Amendments of Articles of Incorporation, etc.---By the affirmative vote of the holders, voting by classes, of at least two-thirds of the shares of each class of stock at the time outstanding, and not otherwise, and subject to such approval by the State Comptroller and such other conditions as at the time may be required by law---

(a) Insert June 30 or December 31 next succeeding the Recapitalization Date. (4) This figure, representing approximately the unimpaired capital structure of the Corporation after giving effect to the issue of the preferred stock, will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation prior to the purchase of the preferred stock. (5) This figure will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

(a) The capital stock of the corporation may be increased at any time and from time to time through issuing additional shares of preferred stock and/or common stock, and/or through the creation of one or more additional classes of stock; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of preferred stock shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock if the entire proceeds of such issue are to be used for the retirement of shares of preferred stock; and provided further, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock as a stock dividend, pursuant to the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article in connection with the retirement of shares of preferred stock;

(b) The capital stock of the Corporation may be decreased at any time and from time to time to any amount not below the amount at the time required by law; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of any class shall be required with respect to the retirement of preferred stock;

(c) The name of the Corporation and/or the place where its operations of discount and deposit are carried on may be changed, but this clause shall not be construed to abridge the powers of the

Board of Directors under applicable law with reference to the establishment or change of location or closing of branches;

(d) These Articles of Incorporation may be amended at any time and from time to time in any other respect, but not so as to change the respective voting rights of the preferred stock and common stock so long as any of the preferred stock remains outstanding;

(e) The Corporation may be consolidated or merged into or with any other bank, or may acquire all or substantially all of the assets and business of any banking corporation or trust company;

(f) All or substantially all of the assets and business of the Corporation may be sold or otherwise disposed of;

(g) The Corporation may go into voluntary liquidation; and

(h) Any plan of reorganization of the Corporation may be carried into effect---

Provided, however, that if and as long as the voting rights of the preferred stock are increased in accordance with the provisions of sections 12 or 13 of this article and the fair value of the assets of the Corporation as determined by the State Comptroller shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding, any of the actions specified in the foregoing paragraphs (a) to (h) inclusive, of this section 10 may be taken by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled, and not otherwise, except that the Corporation may not be put into voluntary liquidation without the approval of the State Comptroller.

(11) Preemptive rights---In case of any increase in the capital stock of the Corporation of any class other than by way of a stock dividend, the new shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all shares of stock of that class at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of shares of such stock of that class held by them respectively, by mailing, first-class postage prepaid, to such holders, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, transferable subscription warrants exercisable at any time on or before thirty days from the date of such mailing. If at the expiration of such subscription rights, any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all other shares of stock of all other classes at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of such shares held by them respectively, and notice shall be given as above provided. If at the expiration of both of such subscription rights any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such unsubscribed new shares may be issued and sold at such price, not less than the par value thereof, to such persons and on such terms as the Board of Directors may determine.

(12) Voting rights---(a) Except as otherwise provided in sections 10 and 13 of this article and in this section 12, each holder of stock of any class shall be entitled to vote on all matters one vote for each share of stock of any class held by him.

(b) In all elections of directors, each holder of stock of any class shall have the right to vote the votes allocable to the number of shares owned by him for as many persons as there are directors to be elected, or to cumulate such votes and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of votes allocable to shares shall equal, or to distribute such votes on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall think fit.

(c) In case as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not warned or declared) on the preferred stock shall be in arrears (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock), then, and until all arrears of dividends upon the preferred stock shall have been paid and the full dividend on the outstanding preferred stock for the then current semi-annual dividend period shall have been declared and funds set apart for the payment thereof, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(d) At any time while the votes of the preferred stock are increased as provided in paragraph (c) of this section 12 or in subparagraph (2) of section 13 of this article, any one or more of the directors, officers, or employees of the Corporation may be removed at any annual meeting of shareholders, for or without cause, and their successors elected, by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled.

(13) Other voting rights---If at any time while the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall hold not less than twenty-five per cent of the total number of shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding---

(a) The Corporation shall be in arrears in the payment of as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock); or

(b) The amounts paid into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article) in accordance with the requirements of paragraph (c) of section 6 of this article on and after February 1, 1937, shall not have amounted in the aggregate to five per cent of the maximum par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding (whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever) multiplied by the number of calendar years which shall have elapsed since January 1, 1936; or

(c) The fair value of the assets of the banking corporation as determined by an examination of the banking corporation by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (which may be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation once in each calendar year if the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall so elect), or as determined by the State Comptroller, shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding; or

(d) The Corporation shall violate or fail to observe any of the terms, provisions, or conditions of its Articles of Incorporation---then after written notice from Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the existence of any of said conditions and so long as any of said conditions in (a), (b), (c) and (d) above shall continue:

(1) All directors, officers, and employees of the Corporation shall receive compensation at rates not exceeding such maximum limitations as may be fixed by the vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(2) In case Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with the approval of the State Comptroller, at any time shall notify the Corporation that any director, officer or employee of the Corporation is regarded by Reconstruction Finance Corporation as unsatisfactory, and in case such director, officer, or employee is not removed from office (and, if requested by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, replaced with a director, officer, or employee satisfactory to it) within thirty days after receipt by the Corporation of such notice, then, and until such removal and replacement shall have been effected, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(3) The Corporation shall not directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire any real estate for its own use, or lease any real estate for its own use for a term longer than one year, without in each case the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, or a written waiver of voting rights in respect thereto by the holders of such majority; provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to real estate acquired under the provisions of sub-divisions 2 and 3 of Section 53 of Senate Bill 227, Laws of 1934.

(4) The Corporation shall not incur indebtedness maturing more than one year from the creation thereof, without the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding or a written waiver of voting rights with respect thereto by the holders of such majority, but the indebtedness herein referred to shall not be construed to include the issuance of circulating notes and the acceptance of time deposits, which may continue to be accepted by the Corporation under such conditions as may be provided by law.

(14) Rights of preferred stock on liquidation.---In the event of any receivership, conservatorship, liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, before any payment or other distribution, whether in cash, property, or otherwise shall be made to the holders of common stock, the holders of preferred stock shall be entitled to receive, for each share of such stock held by them, an amount equal to the par value thereof, ~~plus an amount equal to the par value thereof~~, plus an amount equal to all unpaid dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of payment, but shall not be entitled to any other or further payment; provided, however, that a merger or consolidation in accordance with law and these Articles of Incorporation, shall not be deemed a liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation within the meaning of this section 14.

(a) Officers.---The Board of Directors shall elect one of its members President of the Corporation. The Board may designate a director in lieu of the President to be chairman of the Board, who shall perform such duties as may be designated by the Board. The directors shall have power to elect one or more Vice-presidents, at least one of whom shall also be a member of the Board of Directors, and who shall be authorized, in the absence or inability of the President from any cause, to perform all acts and duties pertaining to the office of president except such as the President only is authorized by law to perform; and to elect or appoint a Cashier, and such other officers and clerks as may be required to transact the business of the Corporation; and subject to the provisions of subparagraphs (1) and (2) of section 13 of article _____ hereof, to fix the salaries to be paid to them, and to continue them in office or to dismiss them as in the opinion of the Board the interests of the Corporation may demand;

(b) Powers of Board of Directors.---The Board of Directors shall have the power to define the duties of the officers and clerks of the Corporation, to require bonds from them, and to fix the penalty thereof; to regulate the manner in which election of directors shall be held and to appoint judges of the elections; to make all by-laws that it may be proper for them to make, not inconsistent with law and these Articles of Incorporation, for the general regulation of the business of the Corporation and the management of its affairs, and generally to do and perform all acts that it may be legal for a board of directors to do and perform according to law and within the limits of these Articles of Incorporation.

Special meetings of shareholders.---Except as otherwise specifically provided by statute, special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose at any time by the directors or by the holders of at least ten per cent of the then outstanding shares of any class. Every such ~~meeting~~ special meeting shall be called by mailing, not less than ten days before the time fixed for the meeting, to all shareholders of record entitled to act and vote at such meeting at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice stating the purpose of the meeting. Such notice may be waived in writing.

Resolved Fourth, That each shareholder of record may subscribe within five days from and after the date of this meeting to such issue of preferred stock in proportion to the number of shares of common stock of the Corporation standing on the books of the Corporation in his name; and

Resolved Fifth, That the Board of Directors through its proper officers, at the expiration of the said five days shall sell the unsubscribed portion of such preferred stock at such price (not less than the par value thereof) to Reconstruction Finance Corporation and/or to such other person or persons as the Board of Directors may deem advisable.

At a meeting of the shareholders of Citizens Savings Bank, Magnolia, Miss. held on February 16, 1935, 5 days notice of the proposed business having been given by registered mail, all of the foregoing resolutions were adopted by the following vote,---the affirmative vote representing 91 1/3 of the total number of shares of capital stock outstanding.

Total number of shares of capital stock.....	150
Total number of shares represented at the meeting.....	137
Total number of shares voted in favor of the resolution.....	137
Total number of shares voted against the resolution.....	NONE

I hereby certify that this is a true and correct report (a) of the number of days' notice, given by registered mail, of the meeting of shareholders of this bank held on the date above mentioned; (b) of the vote and (c) of the resolutions adopted at said meeting and (d) that a complete list of the shareholders voting therefor and the number of shares voted by each is on file in the bank; (e) that no shares of stock of this bank owned by this bank were voted at said meeting; (f) that no shares of stock held by this bank as sole trustee were voted at said meeting; and (g) that no shares of stock of this bank held by this bank as co-trustee were voted at said meeting by this bank; and (h) that no director, other officer or employee acted as proxy at said meeting.

RECORD OF CHARTERS 34-35---STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

Proposed Amendments to Articles of Incorporation

THE BANK OF HOLCOMB

HOLCOMB
(City)

GRENADA
(County)

MISSISSIPPI.
(State)

RESOLVED FIRST, That the capital of this Corporation be increased in the sum of $2,500.00, by the issuance of $2,500.00 of preferred stock under the provisions of Section 52 of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, making the total capital of the Corporation $12,500.00, of which $2,500.00 is preferred and $10,000.00 is common stock.

RESOLVED SECOND, That the Articles of Incorporation be amended by striking out Article 7 and inserting in place thereof the following:

"The Board of Directors shall consist of such number of shareholders, not less than five nor more than twenty-five, as from time to time shall be determined by a majority of the votes to which all shareholders are at the time entitled. A majority of the Board of Directors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

RESOLVED THIRD, That the Articles of Incorporation be further amended by striking out Articles 4 & 5 and inserting in the place thereof the following:

(1) Amount, classes, and shares of capital stock.--The amount of capital stock of the Corporation shall be $12,500.00 divided into classes and shares as follows:

(a) $2,500.00 par value of preferred stock (subject to retirement as hereinafter provided) divided into 80 shares of the par value of $31.25 each; and

(b) $10,000.00 par value of common stock (subject to increase upon retirement of preferred stock as provided in the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article ---) divided into 100 shares of the par value of $100.00 each.

(2) Assessability of stock.--The holders of preferred stock shall not be held individually responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts, or engagements of the Corporation, and shall not be liable for assessments to restore impairments in the capital of the Corporation.

(3) Dividends on preferred stock.--The holders of preferred stock, in preference to the holders of common stock, shall be entitled to receive, when and as declared by the Board of Directors, out of net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this article 4) accruing after February 5th, 1935, (hereinafter referred to as the "Recapitalization Date"), cash dividends thereon to and including January 31, 1935, at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter to and including January 31, 1940, at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more. Such dividends shall be payable semi-annually on each February 1 and August 1, and shall accrue, as to any given share of such stock, from the date of issuance of such share. Such dividends shall be cumulative, so that if dividends at the full rate required by this section 3 to be paid on the preferred stock shall not have been paid upon or declared and set apart for such preferred stock, the deficiency shall be fully paid or declared and set apart before any dividend or other distribution, whether in cash, property, stock, or otherwise, shall be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock. Dividends on the preferred stock shall be deemed to accrue from day to day.

(4) Dividends on common stock.--Dividends or other distributions whether in cash, property, stock or otherwise, shall so long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock only out of the net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this Article 4) accruing after the Recapitalization Date.

If any retirement of preferred stock would decrease the outstanding capital of the Corporation below the minimum amount required by law, the Board of Directors, prior to or simultaneously with such retirement, shall transfer an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired from reserves set up for the retirement of preferred stock to a special reserve fund for the payment of common stock dividends, and shall declare on the common stock, out of such special reserve fund, a dividend payable in common stock in an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired, and the shares of common stock required for the payment of any such stock dividend shall be issuable without any further vote on the part of the holders of stock of any class or any further approval on the part of the State Comptroller.

(5) Determination of net profits.--For the purpose of this article 4, the net profits or net loss (as distinguished from usage of terms "net profits" and "net loss" in reports required by the State Comptroller of the Corporation shall be determined for each six months' period ending on December 31 or June 30 by deducting from the gross earnings from all sources for such period:

(a) All expenses for such period;

(b) All interest accrued during such period;

(c) All losses determined during such period, and such charge-offs and write-downs of assets and transfers to reserves (whether from income, undivided profits or surplus) for such period (including all charge-offs, write-downs and transfers to reserves requested by the State Comptroller for such period) as may be reasonably necessary to make proper provision for doubtful assets, depreciation, and undetermined losses, but to the extent only that such losses, determined or undetermined, charge-offs, and write-downs of assets exceed reserves previously set up therefor in such period or any prior period, or available unallocated reserves;

(d) Provision for all taxes for such period, including taxes measured by income and taxes based on the ownership of stock in the Corporation paid or payable by the Corporation for the account of its shareholders, without prejudice to such right as the Corporation may have to recover the same;

(e) Such transfers for such period to surplus as may be required by law; provided, however, that transfers to earned surplus as required by section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, shall not be deducted from gross earnings in determining net profits available for the dividend and retirement requirements of the preferred stock; and

(1) The per share par value of the preferred stock will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation; (2) Insert date on which Articles of Incorporation amended by shareholders.

(f) The net loss, if any, determined in accordance with the provisions of this section 5, accrued since the Recapitalization Date, accumulated to and existing at the beginning of such period; provided, however, that no deductions from gross earnings for the six months' period ending June 30th, 1935, need be made by reason of any charge-offs or write-downs of assets or transfers to reserves required by the State Comptroller and approved in writing by Reconstruction Finance Corporation made on account of loss incurred prior to or depreciation in assets existing at the Recapitalization Date.

RECORD OF CHARTERS 34-35--STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

All recoveries over net book value on assets previously charged off or written down or against which reserves have been set up, and all transfers from reserves to surplus or undivided profits (other than transfers made to reflect recoveries already treated as gross earnings), shall be considered gross earnings for the respective periods during which such recoveries or transfers are effected.

(6) Application of net profits.---As long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, the Corporation, on each February 1 and August 1 (except that, as provided in paragraph (b) hereof, no payments shall be required pursuant to the provisions of such paragraph prior to August 1, 1936), shall apply the net profits of the Corporation for the six months' period ending on the next preceding December 31 or June 30, as the case may be, to the following purposes and in the following order of priority:

- (a) To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock accrued to such February 1 or August 1, as the case may be.
- (b) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article 4) on August 1, 1936, of a sum equal to three-quarters of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter, to and including February 1, 1940, of a sum equal to one-quarter of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter of a sum equal to ^{one-half} one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding. In the event that the net profits of the Corporation shall on any such February 1 or August 1 be insufficient to permit the payment into such preferred stock retirement fund of the full amount hereinabove provided for, the deficiency shall be fully paid before any net profits of the Corporation shall be thereafter applied to any of the purposes hereinafter specified in this section 6.
- (c) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article) of a sum equal to forty per cent of the remainder, if any, of such net profits: Provided, however, That the aggregate amount paid into the preferred stock retirement fund in any one year in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph (c) need not exceed five per cent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding, whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever: Provided further, however, That unless otherwise elected, from time to time, by the Corporation by action of its Board of Directors, it shall not be required to make such payment into the preferred stock retirement fund required by this paragraph (c) except from such net profits as may have accrued from and after December 31, 1935.

Subject to compliance with the provisions of section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, any balance of net profits for any such period may be applied from time to time to such lawful purposes as may be determined by the Board of Directors, subject, however to the provisions of section 7 of this article 4.

(7) Limitations on retirement of stock.---Except with the approval of the State Comptroller, no preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement by the Corporation unless the then unimpaired capital, surplus and undivided profits of the Corporation, and the retirement funds provided for herein (after giving effect to the proceeds of the issuance of any stock issued to provide funds for such retirement) exceed $12,500.00 (4) by an amount at least equal to the sum necessary to effect such retirement. No shares of preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement unless all accrued dividends (whether or not earned or declared) to the dividend payment date next preceding the date of such retirement shall have been paid on all shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(8) Retirement of preferred stock by purchase.---Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article , whenever the balance in the preferred stock retirement fund shall amount to as much as $1,000.00, (5) the Corporation shall (unless the Board of Directors shall elect to use the entire amount of such balance in the preferred stock retirement fund for the retirement of preferred stock by call as provided in section 9 hereof) within ten days thereafter mail, first-class, ^{pre-}paid, to all holders of record of preferred stock at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice specifying the balance in such fund and stating that the same is available for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock at the lowest prices (not in excess of the par value thereof and accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, to the date of purchase) offered within twenty days after the date of such notice. At the expiration of such twenty days, the Corporation shall apply such balance to the purchase for retirement of preferred stock, if obtainable, in accordance with the terms of such notice. Within ten days after such expiration, subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article 4, the Corporation shall call for retirement, in the manner provided in section 9 hereof, the largest number of shares of preferred stock which can be retired from the balance in such retirement fund remaining after deducting the amount paid or to be paid for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock as aforesaid, and shall set aside from such retirement fund the sum necessary to effect such retirement, but the minimum capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law. Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article 4, at any time and from time to time the Corporation may make such lawful transfers from its surplus and/or undivided profits to the preferred retirement fund as the Board of Directors may determine. All shares of preferred stock purchased for retirement by the Corporation, whether from the retirement fund or otherwise, shall be cancelled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(9) Retirement of preferred stock by call.---Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article 4 the Corporation may at any time, at its election as expressed by resolution of the Board of Directors, retire the outstanding preferred stock as a whole, or from time to time in part, pro rata, or by lot in such equitable manner to carry out the purpose of this section 9 as the Board of Directors of the Corporation in its discretion shall from time to time determine, (and provided always that the capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law) by paying for each share to be retired a retirement price equal to the par value thereof plus all accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of such retirement.

At least thirty days prior written notice of every such retirement, stating the retirement date and the retirement price, and the place of payment thereof, shall be mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to the holder of record of each share to be retired, at the address of such holder as shown on the books of the Corporation. Such notice having been so mailed, each holder of shares so called for retirement shall be entitled to receive payment of the retirement price of such shares (without interest) upon surrender to the Corporation, on or after the retirement date, at the place designated in such notice, of the certificate or certificates therefor in transferable form and, if required, properly stamped for transfer. In case less than all of the shares represented by any such certificate are retired, a new certificate shall be issued representing the unretired shares. From and after the retirement date (unless the Corporation shall default in payment of the retirement price), all dividends on shares called for retirement shall cease to accrue, such shares shall be deemed to be no longer outstanding, and all rights of the holders thereof as shareholders of the Corporation, except the right to receive the retirement price, shall terminate. All shares so retired shall be canceled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(10) Increase or decrease of capital stock: Amendments of Articles of Incorporation, etc.---By the affirmative vote of the holders, voting by classes, of at least two-thirds of the shares of each class ^{of stock} at the time outstanding, and not otherwise, and subject to such approval by the State Comptroller and such other conditions as at the time may be required by law---

(3) Insert June 30 or December 31 next succeeding the Recapitalization Date. (4) This figure, representing approximately the unimpaired capital structure of the Corporation after giving effect to the issue of the preferred stock, will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation prior to the purchase of the preferred stock. (5) This figure will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

(a) The capital stock of the Corporation may be increased at any time and from time to time through issuing additional shares of preferred stock and/or common stock, and/or through the creation of one or more additional classes of stock; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of preferred stock shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock if the entire proceeds of such issue are to be used for the retirement of shares of preferred stock; and provided, further, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock as a stock dividend, pursuant to the second paragraph of section 4 of this article 4 in connection with the retirement of shares of preferred stock;

(b) The capital stock of the Corporation may be decreased at any time and from time to time to any amount not below the amount at the time required by law; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to the retirement of preferred stock;

(c) The name of the Corporation, and/or the place where its operations of discount and deposit are to be carried on may be changed, but this clause shall not be construed to abridge the powers of the Board of Directors under applicable law with reference to the establishment or change of location or closing of branches;

(d) These Articles of Incorporation may be amended at any time and from time to time in any other respect, but not so as to change the respective voting rights of the preferred stock and common stock so long as any of the preferred stock remains outstanding;

(e) The Corporation may be consolidated or merged into or with any other bank, or may acquire all or substantially all of the assets and business of any banking corporation or trust company;

(f) All or substantially all of the assets and business of the Corporation may be sold or otherwise disposed of;

(g) The Corporation may go into voluntary liquidation; and

(h) Any plan of reorganization may be carried into effect---
Provided, however, that if and as long as the voting rights of the preferred stock are increased in accordance with the provisions of sections 12 or 13 of this Article 4 and the fair value of the assets of the Corporation as determined by the State Comptroller shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding, any of the actions specified in the foregoing paragraphs (a) to (h) inclusive, of this section 10 may be taken by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled, and not otherwise, except that the Corporation may not be put into voluntary liquidation without the approval of the State Comptroller.

(11) Preemptive rights.---In case of any increase in the capital stock of the Corporation of any class other than by way of a stock dividend, the new shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all shares of stock of that class at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of shares of such stock of that class held by them respectively, by mailing, first-class postage prepaid, to such holders, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, transferable subscription warrants exercisable at any time on or before thirty days from the date of such mailing. If at the expiration of such subscription rights, any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all other shares of stock of all other classes at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of such shares held by them respectively, and notice shall be given as above provided. If at the expiration of both of such subscription rights any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such unsubscribed new shares may be issued and sold at such price not less than the par value thereof, to such persons and on such terms as the Board of Directors may determine.

(12) Voting rights.---(a) Except as otherwise provided in sections 10 and 13 of this article 4 and in this section 12, each holder of stock of any class shall be entitled to vote on all matters one vote for each share of stock of any class held by him.

(b) In all elections of directors, each holder of stock of any class shall have the right to vote the votes allocable to the number of shares owned by him for as many persons as there are directors to be elected, or to cumulate such votes and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of votes allocable to his shares shall equal, or to distribute such votes on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall think fit.

(c) In case as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock shall be in arrears (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock), then, and until all arrears of dividends upon the preferred stock shall have been paid and the full dividend on the outstanding preferred stock for the then current semi-annual dividend period shall have been declared and funds set apart for the payment thereof, then the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(d) At any time while the votes of the preferred stock are increased as provided in paragraph (c) of this section 12 or in subparagraph (2) of section 13 of this article 4, any one or more of the directors, officers, or employees of the Corporation may be removed at any annual or special meeting of shareholders, for or without cause, and their successors elected, by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled.

(13) Other voting rights.---If at any time while the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall hold not less than twenty-five per cent of the total number of shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding---

(a) The Corporation shall be in arrears in the payment of as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock); or

(b) The amounts paid into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article 4) in accordance with the requirements of paragraph (c) of section 6 of this article 4 on and after February 1, 1937, shall not have amounted in the aggregate to five per cent of the maximum par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding (whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever) multiplied by the number of calendar years which shall have elapsed since January 1, 1936; or

(c) The fair value of the assets of the banking corporation as determined by an examination of the banking corporation by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (which may be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation once in each calendar year if the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall so elect), or as determined by the State Comptroller, shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding; or

(d) The Corporation shall violate or fail to observe any of the terms, provisions, or conditions of its Articles of Incorporation---then after written notice from Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the existence of any of said conditions and so long as any of said conditions in (a), (b), (c), and (d) above shall continue:

(1) All directors, officers, and employees of the Corporation shall receive compensation at rates not exceeding such maximum limitations as may be fixed by the vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

RECORD OF CHARTERS 34-35--STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

(2) In case Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with the approval of the State Comptroller, at any time shall notify the Corporation that any director, officer or employee of the Corporation is regarded by Reconstruction Finance Corporation as unsatisfactory, and in case such director, officer, or employee is not removed from office (and, if requested by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, replaced with a director, officer, or employee satisfactory to it), within thirty days after receipt by the Corporation of such notice, then, and until such removal and replacement shall have been effected, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(3) The Corporation shall not directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire any real estate for its own use, or lease any real estate for its own use for a term longer than one year, without in each case the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, or a written waiver of voting rights in respect thereto by the holders of such majority; provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to real estate acquired under the provisions of sub-divisions 2 and 3 of Section 53 of Senate Bill 227, Laws of 1934.

(4) The Corporation shall not incur indebtedness maturing more than one year from the creation thereof, without the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding or a written waiver of voting rights with respect thereto by the holders of such majority, but the indebtedness herein referred to shall not be construed to include the issuance of circulating notes and the acceptance of time deposits, which may continue to be accepted by the Corporation under such conditions as may be provided by law.

(14) Rights of preferred stock on liquidation.---In the event of any receivership, conservatorship, liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, before any payment or ~~form~~ other distribution, whether in cash, property, or otherwise shall be made to the holders of common stock, the holders of preferred stock shall be entitled to receive, for each share of such stock held by them, an amount equal to the par value thereof, plus an amount equal to all unpaid dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of payment, but shall not be entitled to any other or further payment; provided, however, that a merger or consolidation in accordance with law and these Articles of Incorporation, shall not be deemed a liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation within the meaning of this section 14.

(a) Officers.---The Board of Directors shall elect one of its members President of the Corporation. The Board may designate a director in lieu of the President to be Chairman of the Board, who shall perform such duties as may be designated by the Board. The directors shall have power to elect one or more Vice-Presidents, at least one of whom shall also be a member of the Board of Directors, and who shall be authorized, in the absence or inability of the President from any cause, to perform all acts and duties pertaining to the office of president except such as the President only is authorized by law to perform; and to elect or appoint a Cashier, and such other officers and clerks as may be required to transact the business of the Corporation; and subject to the provisions of subparagraphs (1) and (2) of section 13 of article 4 hereof, to fix the salaries to be paid to them, and to continue them in office or to dismiss them as in the opinion of a majority of the Board the interests of the Corporation may demand;

(b) Powers of Board of Directors.---The Board of Directors shall have the power to define the duties of the officers and clerks of the Corporation, to require bonds from them, and to fix the penalty thereof; to regulate the manner in which election of directors shall be held and to appoint judges of the elections; to make all by-laws that it may be proper for them to make, not inconsistent with law and these Articles of Incorporation, for the general regulation of the business of the Corporation and the management of its affairs, and generally to do and perform all acts that it may be legal for a board of directors to do and perform according to law and within the limits of these Articles of Incorporation.

Special meetings of shareholders.---Except as otherwise specifically provided by statute, special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose at any time by the Board of Directors or by the holders of at least ten per cent of the then outstanding shares of any class. Every such special meeting shall be called by mailing not less than ten days before the time fixed for the meeting, to all shareholders of record entitled to act and vote at such meeting, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice stating the purpose of the meeting. Such notice may be waived in writing.

Resolved Fourth, That each shareholder of record may subscribe within five days from and after the date of this meeting to such issue of preferred stock in proportion to the number of shares of common stock of the Corporation standing on the books of the Corporation in his name; and

Resolved Fifth, That the Board of Directors through its proper officers, at the expiration of the said five days, shall sell the unsubscribed portion of such preferred stock at such price (not less than the par value thereof) to Reconstruction Finance Corporation and/or to such other person or persons as the Board of Directors may deem advisable.

At a meeting of the shareholders of Bank of Holcomb, Holcomb, Mississippi, held on February 5th, 1935, 8 days' notice of the proposed business having been given by registered mail, all of the foregoing resolutions were adopted by the following vote,---the affirmative vote representing 68% of the total number of shares of capital stock outstanding.

Total number of shares of capital stock.....	100
Total number of shares represented at the meeting.....	68
Total number of shares voted in favor of the resolution.....	68
Total number of shares voted against the resolution.....	NONE

I hereby certify that this is a true and correct report (a) of the number of days' notice, given by registered mail, of the meeting of shareholders of this bank held on the date above mentioned; (b) of the vote and (c) of the resolutions adopted at said meeting and (d) that a complete list of the shareholders voting therefor and the number of shares voted by each is on file in the bank; (e) that no shares of stock of this bank owned by this bank were voted at said meeting; (f) that no shares of stock held by this bank as sole trustee were voted at said meeting; and (g) that no shares of stock of this bank held by this bank as co-trustee were voted at said meeting by this bank; and (h) that no director, other officer or employee acted as proxy at said meeting.

RECORD OF CHARTERS 34-35--STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

Amendment to the Articles of Association and Incorporation of the

MAGEE COOPERATIVE GIN (A.A.L.)

* Pursuant to a resolution adopted by a majority of the stockholders of the MAGEE COOPERATIVE GIN (A.A.L.), Section 6 of the Articles of association and Incorporation, as now existing, is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Section 6. (a) The authorized capital stock of this association shall be 6000 shares divided into two classes: preferred and non-par value common, of which amount 5000 shares of the par value of $10.00 per share amounting to $50,000.00 shall be preferred stock, and 1000 shares which shall be without nominal or par value shall be common stock. The association may begin business when at least ten members have paid for one share of preferred stock each.

"(b) The preferred stock of the association shall have preference as to the assets of the association on liquidation and shall bear four per cent (4%) per annum cumulative dividends; provided, however, that until such time as the association will have paid in full any and all indebtedness due by it to the New Orleans Bank of Cooperatives for funds borrowed or to be borrowed for the purpose of liquidating the present indebtedness against its gin property in the County of Simpson, Mississippi, and any other amounts due the New Orleans Bank of Cooperatives, the said dividends will be paid in certificates of preferred stock and ad interim certificates representing the fractional parts thereof subject to conversion into full shares. After the retirement of the mortgage indebtedness, the cumulative dividends on all preferred stock outstanding shall be paid in cash, annually, on the 20 day of December of each year.

"(c) The common stock of the association shall not bear dividends, and no person shall receive or hold at one time more than one share of such common stock, and each holder of common stock shall be entitled to one vote.

"(d) The stock in this association shall be issued only to and held only by producers of agricultural products who make one of the services and facilities of this association. Each share of stock shall entitle the holder thereof to one vote in the management of the association. Shares of stock in the association shall not be transferable except to producers of agricultural products, and no person shall acquire them by operation of law. If any share holder shall cease to be eligible to hold his shares or shall die, and if his shares shall not be promptly transferred to some producer eligible to hold the same, the association shall take up such shares at par value, or at the option of the association at appraised value, such value to be conclusively fixed by the Board of Directors of the association, and the association may pay therefor in cash or by certificate of indebtedness to be thereafter paid from the income of the association. No attempted issuance or transfer of such stock shall pass any rights on account of such stock or any voice in the control of the association unless the receiver thereof shall be such a producer, and any transfer or assignment of the stock of this association shall be subject to the approval of the Board of Directors.

"(e) Any person, firm or corporation eligible under the foregoing may become a member of the association by subscribing for one share of its common stock, signing such marketing agreement as shall be required by the association, and agreeing to comply with these articles of Incorporation and By-laws of the association as they exist or may be amended; provided the applicant for membership, or common stock, is found acceptable to the Board of Directors. The findings of the Board of Directors as to eligibility shall be conclusive for the purposes of this section, and where deemed advisable, the Board will, in its discretion, have power to deny the issuance or transfer of common stock to persons, firms, or corporations eligible to hold the same.

"(f) Should an owner of common stock be other than a natural person, such owner may be represented by an individual duly authorized in writing, and such authorized representative shall be eligible to vote, be a member of the Board of Directors and be an officer of the Association."

In testimony of the adoption of the foregoing amendments to the Articles of Association and Incorporation, witness the signature of two executive officers thereof, in duplicate, under authority given them by a majority of the stockholders of this association in accordance with law and the by-laws, on this 22 day of February, 1935.

SUGGESTED FORM OF AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION FOR CONTINUING
ONE CLASS OF PREFERRED STOCK:

Proposed Amendments to Articles of Incorporation of

BANK OF MYRTLE	MYRTLE	UNION	MISSISSIPPI
(Name of Bank)	(City)	(County)	(State)

RESOLVED FIRST, That the capital of this Corporation be increased in the sum of $10,000.00, by the issuance of $10,000.00 of preferred stock under the provisions of Section 52 of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, making the total capital of the Corporation $20,000.00, of which $10,000.00 is preferred and $10,000.00 is common stock.

RESOLVED SECOND, That under the provisions of _____, the common capital stock of this Corporation be reduced in the sum of $5,000.00, leaving the total common capital, after said reduction, $5,000.00

RESOLVED THIRD, That no distribution of assets shall be made to the shareholders of the Corporation by reason of the reduction of the common capital stock of the Corporation, but a sum equal to the amount of said reduction shall be used to charge off or write down losses, substandard and/or non-acceptable assets and/or shall be transferred to surplus or undivided profits in accordance with the requirements of the Federal Reserve Board and/or the State Comptroller.

RESOLVED FOURTH, That the Articles of Incorporation be amended by striking out Article _____ and inserting in place thereof the following:

"The Board of Directors shall consist of such number of shareholders, not less than five nor more than twenty-five, as from time to time shall be determined by a majority of the votes to which all shareholders are at the time entitled. A majority of the Board of Directors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business."

RESOLVED FIFTH, That the Articles of Incorporation be further amended by striking out Articles _____ and inserting in the place thereof the following:

_____(1) Amount, classes, and shares of capital stock. -- The amount of capital stock of the Corporation shall be $15,000.00 divided into classes and shares as follows:

(a) $10,000.00 par value of preferred stock (subject to retirement as hereinafter provided) divided into 200 shares of the par value of $50.00 (1) each; and (b) $5,000.00 par value of common stock (subject to increase upon retirement of preferred stock as provided in the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article _____) divided into 100 shares of the par value of $50.00 each.

(2) Assessability of stock. -- The holders of preferred stock shall not be held individually responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts, or engagements of the Corporation, and shall not be liable for assessments to restore impairments in the capital of the Corporation.

(3) Dividends on preferred stock. -- The holders of preferred stock, in preference to the holders of common stock, shall be entitled to receive, when and as declared by the Board of Directors, out of net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this article _____) accruing after _____, 193____ (2) (hereinafter referred to as the "Recapitalization Date"), cash dividends thereon to and including January 31, 1935, at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter to and including January 31, 1940, at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more. Such dividends shall be payable semi-annually on each February 1 and August 1, and shall accrue, as to any given share of such stock, from the date of issuance of such share. Such dividends shall be cumulative, so that if dividends at the full rates required by this section 3 be paid on the preferred stock shall not have been paid upon or declared and set apart for such preferred stock, the deficiency shall be fully paid or declared and set apart before any dividend or other distribution, whether in cash, property, stock, or otherwise, shall be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock. Dividends on the preferred stock shall be deemed to accrue from day to day.

(4) Dividends on common stock. -- Dividends or other distributions whether in cash, property, stock or otherwise, shall, so long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock only out of the net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this article _____) accruing after the Recapitalization Date. If any retirement of preferred stock would decrease the outstanding capital of the Corporation below the minimum amount required by law, the Board of Directors, prior to or simultaneously with such retirement, shall transfer an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired from reserves set up for the retirement of preferred stock to a special reserve fund for the payment of common stock dividends, and shall declare on the common stock, out of such special reserve fund, a dividend payable in common stock in an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock so retired, and the shares of common stock required for the payment of any such stock dividend shall be issuable without any further vote on the part of the holders of stock of any class or any further approval on the part of the State Comptroller.

(5) Determination of net profits. -- For the purpose of this article _____, the net profits or net loss (as distinguished from usage of terms "net profits" and "net loss" in reports required by the State Comptroller of the Corporation shall be determined for each six months' period ending on December 31 or June 30 by deducting from the gross earnings from all sources for such period: (a) All expenses for such period; (b) All interest accrued during such period; (c) All losses determined during such period and such charge-offs and write-downs of assets and transfers to reserves (whether from income, undivided profits or surplus) for such period (including all charge-offs, write-downs and transfers to reserves requested by the State Comptroller for such period) as may be reasonably necessary to make proper provision for doubtful assets, depreciation, and undetermined losses, but to the extent only that such losses, determined or undetermined, charge-offs, and write-downs of assets exceed reserves previously set up therefor in such period or any prior period, or available unallocated reserves; (d) Provision for all taxes for such period, including taxes measured by income and taxes based on the ownership of stock in the Corporation paid or payable by the Corporation for the account of its shareholders, without prejudice to such rights as the Corporation may have to recover the same; (e) Such transfers for such period to surplus as may be required by law; provided, however, that transfers to earned surplus as required by section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, shall not be deducted from gross earnings in determining net profits available for the dividend and retirement requirements of the preferred stock; and (f) The net loss, if any, determined in accordance with the provisions of this section 5, accrued since the Recapitalization Date, accumulated to and existing at the beginning of such period; provided, however, that no deductions from gross earnings for the six months' period ending _____, 193____ (3) need be made by reason of any charge-offs or write-downs of assets or transfers to reserves required by the State Comptroller and approved in writing by Reconstruction Finance Corporation made on account of loss incurred prior to or depreciation in assets existing at the Recapitalization Date. All recoveries over net book value on assets previously charged off or written down or against which reserves have been set up, and all transfers from reserves to surplus or undivided profits (other than transfers made to reflect recoveries already treated as gross earnings), shall be considered gross earnings for the respective periods during which such recoveries or transfers are effected.

(6) Application of net profits. -- As long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, the Corporation on each February 1 and August 1 (except that, as provided in paragraph (b) hereof, no payments shall be required pursuant to the provisions of such paragraph prior to August 1, 1936), shall apply the net profits of the Corporation for the six months' period ending on the next preceding December 31 or June 30, as the case may be, to the following purposes and in the following order of priority:

(a) To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock accrued to such February 1 or August 1, as the case may be. (b) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article) on August 1, 1936, of a sum equal to three-quarters of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter, to and including February 1, 1940, of a sum equal to one-quarter of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, and on each February 1 and August 1 thereafter of a sum equal to one-half of one per cent of the aggregate par value of the preferred stock at the time outstanding. In the event that the net profits of the Corporation shall on any such February 1 or August 1 be insufficient to permit the payment into such preferred stock retirement fund of the full amount hereinabove provided for, the deficiency shall be fully paid before any net profits of the Corporation shall be thereafter applied to any of the purposes hereinafter specified in this section 6. (c) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article) of a sum equal to forty per cent of the remainder, if any, of such net profits: Provided, however, That the aggregate amount paid into the preferred stock retirement fund in any one year in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph (c) need not exceed five per cent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding, whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever; Provided further, however, That unless otherwise elected, from time to time, by the Corporation by action of its Board of Directors, it shall not be required to make such payment into the preferred stock retirement fund required by this paragraph (c) except from such net profits as may have accrued from and after December 31, 1935. Subject to compliance with the provisions of section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, any balance of net profits for any such period may be applied from time to time to such lawful purposes as may be determined by the Board of Directors, subject, however, to the provisions of section 7 of this article.

(8) Retirement of preferred stock by purchase. -- Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article, whenever the balance in the preferred stock retirement fund shall amount to as much as $1,000.00 (5), the Corporation shall (unless the Board of Directors shall elect to use the entire amount of such balance in the preferred stock retirement fund for the retirement of preferred stock by call as provided in section 9 hereof) within ten days thereafter mail, first-class postage prepaid, to all holders of record of preferred stock at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice specifying the balance in such fund and stating that the same is available for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock at the lowest prices (not in excess of the par value thereof and accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, to the date of purchase) offered within twenty days after the date of such notice. At the expiration of such twenty days, the Corporation shall apply such balance to the purchase for retirement of preferred stock, if obtainable, in accordance with the terms of such notice. Within ten days after such expiration, subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article, the Corporation shall call for retirement in the manner provided in section 9 hereof, the largest number of shares of preferred stock which can be retired from the balance in such retirement fund remaining after deducting the amount paid or to be paid for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock as aforesaid, and shall set aside from such retirement fund the sum necessary to effect such retirement, but the minimum capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law. Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article, at any time and from time to time the Corporation may make such lawful transfers from its surplus and/or undivided profits to the preferred stock retirement fund as the Board of Directors may determine. All shares of preferred stock purchased for retirement by the Corporation, whether from the retirement fund or otherwise, shall be cancelled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(9) Retirement of preferred stock by call. -- Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article, the Corporation may at any time, at its election as expressed by resolution of the Board of Directors, retire the outstanding preferred stock as a whole, or from time to time in part, pro rata, or by lot in such equitable manner to carry out the purpose of this section 9 as the Board of Directors of the Corporation in its discretion shall from time to time determine, (and provided always that the capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law) by paying for each share to be retired a retirement price equal to the par value thereof plus all accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of such retirement.

At least thirty days prior written notice of every such retirement, stating the retirement date and the retirement price, and the place of payment thereof, shall be mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to the holder of record of each share to be retired, at the address of such holder as shown on the books of the Corporation. Such notice having been so mailed, each holder of shares so called for retirement shall be entitled to receive payment of the retirement price of such shares (without interest) upon surrender to the Corporation, on or after the retirement date, at the place designated in such notice, of the certificate or certificates therefor in transferable form and, if required, properly stamped for transfer. shall default in payment of the retirement price), all dividends on shares called for retirement shall cease to accrue, such shares shall be deemed to be no longer outstanding, and all rights of the holders thereof as shareholders of the Corporation, except the right to receive the retirement price, shall terminate. All shares so retired shall be canceled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(10) Increase or decrease of capital stock: Amendments of Articles of Incorporation, etc. -- By the affirmative vote of the holders, voting by classes, of at least two-thirds of the shares of each class of stock at the time outstanding, and not otherwise, and subject to such approval by the State Comptroller and such other conditions as at the time may be required by law -- (a) The capital stock of the Corporation may be increased at any time and from time to time through issuing additional shares of preferred stock and/or common stock, and/or through the creation of one or more additional classes of stock; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of preferred stock shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock if the entire proceeds of such issue are to be used for the retirement of shares of preferred stock; and provided further, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock as a stock dividend, pursuant to the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article _____ in connection with the retirement of shares of preferred stock; (b) The capital stock of the Corporation may be decreased at any time and from time to time to any amount not below the amount at the time required by law; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to the retirement of preferred stock; (c) The name of the Corporation and/or the place where its operations of discount and deposit are to be carried on may be changed, but this clause shall not be construed to abridge the powers of the Board of Directors under applicable law with reference to the establishment or change of location or closing of branches; (d) These Articles of Incorporation may be amended at any time and from time to time in any other respect, but not so as to change the respective voting rights of the preferred stock and common stock so long as any of the preferred stock remains outstanding; (e) The Corporation may be consolidated or merged into or with any other bank, or may acquire all or substantially all of the assets and business of any banking corporation or trust company; (f) All or substantially all of the assets and business of the Corporation may be sold or otherwise disposed of; (g) The Corporation may go into voluntary liquidation; and (h) Any plan of reorganization of the Corporation may be carried into effect -- Provided, however, that if and as long as the voting rights of the preferred stock are increased in accordance with the provisions of sections 12 or 13 of this Article _____ and the fair value of the assets of the Corporation as determined by the State Comptroller shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding, any of the actions specified in the foregoing paragraphs (a) to (h) inclusive, of this section 10 may be taken by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled, and not otherwise, except that the Corporation may not be put into voluntary liquidation without the approval of the State Comptroller.

(11) Preemptive rights. -- In case of any increase in the capital stock of the Corporation of any class other than by way of a stock dividend, the new shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all shares of stock of that class at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of shares of such stock of that class held by them respectively, by mailing, first-class postage prepaid, to such holders, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, transferable subscription warrants exercisable at any time or or before thirty days from the date of such mailing. If at the expiration of such subscription rights, any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all other shares of stock of all other classes at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of such shares held by them respectively, and notice shall be given as above provided. If at the expiration of both of such subscription rights any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such unsubscribed new shares may be issued and sold at such price, not less than the par value thereof, to such persons and on such terms as the Board of Directors may determine.

(12) Voting rights. -- (a) Except as otherwise provided in sections 10 and 13 of this article _____ and in this section 12, each holder of stock of any class shall be entitled to vote on all matters one vote for each share of stock of any class held by him. (b) In all elections of directors, each holder of stock of any class shall have the right to vote the votes allocable to the number of shares owned by him for as many persons as there are directors to be elected, or to cumulate such votes and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of votes allocable to his shares shall equal, or to distribute such votes on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall think fit. (c) In case as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock shall be in arrears (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock), then, and until all arrears of dividends upon the preferred stock shall have been paid and the full dividend on the outstanding preferred stock for the then current semi-annual dividend period shall have been declared and funds set apart for the payment thereof, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled. (d) At any time while the votes of the preferred stock are increased as provided in paragraph (c) of this section 12 or in sub-paragraph (2) of section 13 of this article _____, any one or more of the directors, officers, or employees of the Corporation may be removed at any annual or special meeting of shareholders, for or without cause, and their successors elected, by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled.

(13) Other Voting rights. -- If at any time while the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall hold not less than twenty-five per cent of the total number of shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding -- (a) The Corporation shall be in arrears in the payment of as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock); or (b) The amounts paid into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this article _____) in accordance with the requirements of paragraph (c) of section 6 of this article _____ on and after February 1, 1937, shall not have amounted in the aggregate to five per cent of the maximum par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding (whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever) multiplied by the number of calendar years which shall have elapsed since January 1, 1936; or (c) The fair value of the assets of the banking corporation as determined by an examination of the banking corporation by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (which may be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation once in each calendar year if the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall so elect), or as determined by the State Comptroller, shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding; or (d) The Corporation shall violate or fail to observe any of the terms, provisions, or conditions of its Articles of Incorporation -- then after written notice from Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the existence of any of said conditions and so long as any of said conditions in (a), (b), (c) and (d) above shall continue: (1) All directors, officers, and employees of the Corporation shall receive compensation at rates not exceeding such maximum limitations as may be fixed by the vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(2) In case Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with the approval of the State Comptroller, at any time shall notify the Corporation that any director, officer or employee of the Corporation is regarded by Reconstruction Finance Corporation as unsatisfactory, and in case such director, officer, or employee is not removed from office (and, if requested by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, replaced with a director, officer, or employee satisfactory to it) within thirty days after receipt by the Corporation of such notice, then, and until such removal and replacement shall have been effected, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(3) The Corporation shall not directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire any real estate for its own use, or lease any real estate for its own use for a term longer than one year, without in each case the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, or a written waiver of voting rights in respect thereto by the holders of such majority; provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to real estate acquired under the provisions of sub-divisions 2 and 3 of Section 53 of Senate Bill 227, Laws of 1934.

(4) The Corporation shall not incur indebtedness maturing more than one year from the creation thereof, without the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding or a written waiver of voting rights with respect thereto by the holders of such majority, but the indebtedness herein referred to shall not be construed to include the issuance of circulating notes and the acceptance of time deposits, which may continue to be accepted by the Corporation under such conditions as may be provided by law.

(14) Rights of preferred stock on liquidation. -- In the event of any receivership, conservatorship, liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, before any payment or other distribution, whether in cash, property, or otherwise shall be made to the holders of common stock, the holders of preferred stock shall be entitled to receive, for each share of such stock held by them, an amount equal to the par value thereof, plus an amount equal to all unpaid dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of payment, but shall not be entitled to any other or further payment; provided, however, that a merger or consolidation in accordance with law and these Articles of Incorporation, shall not be deemed a liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation within the meaning of this section 14.

(a) Officers. -- The Board of Directors shall elect one of its members President of the Corporation. The Board may designate a director in lieu of the President to be Chairman of the Board, who shall perform such duties as may be designated by the Board. The directors shall have power to elect one or more Vice Presidents, at least one of whom shall also be a member of the Board of Directors, and who shall be authorized, in the absence or inability of the President from any cause, to perform all acts and duties pertaining to the office of president except such as the President only is authorized by law to perform; and to elect or appoint a Cashier, and such other officers and clerks as may be required to transact the business of the Corporation; and subject to the provisions of subparagraph (1) and (2) of section 13 of article _____ hereof, to fix the salaries to be paid to them, and to continue them in office or to dismiss them as in the opinion of a majority of the Board the interests of the Corporation may demand;

(b) Powers of Board of Directors. -- The Board of Directors shall have the power to define the duties of the officers and clerks of the Corporation, to require bonds from them, and to fix the penalty thereof; to regulate the manner in which election of directors shall be held and to appoint judges of the elections; to make all by-laws that it may be proper for them to make, not inconsistent with law and these Articles of Incorporation, for the general regulation of the business of the Corporation and the management of its affairs, and generally to do and perform all acts that it may be legal for a board of directors to do and perform according to law and within the limits of these Articles of Incorporation.

Special meetings of shareholders. -- Except as otherwise specifically provided by statute, special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose at any time by the Board of Directors or by the holders of at least ten per cent of the then outstanding shares of any class. Every such special meeting shall be called by mailing, not less than ten days before the time fixed for the meeting, to all shareholders of record entitled to act and vote at such meeting, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice stating the purpose of the meeting. Such notice may be waived in writing.

RESOLVED SIXTH, That each shareholder of record may subscribe within five days from and after the date of this meeting to such issue of preferred stock in proportion to the number of shares of common stock of the Corporation standing on the books of the Corporation in his name; and

RESOLVED SEVENTH, That the Board of Directors through its proper officers, at the expiration of the said five days, shall sell the unsubscribed portion of such preferred stock at such price (not less than the par value thereof) to Reconstruction Finance Corporation and/or to such other person or persons as the Board of Directors may deem advisable.

RECORD OF CHARTERS 34-35---STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

Articles of Incorporation of
NOXUBEE COUNTY COOPERATIVE ASSOCIATION

We, the undersigned, all of whom are residents of the State of Mississippi, engaged in the production of livestock, dairy and agricultural products, availing ourselves of the provisions of the laws of the State of Mississippi relating to the organization and formation of cooperative associations, and particularly Article 2 of Chapter 99 of the Mississippi Code of 1930, covenant and agree, and do by these presents bind ourselves, our successors and assigns, as well as such other persons as may become associated with us hereafter, into an association and body politic in law for the objects and purposes, and under the terms and stipulations hereinafter named and set forth, which we hereby adopt as the charter of our Association.

Article I.

The name of this Association is declared to be: Noxubee County Cooperative Dairy Association. Its domicile shall be in the County of Noxubee, Mississippi. Its principal business will be transacted at Macon, Mississippi, and it shall enjoy a corporate existence for a period of fifty (50) years from the date hereof.

Article II.

The purpose for which this Association is formed, which shall also be deemed its powers, shall be: (a) To associate its members together for their mutual benefit as producers of milk, cream & other dairy products or conducive thereof, and for the purpose of assisting its members as such producers in the successful and profitable production and marketing of such products.

(b) To engage in any activity in connection with the marketing, selling, harvesting, preserving, drying, processing, manufacturing, canning, packing, grading, storing, handling, or utilization of any agricultural, dairy or livestock products produced or delivered to it by its members; or the manufacturing or marketing of the by-products thereof; or in connection with the purchase, hiring, or use by its members of supplies, including feed stuffs, machinery, or equipment, or in the financing of any such activities; or in any one or more of the activities specified in this section. The Association shall not handle the agricultural, dairy and livestock products of any nonmember, except as necessary and incidental to the handling of the products of the members; and, in any case, the value of the products of nonmembers so handled shall not exceed the value of the products handled by the Association for its members.

(c) To borrow money without limitation as to amount of corporate indebtedness or liability; to pledge, mortgage or otherwise encumber any or all of its property as security therefor; and to make advance payments and advances to members.

(d) To act as agent or representative of any member or members in any such activities, and to that end to enter into contracts with its members for the exclusive and irrevocable rights to purchase and market their agricultural, dairy, or live stock products.

(e) To purchase or otherwise acquire, and to hold, own and exercise all rights or ownership in, and to sell, transfer, or pledge, or guarantee the payment of dividends or interest on, or the retirement or redemption of shares of the capital stock or bonds of any corporation or association engaged in any related activity or in the warehousing or handling or marketing of any of the products handled by the Association.

(f) To establish reserves and to invest the funds thereof in bonds or other securities.

(g) To buy, hold and exercise all privileges of ownership over such real or personal property as may be necessary or convenient for the conducting and operating of any of the business of the Association or incidental thereto.

(h) To draw, make, accept, endorse, guarantee, execute and issue promissory notes, bills of exchange, drafts, warrants, certificates, and all kinds of obligations to further the objects for which the Association is formed, and to endorse or guarantee the same for accommodation or otherwise, and to pledge any or all of its properties as security therefor; to establish, secure, own and develop patents, trade-marks and copyrights.

(i) To cooperate with its members in conducting educational work concerning the value of cooperative marketing, the adjustment of production to prospective demand, and for all other purposes pertaining to cooperation.

(j) By membership, stock-ownership, by contract or otherwise, to participate in the management of cooperative agencies for the furthering of any of the purposes of this Association.

(k) To do each and everything necessary, suitable or proper for the accomplishment of any of the purposes or the attainment of any one or more of the objects herein enumerated; or conducive to or expedient for the interest or benefit of the Association; and to contract accordingly; and in addition to exercise and possess all powers, rights and privileges, necessary or incidental to the purposes for which the Association is organized, or to the activities in which it is engaged and in addition to have and exercise all the powers, privileges and rights granted, authorized or allowed by the laws of Mississippi to other corporations and all powers and rights incident thereto, except such as are inconsistent with the articles or the statutes under which it is incorporated.

(l) To do anything that is conducive to carrying out or effectuating the Act of the Congress of the United States entitled the Agricultural Marketing Act, approved June 15, 1929, as amended by the Farm Credit Act of 1933.

Article III.

Section 1. The authorized stock of this Association shall be seven thousand (7,000) shares divided into two classes, preferred and non-par value common, of which amount six thousand (6,000) shares of the par value of $5.00 per share, amounting to Thirty Thousand ($30,000.00) Dollars, shall be preferred stock, and one thousand (1,000) shares, which shall be without nominal or par value, shall be common stock.

Section 2. The preferred stock of the Association shall have preference as to the assets of the Association on liquidation and shall bear four per cent (4%) per annum cumulative dividends; provided, however, that until such time as the Association will have paid in full any and all indebtedness due by it to the New Orleans Bank for Cooperatives for funds borrowed or to be borrowed for the purchase of its creamery in the County of Noxubee, Mississippi, and any other amounts due on the purchase price of the creamery, the said dividends will be paid in certificates of preferred stock and ad interim certificates representing the fractional parts thereof subject to conversion into full shares. After the retirement of the mortgage indebtedness, the cumulative dividends on all preferred stock outstanding shall be paid in cash, annually, on the 31st day of March of each year.

Section 3. The common stock shall not bear dividends and may only be issued or transferred to or held by persons, firms or corporations engaged in the production of agricultural, dairy or livestock products, whether as landlord or tenant, or lessor or lessee. No attempted issue or transfer of such stock shall pass any rights on account of such stock or any voice in the control of the Association unless the receiver thereof shall be such a producer, and any transfer or assignment of common stock shall be subject to the approval of the Board of Directors of the Association. No one person shall receive or hold at one time more than one share of the common stock of the Association and each holder of common stock shall be entitled to one vote.

Section 4. A holder of preferred stock shall have the right to vote, in person or by proxy, the number of shares owned by him for as many persons as there are directors or managers of the Association to be elected, or to cumulate so as to give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of his shares of stock shall equal, or to distribute them, on the same principle, among as many candidates as he shall see fit; but in all matters pertaining to the management and affairs of the Association or in connection with a change or amendment to its by-laws or charter, each stockholder shall be entitled to only one vote, irrespective of the Number of shares owned.

Section 5. Any person, firm or corporation eligible under the foregoing may become a member of the Association by subscribing for one share of its common stock, signing such marketing agreement as shall be required by the Association, and agreeing to comply with these articles of incorporation and the by-laws of the Association as they exist or may be amended; provided the applicant for membership, or common stock, is found acceptable to the Board of Directors. The findings of the Board of Directors as to eligibility shall be conclusive for the purposes of this section, and where deemed advisable, the Board will, in its discretion, have power to deny the issuance or transfer of common stock to persons, firms or corporation eligible to hold the same.

Section 6. Should an owner of common stock be other than a natural person, such owner may be represented by an individual duly authorized in writing, and such authorized representative shall be eligible to vote, be a member of the Board of Directors and be an officer of the Association.

Article IV.

Section 1. The management of the business and affairs of the Association shall be vested in a Board of Directors, who shall have power to elect the officers of the Association and to employ and discharge all employees thereof.

Section 2. The Board of Directors of the Association shall consist of Seven Directors; but the number thereof may be increased to fifteen by a vote of the stockholders at any annual meeting, provided, however, that the number shall always consist of an uneven number. The directors shall be selected from the holders of common stock. All directors shall be elected for a term of one year, but shall hold office until their successors are elected and qualified.

Section 3. The officers of the Association shall be a President, a Vice-President and a Secretary-Treasurer, all of whom shall be appointed by the Board of Directors, and shall be subject to removal from office at any time by the Board. The directors shall elect from their number a President and a Vice President. They shall also elect a Secretary-Treasurer, who need not be a director or a member of the Association. The Secretary-Treasurer shall perform the usual accounting duties of the Treasurer, except that the funds shall be deposited only as authorized by the Board of Directors. All officers shall perform such duties as are prescribed by the by-laws, as well as such other duties as are consistent with their office and may be required by the Board of Directors.

Article V.

The Association is formed to function on a cooperative basis for the benefit of the holders of common stock.

Reasonable reserves, as determined by the Board of Directors for any corporate purpose, may be established, utilized, transferred and abolished, including reserves for the payment of principal and interest of any and all indebtedness incurred by the Association for the payment of taxes, making of repairs, for operation, for the general expense of the maintenance and management of the Association, and for the payment of dividends on its preferred stock. Reserves shall be established by the retention of such sums as are necessary for the purposes hereinabove enumerated, from the proceeds of the agricultural, dairy and livestock products received from the holders of common stock. Amounts carried to reserves shall be subject to disposition by the Board of Directors. The records of the Association shall be kept so as to afford a means of determining at any time the assets and liabilities of the Association.

Article VI.

No stockholder of this Association shall ever be liable for any of the indebtedness of the Association in an amount exceeding the sum remaining unpaid on his subscription to the stock of this Association, including any unpaid balance on any promissory note, or notes, given in payment of common stock of this Association. This provision, however, shall not in any manner affect any debts lawfully contracted between the Association and such stockholders.

Article VII.

Each of the parties hereto subscribes to one share of the common stock of the Association, and agrees to pay therefore such consideration as will be agreed upon by a majority vote of the stockholders at the first meeting to be held after the adoption of this charter.

In testimony whereof, we have hereunto signed our names this 4th day of August, 1934 at Macon, Mississippi.

This constituting the required number of shares, the meeting was brought to order.

On motion of A. L. Pentecost, seconded by T. H. Edmondson and carried by a majority vote, J. A. Clark was elected Chairman of said meeting and Joe Levingston was elected Secretary.

Mr. A. L. Pentecost, Managing Vice-President of the Bank, laid before the stockholders a proposal to increase the Capital Stock of the Bank by the issuance of $50,000.00 Preferred Stock and explained the reason for this proposal and read to the Stockholders the resolution heretofore passed by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation relating to the issuance of this stock and the contemplated purchase by said Corporation of all of said issue not otherwise subscribed by the present stockholders.

After extended discussion by all present on motion of C. G. Smith, seconded by E. L. Anderson, a record vote was had on said proposal, said vote being as follows:

It appearing that said proposal has the approval of the requisite majority of the stockholders and it appearing that the consummation of said plan necessitates the amendment of certain Charter provisions, on motion of C. G. Smith, seconded by E. L. Anderson, the following resolution was introduced and approved, and unanimously adopted:

Proposed Amendments to Articles of Incorporation of

BANK OF RULEVILLE

Ruleville
(City)

Sunflower
(County)

Mississippi
(State)

Resolved, First, that the capital of this corporation be increased in the sum of $50,000.00 by the issuance of $50,000.00 of preferred stock under the provisions of section 52 of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, making the total capital of the corporation $100,000.00, of which $50,000.00 is preferred and $50,000.00 is common stock.

Resolved, Second, that the Articles of Incorporation be amended by striking out Article 4 and inserting in place thereof the following:

Resolved, Third, that the Articles of Incorporation be further amended by striking out Article 3 and inserting in the place thereof the following:

(1) Amount, classes, and shares of capital stock.-- The amount of capital stock of the Corporation shall be $100,000.00 divided into classes and shares as follows:

(a) $50,000.00 par value of preferred stock (subject to retirement as hereinafter provided) divided into 400 shares of the par value of $125.00 (1) each; and

~~(1) The par share par value of the preferred stock will be fixed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation.~~

(b) $50,000.00 par value of common stock (subject to increase upon retirement of preferred stock as provided in the second and third paragraphs of section 4 of this Article) divided into 500 Shares of the par value of $100.00 each.

(2) Assessability of stock.--The holders of preferred stock shall not be held individually responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts, or engagements of the Corporation, and shall not be liable for assessments to restore impairments in the capital of the Corporation.

(3) Dividends on preferred stock.--The holders of preferred stock, in preference to the holders of common stock, shall be entitled to receive, when and as declared by the Board of Directors, out

net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this Article 3) accruing after July 23, 1934 (2), (hereinafter referred to as the "Recapitalization Date"), cash dividends thereon to and including March 31, 1939, at the rate of four percent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter at the rate of five per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more. Such dividends shall be payable semi-annually on each February 1 and August 1, and shall accrue, as any given share of such stock, from the date of issuance of such share; provided, however, that, in the case of any share of such stock issued after August 1, 1934 (3), such dividends shall accrue on such share from the February 1 or August 1, as the case may be, next preceding the date of issuance thereof. Such dividends shall be cumulative so that if dividends at the full rate required by this section 3 to be paid on the preferred stock shall not have been paid upon or declared and set apart for such preferred stock, the deficiency shall be fully paid or declared and set apart before any dividend or other distribution, whether in cash, property, stock, or otherwise, shall be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock. Dividends on the preferred stock shall be deemed to accrue from day to day.

(4) Dividends on common stock.--Dividends or other distributions, whether in cash, property, stock or otherwise, shall, so long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, be declared, ordered, set apart, or made in respect of the common stock only out of the net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this Article 3) accruing after the Recapitalization Date.

If any call or purchase for retirement of preferred stock pursuant to the provisions of sections 8 or 9 of this Article 3 would reduce the outstanding capital of the Corporation below the minimum amount at the time required by law, the Board of Directors, prior to or simultaneously with such retirement, shall declare on the common stock out of net profits of the Corporation accruing after the Recapitalization Date, a dividend in an amount equal to the sum required to maintain the capital of the Corporation at such minimum amount after giving effect to such retirement, such dividend to be payable in shares of common stock which shall be issued (without any action on the part of the holders of stock of any class or on the part of the Superintendent of Banks) pro rata to the holders of common stock.

(5) Determination of net profits.--For the purpose of this Article 3, the net profits or net loss (as distinguished from usage of terms "net profits" and "net loss" in reports required by the Superintendent of Banks) of the Corporation shall be determined for each six months' period ending on December 31 or June 30 by deducting from the gross earnings from all sources for such period:

(a) All expenses for such period;
(b) All interest accrued during such period;
(c) All losses determined during such period, and such charge-offs and write-downs of assets and transfers to reserves (whether from income, undivided profits or surplus) for such period (including all charge-offs, write-downs and transfers to reserves requested by the Superintendents of Banks for such period) as may be reasonably necessary to make proper provision for doubtful assets, depreciation, and undetermined losses, but to the extent only that such losses, determined or undetermined, charge-offs, and write-downs of assets exceed reserves previously set up therefor in such period or any prior period, or available unallocated reserves;

(d) Provision for all taxes for such period, including taxes measured by income and taxes based on the ownership of stock in the Corporation paid or payable by the Corporation for the account of its share holders, without prejudice to such right as the Corporation may have to recover the same;

(e) Such transfers for such period to surplus as may be required by law; provided, however, that transfers to earned surplus as required by section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, shall not be deducted from gross earnings in determining net profits available for the dividend and retirement requirements of the preferred stock; and

(f) The net loss, if any, determined in accordance with the provisions of this section 5, accrued since the Recapitalization Date, accumulated to and existing at the beginning of such period; provided, however, that no deduction from gross earnings for the six months' period ending December 31, 1934, (4), shall be required by reason of any charge-offs or write-downs of assets or transfers to reserves made during said period on account of losses sustained on or prior to the Recapitalization Date.

All recoveries over net book value on assets previously charged off or written down or against which reserves have been set up, and all transfers from reserves to surplus or undivided profits (other than transfers made to reflect recoveries already treated as gross earnings), shall be considered gross earnings for the respective periods during which such recoveries or transfers are affected.

(6) Application of net profits.--As long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding the Corporation, on each February 1 and August 1, shall apply the net profits of the corporation for the six months' period ending on the next preceding December 31 and June 30, as the case may be, to the following purposes and in the following order of priority:

(a) To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock accrued to such February 1 or August 1, as the case may be;

(b) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this Article 3) of a sum equal to forty per cent of the remainder, if any, of such net profits; provided, however, that the aggregate amount paid into the preferred stock retirement fund in any one year need not exceed five percent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding, whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever; provided, further, however, that unless otherwise elected, from time to time, by the Corporation by action of its Board of Directors, it shall not be required to make such payment into the preferred stock retirement fund except from such net profits as may have accrued from and after December 31, 1935;

Subject to compliance with the provisions of Section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, any balance of net profits for any such period may be applied from time to time to such lawful purposes as may be determined by the Board of Directors, subject, however, to the provisions of section 7 of this Article 3.

(7) Limitations on retirement of stock.--Except with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks no preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement by the Corporation unless the then unimpaired capital, surplus and undivided profits of the Corporation, and the retirements funds provided for herein (after giving effect to the proceeds of the issuance of any stock issued to provide funds for such retirement) exceeds $115,000.00 (5) by an amount at least equal to the sum necessary to effect such retirement. No shares of preferred stock shall be called or purchased unless all accrued dividends (whether or not earned or declared) to the dividend payment date next preceding the date of such retirement shall have been paid on all shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(8) Retirement of preferred stock by purchase.--Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article 3, whenever the balance in the preferred stock retirement fund shall amount to as much as $1,000.00 (6), the Corporation shall (unless the Board of Directors shall elect to use the entire amount of such balance in the preferred stock retirement fund for the retirement of preferred stock by call as provided in section 9 hereof) within ten days thereafter mail, first-class postage prepaid, to all holders of record of preferred stock at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice specifying the balance in such fund and stating that the same is available for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock at the lowest prices (not in excess of the par value thereof and accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, to the date of purchase) offered within twenty days after the date of such notice. At the expiration of such twenty days, the Corporation shall apply such balance to the purchase for retirement of preferred stock, if obtainable, in accordance with the terms of such notice. Within ten days after such expiration, subject to the provisions of section 7 of this article 3, the Corporation shall call for retirement, in the manner provided in section 9 hereof, the largest number of shares of preferred stock which can be retired from the balance in such retirement fund remaining after deducting the amount paid or to be paid for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock as aforesaid, and shall set aside from such retirement fund the sum necessary to effect such retirement, but the minimum capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law.

Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article 3, at any time and from time to time the Corporation may make such lawful transfers from its surplus and/or undivided profits to the preferred stock retirement fund as the Board of Directors may determine. All shares of preferred stock purchased for retirement by the corporation, whether from the retirement fund or otherwise, shall be cancelled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(9) Retirement of preferred stock by call--Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article 3, the Corporation may at any time, at its election as expressed by resolution of the Board of Directors, retire the outstanding preferred stock as a whole, or from time to time in part, pro rata, or by lot in such equitable manner to carry out the purpose of this section 9 as the Board of Directors of the Corporation in its discretion shall from time to time determine, and provided always that the capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount required by law, by paying for each share to be retired a retirement price equal to the par value thereof plus all accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of such retirement. At least thirty days prior written notice of every such retirement, stating the retirement date and the retirement price, and the place of payment thereof, shall be mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to the holder of record of each share to be retired, at the address of such holder as shown on the books of the Corporation. Such notice having been so mailed, each holder of shares so called for retirement shall be entitled to receive payment of the retirement price of such shares (without interest) upon surrender to the Corporation, on or after the retirement date, at the place designated in such notice of the certificate or certificates therefor in transferable form and, if required, properly stamped for transfer. In case less than all of the shares represented by any such certificate are retired, a new certificate shall be issued representing the unretired shares. From and after the retirement date (unless the Corporation shall default in payment of the retirement price), all dividends on shares called for retirement shall cease to accrue, such shares shall be deemed to be no longer outstanding, and all rights of the holders thereof as shareholders of the Corporation, except the right to receive the retirement price, shall terminate. All shares so retired shall be canceled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(10) Increase or decrease of capital stock; Amendments of Articles of Incorporation, Etc.--By the affirmative vote of the holders, voting by classes, of at least two-thirds of the shares of each class of stock at the time outstanding, and not otherwise, and subject to such approval by the Superintendent of Banks and such other conditions as at the time may be required by law --

(a) The capital stock of the Corporation may be increased at any time and from time to time through issuing additional shares of preferred stock and/or common stock, and/or through the creation of one or more additional classes of stock; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of preferred stock shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock if the entire proceeds of such issue are to be used for the retirement of shares of preferred stock; and provided further, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock as a stock dividend, pursuant to the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article 3 in connection with the retirement of shares of preferred stock;

(b) The capital stock of the Corporation may be decreased at any time and from time to time to any amount not below the amount at the time required by law; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to the retirement of preferred stock;

(c) The name of the Corporation and/or the place where its operations of discount and deposit are to be carried on may be changed, but this clause shall not be construed to abridge the powers of the Board of Directors under applicable law with reference to the establishment or change of location or closing of branches;

(d) The Articles of Incorporation may be amended at any time and from time to time in any other respect, but not as to change the respective voting rights of the preferred stock and common stock so long as any of the preferred stock remains outstanding;

(e) The Corporation may be consolidated or merged into or with any other bank;

(f) All or substantially all of the assets and business of the Corporation may be sold or otherwise disposed of;

(g) The Corporation may go into voluntary liquidation; and

(h) Any plan or reorganization of the Corporation may be carried into effect --

Provided, however, that if and as long as the voting rights of the preferred stock are increased in accordance with the provisions of sections 12 and 13 of this article 3 and the fair value of the assets of the Corporation as determined by the Superintendent of Banks shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding, any of the actions in the foregoing paragraphs (a) to (h) inclusive, of this section 10 may be taken by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled, and not otherwise, except that the Corporation may not be put into voluntary liquidation without the approval of the Superintendent of Banks.

(11) Preemptive rights--In case of any increase in the capital stock of the Corporation of any class other than by way of a stock dividend, the new shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all shares of stock of that class at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of shares of such stock of that class held by them respectively, by mailing, first-class postage prepaid, to such holders, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, transferable subscription warrants exercisable at any time on or before thirty days from the date of such mailing. If at the expiration of such subscription rights, any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all other shares of stock of all other classes at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of such shares held by them respectively, and notice shall be given as above provided. If at the expiration of both of such subscription rights any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such unsubscribed new shares may be issued and sold at such price, not less than the par value thereof, to such persons and on such terms as the Board of Directors may determine.

(12) Voting rights--(a) Except as otherwise provided in sections 10 and 13 of this Article 3 and in this section 12, each holder of stock of any class shall be entitled to vote on all matters one vote for each share of stock of any class held by him.

(b) In all elections of directors, each holder of stock of any class shall have the right to vote the votes allocable to the number of shares owned by him for as many persons as there are directors to be elected or to cumulate such votes and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of votes allocable to his shares shall equal, or to distribute such votes on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall think fit.

(c) In case as many as two-semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock shall be in arrears (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock), then, and until all arrears of dividends upon the preferred stock shall have been paid and the full dividend on the outstanding preferred stock for the then current semi-annual dividend period shall have been declared and funds set apart for the payment thereof, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(d) At any time while the votes of the preferred stock are increased as provided in paragraph (c) of this section 12 or in sub-paragraph (2) of section 13 of this Article 3, any one or more of the directors, officers, or employees of the Corporation may be removed at any annual or special meeting of the shareholders, for or without cause, and their successors, by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled.

(13) Other voting rights.---If at any time while the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall hold not less than twenty-five per cent of the total number of shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding--

(a) The Corporation shall be in arrears in the payment of as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock); or

(b) The amounts paid into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this Article 3) on and after February 1, 1937, shall not have amounted in the aggregate to five per cent of the maximum par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding (whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever) multiplied by the number of calendar years which shall have elapsed since January 1, 1936; or

(c) The fair value of the assets of the banking corporation as determined by an examination of the banking corporation by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (which may be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation once in each calendar year if the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall so elect), or as determined by the Superintendent of Banks, shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding; or

(d) The Corporation shall violate or fail to observe any of the terms, provisions, or conditions of its Articles of Incorporation--

then after written notice from Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the existence of any of said conditions and so long as any of said conditions in (a), (b), (c) and (d) above shall continue:

(1) All directors, officers, and employees of the Corporation shall receive compensation at rates not exceeding such maximum limitations as may be fixed by the vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(2) In case Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks, at any time shall notify the Corporation that any director, officer, or employee is not removed from office (and, if requested by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, replaced with a director, officer, or employee, satisfactory to it) within thirty days after receipt by the Corporation of such notice, then, and until such removal and replacement shall have been effected, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(3) The Corporation shall not directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire any real estate for its own use, or lease any real estate for its own use for a term longer than one year, without in each case the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, or a written waiver of voting rights in respect thereto by the holders of such majority; provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to real estate acquired under the provisions of sub-divisions 2 and 3 of section 53 of Senate Bill 227, Laws of 1934.

(4) The Corporation shall not incur indebtedness maturing more than one year from the creation thereof, without the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding or a written waiver of voting rights with respect thereto by the holders of such majority, but the indebtedness herein referred to shall not be construed to include the issuance of circulating notes and the acceptance of time deposits, which may continue to be accepted by the Corporation, under such conditions as may be provided by law.

(14) Rights of preferred stock on liquidation.---In the event of any receivership, conservatorship, liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, before any payment or other distribution, whether in cash, property, or otherwise shall be made to the holders of common stock, the holders of preferred stock shall be entitled to receive, for each share of such stock held by them, an amount equal to the par value thereof, plus an amount equal to all unpaid dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of payment, but shall not be entitled to any other or further payment; provided, however, that a merger or consolidation in accordance with law and these Articles of Incorporation, shall not be deemed a liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation within the meaning of this section 14.

(15). (a) Officers.---The Board of Directors shall elect one of its members President of the Corporation. The Board may designate a director in lieu of the President to be Chairman of the Board, who shall perform such duties as may be designated by the Board. The directors shall have power to elect one or more Vice-Presidents, at least one of whom shall also be a member of the Board of Directors, and who shall be authorized, in the absence of inability of the President from any cause, to perform all acts and duties pertaining to the office of president except as the President only is authorized by law to perform; and to elect or appoint a Cashier, and such other officers and clerks as may be required to transact the business of the Corporation; and, subject to the provisions of sub-paragraphs (1) and (2) of section 13 of Article 3 hereof, to fix the salaries to be paid to them, and to continue them in office or to dismiss them as in the opinion of a majority of the Board the interests of the Corporation may demand.

(b) Powers of Board of Directors.---The Board of Directors shall have the power to define the duties of the officers and clerks of the Corporation, to require bonds from them, and to fix the penalty thereof; to regulate the manner in which election of directors shall be held and to appoint judges of the elections; to make all by-laws that it may be proper for them to make, not inconsistent with law and these Articles of Incorporation, for the general regulation of the business of the Corporation and the management of its affairs, and generally to do and perform all acts that it may be legal for a board of directors to do and perform according to law and within the limits of these Articles of Incorporation.

(16). Special meetings of shareholders.---Except as otherwise specifically provided by statute, special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose at any time by the Board of Directors or by the holders of at least ten per cent of the then outstanding shares of any class. Every such special meeting shall be called by mailing, not less than ten days before the time fixed for the meeting, to all shareholders of record entitled to act and vote at such meeting, at their respective addresses as shown on the Books of the Corporation, a notice stating the purpose of the meeting. Such notice may be waived in writing.

RESOLVED, FOURTH, that each shareholder of record may subscribe within five days from and after the date of this meeting to such issue of preferred stock in proportion to the number of shares of common stock of the Corporation standing on the books of the Corporation in his name; and

RESOLVED, FIFTH, that the Board of Directors through its proper officers, at the expiration of the said five days shall sell the unsubscribed portion of such preferred stock at such price (not less than the par value thereof) to Reconstruction Finance Corporation and/or to such other person or persons as the Board of Directors may deem advisable.

RECORD OF CHARTERS 34-35--STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION OFBANK OF OXFORD
(Name of Bank)Oxford
(City)Lafayette
(State)

RESOLVED, FIRST, that the capital of this Corporation be increased in the sum of $20,000.00 by the issuance of $20,000.00 of preferred stock under the provisions of Section 52 of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, making the total capital of the Corporation $50,000.00, of which $20,000.00 is preferred and $30,000.00 is common stock.

RESOLVED, SECOND, that the Articles of Incorporation be amended by striking out Article _____ and inserting in place thereof the following:

"The Board of Directors shall consist of such number of shareholders, not less than five nor more than twenty-five, as from time to time shall be determined by a majority of the votes to which all shareholders are at the time entitled. A majority of the Board of Directors shall be necessary ~~of Directors shall be necessary~~ to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business."

RESOLVED, THIRD, that the Articles of Incorporation be further amended by striking out Article _____ and inserting in the place thereof the following:

(1) Amount, classes, and shares of capital stock.--The amount of capital stock of the Corporation shall be $50,000.00 divided into classes and shares as follows:

(a) $20,000.00 par value of preferred stock (subject to retirement as hereinafter provided) ~~divided into 400 shares of the par value of $50.00 (1) each; and~~

(b) $30,000.00 par value of common stock (subject to increase upon retirement of preferred stock as provided in the second and third paragraphs of section 4 of this Article _____) divided into 600 shares of the par value of $50.00 each.

(2) Assessability of stock.--The holders of preferred stock shall not be held individually responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts, or engagements of the Corporation, and shall not be liable for assessments to restore impairments in the capital of the Corporation.

(3) Dividends on preferred stock.--The holders of preferred stock, in preference to the holders of common stock, shall be entitled to receive, when and as declared by the Board of Directors, out of net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this Article _____) accruing after August 3rd, 1934 (2). (hereinafter referred to as the "Recapitalization Date"), cash dividends thereon to and including March 31, 1939, at the rate of four percent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter at the rate of five percent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more. Such dividends shall be payable semi-annually on each February 1 and August 1, and shall accrue, as to any given share of such stock, from the date of issuance of such share; provided, however, that, in the case of any share of such stock issued after August 1, 1934, such dividends shall accrue on such shares from the February 1 or August 1, as the case may be, next preceding the date of issuance thereof. Such dividends shall be cumulative so that if dividends at the full rate required by this section 3 to be paid on the preferred stock shall not have been paid upon and declared and set apart for such preferred stock, the deficiency shall be fully paid or declared and set apart before any dividend or other distribution, whether in cash, property, stock, or otherwise, shall be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock. Dividends on the preferred stock shall be deemed to accrue from day to day.

(4) Dividends on common stock.--Dividends or other distributions, whether in cash, property, stock or otherwise, shall, so long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock only out of the net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this Article _____) accruing after the Recapitalization Date.

If any call or purchase for retirement of preferred stock pursuant to the provisions of sections 8 or 9 of this Article _____ would reduce the outstanding capital of the Corporation below the minimum amount at the time required by law, the Board of Directors, prior to or simultaneously with such retirement, shall declare on the common stock out of net profits of the Corporation accruing after the Recapitalization Date, a dividend in an amount equal to the sum required to maintain the capital of the Corporation at such minimum amount after giving effect to such retirement, such dividend to be payable in shares of common stock which shall be issued (without any action on the part of the holders of stock of any class or on the part of the Superintendent of Banks) pro rata to the holders of common stock.

(5) Determination of net profits.--For the purpose of this Article _____, the net profits or net loss (as distinguished from usage of terms "net profits" and "net loss" in reports required by the Superintendent of Banks) of the Corporation shall be determined for each six months' period ending December 31 or June 30 by deducting from the gross earnings from all sources for such period:

(a) All expenses for such period;
(b) All interest accrued during such period;
(c) All losses determined during such period, and such charge-offs and write-downs of assets and transfers to reserves (whether from income, undivided profits or surplus) for such period (including all charge-offs, write-downs and transfers to reserves requested by the Superintendent of Banks for such period) as may be reasonably necessary to make proper provision for doubtful assets, depreciation, and ~~unrecovered~~ losses, but to the extent only that such losses, determined or undetermined, charge-offs, and write-downs of assets exceed reserves previously set up therefor in such period or any prior period, or available unallocated reserves;

(d) Provision for all taxes for such period, including taxes measured by income and taxes based on the ownership of stock in the Corporation paid or payable by the Corporation for the account of its shareholders, without prejudice to such right as the Corporation may have to recover the same;

(e) Such transfers for such period to surplus as may be required by law; provided, however, that transfers to earned surplus as required by section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, shall not be deducted from gross earnings in determining net profits available for the dividend and retirement requirements of the Preferred stock; and

(f) The net loss, if any, determined in accordance with the provisions of this Section 5, accrued since the Recapitalization Date, accumulated to and existing at the beginning of such period; provided, however, that no deductions from gross earnings for the six months' period ending December 31st, 1934 (4), shall be required by reason of any charge-offs or write-downs of assets or transfers to reserves made during said period on account of losses sustained on or prior to the Recapitalization Date.

All ~~reserves~~ over net book value on assets previously charged off or written down or against which reserves have been set up, and all transfers from reserves to surplus or undivided profits (other than transfers made to reflect recoveries already treated as gross earnings), shall be considered gross earnings for the respective periods during which such recoveries or transfers are effected.

(6) Application of net profits.--As long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding the Corporation, on each February 1 and August 1, shall apply the net profits of the Corporation for the six months' period ending on the next preceding December 31 and June 30, as the case may be, to the following purposes and in the following order of priority:

RECORD OF CHARTERS 34-35---STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

(a) To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock accrued to such February 1 or August 1, as the case may be;

(b) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this Article) of a sum equal to forty per cent of the remainder, if any, of such net profits; provided, however, that the aggregate amount paid into the preferred stock retirement fund in any one year need not exceed five per cent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding, whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever; provided, further, however, that unless otherwise elected; from time to time, by the Corporation by action of its Board of Directors, it shall not be required to make such payment into the preferred stock retirement fund except from such net profits as may have accrued from and after December 31, 1935;

Subject to compliance with the provisions of Section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, any balance of net profits for any such period may be applied from time to time to such lawful purposes as may be determined by the Board of Directors, subject, however, to the provisions of Section 7 of this Article.

(7) Limitations on retirement of stock.---Except with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks no preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement by the Corporation unless the then unimpaired capital, surplus and undivided profits of the Corporation, and the retirement funds provided for herein (after giving effect to the proceeds of the issuance of any stock issued to provide funds for such retirement) exceed $52,000.00 (5) by an amount at least equal to the sum necessary to effect such retirement. No shares of preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement unless all accrued dividends (whether or not earned or declared) to the dividend payment date next preceding the date of such retirement shall have been paid on all shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(8) Retirement of preferred stock by purchase.---Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article, whenever the balance in the preferred stock retirement fund shall amount to as much as $1,000.00 (6), the Corporation shall (unless the Board of Directors shall elect to use the entire amount of such balance in the preferred stock retirement fund for the retirement of preferred stock by call as provided in section 9 hereof) within ten days thereafter mail, first-class postage prepaid, to all holders of record of preferred stock at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice specifying the balance in such fund and stating that the same is available for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock at the lowest prices (not in excess of the par value thereof and accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, to the date of purchase) offered within twenty days after the date of such notice. At the expiration of such twenty days, the Corporation shall apply such balance to the purchase for retirement of preferred stock, if obtainable, in accordance with the terms of such notice. Within ten days after such expiration, subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article, the Corporation shall call for retirement, in the manner provided in section 9 hereof, the largest number of shares of preferred stock which can be retired from the balance in such retirement fund remaining after deducting the amount paid or to be paid for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock as aforesaid, and shall set aside from such retirement fund the sum necessary to effect such retirement, but the minimum capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law.

Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article, at any time and from time to time the Corporation may make such lawful transfers from its surplus and/or undivided profits to the preferred stock retirement fund as the Board of Directors may determine. All shares of preferred stock purchased for retirement by the Corporation, whether from the retirement fund or otherwise, shall be cancelled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(9) Retirement of preferred stock by call.---Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article, the Corporation may at any time, at its election as expressed by resolution of the Board of Directors, retire the outstanding preferred stock as a whole, or from time to time, pro rata, or by lot in such equitable manner to carry out the purpose of this section 9 as the Board of Directors of the Corporation in its discretion shall from time to time determine, and provided that the capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount required by law, by paying for each share to be retired a retirement price equal to the par value thereof plus all accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of such retirement. At least thirty days prior written notice of every retirement, stating the retirement date and the retirement price, and the place of payment thereof, shall be mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to the holder of record of each share to be retired, at the address of such holder as shown on the books of the Corporation. Such notice having been so mailed, each holder of shares so called for retirement shall be entitled to receive payment of the retirement price of such shares (without interest) upon surrender to the Corporation, on or after the retirement date, at the place designated in such notice, of the certificate or certificates therefor in transferable form and, if required, properly stamped for transfer. In case less than all of the shares represented by any such certificate are retired, a new certificate shall be issued representing the unretired shares. From and after the retirement date (unless the Corporation shall default in payment of the retirement price), all dividends on shares called for retirement shall cease to accrue, such shares shall be deemed to be no longer outstanding, and all rights of the holders thereof as shareholders of the Corporation, except the right to receive the retirement price, shall terminate. All shares so retired shall be cancelled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(10) Increase or decrease of capital stock: Amendments of Articles of Incorporation, etc.---By the affirmative vote of the holders, voting by classes, of at least two-thirds of the shares of each class of stock at the time outstanding, and not otherwise, and subject to such approval by the Superintendent of Banks and such other conditions as at the time may be required by law---

(a) The capital stock of the Corporation may be increased at any time and from time to time through issuing additional shares of preferred stock and/or common stock, and/or through the creation one or more additional classes of stock; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of preferred stock shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock if the entire proceeds of such issue are to be used for the retirement of shares of preferred stock; and provided further, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock as a stock dividend, pursuant to the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article in connection with the retirement of shares of preferred stock;

(b) The capital stock of the Corporation may be decreased at any time and from time to time to any amount not below the amount at the time required by law; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to the retirement of preferred stock;

(c) The name of the Corporation and/or the place where its operations of discount and deposit are to be carried on may be changed, but this clause shall not be construed to abridge the powers of the Board of Directors under applicable law with reference to the establishment or change of location or closing of branches;

(d) These Articles of Incorporation may be amended at any time and from time to time in any other respect, but not so as to change the respective voting rights of the preferred stock and common stock so long as any of the preferred stock remains outstanding;

(e) The Corporation may be consolidated or merged into or with any other bank;

(f) All or substantially all of the assets and business of the Corporation may be sold or otherwise disposed of;

(g) The Corporation may go into voluntary liquidation; and

(h) Any plan or reorganization of the Corporation may be carried into effect---

Provided, however, that if and as long as the voting rights of the preferred stock are increased in accordance with the provisions of section 12 or 13 of this Article _____ and the fair value of the assets of the Corporation as determined by the Superintendent of Banks shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding, any of the actions specified in the foregoing paragraphs (a) to (h) inclusive, of this section 10 may be taken by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled, and not otherwise, except that the Corporation may not be put into voluntary liquidation without the approval of the Superintendent of Banks.

(11) Preemptive rights.---In case of any increase in the capital stock of the Corporation of any class other than by way of a stock dividend, the new shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all shares of stock of that class at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of shares of such stock of that class held by them respectively, by mailing, first-class postage prepaid, to such holders, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, transferable subscription warrants exercisable at any time on or before thirty days from the date of such mailing. If at the expiration of such subscription rights, any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all other shares of stock of all other classes at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of such shares held by them respectively, and notice shall be given as above provided. If after the expiration of both of such subscription rights any of the new shares ~~shall~~ have not been subscribed for, such unsubscribed new shares may be issued and sold at such price, not less than the par value thereof, to such persons and on such terms as the Board of Directors may determine.

(12) Voting rights.---(a) Except as otherwise provided in sections 10 and 13 of this Article and in this section 12, each holder of stock of any class shall be entitled to vote on all matters one vote for each share of stock of any class held by him.

(b) In all elections of ~~directors~~, each holder of stock of any class shall have the right to vote the votes allocable to the number of shares owned by him for as many persons as there are directors to be elected, or to cumulate such votes and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of votes allocable to his shares shall equal, or to distribute such votes on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall think fit.

(c) In case as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock shall be in arrears (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock); then, and until all arrears of dividends upon the preferred stock shall have been paid and the full dividend on the outstanding preferred stock for the then current semi-annual dividend period shall have been declared and funds set apart for the payment thereof, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(d) At any time while the votes of the preferred stock are increased as provided in paragraph (c) of this section 12 or in sub-paragraph (2) of section 13 of this Article _____, any one or more of the directors, officers, or employees of the Corporation may be removed at any annual or special meeting of shareholders, for or without cause, and their successors elected, by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled.

(13) Other voting rights.---If at any time while the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall hold not less than twenty-five per cent of the total number of shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding---

(a) The Corporation shall be in arrears in the payment of as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock); or

(b) The amounts paid into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this Article _____) on and after February 1, 1937, shall not have amounted in the aggregate to five per cent of the maximum par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding (whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever) multiplied by the number of calendar years which shall have elapsed since January 1, 1936; or

(c) The fair value of the assets of the banking corporation as determined by an examination of the banking corporation by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (which may be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation once in each calendar year if the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall so elect), or as determined by the Superintendent of Banks, shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding; or

(d) The Corporation shall violate or fail to observe any of the terms, provisions, or conditions of its Articles of Incorporation---then after written notice from Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the existence of any of said conditions and so long as any of said conditions in (a), (b), (c) and (d) above shall continue;

(1) All directors, officers, and employees of the Corporation shall receive compensation at rates not exceeding such maximum limitations as may be fixed by the vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(2) In case Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks, at any time shall notify the Corporation that any director, officer or employee of the Corporation is regarded by Reconstruction Finance Corporation as unsatisfactory, and in case such director, officer, or employee is not removed from office (and, if requested by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, replaced with a director, officer, or employee, satisfactory to it) within thirty days after receipt by the Corporation of such notice, then, and until such removal and replacement shall have been effected, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(3) The Corporation shall not directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire any real estate for its own use, or lease any real estate for its own use for a term longer than one year, without in each case the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, or a written waiver of voting rights in respect thereto by the holders of such majority; provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to real estate acquired under the provisions of sub-divisions 2 and 3 of Section 5 of Senate Bill 227, Laws of 1934.

(4) The Corporation shall not incur indebtedness maturing more than one year from the creation thereof, without the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding or a written waiver of voting rights with respect thereto by the holders of such majority, but the indebtedness herein referred to shall not be construed to include the issuance of circulating notes and the acceptance of time deposits, which may continue to be accepted by the Corporation, under such conditions as may be provided by law.

(14) Rights of preferred stock on liquidation.---In the event of any receivership, conservatorship, liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, before any payment or other distribution, whether in cash, property, or otherwise shall be made to the holders of common stock, the holders of preferred stock shall be entitled to receive, for each share of such stock held by them, an amount equal to the par value thereof, plus an amount equal to all unpaid dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of payment, but shall not be entitled to any other or further payment; provided, however, that a merger or consolidation in accordance with law and these Articles of Incorporation, shall not be deemed a liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation within the meaning of this section 14.

(a) Officers.---The Board of Directors shall elect one of its members President of the Corporation. The Board may designate a director in lieu of the President to be Chairman of the Board, who shall perform such duties as may be designated by the Board. The directors shall have power to elect one or more Vice-Presidents, at least one of whom shall also be a member of the Board of Directors, and who shall be authorized, in the absence or inability of the President from any cause, to perform all acts and duties pertaining to the office of president except such as the President only is authorized by law to perform; and to elect or appoint a Cashier, and such other officers and clerks as may be required to transact the business of the Corporation; and, subject to the provisions of sub-paragraphs (1) and (2) of section 13 of Article _____ hereof, to fix the salaries to be paid to them, and to continue them in office or to dismiss them as in the opinion of a majority of the Board the interests of the Corporation may demand.

(b) Powers of Board of Directors.---The Board of Directors shall have the power to define the duties of the officers and clerks of the Corporation, to require bonds from them, and to fix the penalty thereof; to regulate the manner in which election of directors shall be held and to appoint judges of the elections; to make all by-laws that it may be proper for them to make, not inconsistent with law and these Articles of Incorporation, for the general regulation of the business of the Corporation and the management of its affairs, and generally to do and perform all acts that it may be legal for a board of directors to do and perform according to law and within the limits of these Articles of Incorporation.

Special meetings of shareholders.---Except as otherwise specifically provided by statute, special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose at any time by the Board of Directors or by the holders of at least ten per cent of the then outstanding shares of any class. Every such special meeting shall be called by mailing, not less than ten days before the time fixed for the meeting, to all shareholders of record entitled to act and vote at such meeting, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice stating the purpose of the meeting. Such notice may be waived in writing.

RESOLVED, FOURTH, that each shareholder of record may subscribe within five days from and after the date of this meeting to such issue of preferred stock in proportion to the number of shares of common stock of the Corporation standing on the books of the Corporation in his name; and

RESOLVED, FIFTH, that the Board of Directors through its proper officers, at the expiration of the said five days, shall sell the unsubscribed portion of such preferred stock at such price (not less than the par value thereof) to Reconstruction Finance Corporation and/or to such other person or persons as the Board of Directors may deem advisable.

At a meeting of the shareholders of Bank of Oxford, Oxford, Mississippi, held on August 3rd, 1934

August 3rd, 1934 ten days notice of the proposed business having been given by registered mail, all of the foregoing resolutions were adopted by the following vote, the affirmative vote representing 66-2/3% of the total number of shares of capital stock outstanding:

Total number of shares of capital stock	600
Total number of shares represented at the meeting	400
Total number of shares voted in favor of the resolution	399
Total number of shares voted against the resolution	1

I hereby certify that this is a true and correct report (a) of the number of days notice, given by registered mail, of the meeting of shareholders of this bank held on the date above mentioned; (b) of the vote and (c) of the resolutions adopted at said meeting and (d) that a complete list of the shareholders voting therefor and the number of shares voted by each is on file in the bank; (e) that voting permits were procured from the Federal Reserve Board by such holding company affiliates of this bank as voted at said meeting the stock of this bank owned by such holding company affiliates; (f) that no shares of stock of this bank owned by this bank were voted at said meeting; (g) that no shares of stock held by this bank as sole trustee were voted at said meeting; and (h) that no shares of stock of this bank held by this bank as co-trustee were voted at said meeting by said bank; and (i) that no director, other officer or employee acted as proxy at said meeting.

RESOLVED, FIRST, that the capital of this Corporation be increased in the sum of $25,000.00 by the issuance of $25,000.00 of preferred stock under the provisions of Section 52 of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, making the total capital of the Corporation $50,000.00, of which $25,000.00 is preferred and $25,000.00 is common stock.

RESOLVED, SECOND, that the Articles of Incorporation be amended by amending Article 5 and inserting therein the following:

"The Board of Directors shall consist of such number of shareholders, not less than five nor more than twenty-five, as from time to time shall be determined by a majority of the votes to which all shareholders are at the time entitled. A majority of the Board of Directors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business."

RESOLVED, THIRD, that the Articles of Incorporation be further amended by striking out Article 2 and all amendments and inserting in the place thereof the following:

(1) Amount, classes, and shares of capital stock. The amount of capital stock of the Corporation shall be $50,000.00 divided into classes and shares as follows:

(a) $25,000.00 par value of preferred stock (subject to retirement as hereinafter provided) divided into 2000 shares of the par value of $12.50 (1) each; and

(b) $25,000.00 par value of common stock (subject to increase upon retirement of preferred stock as provided in the second and third paragraphs of section 4 of this Article) divided into 1000 shares of the par value of $25.00 each.

(2) Assessability of Stock.—The holders of preferred stock shall not be held individually responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts, or engagements of the Corporation, and shall not be liable for assessments to restore impairments in the capital of the Corporation.

(3) Dividends on preferred stock.—The holders of preferred stock, in preference to the holders of common stock, shall be entitled to receive, when and as declared by the Board of Directors, out of net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this Article) accruing after August 8, 1934 (2), (hereinafter referred to as the "Recapitalization Date"), cash dividends thereon to and including March 31, 1939, at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter at the rate of five percent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more. Such dividends shall be payable semiannually on each February 1 and August 1, and shall accrue, as to any given share of such stock, from the date of issuance of such share; provided, however, that, in the case of any share of such stock issued after August 1, 1934 (8), such dividends shall accrue on such share from the February 1 or August 1, as the case may be, next preceding the date of issuance thereof. Such dividends shall be cumulative so that if dividends at the full rate required by this section 3 to be paid on the preferred stock shall not have been paid upon or declared and set apart for such preferred stock, the deficiency shall be fully paid or declared and set apart before any dividend or other distribution, whether in cash, property, stock, or otherwise, shall be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock. Dividends on the preferred stock shall be deemed to accrue from day to day.

(4) Dividends on common stock.—Dividends or other distributions, whether in cash, property, stock or otherwise, shall, so long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock only out of the net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this Article) accruing after the Recapitalization Date.

If any call or purchase for retirement of preferred stock pursuant to the provisions of sections 8 or 9 of this Article would reduce the outstanding capital of the Corporation below the minimum amount at the time required by law, the Board of Directors, prior to or simultaneously with such retirement, shall declare on the common stock out of net profits of the Corporation accruing after the Recapitalization Date, a dividend in an amount equal to the sum required to maintain the capital of the Corporation at such minimum amount after giving effect to such retirement, such dividend to be payable in shares of common stock which shall be issued (without any action on the part of the holders of stock of any class or on the part of the Superintendent of Banks) pro rata to the holders of common stock.

(5) Determination of net profits.—For the purpose of this Article, the net profits or net loss (as distinguished from usage of terms "net Profits" and "net loss" in reports required by the Superintendent of Banks) of the Corporation shall be determined for each six months' period ending on December 31 or June 30 by deducting from the gross earnings from all sources for such period:

(a) All expenses for such period;
(b) All interest accrued during such period;
(c) All losses determined during such period, and such charge-offs and write-downs of assets, and transfers to reserves (whether from income, undivided profits or surplus) for such period (including all charge-offs, write-downs and transfers to reserves requested by the Superintendent of Banks for such period) as may be reasonably necessary to make proper provision for doubtful assets, depreciation and undetermined losses, but to the extent only that such losses, determined, or undetermined, charge-offs, and write-downs of assets exceed reserves previously set up therefor in such period or any prior period, or available unallocated reserves;

(d) Provision for all taxes for such period, including taxes measured by income and taxes based on the ownership of stock in the Corporation paid or payable by the Corporation for the account of its shareholders, without prejudice to such right as the Corporation may have to recover the same;

(e) Such transfers for such period to surplus as may be required by law; provided, however, that transfers to earned surplus as required by section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, shall not be deducted from gross earnings in determining net profits available for the dividends and retirement requirements of the preferred stock; and

(f) The net loss, if any, determined in accordance with the provisions of this section 5, accrued since the Recapitalization Date, accumulated to and existing at the beginning of such period; provided, however, that no deductions from gross earnings for the six months' period ending December 31, 1934 (4), shall be required by reason of any charge-offs or write-downs of assets or transfers to reserves made during said period on account of losses sustained on or prior to the Recapitalization Date.

All recoveries over net book value on assets previously charged off or written down or against which reserves have been set up, and all transfers from reserves to surplus or undivided profits (other than transfers made to reflect recoveries already treated as gross earnings), shall be considered gross earnings for the respective periods during which such recoveries or transfers are effected.

(6) Application of net profits.—As long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding the Corporation, on each February 1 and August 1, shall apply the next profits of the Corporation for the six months' period ending on the next preceding December 31 and June 30, as the case may be, to the following purposes and in the following order of Priority:

(a) To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock accrued to such February 1 or August 1, as the case may be;

(b) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this Article) of a sum equal to forty per cent of the remainder, if any, of such net profits; provided, however, that the aggregate amount paid into the preferred stock retirement fund in any one year need not exceed five per cent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding, whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value reduced in any manner whatsoever; provided, further, however, that unless otherwise elected, from time to time, by the Corporation by action of its Board of Directors, it shall not be required to make such payment into the preferred stock retirement fund except from such net profits as may have accrued from and after December 31, 1935;

Subject to compliance with the provisions of Section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, any balance of net profits for any such period may be applied from time to time to such lawful purposes as may be determined by the Board of Directors, subject, however, to the provisions of section 7 of this Article.

(7) Limitations on retirement of stock--Except with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks no preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement by the Corporation unless the then unimpaired capital, surplus and undivided profits of the Corporation, and the retirement funds provided for herein (after giving effect to the proceeds of the issuance of any stock issued to provide funds for such retirement) exceed $50,000.00 (5) by an amount at least equal to the sum necessary to effect such retirement. No shares of preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement unless all accrued dividends (whether or not earned or declared) to the dividend payment date next preceding the date of such retirement shall have been paid on all shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(8) Retirement of preferred stock by purchase.---Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article _____, whenever the balance in the preferred stock retirement fund shall amount to as much as $1,000.00 (6), the Corporation shall (unless the Board of Directors shall elect to use the entire amount of such balance in the preferred stock retirement fund for the retirement of preferred stock by call as provided in section 9 hereof) within ten days thereafter mail, first-class postage prepaid, to all holders of record of preferred stock at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice specifying the balance in such fund and stating that the same is available for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock at the lowest prices (not in excess of the par value thereof and accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, to the date of purchase) offered within twenty days after the date of such notice. At the expiration of such twenty days, the Corporation shall apply such balance to the purchase for retirement of preferred stock, if obtainable, in accordance with the terms of such notice. Within ten days after such expiration, subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article _____, the Corporation shall call for retirement, in the manner provided in section 9 hereof, the largest number of shares of preferred stock which can be retired from the balance in such retirement fund remaining after deducting the amount paid or to be paid for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock as aforesaid, and shall set aside from such retirement fund the sum necessary to effect such retirement, but the minimum capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law.

Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article _____, at any time and from time to time the Corporation may make such lawful transfers from its surplus and/or undivided profits to the preferred stock retirement fund as the Board of Directors may determine. All shares of preferred stock purchase for retirement by the Corporation, whether from the retirement fund or otherwise, shall be canceled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(9) Retirement of preferred stock by call.---Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article _____, the Corporation may at any time, at its election as expressed by resolution of the Board of Directors, retire the outstanding preferred stock as a whole, or from time to time in part, pro rata, or by lot in such equitable manner to carry out the purpose of this section 9 as the ~~Board~~ Board of Directors of the Corporation in its discretion shall from time to time determine, and provided always that the capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount required by law, by paying for each share to be retired a retirement price equal to the par value thereof plus all accrued dividends thereon, whether or not ~~earned~~ or declared, accrued to the date of such retirement. At least thirty days prior written notice of every such retirement, stating the retirement date and the retirement price, and the place of payment thereof, shall be mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to the holder of record of each share to be retired, at the address of such holder as shown on the books of the Corporation. Such notice having been so mailed, each holder of shares so called for retirement shall be entitled to receive payment of the retirement price of such shares (without interest) upon surrender to the Corporation, on or ~~after~~ the retirement date, at the place designated in such notice, of the certificate or certificates therefor in transferable form and, if required, properly stamped for transfer. In case less than all of the shares represented by any such certificate are retired, a new certificate shall be issued representing the ~~unretired~~ shares. From and after the retirement date (unless the Corporation shall default in payment of the retirement ~~price~~) ~~unpaid dividends on shares called for retirement shall cease to accrue, such shares shall be deemed to be no longer outstanding, and all rights of the holders thereof as shareholders of the Corporation, except the right to receive the retirement price, shall terminate. All shares so retired shall be canceled forthwith and shall not be reissued.~~

(10) Increase or decrease of capital stock:--Amendments of Articles of Incorporation, etc.--By the affirmative vote of the holders, voting by classes, of at least two-thirds of the shares of each class of stock at the time outstanding, and not otherwise, and subject to such approval by the Superintendent of Banks and such other conditions as at the time may be required by law---

(a) The capital stock of the Corporation may be increased at any time and from time to time through issuing additional shares of preferred stock and/or common stock, and/or through the creation of one or more additional classes of stock; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of preferred stock shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock if the entire proceeds of such issue are to be used for the retirement of shares of preferred stock; and provided further, that no vote of the holders of ^{or stock} any class shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock as a stock dividend, pursuant to the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article in connection with the retirement of shares of preferred stock;

(b) The capital stock of the Corporation may be decreased at any time and from time to time to any amount not below the amount at the time required by law; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to the retirement of preferred stock;

(c) The name of the Corporation and/or the place where its operations of discount and deposit are to be carried on may be changed, but this clause shall not be construed to abridge the powers of the Board of Directors under applicable law with reference to the establishment or change of location or closing of branches:

(d) These Articles of Incorporation may be amended at any time and from time to time in any other respect, but no so as to change the respective voting rights of the preferred stock and common stock so long as any of the preferred stock remains outstanding;

(e) The Corporation may be consolidated or merged into or with any other bank;

(f) All or substantially all of the assets and business of the Corporation may be sold or otherwise disposed of:

(g) The Corporation may go into voluntary liquidation; and

(h) Any plan or reorganization of the Corporation may be carried into effect---

Provided, however, that if and as long as the voting rights of the preferred stock are increased in accordance with the provisions of sections 12^{or 13} of this Article _____ and the fair value of the assets of the Corporation as determined by the Superintendent of Banks shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding, any of the actions specified in the foregoing paragraphs (a) to (h) inclusive, of this section 19 may be taken by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled, and not otherwise, except that Corporation may not be put into voluntary liquidation without the approval of the Superintendent of Banks.

(11) Preemptive rights.--In case of any increase in the capital stock of the Corporation of any class other than by way of a stock dividend, the new shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all shares of stock of that class at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of shares of such stock of that class held by them respectively, by mailing, first-class postage prepaid, to such holders, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the corporation, transferable subscription warrants exercisable at any time on or before thirty days from the date of such mailing. If at the expiration of such subscription rights, any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all other shares of stock of all other classes at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of such shares held by them respectively, and notice shall be given as above provided. If at the expiration of both of such subscription rights any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such unsubscribed new shares may be issued and sold at such price, not less than the par value thereof, to such persons and on such terms as the Board of Directors may determine.

(12) Voting rights.--(a) Except as otherwise provided in sections 10 and 13 of this Article and in this section 12, each holder of stock of any class shall be entitled to vote on all matters one vote for each share of stock of any class held by him.

(b) In all elections of directors, each holder of stock of any class shall have the right to vote, allocable to the number of shares owned by him for as many persons as there are directors to be elected, or to cumulate such votes and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of votes allocable to his shares shall equal, or to distribute such votes on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall think fit.

(c) In case as many as two semi-annual dividends payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock shall be in arrears (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock), then, and until all arrears of dividends upon the preferred stock shall have been paid and the full dividend on the outstanding preferred stock for the then current semi-annual dividend period shall have been declared and funds set apart for the payment thereof, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rate share of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(d) At any time while the votes of the preferred stock are increased as provided in paragraph (c) of this section 12 or in sub-paragraph (2) of section 13 of this Article, any one or more of the directors, officers, or employees of the Corporation may be removed at any annual or special meeting of shareholders, for or without cause, and their successors elected, by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled.

(13) Other voting rights.--If at any time the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall hold not less than twenty-five per cent of the total number of shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding--

(a) The Corporation shall be in arrears in the payment of as many as two semi-annual dividends payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock); or

(b) The amounts paid into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this Article) on and after February 1, 1937, shall not have amounted in the aggregate to five per cent of the maximum par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding (whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever) multiplied by the number of calendar years which shall have elapsed since January 1, 1936; or

(c) The fair value of the assets of the banking corporation as determined by an examination of the banking corporation by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (which may be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation once in each calendar year if the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall so elect), or as determined by the Superintendent of Banks, shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding; or

(d) The Corporation shall violate or fail to observe any of the terms, provisions, or conditions of its Articles of Incorporation--

then after written notice from Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the existence of any of said conditions and so long as any of said conditions in (a), (b), (c) and (d) above shall continue:

(1) All directors, officers, and employees of the Corporation shall receive compensation at rates not exceeding such maximum limitations as may be fixed by the vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(2) In case Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks, at any time shall notify the Corporation that any director, officer or employee of the Corporation is regarded by Reconstruction Finance Corporation as unsatisfactory, and in case such director, officer, or employee is not removed from office (and, if requested by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, replaced with a director, officer, or employee, satisfactory to it) within thirty days after receipt by the Corporation of such notice, then, and until such removal and replacement shall have been effected, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rate share of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(3) The Corporation shall not directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire any real estate for its own use, or lease any real estate for its own use for a term longer than one year, without in each case the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, or a written waiver of voting rights in respect thereto by the holders of such majority; provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to real estate acquired under the provisions of sub-divisions 2 and 3 of Section 53 of Senate Bill 227, Laws of 1934.

(4) The Corporation shall not incur indebtedness maturing more than one year from the creation thereof, without the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding or a written waiver of voting rights with respect thereto by the holders of such majority, but the indebtedness herein referred to shall not be construed to include the issuance of circulating notes and the acceptance of time deposits, which may continue to be accepted by the Corporation, under such conditions as may be provided by law.

(14) Rights of preferred stock on liquidation.--In the event of any receivership, conservatorship, liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, before any payment or other distribution, whether in cash, property, or otherwise shall be made to the holders of common stock, the holders of preferred stock shall be entitled to receive, for each share of such stock held by them, an amount equal to the par value thereof, plus an amount equal to all unpaid dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of payment, but shall not be entitled to any other or further payment; provided, however, that a merger or consolidation in accordance with law and these Articles of Incorporation, shall not be deemed a liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation within the meaning of this section 14.

(a) Officers.--The Board of Directors shall elect one of its members President of the Corporation. The Board may designate a director in lieu of the President to be Chairman of the Board, who shall perform such duties as may be designated by the Board. The directors shall have power to elect one or more Vice-Presidents, at least one of whom shall also be a member of the Board of Directors, and who shall be authorized, in the absence or inability of the President, from any cause, to perform all acts and duties pertaining to the office of president except such as the President only is authorized by law to perform; and to elect or appoint a Cashier, and such other Officers and clerks as may be required to transact the business of the Corporation; and, subject to the provisions of subparagraphs (1) and (2) of section 13 of Article _____ hereof, to fix the salaries to be paid to them, and to continue them in office or to dismiss them as in the opinion of a majority of the Board the interests of the Corporation may demand.

(b) Powers of Board of Directors.---The Board of Directors shall have the powers to define the duties of the officers and clerks of the Corporation, to require bonds of them, and to fix the penalty thereof; to regulate the manner in which election of directors shall be held and to appoint judges of the elections; to make all by-laws that it may be proper for them to make, not inconsistent with law and these Articles of Incorporation, for the general regulation of the business of the Corporation and the management of its affairs, and generally to do and perform all acts that it may be legal for a board of directors to do and perform according to laws and within the limits of these Articles of Incorporation.

. Special meetings of shareholders.---Except as otherwise specifically provided by statute, special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose at any time by the Board of Directors or by the holders of at least ten per cent of the then outstanding shares of any class. Every such special meeting shall be called by mailing, not less than ten days before the time fixed for the meeting, to all shareholders of record entitled to act and vote at such meeting, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice stating the purpose of the meeting. Such notice may be waived in writing.

RESOLVED, FOURTH, that each shareholders of record may subscribe within five days from the date of this meeting to such issue of preferred stock in proportion to the number of shares of common stock of the Corporation standing on the books of the Corporation in his name; and

RESOLVED, FIFTH, that the Board of Directors through its proper officers, at the expiration of the said five days, shall sell the unsubscribed portion of such preferred stock at such price (not less than the par value thereof) to Reconstruction Finance Corporation and/or to such other person or persons as the Board of Directors may deem advisable.

At a meeting of the shareholders of BANK OF PONTOTOC, Pontotoc, Mississippi, held on August 8th, 1934, 10 days notice of the proposed business having been given by registered mail, all of the foregoing resolutions were adopted by the following vote,-- the affirmative vote representing 60.6% of the total number of shares of capital stock outstanding:

Total number of shares represented at the meeting	606
Total number of shares voted in favor of the resolution	606
Total number of shares voted against the resolution	NONE

I hereby certify that this is a true and correct report (a) of the number of days notice, given by registered mail, of the meeting of shareholders of this bank on the date above mentioned; (b) of the vote and (c) of the resolution adopted at said meeting and (d) that a complete list of the shareholders voting therefor and the number of shares voted by each is on file in the bank; (e) that voting permits were procured from the Federal Reserve Board by such holding company affiliates of this bank as voted at said meeting the stock of this bank owned by such holding company affiliates; (f) that no shares of stock of this bank owned by this bank were voted at said meeting; (g) that no shares of stock held by this bank as sole trustee were voted at said meeting; and (h) that no shares of stock of this bank held by this bank as co-trustee were voted at said meeting by this bank; and (i) that no director, other officer or employee acted as proxy at said meeting.

SUGGESTED FORM OF AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION FOR CONTINUING MISSISSIPPI STATE BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES ISSUING ONE CLASS OF
PREFERRED STOCK

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION OF

Citizens Bank

Coldwater.
(City)

Tate
(County)

Mississippi
(State)

RESOLVED, FIRST, that the capital of this Corporation be increased in the sum of $7,500.00 by the issuance of $7,500.00 of preferred stock under the provisions of Section 52 of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, making the total capital of the Corporation $20,000.00, of which $7,500.00 is preferred and $12,500.00 is common stock.

RESOLVED, SECOND, that the Articles of Incorporation be amended by striking out Article 2 of Laws (Page 39) and inserting in place thereof the following:

"The Board of Directors shall consist of such number of shareholders, not less than five nor more than twenty-five, as from time to time shall be determined by a majority of the votes to which all shareholders are at the time entitled. A majority of the Board of Directors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business."

RESOLVED, THIRD, That the Articles of Incorporation be further amended by striking out Articles Four and inserting in the place thereof the following:

(1) Amount, classes, and shares of capital stock.-- The amount of capital stock of the Corporation shall be $20,000.00 divided into classes and shares as follows:

(a) $7,500.00 par value of preferred stock (subject to retirement as hereinafter provided) divided into 100 shares of the par value of $75.00 (1) each; and

(b) $12,500.00 par value of common stock (subject to increase upon retirement of preferred stock as provided in the second and third paragraphs of section 4 of this Article) divided into 125 Shares of the par value of $100.00 each.

(2) Assessability of stock.--The holders of preferred stock shall not be held individually responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts, or engagements of the Corporation, and shall not be liable for assessments to restore impairments in the capital of the Corporation.

(3) Dividends on preferred stock.--The holders of preferred stock, in preference to the holders of common stock, shall be entitled to receive, when as declared by the Board of Directors, out of net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this Article) accruing after 1934 (2), (hereinafter referred to as the "Recapitalization Date"), cash dividends thereon to and including March 31, 1939, at the rate of four percent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter at the rate of five percent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more. Such dividends shall be payable semi-annually on each February 1 and August 1, and shall accrue, as to any given share of such stock, from the date of issuance of such share; provided, however, that, in the case of any share of such stock issued after August 1, 1934 (3), such dividends shall accrue on such share from the February 1 or August 1, as the case may be, next preceding the date of issuance thereof. Such dividends shall be cumulative so that if dividends at the full rate required by this section 3 to be paid on the preferred stock shall not have been paid upon or declared and set apart for such preferred stock, the deficiency shall be fully paid or declared and set apart before any dividend or other distribution, whether in cash, property, stock, or otherwise, shall be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock. Dividends on the preferred stock shall be deemed to accrue from day to day.

(4) Dividends on common stock.--Dividends or other distributions, whether in cash, property, stock or otherwise, shall, so long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock only out of the net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this Article) accruing after the Recapitalization Date.

If any call or purchase for retirement of preferred stock pursuant to the provisions of sections 8 or 9 of this Article would reduce the outstanding capital of the Corporation below the minimum amount at the time required by law, the Board of Directors, prior to or simultaneously with such retirement, shall declare on the common stock out of net profits of the Corporation accruing after the Recapitalization Date, a dividend in an amount equal to the sum required to maintain the capital of the Corporation at such minimum amount after giving effect to such retirement, such dividend to be payable in shares of common stock which shall be issued (without any action on the part of the holders of stock of any class or on the part of the Superintendent of Banks) pro rata to the holders of common stock.

(5) Determination of net profits.--For the purpose of this Article, the net profits or net loss (as distinguished from usage or terms "net profits" and "net loss" in reports required by the Superintendent of Banks) of the Corporation shall be determined for each six months' period ending on December 31 or June 30 by deducting from the gross earnings from all sources for such period:

- (a) All expenses for such period;
- (b) All interest ~~accrued~~ accrued during such period;
- (c) All losses determined during such period, and such charge-offs and write-downs of assets and transfers to reserves (whether from income, undivided profits or surplus) for such period (including all charge-offs, write-downs and transfers to reserves requested by the Superintendent of Banks for such period) as may be reasonably necessary to make proper provision for doubtful assets, depreciation, and undetermined losses, but to the extent only that such losses, determined or undetermined, charge-offs, and write-

- downs of assets exceed reserves previously set up therefor in such period or any prior period, or available unallocated reserves;
- (d) Provisions for all taxes for such period, including taxes measured by income and taxes based on the ownership of stock in the Corporation paid or payable by the Corporation for the account of its shareholders, without prejudice to such right as the Corporation may have to recover the same;
 - (e) Such transfers for such period to surplus as may be required by law; provided, however, that transfers to earned surplus as required by section 7-(b) or Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, shall not be deducted from gross earnings in determining net profits available for the dividend and retirement requirements or the preferred stock; and
 - (f) The net loss, if any, determined in accordance with the provisions of this section 5, accrued since the Recapitalization Date, accumulated to and existing at the beginning of such period; provided, however, that no deductions from gross earnings for the six months' period ending December 31, 1934, shall be required by reason of any charge-offs or write-downs of assets or transfers to reserves made during said period on account of losses sustained on or prior to the recapitalization date.

All recoveries over net book value on assets perviously charged off or written down or against which reserves have been set up, and all transfers from reserves or surplus or undivided profits (other than transfers made to reflect recoveries already treated as gross earnings), shall be considered gross earnings for the respective periods during which such recoveries or transfers are effected.

(6) Application of net profits.--As long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding the Corporation, on each February 1 and August 1, shall apply the net profits of the Corporation for the six months' period ending on the next preceding December 31 and June 30, as the case may be, to the following purposes and in the following order of priority:

- (a) To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock accrued to such February 1 and August 1, as the case may be;
- (b) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this Article) of a sum equal to forty per cent of the remainder, if any, of such net profits; provided, however, that the aggregate amount paid into the preferred stock retirement fund in any one year need not exceed five per cent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding, whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever; provided, further, however, that unless otherwise elected, from time to time, by the Corporation by action of its Board of Directors, it shall not be required to make such payment into the preferred stock retirement fund except from such net profits as may have accrued from and after December 31, 1935;

Subject to compliance with the provisions of Section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, any balance of net profits for any such period may be applied from time to time to such lawful purposes as may be determined by the Board of Directors, subject, however, to the provisions of section 7 of this Article.

(7) Limitations on retirement of stock.--Except with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks no preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement by the Corporation unless the then unimpaired capital, surplus and undivided profits of the Corporation, and the retirement funds provided for herein (after giving effect to the proceeds of the issuance of any stock issued to provide funds for such retirement) exceed $20,000.00 (5) by an amount at least equal to the sum necessary to effect such retirement. No shares of preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement unless all accrued dividends (whether or not earned or declared) to the dividend payment date next preceding the date of such retirement shall have been paid on all shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(8) Retirement of preferred stock by purchase.--Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article, whenever the balance in the preferred stock retirement fund shall amount to as much as $1,000.00 (6), the Corporation shall (unless the Board of Directors shall elect to use the entire amount of such balance in the preferred stock retirement fund for the retirement of preferred stock by call as provided in section 9 hereof) within ten days thereafter mail, first-class postage prepaid, to all holders of record of preferred stock, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice specifying the balance in such fund and stating that the same is available for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock at the lowest prices (not in excess of the par value thereof and accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, to the date of purchase) offered within twenty days after the date of such notice. At the expiration of such twenty days, the Corporation shall apply such balance to the purchase for retirement of preferred stock, if obtainable, in accordance with the terms of such notice. Within ten days after such expiration, subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article, the Corporation shall call for retirement, in the manner provided in section 9 hereof, the largest number of shares of preferred stock which can be retired from the balance in such retirement fund remaining after deducting the amount paid or to be paid for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock as aforesaid, and shall set aside from such retirement fund the sum necessary to effect such retirement, but the minimum capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law. Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article, at any time and from time to time the Corporation may make such lawful transfers from its surplus and/or undivided profits to the preferred stock retirement fund as the Board of Directors may determine. All shares of preferred stock purchased for retirement by the Corporation, whether from the retirement fund or otherwise, shall be cancelled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(9) Retirement of preferred stock by call.--Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article, the Corporation may at any time, at its election as expressed by resolution of the Board of Directors, retire the outstanding preferred stock as a whole, or from time to time in part, pro rata, or by lot in such equitable manner to carry out the purpose of this section 9 as the Board of Directors or the Corporation in its discretion shall from time to time determine, and provided always that the capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount required by law, by paying for each share to be retired a retirement price equal to the par value thereof plus all accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of such retirement. At least thirty days prior written notice of every such retirement, stating the retirement date and the retirement price, and the place of payment thereof, shall be mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to the holder of record of each share to be retired, at the address of such holder as shown on the books of the Corporation. Such notice having been so mailed, each holder of shares so called for retirement shall be entitled to receive payment of the retirement price of such shares (without interest) upon surrender to the Corporation, on or after the retirement date, at the place designated in such notice, or the certificate or certificates therefor in transferable form and, if required, properly stamped for transfer. In case less than all of the shares represented by any such certificate are retired, a new certificate shall be issued representing the unretired shares. From and after the retirement date (unless the Corporation shall default in payment of the retirement price), all dividends on shares called for retirement shall cease to accrue, such shares shall be deemed to be no longer outstanding, and all rights of the holders thereof as shareholders of the Corporation, except the right to receive the retirement price, shall terminate. All shares so retired shall be canceled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(10) Increase or decrease of capital stock; Amendments of Articles of Incorporation, etc.-- by the affirmative vote of the holders, voting by classes, or at least two-thirds of the shares of each class of stock at the time outstanding, and not otherwise, and subject to such approval by the Superintendent of Banks and such other conditions as at the time may be required by law--

(a) The capital stock of the Corporation may be increased at any time and from time to time through issuing additional shares and/or common stock, and/or through the creation of one or more additional classes of stock; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of preferred stock shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock if the entire proceeds of such issue are to be used for the retirement of shares of preferred stock; and provided further, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock as a stock dividend, pursuant to the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article _____ in connection with the retirement of shares of preferred stock;

(b) The capital stock of the Corporation may be decreased at any time and from time to time to any amount not below the amount at the time required by law; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to the retirement of preferred stock;

(c) The name of the Corporation and/or the place where its operations of discount and deposit are to be carried on may be changed, but this clause shall not be construed to abridge the powers of the Board of Directors under applicable law with reference to the establishment or change of location or closing of branches;

(d) These Articles of Incorporation may be amended at any time and from time to time in any other respect, but not so as to change the respective voting rights of the preferred stock and common stock so long as any of the preferred stock remains outstanding;

(e) The Corporation may be consolidated or merged into or with any other bank;

(f) All or substantially all of the assets and business of the Corporation may be sold or otherwise disposed of;

(g) The Corporation may go into voluntary liquidation; and

(h) Any plan or reorganization of the Corporation may be carried into effect-- provided, however, that if and as long as the voting rights of the preferred stock are increased in accordance with the provisions of sections 12 or 13 of this Article _____ and the fair value of the assets of the Corporation as determined by the Superintendent of Banks shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding, any of the actions specified in the foregoing paragraphs (a) to (h) inclusive, of this section 10 may be taken by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled, and not otherwise, except that the Corporation may not be put into voluntary liquidation without the approval of the Superintendent of Banks.

(11) Preemptive rights.--In case of any increase in the capital stock of the Corporation of any class other than by way of a stock dividend, the new shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all shares of stock of that class at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of shares of such stock of that class held by them respectively, by mailing, first-class postage prepaid, to such holders, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, transferable subscription warrants exercisable at any time on or before thirty days from the date of such mailing. If at the expiration of such subscription rights, any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all other shares of stock of all other classes at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of such shares held by them respectively, and notice shall be given as above provided. If at the expiration of both such subscription rights any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such unsubscribed new shares may be issued and sold at such price, not less than the par value thereof, to such persons and on such terms as the Board of Directors may determine.

(12) Voting rights.--(a) Except as otherwise provided in sections 10 and 13 of this Article _____ and in this section 12, each holder of stock of any class shall be entitled to vote on all matters one vote for each share or stock of any class held by him.

(b) In all elections of directors, each holder of stock of any class shall have the right to vote the votes allocable to the number of shares owned by him for as many persons as there are directors to be elected, or to cumulate such votes and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of votes allocable to his shares, equal, or to distribute such votes on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall think fit.

(c) In case as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock shall be in arrears (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock), then, and until all arrears or dividends upon the preferred stock shall have been paid and the full dividend on the outstanding preferred stock for the then current semi-annual dividend period shall have been declared and funds set apart for the payment thereof, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(d) At any time while the votes of the preferred stock are increased as provided in paragraph (c) of this section 12 or in sub-paragraph (2) of section 13 or this Article _____, any one or more of the directors, officers, or employees of the Corporation may be removed at any annual or special meeting of shareholders, for or without cause, and their successors elected, by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled.

(13) Other voting rights.--If at any ^{time} ~~time~~ while the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall hold not less than twenty-five per cent of the total number of shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding--

- (a) The Corporation shall be in arrears in the payment of as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock); or
- (b) The amounts paid into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this Article _____) on and after February 1, 1937, shall not have amounted in the aggregate to five percent of the maximum par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding (whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever) multiplied by the number of calendar years which shall have elapsed since January 1, 1936; or
- (c) The fair value of the assets of the banking corporation as determined by an examination of the banking corporation by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (which may be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation once in each calendar year if the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall so elect), or as determined by the Superintendent of Banks, shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding; or
- (d) The Corporation shall violate or fail to observe any of the terms, provisions, or conditions of its Articles of Incorporation--

then after written notice from Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the existence of any of said conditions and so long as any of said conditions in (a), (b), (c) and (d) above shall continue:

(1) All directors, officers, and employees of the Corporation shall receive compensation at rates not exceeding such maximum limitations as may be fixed by the vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(2) In case Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks, at any time shall notify the Corporation that any director, officer, ^{or} employee of the Corporation is regarded by Reconstruction Finance Corporation as unsatisfactory, and in case such director, officer, or employee is not removed from office (and, if requested by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, replaced with a director, officer, or employee, satisfactory to it) within thirty days after receipt by the Corporation of such notice, then, and until such removal and replacement shall have been effected, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(3) The Corporation shall not directly ^{or} purchase or otherwise acquire any real estate for its own use, or lease any real estate for its own use for a term longer than one year, without in each case the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, or a written waiver or voting rights in respect thereto by the holders of such majority; provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to real estate acquired under the provisions or subdivisions 2 and 3 of Section 53 of Senate Bill 227, Laws of 1934.

(4) The Corporation shall not incur indebtedness maturing more than one year from the creation thereof, without the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding or a written waiver or voting rights with respect thereto by the holders of such majority, but the indebtedness herein referred to shall not be construed to include the issuance of circulating notes and the acceptance of time deposits, which may continue to be accepted by the Corporation, under such conditions as may be provided by law.

(14) Rights of preferred stock on Liquidation.--In the event of any receivership, conservatorship, liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation, whether voluntary, ^{or involuntary,} before any payment or other distribution, whether in cash, property, or otherwise shall be made to the holders of common stock, the holders of preferred stock shall be entitled to receive, for each share of such stock held by them, an amount equal to the par value thereof, plus an amount equal to all unpaid dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of payment, but shall not be entitled to any other or further payment; provided, however, that a merger or consolidation in accordance with law and these Articles of Incorporation, shall not be deemed a liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation within the meaning of this section 14.

(a) Officers.--The Board of Directors shall elect one of its members President of the Corporation. The Board may designate a director in lieu of the President to be Chairman of the Board, who shall perform such duties as may be designated by the Board. The directors shall have power to elect one or more Vice Presidents, at least one of whom shall also be a member of the board of Directors, and who shall be authorized, in the absence or inability of the President from any cause, to perform all acts and duties pertaining to the office or president except such as the President only is authorized by law to perform; and to elect or appoint a Cashier, and such other officers and clerks as may be required to transact the business of the corporation; and, subject to the provisions of sub-paragraphs (1) and (2) of section 13 or Article _____ hereof, to fix the salaries to be paid to them, and to continue them in office or to dismiss them as in the opinion of a majority of the Board the interests of the Corporation may demand.

(b) Powers of Board or Directors.--The Board of Directors shall have the power to define the duties of the officers and clerks of the Corporation, to require bonds from them, and to fix the penalty thereof; to regulate the manner in which election of directors shall be held and to appoint judges of the elections; to make all by-laws that it may be proper for them to make, not inconsistent with law and these Articles of Incorporation, for the general regulation of the business of the Corporation and the management of its affairs, and generally to do and perform all acts that it may be legal for a board of directors to do and perform according to law and within the limits of these Articles of Incorporation.

RECORD OF CHARTERS 34-35---STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

Special meetings of shareholders.---Except as otherwise specifically provided by statute, special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose at any time by the Board of Directors or by the holders or at least ten per cent of the then outstanding shares of any class. Every such special meeting shall be called by mailing, not less than ten days before the time fixed for the meeting, to all shareholders of record entitled to act and vote at such meeting, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice stating the purpose of the meeting. Such notice may be waived in writing.

RESOLVED, FOURTH, that each shareholder of record may subscribe within five days from and after the date of this meeting to such issue of preferred stock in proportion to the number of shares of common stock of the Corporation standing on the books of the Corporation in his name; and officers, at the expiration of the said five days, shall sell the unsubscribed portion of such preferred stock at such price (not less than the par value thereof) to Reconstruction Finance Corporation and/or to such other person or persons as the Board of Directors may deem advisable.

CHARTER OF INCORPORATION
DELTA PLANTING COMPANY

- (1) The corporate title of this Company shall be "DELTA PLANTING COMPANY".
(2) The names and post office addresses of the incorporators are:

Oscar Johnston,	Scott, Mississippi
A. F. Toler,	Scott, Mississippi
H. S. Sharpe,	Deeson, Mississippi,
W. F. Stout,	Scott, Mississippi.

- (3) The domicile of the corporation is Deeson, Bolivar County, Mississippi.

- (4) The authorized capital is 5,000 shares of no par value, common stock, and 150 shares of preferred stock, par value $100.00 per share.

The shares of common stock entitle the holders thereof to all of the rights and privileges, and subject them to all the restrictions and limitations imposed by law, including the right to control and direct the operation of the Company, to vote one vote for each share of stock with respect to all business which may lawfully be transacted by shareholders of the corporation. The shares of preferred stock shall entitle the holders thereof to vote only in the election of directors or managers of the corporation, and in such elections every stockholder shall have the right to vote in person or by proxy the number of shares owned by him for as many persons as there are directors to be elected, or to cumulate said shares so as to give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of his shares of stock shall equal, or to distribute on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall see fit; and such directors shall not be elected in any other manner.

The Management of the corporation shall be under the control of the holders of the common stock and except in the case of election of directors the holders of the preferred stock shall have no voice or vote in connection with the management, operation and/or dissolution of the corporation. The preferred stock shall be of the class or character commonly known as six per cent cumulative preferred stock.

Annually, from the earnings of the corporation, the directors may, at their discretion, declare a dividend or dividends in such amount or amounts as they may see fit, provided, however, if a dividend is declared it shall be applicable to all outstanding stock, both common and preferred, if the aggregate of the dividends then declared for a fiscal year shall be six per cent or less. The Board of Directors may, subject to the conditions herein named, declare a dividend payable to holders of the common stock for an amount in excess of six per cent, provided at the same time a dividend of six per cent be declared and paid to the holders of the preferred stock, and provided the Company shall not be in arrears for any dividends owing to the holders of the preferred stock for prior years. The preferred stock shall be entitled to an annual dividend of six per cent, and if in any year such dividends be not paid on the preferred stock, such unpaid dividend or portion thereof shall be carried forward into succeeding years, and the holders of preferred stock shall be entitled to receive in such subsequent years dividends increased by the amount so carried forward, with interest thereon computed at the rate of six per cent per annum from the expiration of the fiscal year for which the dividend was due until paid. No dividend shall be paid upon the common stock when and while the corporation is in default in the matter of paying dividends as herein required on the preferred stock. The corporation shall, within a period of five years from the date of its organization, retire all preferred stock issued pursuant hereto, and after the expiration of said period of five years no preferred stock may be issued, but thereafter the authorized capital stock of the corporation shall be 5,000 shares of no par value stock. In any year in which the corporation proposes to retire any of the preferred stock, the corporation shall, through its Board of Directors, determine the proportion of the outstanding preferred stock to be retired and shall give notice of this to holders of the preferred stock who are required to surrender their stock certificate or certificates evidencing the number of shares of stock to be retired for cancellation. The corporation shall pay for the preferred stock retired, par of $100.00 per share, plus such sum as may be required to pay the dividend of six per cent to which the preferred stock is entitled. The retirement of the preferred stock shall be uniform as between all shareholders, so that the outstanding interest as evidenced by each share of preferred stock shall remain at all times uniform.

No dividend in excess of six per cent may be declared upon the common stock so long as there shall be outstanding shares of preferred stock, and no dividend at all shall be declared upon the common stock in any of the first years of existence of the corporation until there shall be retired during that year as much as twenty per cent of the outstanding preferred stock.

- (5) The common stock, which is without par value, shall be sold at such price as may be fixed from time to time by the Board of Directors, who are hereby specifically authorized to fix the sale price of the common stock. The preferred stock shall be sold or given in exchange for property or services at par.

- (6) The period of existence of the corporation shall be for fifty years.

- (7) The rights and powers that may be exercised by the corporation, in addition to those herein specifically enumerated, are those powers conferred by the provisions of Chapter 100 of Mississippi Code of 1930 and amendments thereto. In addition to the rights and powers conferred by provisions of said Chapter 100 of Mississippi Code of 1930, the purpose for which this corporation is created and the rights, powers and privileges conferred upon it not contrary to law are as follows:-

(a) To buy, sell, own, hold, rent, lease, mortgage or otherwise acquire and dispose of and to manage, operate, clear, drain, irrigate, control and conduct farms, plantations, ranches, and orchards of every description and thereon to plant, raise, cultivate, produce, sell and deal in garden products, fruits, crops, timber, cattle, sheep, hogs, horses, poultry, and any and all kinds of vegetable, dairy, animal or edible products and provisions, provided nothing herein contained shall authorize the corporation to acquire lands contrary to any applicable laws of the State of Mississippi.

(b) To undertake, engage in, and carry on in all their branches, parts and details, either for itself, or as agent, trustee or broker for other persons, firms or corporation, the the businesses, enterprises and operations or, planting, producing, growing, cultivating, gathering, ginning, grading, cleaning, baling, compressing, storing, warehousing, buying, selling, exporting, transporting, carrying, manufacturing, and working cotton, and other fibres, materials substances and the products and by-products thereof.

(c) To produce, prepare, manufacture, refine, buy, sell, export and generally deal in cotton seed, cotton oil, and other oils, sorghum pulp meal, sorghum wheat meal, cotton seed meal, peanut meal, bean meal, hay, grains and cereals, and any and all products thereof, and to grind, roll, mill, cook, prepare and convert into various food or other products rice, corn, wheat, barley, rye and other grains and cereals, and to deal in and dispose of the same.

(d) To establish, maintain and conduct a general department store and mercantile business, either at wholesale or retail, or both, and to establish and conduct stores, shops, and offices for the transaction, trafficking and dealing in and with agricultural implements, hardware, china and glassware, wearing apparel of all sorts and textile fabrics, furniture, food stuffs, both animal and vegetable, groceries, drugs, dry goods and all articles and commodities of personal and household use and consumption.

(e) To buy or sell real estate notes, notes of individual, to act as trustee in deeds of trust, to secure options on real estate, to buy or sell real estate for our own account in so far as it does not conflict with the laws of the State of Mississippi.

(f) To manufacture, purchase or otherwise acquire, own, mortgage, pledge, sell, assign and transfer, or otherwise dispose of, to invest, trade, deal in and deal with, goods, wares and merchandise and real and personal property of every class and description.

(g) To acquire, and pay for in cash, stock or bonds of this corporation or otherwise, the good will, rights, assets and property, and to undertake or assume the whole or any part of the obligations or liabilities of any person, firm, association or corporation.

(h) To issue bonds, debentures or obligations of this corporation from time to time, for any of the objects or purposes of the corporation, and to secure the same by mortgage, pledge, deed of trust, or otherwise.

(i) To purchase, hold, sell and transfer the shares of its own capital stock; provided it shall not use its funds or property for the purchase of its own shares of capital stock when such use would cause any impairment of its capital; and provided further that shares of its own capital stock belonging to it shall not be voted upon directly or indirectly.

(j) To have one or more offices, to carry on all or any of its operations and business and without restriction or limit as to amount to purchase or otherwise acquire, hold, own, mortgage, sell, convey or otherwise dispose of real and personal property of every class and description in any of the States, Districts, Territories or Colonies of the United States, and in any and all foreign countries, subject to the laws of such State, District, Territory, Colony, or Country.

(k) In general, to carry on any other business in connection with the foregoing, whether manufacturing or otherwise, and to have and exercise all the powers conferred by the laws of Mississippi upon corporations formed under the act hereinafter referred to, and to do any or all of the things hereinbefore set forth to the same extent as natural persons might or could do, provided the laws of the State of Mississippi permit.

(l) The foregoing clauses shall be construed both as objects and powers; and it is hereby expressly provided that the foregoing enumeration of specific powers shall not be held to limit or restrict in any manner the powers of this corporation.

(8) The corporation is authorized to commence business when the total authorized capital stock, both common and preferred, shall be subscribed and paid for in such manner as is authorized by the Board of Directors and is in accord with the laws of the State of Mississippi.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION OFRICHTON BANK & TRUST COMPANY
(Name of Bank)RICHTON
(City)PERRY
(State)

RESOLVED FIRST, that the capital stock of this corporation be increased in the sum of $25,000.00 by the issuance of $15,000.00 of preferred stock "A" and the issuance of $10,000.00 of preferred stock "B" under the provisions of Section 52 of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, making the total capital of the corporation $37,000.00, of which $15,000.00 is preferred stock "A", $10,000.00 is preferred stock "B", and $12,000.00 is common stock.

RESOLVED SECOND, that the Articles of Incorporation be amended by striking out Article 11, Sec. 1 and inserting in place thereof the following:

"The Board of Directors shall consist of such number of shareholders, not less than five nor more than twenty-five, as from time to time shall be determined by a majority of the votes to which all shareholders are at the time entitled. A majority of the Board of Directors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business."

RESOLVED THIRD, that the Articles of Incorporation be further amended by striking out Articles IX Sec? 2 & 3 and inserting in the place thereof the following:

(1) Amount, classes, and shares of capital stock.--The amount of capital stock of the Corporation shall be $37,000.00 divided into classes and shares as follows:

(a) $15,000.00 par value of preferred stock "A" (subject to retirement as hereinafter provided) divided into 600 shares of the par value of $25.00 each (1), and

(b) $10,000.00 par value of preferred stock "B" (subject to retirement as hereinafter provided) divided into 400 shares of the par value of $25.00 each (1) and

(c) $3,000.00 par value of common stock (subject to increase upon retirement of preferred stock as provided in the second paragraph of Section 5 of this Article _____,) divided into 120 shares of the par value of $25.00 each.

(2) Assessability of stock.--The holders of preferred stock "A" and the holders of preferred stock "B" shall not be held individually responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts, or engagements of the Corporation, and shall not be liable for assessments to restore impairments in the capital of the Corporation.

(3) Dividends on preferred stock "A".--The holders of preferred stock "A", in preference to the holders of preferred stock "B" and common stock, shall be entitled to receive, when and as declared by the Board of Directors, out of net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in Section 6 of this Article _____) accruing after _____, 1934, (2) (hereinafter referred to as the "Recapitalization Date"), cash dividends thereon to and including March 31, 1939, at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter at the rate of five per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more. Such dividends shall be payable semi-annually on each February 1 and August 1, and shall accrue, as to any given share of such stock, from the date of issuance of such share; provided, however, that, in the case of any share of such stock issued after February 1, 1935, such dividends shall accrue on such share from the February 1 or August 1, as the case may be, next preceding the date of issuance thereof. Such dividends shall be cumulative so that if dividends at the full rate required by this Section 3 to be paid on the preferred stock "A" shall not have been paid upon or declared and set apart for such preferred stock "A", the deficiency shall be fully paid or declared and set apart before any dividend or other distribution, whether in cash, property, stock, or otherwise, shall be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the preferred stock "B" or the common stock. Dividends on the preferred stock "A" shall be deemed to accrue from day to day.

(4) Dividends on preferred stock "B".--Subject to the provisions of Sections 3 and 7 of this Article _____, the holders of preferred stock "B" shall be entitled to receive, when and as declared by the Board of Directors, out of net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in Section 6 of this Article _____) accruing after the Recapitalization Date, cash dividends thereon at the rate of 5%. (4) Such dividends shall be payable semi-annually on each February 1 and August 1, and shall accrue, as to any given share of such stock, from the date of issuance of such share; provided, however, that in the case of any share of such stock issued after February 1, 1935, such dividends shall accrue on such share from the February 1, or August 1, as the case may be, next preceding the date of issuance thereof. Such dividends shall be cumulative, so that if dividends at the full rate or rates per annum required by this Section 4 to be paid on the preferred stock "B" shall not have been paid upon or declared and set apart for such stock, the deficiency shall be fully paid or declared and set apart before any dividend or other distribution, whether in cash, property, stock, or otherwise, shall be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock. Dividends on the preferred stock "B" shall be deemed to accrue from day to day.

(5) Dividends on common stock.--Dividends or other distributions whether in cash, property, stock or otherwise, shall, so long as any shares of preferred stock "A" or preferred stock "B" are outstanding, be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock only out of the net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in Section 6 of this Article _____) accruing after the Recapitalization Date.

If any retirement of preferred stock "A" or preferred stock "B" would decrease the outstanding capital of the Corporation below the minimum amount required by law, the Board of Directors, prior to or simultaneously with such retirement, shall transfer an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock "A" or preferred stock "B" so retired from reserves set up for the retirement of such preferred stock to a special reserve fund for the payment of common stock dividends, and shall declare on the common stock, out of such special reserve fund, a dividend payable in common stock in an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the preferred stock "A" or preferred stock "B" so retired, and the shares of common stock required for the payment of any such stock dividend shall be issuable without any further vote on the part of the holders of stock of any class or any further approval on the part of the Superintendent of Banks.

(6) Determination of net profits.--For the purpose of this Article _____, the net profits or net loss (as distinguished from usage of terms "net profits" and "net loss" in reports required by the Superintendent of Banks" of the Corporation shall be determined for each six months" period ending on December 31 or June 30 by deducting from the gross earnings from all sources for such period:

(a) All expenses for such period;
(b) All interest accrued during such period;
(c) All losses determined during such period, and such charge-offs and write-downs of assets and transfers to reserves (whether from income, undivided profits or surplus) for such period (including all charge-offs, write-downs and transfers to reserves requested by the Superintendent of Banks for such period) as may be reasonably necessary to make proper provisions for doubtful assets, depreciation, and undetermined losses, but to the extent only that such losses, determined or undetermined, charge-offs, and write-downs of assets exceed reserves previously set up therefor in such period or any prior period, or available unallocated reserves;

(d) Provision for all taxes for such period, including taxes measured by income and taxes based on the ownership of stock in the Corporation paid or payable by the Corporation for the account of its shareholders, without prejudice to such right as the Corporation may have to recover the same;

(e) Such transfers for such period to surplus^{as} may be required by law; provided, however, that transfers to earned surplus as required by Section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, shall not be deducted from gross earnings in determining net profits available for the dividend and retirement requirements of the preferred stock; and

(f) The net loss, if any, determined in accordance with the provisions of this Section 6, accrued since the Recapitalization Date, accumulated to and existing at the beginning of such period; provided, however, that no deductions from gross earnings for the six months' period ending 1935, shall be required by reason of any charge-offs or write-downs of assets or transfers to reserves made during said period on account of losses sustained on or prior to the Recapitalization Date.

All recoveries over net book value on assets previously charged off or written down or against which reserves have been set up, and all transfers from reserves to surplus or undivided profits (other than transfers made to reflect recoveries already treated as gross earnings), shall be considered gross earnings for the respective periods during which such recoveries or transfers are effected.

(7) Application of net profits.---(a) As long as any shares of preferred stock "A" are outstanding, the Corporation, on each February 1 and August 1, shall apply the net profits of the Corporation for the six months' period ending on the next preceding December 31 or June 30, as the case may be, to the following purposes and in the following order of priority:

(1) To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock "A" accrued to such February 1 or August 1, as the case may be;

(2) To the payment into the preferred stock "A" retirement fund (referred to in Section 9 of this Article) of a sum equal to forty per cent of the remainder, if any, of such net profits; provided, however, that the aggregate amount paid into the preferred stock "A" retirement fund in any one year need not exceed five per cent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock "A" at any time outstanding, whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever; provided, further, however, that, unless otherwise elected, from time to time, by the Corporation by action of its Board of Directors, it shall not be required to make such payment into the preferred stock "A" retirement fund except from such net profits as may have accrued from and after December 31, 1935;

(3) To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock "B" accrued to such February 1 or August 1, as the case may be; and

(4) Subject to compliance with the provisions of Section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, any balance of net profits for any such period may be applied from time to time to such lawful purposes as may be determined by the Board of Directors, subject, however, to the provisions of Section 8 of this Article.

(b) After all shares of preferred stock "A" shall have been retired, and as long as any shares of preferred stock "B" are outstanding, the Corporation, on each February 1 and August 1, shall apply such net profits to the following purposes and in the following order of priority, and not otherwise:

(1) To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock "B" accrued to such February 1 or August 1, as the case may be;

(2) To the payment into the preferred stock "B" retirement fund (referred to in Section 9 of this Article) of a sum equal to forty per cent of the remainder, if any, of such net profits; provided, however, that the aggregate amount paid into the preferred stock "B" retirement fund in any one year need not exceed five per cent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock "B" at any time outstanding, whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever; and

(3) Subject to compliance with the provisions of Section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, any balance of net profits for any such period may be applied from time to time to such lawful purposes as may be determined by the Board of Directors, subject, however, to the provisions of Section 8 of this Article.

(8) Limitations on retirement of stock.---Except with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks no preferred stock "A" or preferred stock "B" shall be called or purchased for retirement by the Corporation unless the then unimpaired capital, surplus and undivided profits of the Corporation, and the retirement funds provided for herein (after giving effect to the proceeds of the issuance of any stock issued to provide funds for such retirement) exceed $31,000.00 ($) by an amount at least equal to the sum necessary to effect such retirement. No shares of preferred stock "A" or preferred stock "B" shall be called or purchased for retirement unless all accrued dividends (whether or not earned or declared) to the dividend payment date next preceding the date of such retirement shall have been paid on all then outstanding shares of preferred stock of the class to be retired. So long as any shares of preferred stock "A" are outstanding, the Corporation shall not call or purchase for retirement any shares of preferred stock "B".

(9) Retirement of preferred stock by purchase.---Subject to the provisions of Section 8 of this Article, whenever the balance in the preferred stock "A" retirement fund shall amount to as much as $1,000.00 (7), the Corporation shall (unless the Board of Directors shall elect to use the entire amount of such balance in the preferred stock "A" retirement fund for the retirement of preferred stock "A" by call, as provided in Section 10 hereof) within ten days thereafter mail, first-class postage prepaid, to all holders of record of preferred stock "A" at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice specifying the balance in such fund and stating that the same is available for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock "A" at the lowest prices (not in excess of the par value thereof and accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, to the date of purchase) offered within twenty days after the date of such notice. At the expiration of such twenty days, the Corporation shall apply such balance to the purchase for retirement of preferred stock "A", if obtainable, in accordance with the terms of such notice. Within ten days after such expiration, subject to the provisions of Section 8 of this Article, the Corporation shall call for retirement, in the manner provided in Section 10 hereof, the largest number of shares of preferred stock "A" which can be retired from the balance in such retirement fund remaining after deducting the amount paid or to be paid for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock "A" as aforesaid, and shall set aside from such retirement fund the sum necessary to effect such retirement; provided, however, that the minimum capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount required by law. Whenever the balance in the preferred stock "B" retirement fund shall amount to as much as $1,000.00 (7), such balance shall be used for the retirement of preferred stock "B" by purchase or call in the manner herein provided for the retirement of preferred stock "A". Subject to the provisions of Section 8 of this Article, at any time, and from time to time, the Corporation may make such lawful transfers from its surplus and/or undivided profits to the preferred stock "A" retirement fund or (after all shares of preferred stock "A" shall have been retired) to the preferred stock "B" retirement fund, as the Board of Directors may determine. All shares of preferred stock "A" or preferred stock "B" purchased for retirement by the Corporation, whether from the retirement funds or otherwise, shall be canceled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(10) Retirement of preferred stock by call.---Subject to the provisions of Section 8 of this Article, the Corporation may at any time, at its election, as expressed by resolution of the Board of Directors, retire the outstanding preferred stock "A" or preferred stock "B", or both, as a whole, or from time to time in part, pro rata or by lot in such equitable manner to carry out the purpose of this Section 10 as the Board of Directors of the Corporation in its discretion shall from time to time determine, and provided always that the capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law) by paying for each share to be retired a retirement price equal to the par value thereof plus all accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of such retirement. At least thirty days' prior written notice of every such retirement, stating the retirement date and the retirement price, and the place of payment thereof, shall be mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to the holder of record of each share to be retired, at the address of such holder as shown on the books of the Corporation. Such notice having been so mailed, each holder of shares so called for retirement shall be entitled to receive payment of the retirement price of such shares (without interest) upon surrender to the Corporation, on or after the retirement date, at the place designated in such notice, of the certificate or certificates therefor in transferable form and, if required, properly stamped for transfer. In case less than all of the shares represented by any such certificate are retired, a new certificate shall be issued representing the unretired shares. From and after the retirement date (unless the Corporation shall default in payment of the retirement price), all dividends on shares called for retirement shall cease to accrue, such shares shall be deemed to be no longer outstanding, and all rights of the holders thereof as shareholders of the Corporation, except the right to receive the retirement price, shall terminate. All shares so retired shall be canceled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(11) Increase or decrease of capital stock; amendments of Articles of Incorporation, etc.---By the affirmative vote of the holders, voting by classes, of at least two-thirds of the shares of each class of stock at the time outstanding, and not otherwise, and subject to such approval by the Superintendent of Banks and such other conditions as at the time may be required by law---

(a) The capital stock of the Corporation may be increased at any time, and from time to time, through issuing additional shares of preferred stock "A", preferred stock "B", and/or common stock, and/or through the creation of one or more additional classes of stock; Provided, however, that

(1) No vote of the holders of preferred stock "A" shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of preferred stock "B" and/or common stock if the entire proceeds of such issue are to be used for the retirement of shares of preferred stock "A";

(2) No vote of the holders of preferred stock "B" shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock if the entire proceeds of such issue are to be used for the retirement of shares of preferred stock "A" and/or preferred stock "B";

(3) No vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock as a stock dividend, pursuant to the second paragraph of Section 5 of this Article, in connection with the retirement of shares of preferred stock "A" and/or preferred stock "B";

(b) The capital stock of the Corporation may be decreased at any time, and from time to time, to any amount not below the amount at the time required by law; Provided, however, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to the retirement of preferred stock "A" or preferred stock "B";

(c) The name of the corporation and/or the place where its operations of discount and deposit are to be carried on may be changed, but this cause shall not be construed to abridge the powers of the Board of Directors under applicable law with reference to the establishment or change of location or closing of branches;

(d) These Articles of Incorporation may be amended at any time, and from time to time, in any other respect, but not so as to change the respective voting rights of the preferred stock "A", preferred stock "B", and common stock so long as any shares of preferred stock "A" or preferred stock "B" remain outstanding;

(e) The Corporation may be consolidated or merged into or with any other bank;

(f) All or substantially all of the assets and business of the Corporation may be sold or otherwise disposed of;

(g) The Corporation may go into voluntary liquidation; and

(h) Any plan of reorganization of the Corporation may be carried into effect; Provided, however, That, if, and as long as the voting rights of the preferred stock "A" and/or of the preferred stock "B" are increased in accordance with the provisions of Section 13 or 14 of this Article and the fair value of the assets of the Corporation as determined by the Superintendent of Banks shall be less than an amount equal to all its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding, any of the actions specified in the foregoing paragraphs (a) to (h), inclusive, of this Section 11 may be taken by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled, and not otherwise, except that the Corporation may not be put into voluntary liquidation without the approval of the Superintendent of Banks.

(12) Preemptive rights.---In case of any increase in the capital stock of the Corporation of any class other than by way of a stock dividend, the new shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all shares of stock of that class at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of shares of such stock of that class held by them respectively, by mailing, first-class postage prepaid, to such holders, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, transferable subscription warrants exercisable at any time on or before thirty days from the date of such mailing. If at the expiration of such subscription rights, any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all other shares of stock of all other classes at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of such shares held by them respectively, and notice shall be given as above provided. If at the expiration of both of such subscription rights any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such unsubscribed new shares may be issued and sold at such price, not less than the par value thereof, to such persons and on such terms as the Board of Directors may determine.

(13) Voting rights.---(a) Except as otherwise provided in Sections 11 and 14 of this Article and in this Section 13, each holder of stock of any class shall be entitled to vote on all matters one vote for each share of stock of any class held by him.

(b) In all elections of directors, each holder of stock of any class shall have the right to vote the votes allocable to the number of shares owned by him for as many persons as there are directors to be elected, or to cumulate such votes and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of votes allocable to his shares shall equal, or to distribute such votes on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall think fit.

(c) In case as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock "B" shall be in arrears (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from date of issuance of the preferred stock "B") then, and until all arrears of dividends upon the preferred stock "B" shall have been paid and the full dividend on the outstanding preferred stock "B" for the then current semi-annual dividend period shall have been declared and funds set apart for the payment thereof, the holders of preferred stock "B" at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and the holders of preferred stock "A" at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to such increased number of votes on all matters as will maintain the proportionate voting power of the preferred stock "A" and the preferred stock "B" in the same proportion as would have existed in the absence of such increases in the number of the votes to which the holders of preferred stock "B" are entitled, and each holder of preferred stock "A" or preferred stock "B" shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(d) In case as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock "A" shall be in arrears (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock "A") then, and until all arrears of dividends upon the preferred stock "A" shall have been paid and the full dividend on the outstanding preferred stock "A" for the then current semi-annual dividend period shall have been declared and funds set apart for the payment thereof, the holders of preferred stock "A" at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of votes to which the holders of preferred stock "B" (whether or not the votes of the preferred stock "B" shall have been increased as provided in paragraph (c) of this Section 13) and of common stock, as classes, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock "A" shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(e) At any time while the votes of the preferred stock "A" and/or of the preferred stock "B" are increased as provided in paragraphs (c) or (d) of this Section 13 or in subparagraph (2) of Section 14 of this Article, any one or more of the directors, officers, or employees of the Corporation may be removed at any annual or special meeting of the shareholders, for or without cause, and their successors elected by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled.

(14) Other voting rights.---If at any time while the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall hold not less than twenty-five per cent of the total number of shares of preferred stock "A" at the time outstanding---

(a) The Corporation shall be in arrears in the payment of as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock "A" (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock "A"); or

(b) The amounts paid into the preferred stock "A" retirement fund (referred to in Section 9 of this Article) on and after February 1, 1937, shall not have amounted in the aggregate to five per cent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock "A" at any time outstanding (whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever) multiplied by the number of calendar years which shall have elapsed since January 1, 1936; or

(c) The fair value of the assets of the banking corporation as determined by an examination of the banking corporation by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (which may be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation once in each calendar year if the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall so elect), or as determined by the Superintendent of Banks, shall be less than a amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock, outstanding; or

(d) The Corporation shall violate or fail to observe any of the terms, provisions, or conditions of its Articles of Incorporation--- then after written notice from Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the existence of any of said conditions and so long as any of said conditions in (a), (b), (c) and (d) above shall continue:

(1) All directors, officers, and employees of the Corporation shall receive compensation at rates not exceeding the maximum limitations as may be fixed by the votes of the holders of a majority of the shares of preferred stock "A" at the time outstanding;

(2) In case Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks, at any time shall notify the Corporation that any director, officer, or employee of the Corporation is regarded by Reconstruction Finance Corporation as unsatisfactory, and in case such director, officer, or employee is not removed from office (and, if requested by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, replaced with a director, officer, or employee satisfactory to it) within thirty days after receipt by the Corporation of such notice, then, and until such removal and replacement shall have been effected, the holders of preferred stock "A" at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of preferred stock "B" (whether or not the votes of the preferred stock "B" shall have been increased as provided in paragraph (c) of Section 13 of this Article) and of common stock, as classes, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock "A" shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled;

(3) The Corporation shall not directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire any real estate for its own use, or lease any real estate for its own use for a term longer than one year, without in each case the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock "A" at the time outstanding, or a written waiver of voting rights in respect thereto by the holders of such majority; provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to real estate acquired under the provisions of sub-divisions 2 and 3 of Section 53 of Senate Bill 57, Laws of 1934.

(4) The Corporation shall not incur indebtedness maturing more than one year from the creation thereof, without the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock "A" at the time outstanding or a written waiver of voting rights with respect thereto by the holders of such majority; provided, however, that the indebtedness herein referred to shall not be construed to include the issuance of circulating notes and the acceptance of time deposits which may continue to be accepted by the Corporation under such conditions as may be provided by law.

(15) Rights of preferred stock "A" on liquidation.---In the event of any receivership, conservatorship, liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, before any payment or other distribution, whether in cash, property, or otherwise shall be made to the holders of preferred stock "B" or common stock, the holders of preferred stock "A" shall be entitled to receive, for each share of such stock held by them, an amount equal to the par value thereof, plus an amount equal to all unpaid dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of payment, but shall not be entitled to any other or further payment; provided, however, that a merger or consolidation in accordance with law and these Articles of Incorporation, shall not be deemed a liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation within the meaning of this Section 15.

(16) Rights of preferred stock "B" on liquidation.---Subject to the provisions of Section 15 of this Article, in the event of any receivership, conservatorship, liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, before any payment or other distribution, whether in cash, property, or otherwise shall be made to the holders of common stock, the holders of preferred stock "B" shall be entitled to receive, for each share of such stock held by them, an amount equal to the par value thereof, plus an amount equal to all unpaid dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of payment, but shall not be entitled to any other or further payment; Provided, however, that a merger or consolidation in accordance with law and these Articles of Incorporation shall not be deemed a liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation within the meaning of this Section 16.

(a) Officers.---The Board of Directors shall elect one of its members President of the Corporation. The Board may designate a director in lieu of the President to be Chairman of the Board, who shall perform such duties as may be designated by the Board. The directors shall have power to elect one or more Vice-Presidents, at least one of whom shall also be a member of the Board of Directors, and who shall be authorized, in the absence or inability of the President from any cause, to perform all acts and duties pertaining to the office of president except such as the President only is authorized by law to perform; and to elect or appoint a Cashier, and such other officers and clerks as may be required to transact the business of the Corporation; and subject to the provisions of sub-paragraphs (1) and (2) of Section 14 of Article hereof, to fix the salaries to be paid to them, and to continue them in office or to dismiss them as in the opinion of a majority of the Board the interests of the Corporation may demand.

(b) Powers of Board of Directors.---The Board of Directors shall have the power to define the duties of the officers and clerks of the Corporation, to require bonds from them, and to fix the penalty thereof; to regulate the manner in which election of directors shall be held and to appoint judges of the elections; to make all bylaws that it may be proper for them to make, not inconsistent with law and these Articles of Incorporation, for the general regulation of the business of the Corporation and the management of its affairs, and generally to do and perform all acts that it may be legal for a board of directors to do and perform according to law and within the limits of these Articles of Incorporation.

Special meetings of shareholders.---Except as otherwise specifically provided by statute, special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose at any time by the Board of Directors or by the holders of at least ten per cent of the then outstanding shares of any class.

RECORD OF CHARTERS 34-35--STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

Every such special meeting shall be called by mailing, not less than ten days before the time fixed for the meeting, to all shareholders of record entitled to act and vote at such meeting, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice stating the purpose of the meeting. Such notice may be waived in writing.

RECORD OF CHARTERS 34-35--STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

ofMERCHANTS AND FARMERS BANK

(Name of Bank)

Lauderdale

(County)

Mississippi

Meridian
(City)

RESOLVED, FIRST, that the capital of this Corporation be increased in the sum of $150,000.00 by the issuance of $150,000.00 of preferred stock under the provisions of Section 52 of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, making the total capital of the Corporation $250,000.00, of which $150,000.00 is preferred and $100,000.00 is common stock.

RESOLVED, SECOND, that the Articles of Incorporation be amended by striking out Article Four and inserting in place thereof as Article Four the following:

"The Board of Directors shall consist of such number of shareholders, not less than five nor more than twenty-five, as from time to time shall be determined by a majority of the votes to which all shareholders are at the time entitled. A majority of the Board of Directors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business."

RESOLVED, THIRD, that the Articles of Incorporation be further amended by striking out Articles Two and inserting in the place thereof as Article Two the following:

(1) Amount, classes, and shares of capital stock.---The amount of capital stock of the Corporation shall be $250,000.00 divided into classes and shares as follows:

(a) $150,000.00 par value of preferred stock (subject to retirement as hereinafter provided) divided into 4000 shares of the par value of $37.50 (1) each; and

(b) $100,000.00 par value of common stock (subject to increase upon retirement of preferred stock as provided in the second and third paragraphs of section 4 of this Article Two) divided into 2000 Shares of the par value of $50.00 each.

(2) Assessability of stock.---The holders of preferred stock shall not be held individually responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts, or engagements of the Corporation, and shall not be liable for assessments to restore impairments in the capital of the Corporation.

(3) Dividends on preferred stock.---The holders of preferred stock, in preference to the holders of common stock, shall be entitled to receive, when and as declared by the Board of Directors, out of net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this Article Two) accruing after August 21, 1934 (2), (hereinafter referred to as the "Recapitalization Date"), cash dividends thereon to and including March 31, 1939, at the rate of four percent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter at the rate of five percent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more. Such dividends shall be payable semi-annually on each February 1 and August 1, and shall accrue, as to any given share of such stock, from the date of issuance of such share; provided, however, that, in the case of any share of such stock issued after August 1, 1934 (3), such dividends shall accrue on such share from the February 1 or August 1, as the case may be next preceding the date of issuance thereof. Such dividends shall be cumulative so that if dividends at the full rate required by this Section 3 to be paid on the preferred stock shall not have been paid upon or declared and set apart for such preferred stock, the deficiency shall be fully paid or declared and set apart before any dividend or other distribution, whether in cash, property, stock, or otherwise, shall be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock. Dividends on the preferred stock shall be deemed to accrue from day to day. Dividends on

(4) Dividends on common stock.---Dividends or other distributions, whether in cash, property, stock or otherwise, shall, so long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock only out of the net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this Article Two) accruing after the Recapitalization Date.

(If any call or purchase for retirement of preferred stock pursuant to the provisions of sections 8 or 9 of this Article Two would reduce the outstanding capital of the Corporation below the minimum amount at the time required by law, the Board of Directors, prior to or simultaneously with such retirement, shall declare on the common stock out of net profits of the Corporation accruing after the Recapitalization Date, a dividend in an amount equal to the sum required to maintain the capital of the Corporation at such minimum amount after giving effect to such retirement, such dividend to be payable in shares of common stock which shall be issued (without any action on the part of the holders of stock of any class or on the part of the Superintendent of Banks) pro rata to the holders of common stock.

(5) Determination of net profits.---For the purpose of this Article Two, the net profits or net loss (as distinguished from usage of terms "net profits" and "net loss" in reports required by the Superintendent of Banks) of the Corporation shall be determined for each six months' period ending on December 31 or June 30 by deducting from the gross earnings from all sources for such period:

(a) All expenses for such period;

(b) All interest accrued during such period;

(c) All losses determined during such period; and such charge-offs and write-downs of assets and transfers to reserves (whether from income, undivided profits or surplus) for such period (including all charge-offs, write-downs and transfers to reserves requested by the Superintendent of Banks for such period) as may be reasonably necessary to make proper provision for doubtful assets, depreciation, and undetermined losses, but to the extent only that such losses, determined or undetermined, charge-offs, and write-downs of assets exceed reserves previously set up therefor in such period or any prior period, or available unallocated reserves;

(d) Provision for all taxes for such period, including taxes measured by income and taxes based on the ownership of stock in the Corporation paid or payable by the Corporation for the account of its shareholders, without prejudice to such right as the Corporation may have to recover the same;

(e) Such transfers for such period to surplus as may be required by law; provided, however, that transfers to earned surplus as required by section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, shall not be deducted from gross earnings in determining net profits available for the dividend and retirement of the preferred stock; and

(f) The net loss, if any, determined in accordance with the provisions of this section 5, accrued since the Recapitalization Date, accumulated to and existing at the beginning of such period; provided, however, that no deductions from gross earnings for the six months' period ending December 31, 1934 (4), shall be required by reason of any charge-offs or write-downs of assets or transfers to reserves made during said period on account of losses sustained on or prior to the Recapitalization Date.

All recoveries over net book value on assets previously charged off or written down or against which reserves have been set up, and all transfers from reserves to surplus or undivided profits (other than transfers made to reflect recoveries already treated as gross earnings), shall be considered gross earnings for the respective periods during which such recoveries or transfers are effected.

(6) Application of net profits.---As long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding the Corporation, on February 1 and August 1, shall apply the net profits of the Corporation for the six months' period ending on the next preceding December 31 and June 30, as the case may be, to the following purposes and in the following order of priority:

(a) To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock accrued to such February 1 or August 1, as the case may be;

(b) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in Section 8 of this Article Two) of a sum equal to forty per cent of the remainder, if any, of such net profits; provided, however, that the aggregate amount paid into the preferred stock retirement fund in any one year need not exceed five per cent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding, whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par

value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever; provided, further, however, that unless otherwise elected, from time to time, by the Corporation by action of its Board of Directors, it shall not be required to make such payment into the preferred stock retirement fund except from such net profits as may have accrued from and after December 31, 1935;

Subject to compliance with the provisions of Section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, any balance of net profits for any such period may be applied from time to time to such lawful purposes as may be determined by the Board of Directors, subject, however, to the provisions of section 7 of this Article Two.

(7) Limitations on retirement of stock.---Except with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks no preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement by the Corporation unless the then unimpaired capital, surplus and undivided profits ~~of~~ of the Corporation, and the retirement funds provided for herein (after giving effect to the proceeds of the issuance of any stock issued to provide funds for such retirement) exceed $250,000.00 (5) by an amount at least equal to the sum necessary to effect such retirement. No shares of preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement unless all accrued dividends (whether or not earned or declared) to the dividend payment date next preceding the date of such retirement shall have been paid on all shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(8) Retirement of preferred stock by purchase.---Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article Two, whenever the balance in the preferred stock retirement fund shall amount to as much as $25,000.00 (6), the Corporation shall (unless the Board of Directors shall elect to use the entire amount of such balance in the preferred stock retirement fund for the retirement of preferred stock by call as provided in section 9 hereof) within ten days thereafter mail, first-class postage prepaid, to all holders of record of preferred stock at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice specifying the balance in such fund and stating that the same ~~available~~ available for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock at the lowest prices (not in excess of the par value thereof and accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, to the date of purchase) offered within twenty days after the date of such notice. At the expiration of such twenty days, the Corporation shall apply such balance to the purchase for retirement of preferred stock, if obtainable, in accordance with the terms of such notice. Within ten days after such expiration, subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article Two, the Corporation shall call for retirement, in the manner provided in section 9 hereof, the largest number of shares of preferred stock which can be retired from the balance in such retirement fund remaining after deducting the amount paid or to be paid for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock as aforesaid, and shall set aside from such retirement fund the sum necessary to effect such retirement, but the minimum capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law.

Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article Two, at any time from time to time the Corporation may make such lawful transfers from its surplus and/or undivided profits to the preferred stock retirement fund as the Board of Directors may determine. All shares of preferred stock purchased for retirement by the Corporation, whether from the retirement fund or otherwise, shall be canceled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(9) Retirement of preferred stock by call.---Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article Two, the Corporation may at any time, at its election as expressed by resolution of the Board of Directors, retire the outstanding preferred stock as a whole, or from time to time, ^{pro rata}, or by lot in such equitable manner to carry out the purpose of this section 9 as the Board of Directors of the Corporation in its discretion shall from time to time determine, and provided always that the capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount required by law, by paying for each share to be retired a retirement price equal to the par value thereof plus all accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of such retirement. At least thirty days prior written notice of every such retirement, stating the retirement date and the retirement price, and the place of payment thereof, shall be mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to the holder of record of each share to be retired, at the address of such holder as shown on the books of the Corporation. Such notice having been so mailed, each holder of shares so called for retirement shall be entitled to receive payment of the retirement price of such shares (without interest) upon surrender to the Corporation, on or after the retirement date, at the place ~~designated~~ designated in such notice, of the certificate or certificates therefor in transferable and, if required, properly stamped for transfer. In case less than all of the shares represented by any such certificate are retired, a new certificate shall be issued representing the unretired shares. From and after the retirement date, (unless the Corporation shall default in payment of the retirement price), all dividends on shares called for retirement shall cease to accrue, such shares shall be deemed to be no longer outstanding, and all rights of the holders thereof as shareholders of the Corporation, except the right to receive the retirement price, shall terminate. All shares so retired shall be cancelled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(10) Increase or decrease of capital stock; Amendments of Articles of Incorporation, etc.---By the affirmative vote of the holders, voting by classes, of at least two-thirds of the shares of each class of stock at the time outstanding, and not otherwise, and subject to such approval by the Superintendent of Banks and such other conditions as at the time may be required by law---

(a) The capital stock of the Corporation may be increased at any time and from time to time through issuing additional shares of preferred stock and/or common stock, and/or through the creation of one or more additional classes of stock; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of preferred stock shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock if the entire proceeds of such issue are to be used for the retirement of shares of preferred stock; and provided further, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to any issue of additional ~~shares~~ shares of common stock as a stock dividend, pursuant to the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article Two in connection with the retirement of shares of preferred stock;

(b) The capital stock of the Corporation may be decreased at any time and from time to time to any amount not below the amount at the time required by law; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to the retirement of preferred stock;

(c) The name of the Corporation and/or the place where its operations of discount and deposit are to be carried on may be changed, but this clause shall not be ~~construed~~ construed to abridge the powers of the Board of Directors under applicable law with reference to the establishment or change of location or closing of branches;

(d) These Articles of Incorporation may be amended at any time and from time to time in any other respect, but not so as to change the respective voting rights of the preferred stock and common stock so long as any of the preferred stock remains outstanding;

(e) The Corporation may be consolidated or merged into or with any other bank;

(f) All or substantially all of the assets and business of the Corporation may be sold or otherwise disposed of;

(g) The Corporation may go into voluntary liquidation; and

(h) Any plan or reorganization of the Corporation may be carried into effect---

Provided, however, that if and as long as the ~~voting~~ voting rights of the preferred stock are increased in accordance with the provisions of sections 12 or 13 of this Article Two and the fair value of the assets of the Corporation as determined by the Superintendent of Banks shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding, any of the actions specified in the foregoing paragraphs (a) to (h) inclusive, of this section 10 may be taken by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled, and not otherwise, except that the Corporation may not be put into voluntary liquidation without the approval of the Superintendent of Banks.

(11) Exemptive rights.---In case of any increase in the capital stock of the Corporation of any class other than by way of a stock dividend, the new shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all shares of stock of that class at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of shares of such stock of that class held by them respectively, by mailing, first-class postage prepaid, to such holders, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, transferable subscription warrants exercisable at any time on or before thirty days from the date of mailing. If at the expiration of such subscription rights, any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all other shares of stock of all other classes at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of such shares held by them respectively, and notice shall be given as above provided. If at the expiration of both of such subscription rights any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such unsubscribed new shares may be issued and sold at such price, not less than the par value thereof, to such persons and on such terms as the Board of Directors may determine.

(12) Voting rights---(a) Except as otherwise provided in sections 10 and 13 of this Article Two and in this section 12, each holder of stock of any class shall be entitled to vote on all matters one vote for each share of stock of any class held by him.

(b) In all elections of directors, each holder of stock of any class shall have the right to vote the votes allocable to the number of shares owned by him for as many persons as there are directors to be elected, or to cumulate such votes and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of votes allocable to his shares shall equal, or to distribute such votes on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall think fit.

(c) In case as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock shall be in arrears (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock), then, and until all arrears of dividends upon the preferred stock shall have been paid and the full dividend on the outstanding preferred stock for the then current semi-annual dividend period shall have been declared and funds set apart for the payment thereof, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(d) At any time while the votes of the preferred stock are increased as provided in paragraph (c) of this section 12 or in sub-paragraph (2) of section 13 of this Article Two, any one or more of the directors, officers, or employees of the Corporation may be removed at any annual or special meeting of shareholders, for or without cause, and their successors elected, by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled.

(13). Other voting rights---If at any time the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall hold not less than twenty-five per cent of the total number of shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding---

(a) The Corporation shall be in arrears in the payment of as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock); or

(b) The amounts paid into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this Article Two) on and after February 1, 1937, shall not have amounted in the aggregate to five per cent of the maximum par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding (whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever) multiplied by the number of calendar years which shall have elapsed since January 1, 1936; or

(c) The fair value of the assets of the banking corporation as determined by an examination of the banking corporation by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (which may be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation once in each calendar year if the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall so elect), or as determined by the Superintendent of Banks, shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding; or

(d) The Corporation shall violate or fail to observe any of the terms, provisions, or conditions of its Articles of Incorporation---then after written notice from Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the existence of any of said conditions and so long as any of said conditions in (a), (b), (c) and (d) above shall continue:

(1) All directors, officers, and employees of the Corporation shall receive compensation at rates not exceeding such maximum limitations as may be fixed by the vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(2) In case Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks, at any time shall notify the Corporation that any director, officer or employee of the Corporation is regarded by Reconstruction Finance Corporation as unsatisfactory, and in case such director, officer, or employee is not removed from office (and, if requested by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, replaced with a director, officer, or employee, satisfactory to it) within thirty days after receipt by the Corporation of such notice, then and until such removal and replacement shall have been effected, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(3) The Corporation shall not directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire any real estate for its own use, or lease any real estate for its own use for a term longer than one year, without in each case the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, or a written waiver of voting rights in respect thereto by the holders of such majority; provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to real estate acquired under the provisions of sub-divisions 2 and 3 of Section 53 of Senate Bill 227, Laws of 1934.

(4) The Corporation shall not incur indebtedness maturing more than one year from the creation thereof, without the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding or a written waiver of voting rights with respect thereto by the holders of such majority, but the indebtedness herein referred to shall not be construed to include the issuance of circulating notes and the acceptance of time deposits, which may continue to be accepted by the Corporation, under such conditions as may be provided by law.

(14) Rights of preferred stock on Liquidation---In the event of any receivership, Conservatorship, liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, before any payment or other distribution, whether in cash, property, or otherwise shall be made to the holders of common stock, the holders of preferred stock shall be entitled to receive, for each share of such stock held by them, an amount equal to the par value thereof, plus an amount equal to all unpaid dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of payment, but shall not be entitled to any other or further payment; provided, however, that a merger or consolidation in accordance with law and these Articles of Incorporation, shall not be deemed a liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation within the meaning of this section 14.

(a) Officers---The Board of Directors shall elect one of its members President of the Corporation. The Board may designate a director in lieu of the President to be Chairman of the Board, who shall perform such duties as may be designated by the Board. The directors shall have power to elect one or more Vice Presidents, at least one of whom shall also be a member of the Board of Directors, and who shall be authorized, in the absence or inability of the President from any cause, to perform all acts and duties pertaining to the office of President except such as the President only is authorized by law to perform; and to elect or appoint a Cashier, and such other officers and clerks as may be required to transact the business of the Corporation; and, subject to the provisions of sub-paragraphs (1) and (2) of section 13 of Article Two hereof, to fix the salaries to be paid to them, and to continue them in office or to dismiss them as in the opinion of a majority of the Board the interests of the Corporation may demand.

(b) Powers of Board of Directors.---The Board of Directors shall have the power to define the duties of the officers and clerks of the Corporation, to require bonds from them, and to fix the penalty thereof; to regulate the manner in which election of directors shall be held and to appoint judges of the elections; to make all by-laws that it may be proper for them to make, not inconsistent with law and these Articles of Incorporation, for the general regulation of the business of the Corporation and the management of its affairs, and generally to do and perform all acts that it may be legal for a board of directors to do and perform according to law and within the limits of these Articles of Incorporation.

Special meetings of shareholders.---Except as otherwise specifically provided by statute, special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose at any time by the Board of Directors or by the holders of at least ten per cent of the then outstanding shares of any class. Every such special meeting shall be called by mailing, not less than ten days before the time fixed for the meeting, to all shareholders of record entitled to act and vote at such meeting, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice stating the purpose of the meeting. Such notice may be waived in writing.

RESOLVED, FOURTH, that each shareholder of record may subscribe within five days from and after the date of this meeting to such issue of preferred stock in proportion to the number of shares of common stock of the Corporation standing on the books of the Corporation in his name; and

RESOLVED, FIFTH, that the Board of Directors through its proper officers, at the expiration of the said five days, shall sell the unsubscribed portion of such preferred stock at such price (not less than the par value thereof) to Reconstruction Finance Corporation and/or to such other person or persons as the Board of Directors may deem advisable.

At a meeting of the shareholders of The Merchants and Farmers Bank, Meridian, Mississippi,
held on August 21, 1934, 10 days notice of the proposed business having been given by registered mail, all of the foregoing resolutions were adopted by the following vote; the affirmative vote representing 62 1/2% of the total number of shares of capital stock outstanding:

Total number of shares of capital stock	2000
Total number of shares represented at the meeting	1250
Total number of shares voted in favor of the resolution	1250
Total number of shares voted against the resolution	NONE

I hereby certify that this is a true and correct report (a) of the number of days' notice, given by registered mail, of the meeting of shareholders of this bank held on the date above mentioned; (b) of the vote and (c) of the resolutions adopted at said meeting and (d) that a complete list of the shareholders voting therefor and the number of shares voted by each is on file in the bank; (e) that voting permits were procured from the Federal Reserve Board by such holding company affiliates of this bank as voted at said meeting the stock of this bank owned by such holding company affiliates; (f) that no shares of stock of this bank owned by this bank were voted at said meeting; (g) that no shares of stock held by this bank as sole trustee were voted at said meeting; and (h) that no shares of stock of this bank held by this bank as co-trustee were voted at said meeting by this bank; and (i) that no director, other officer or employee acted as proxy at said meeting.

RECORD OF CHARTERS 34-35---STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

Proposed Amendments to Articles of Incorporation
ofARTESIA STATE BANK

Lowndes

(County)

Artesia
(City)Mississippi
(State)

RESOLVED, FIRST, that the capital of this Corporation be increased in the sum of $7,500.00 by the issuance of $7,500.00 of preferred stock under the provisions of Section 52 of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, making the total capital of the Corporation $21,000.00, of which $7,500.00 is preferred and $13,500.00 is common stock.

RESOLVED, SECOND, that the Articles of Incorporation be amended by striking out Article 4 and inserting in place thereof the following:

"The Board of Directors shall consist of such number of shareholders, not less than five nor more than twenty-five, as from time to time shall be determined by a majority of the votes to which all shareholders are at the time entitled. A majority of the Board of Directors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business."

RESOLVED, THIRD, that the Articles of Incorporation be further amended by striking out Articles 3 and inserting in the place thereof the following:

(1) Amount, classes, and shares of capital stock.---The amount of capital stock of the Corporation shall be $21,000.00 divided into classes and shares as follows:

(a) $7,500.00 par value of preferred stock (subject to retirement as hereinafter provided) divided into 150 shares of the par value of $50.00 (1) each; and $13,500.00 par value of common stock (subject to increase upon retirement of preferred stock as provided in the second and third paragraphs of section 4 of this Article) divided into 135 Shares of the par value of $100.00 each.

(2) Assessability of stock.---The holders of preferred stock shall not be held individually responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts, or engagements of the Corporation, and shall not be liable for assessments to restore impairments in the capital of the Corporation.

(3) Dividends on preferred stock.---The holders of preferred stock, in preference to the holders of common stock, shall be entitled to receive, when and as declared by the Board of Directors, out of net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this Article) accruing after Septe 27, 1934 1934 (2), (hereinafter referred to as the "Recapitalization Date, cash dividends thereon to and including March 31, 1939, at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more, and thereafter at the rate of five percent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more. Such dividends shall be payable semi-annually on each February 1 and August 1, and shall accrue, as to any given share of such stock, from the date of issuance of such share; provided, however, that, in the case of any share of such stock issued after February 1, 1935 (3), such dividends shall accrue on such share from the February 1 or August 1, as the case may be, next preceding the date of issuance thereof. Such dividends shall be cumulative so that if dividends at the full rate required by this section 3 to be paid on the preferred stock shall not have been paid upon or declared and set apart for such preferred stock, the deficiency shall be fully paid or declared and set apart before any dividend or other distribution, whether in cash, property, stock, or otherwise, shall be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock. Dividends on the preferred stock shall be deemed to accrue from day to day.

(4) Dividends on common stock.---Dividends or other distributions, whether in cash, property, stock or otherwise, shall, so long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock only out of the net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in section 5 of this Article) accruing after the Recapitalization Date.

If any call or purchase for retirement of preferred stock pursuant to the provisions of sections 8 or 9 of this Article would reduce the outstanding capital of the Corporation below the minimum amount at the time required by law, the Board of Directors, prior to or simultaneously with such retirement, shall declare on the common stock out of net profits of the Corporation accruing after the Recapitalization Date, a dividend in an amount equal to the sum required to maintain the capital of the Corporation at such minimum amount after giving effect to such retirement, such dividend to be payable in shares of common stock which shall be issued (without any action on the part of the holders of stock of any class or on the part of the Superintendent of Banks) pro rata to the holders of common stock.

(5) Determination of net profits.---For the purpose of this Article, the net profits or net loss (as distinguished from usage or terms "net profits" and "net loss" in reports xxxxxxxx required by the Superintendents of Banks) of the Corporation shall be determined for each six months' period ending on December 31 or June 30 by deducting from the gross earnings from all sources for such period;

(a) All expenses for such period;

(b) All interest accrued during such period;

(c) All losses determined during such period; and such charge-offs and write-downs of assets and transfers to reserves (whether from income, undivided profits or surplus) for such period (including all charge-offs, write-downs and transfers to reserves requested by the Superintendent of Banks for such period) as may be reasonably necessary to make proper provision for doubtful assets, depreciation, and undetermined losses, but to the extent only that such losses, determined or undetermined, charge-offs, and write-downs of assets exceed reserves previously set up therefor in such period or any prior period, or available unallocated reserves;

(d) Provision for all taxes for such period, including taxes measured by income and taxes based on the ownership of stock in the Corporation paid or payable by the Corporation for the account of its shareholders, without prejudice to such rights as the Corporation may have to recover the same;

(e) Such transfers for such period to surplus as may be required by law; provided, however, that transfers to earned surplus as required by section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, shall not be deducted from gross earnings in determining net profits available for the dividends and retirement requirements of the preferred stock; and

(f) The net loss, if any, determined in accordance with the provisions of this section 5, accrued since the Recapitalization Date, accumulated to and existing at the beginning of such period; provided, however, that no deductions from gross earnings for the six months' period ending June 30, 1934, 193 (4), shall be required by reason of any charge-offs or write-downs of assets or transfers to reserves made during said period on account of losses sustained on or prior to the Recapitalization Date.

All recoveries over net book value ^{ON ASSETS} previously charged off or written down or against which reserves have been set up, and all transfers from reserves to surplus or undivided profits (other than transfers made to reflect recoveries already treated as gross earnings), shall be considered gross earnings for the respective periods during which such recoveries or transfers are effected.

(6) Application of net profits.---As long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding the Corporation, on each February 1 and August 1, shall apply the net profits of the Corporation for the six months' period ending on the next preceding December 31 and June 30, as the case may be, to the following purposes and in the following order of priority;

(a) To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock accrued to such February 1 or August 1, as the case may be;

(b) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this Article _____) of a sum equal to forty per cent of the remainder, if any, of such net profits; provided, however, that the aggregate amount paid into the preferred stock retirement fund in any one year need not exceed five per cent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding, whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever; provided, further, however, that unless otherwise elected, from time to time, by the Corporation by action of its Board of Directors, it shall not be required to make such payment into the preferred stock retirement fund except from such net profits as may have accrued from and after December 31, 1935;

Subject to compliance with the provisions of Section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, any balance of net profits for any such period may be applied from time to time to such lawful purposes as may be determined by the Board of Directors, subject, however, to the provisions of section 7 of this Article _____.

(7) Limitations on retirement of stock.---Except with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks no preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement by the corporation unless the then unimpaired capital, surplus and undivided profits of the Corporation, and the retirement funds provided for herein (after giving effect to the proceeds of the issuance of any stock issued to provide funds for such retirement) exceed $21,000.00 (5) by an amount at least equal to the sum necessary to effect such retirement. No shares of preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement unless all accrued dividends (whether or not earned or declared) to the dividend payment date next preceding the date of such retirement shall have been paid on all shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(8) Retirement of preferred stock by purchase.---Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article _____, whenever the balance in the preferred stock retirement fund shall amount to as much as $1,000.00 (6), the Corporation shall (unless the Board of Directors shall elect to use the entire amount of such balance in the preferred stock retirement fund for the retirement of preferred stock by call as provided in section 9 hereof) within ten days thereafter mail, first-class postage prepaid, to all holders of record of preferred stock at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice specifying the balance in such fund and stating that the same is available for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock at the lowest prices (not in excess of the par value thereof and accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, to the date of purchase) offered within twenty days after the date of such notice. At the expiration of such twenty days, the Corporation shall apply such balance to the purchase for retirement of preferred stock, if obtainable, in accordance with the terms of such notice. Within ten days after such expiration, subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article _____, the Corporation shall call for retirement, in the manner provided in section 9 hereof, the largest number of shares of preferred stock which can be retired from the balance in such retirement fund remaining after deducting the amount paid or to be paid for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock as aforesaid, and shall set aside from such retirement fund the sum necessary to effect such retirement, but the minimum capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law.

Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article _____, at any time and from time to time the Corporation may make such lawful transfers from its surplus and/or undivided profits to the preferred stock retirement fund as the Board of Directors may determine. All shares of preferred stock purchased for retirement by the Corporation, whether from the retirement fund or otherwise, shall be cancelled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(9) Retirement of preferred stock by call.---Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article _____, the Corporation may at any time, at its election as expressed by resolution of the Board of Directors, retire the outstanding preferred stock as a whole, or from time to time in part, pro rata, or by lot in such equitable manner to carry out the purpose of this section 9 as the Board of Directors of the Corporation in its discretion shall from time to time determine, and provided always that the capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount required by law, by paying for each share to be retired a retirement price equal to the par value thereof plus all accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of such retirement. At least thirty days prior written notice of every such retirement, stating the retirement date and the retirement price, and the place of payment thereof, shall be mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to the holder of record of each share to be retired, at the address of such holder as shown on the books of the Corporation. Such notice having been so mailed, each holder of shares so called for retirement shall be entitled to receive payment of the retirement price of such shares (without interest) upon surrender to the Corporation, on or after the retirement date, at the place designated in such notice, of the certificate or certificates therefor in transferable form and, if required, properly stamped for transfer. In case less than all of the shares represented by any such certificates are retired, a new certificate shall be issued representing the unretired shares. From and after the retirement date (unless the Corporation shall default in payment of the retirement price), all dividends on shares called for retirement shall cease to accrue, such shares shall be deemed to be no longer outstanding, and all rights of the holders thereof as shareholders of the Corporation, except the right to receive the retirement price, shall terminate. All shares so retired shall be canceled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(10) Increase or decrease of capital stock: Amendments of Articles of Incorporation, etc.---By the affirmative vote of the holders, voting by classes, of at least two-thirds of the shares of each class of stock at the time outstanding, and not otherwise, and subject to the approval by the Superintendent of Banks and such other conditions as at the time may be required by law---

(a) The capital stock of the Corporation may be increased at any time and from time to time through issuing additional shares of preferred stock and/or common stock, and/or through the creation of one or more additional classes of stock; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of preferred stock shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock if the entire proceeds of such issue are to be used for the retirement of shares of preferred stock; and provided further, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock as a stock dividend, pursuant to the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article _____ in connection with the retirement of shares of preferred stock;

(b) The capital stock of the Corporation may be decreased at any time and from time to time to any amount not below the amount at the time required by law; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to the retirement of preferred stock;

(c) The name of the Corporation and/or the place where its operations of discount and deposit are to be carried on may be changed, but this clause shall not be construed to abridge the powers of the Board of Directors under applicable law with reference to the establishment or change of location or closing of branches;

(d) These Articles of Incorporation may be amended at any time and from time to time in any other respect, but not so as to change the respective voting rights of the preferred stock and common stock so long as any of the preferred stock remains outstanding;

(e) The Corporation may be consolidated or merged into or with any other bank;

(f) All or substantially all of the assets and business of the Corporation may be sold or otherwise disposed of;

(g) The Corporation may go into voluntary liquidation; and

(h) Any plan or reorganization of the Corporation may be carried into effect---
Provided, however, that if and as long as the voting rights of the preferred stock are increased in accordance with the provisions of sections 12 or 13 of this Article _____ and the fair value of the assets of the Corporation as determined by the Superintendent of Banks shall be less than an amount equal to all of its ~~own~~ liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding, any of the actions specified in the foregoing paragraphs (a) to (h) inclusive, of this section 10 may be taken by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled, and not otherwise, except that the Corporation may not be put into voluntary liquidation without the approval of the Superintendent of Banks.

(11) Preemptive Rights.---In case of any increase in the capital stock of the Corporation of any class other than by way of a stock dividend, the new shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all shares of stock of that class at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of shares of such stock of that class held by them respectively, by mailing, first-class postage prepaid, to such holders, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, transferable subscription warrants exercisable at any time on or before thirty days from the date of such mailing. If at the expiration of such subscription rights, any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all other shares of stock of all other classes at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of such shares held by them respectively, and notice shall be given as above provided. If at the expiration of both of such subscription rights any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such unsubscribed new shares may be issued and sold at such price, not less than the par value thereof, to such persons and on such terms as the Board of Directors may determine.

(12) Voting rights.---(a) Except as otherwise provided in sections 10 and 13 of this Article and in this section 12, each holder of stock of any class shall be entitled to vote on all matters one vote for each share of stock of any class held by him.

(b) In all elections of directors, each holder of stock of any class shall have the right to vote the vote allocable to the number of shares owned by him for as many persons as there are directors to be elected, or to cumulate such votes and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of votes allocable to his shares shall equal, or to distribute such votes on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall think fit.

(c) In case as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock shall be ~~xxx~~ in arrears (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock), then, and until all arrears of dividends upon the preferred stock shall have been paid and the full dividend on the outstanding ^{preferred} stock for the then current semi-annual dividend period shall have been declared and funds set apart for the payment thereof, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(d) At any time while the votes of the preferred stock are increased as provided in paragraph (a) of this section 12 or in sub-paragraph (2) of section 13 of this Article, any one or more of the directors, officers, or employees of the Corporation may be removed at any annual or special meeting of shareholders, for or without cause, and their successors elected, by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled.

(13) Other voting rights.---If at any time while the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall hold not less than twenty-five per cent of the total number of shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding---

(a) The Corporation shall be in arrears in the payment of as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock (exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock; or

(b) The amounts paid into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this Article) ~~in~~ and after February 1, 1937, shall not have amounted in the aggregate to five per cent of the maximum par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding (whether or not any ~~of~~ such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever) multiplied by the number of calendar years which shall have elapsed since January 1, 1936; or

(c) The fair value of the assets of the banking corporation as determined by an examination of the banking corporation by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (which may be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation once in each calendar year if the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall so elect), or as determined by the Superintendent of Banks, shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding; or

(d) The Corporation shall violate or fail to observe any of the terms, provisions, or conditions of its Articles of Incorporation--- then after written notice from Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the existence of any of said conditions and so long as any of said conditions in (a), (b), (c) and (d) above shall continue:

(1) All directors, officers, and employees of the Corporation shall receive compensation at rates not exceeding such maximum limitations as may be fixed by the votes of the holders of a majority of the shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(2) In case Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks, at any time, notify the Corporation that any director, officer or employee of the Corporation is regarded by Reconstruction Finance Corporation as unsatisfactory, and in case such director, officer, or employee is not removed from office (and, if requested by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, replaced with a director, officer, or employee, satisfactory to it) within thirty days after receipt by the Corporation of such notice, then, and until such removal and replacement shall have been effected, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(3) The Corporation shall not directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire any real estate for its own use, or lease any real estate for its own use for a term longer than one year, without in each case the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, or a written waiver of voting rights in respect thereto by the holders of such majority; provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to real estate acquired under the provisions of sub-divisions 2 and 3 of Section 53 of Senate Bill 227, Laws of 1934.

(4) The Corporation shall not incur indebtedness maturing more than one year from the creation thereof, without the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding or a written waiver of voting rights with respect thereto by the holders of such majority, but the indebtedness herein referred to shall not be construed to include the issuance of circulating notes and the acceptance of time deposits, which may continue to be accepted by the Corporation, under such conditions as may be provided by law.

Liquidation. (14) Rights of preferred stock on Liquidation.---In the event of any receivership, conservatorship, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, before any payment or other distribution, whether in cash, property, or otherwise shall be made to the holders of common stock, the holders of preferred stock shall be entitled to receive, for each share of such stock held by them, an amount equal to the par value thereof, plus an amount equal to all unpaid dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of payment, but shall not be entitled to any other or further payment; provided, however, that a merger or consolidation in accordance with law and these Articles of Incorporation, shall not be deemed a liquidation, or dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation within the meaning of this Section 14.

(a) Officers.---The Board of Directors shall elect one of its members President of the Corporation. The Board may designate a director in lieu of the President to be Chairman of the Board, who shall perform such duties as may be designated by the Board. The directors shall have power to elect one or more Vice-Presidents, at least one of whom shall also be a member of the Board of Directors, and who shall be authorized, in the absence or inability of the President from any cause, to perform all acts and duties pertaining to the duties of president except such as the President only is authorized by law to perform; and to elect or appoint a Cashier and such other officers and clerks as may be required to transact the business of the Corporation; and, subject to the provisions of sub-paragraphs (1) and (2) of section 13 of Article _____ hereof, to fix the salaries to be paid to them, and to continue them in office or to dismiss them as in the opinion of a majority of the Board the interests of the Corporation may demand.

(b) Powers of Board of Directors.---The Board of Directors shall have the power to define the duties of the officers and clerks of the Corporation, to require bonds from them, and to fix the penalty thereof; to regulate the manner in which election of directors shall be held and to appoint judges of the elections; to make all by-laws that it may be proper for them to make, not inconsistent with law and these Articles of Incorporation, for the general regulation of the business of the Corporation and the management of its affairs; and generally to do and perform all acts that it may be legal for a board of directors to do and perform according to law and within the limits of these Articles of Incorporation.

Special Meetings of shareholders.---Except as otherwise specifically provided by statute, special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose at any time by the Board of Directors or by the holders of at least ten per cent of the then outstanding shares of any class. Every such special meeting shall be called by mailing, not less than ten days before the time fixed for the meeting, to all shareholders of record entitled to act and vote at such meeting, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice stating the purpose of the meeting. Such notice may be waived in writing.

RESOLVED, FOURTH, that each shareholder of record may subscribe within five days from and after the date of this meeting to such issue of preferred stock in proportion to the number of shares of common stock of the Corporation standing on the books of the Corporation in his name; and

RESOLVED, FIFTH, that the Board of Directors through its proper officers, at the expiration of the said five days, shall sell the unsubscribed portion of such preferred stock at such price (not less than the par value thereof) to Reconstruction Finance Corporation and/or to such other person or persons as the Board of Directors may deem advisable.

At a meeting of the shareholders of Artesia State Bank, Artesia, Mississippi, held on September 27, 1934, 5 days notice of the proposed business having been given by registered mail, all of the foregoing resolutions were adopted by the following vote, the affirmative vote representing 70 % of the total number of shares of capital stock outstanding.

Total number of shares of capital stock	135
Total number of shares represented at the meeting	95
Total number of shares voted in favor of the resolution	95
Total number of shares voted against the resolution	00

I hereby certify that this is a true and correct report (a) of the number of days notice, given by registered mail, of the meeting of shareholders of this bank held on the date above mentioned; (b) of the vote and (c) of the resolutions adopted at said meeting and (d) that a complete list of the shareholders voting therefor and the number of shares voted by each is on file in the bank; (e) that voting permits were procured from the Federal Reserve Board by such holding company affiliates of this bank as voted at said meeting the stock of this bank by such holding company affiliates; (f) that no shares of stock of this bank owned by this bank were voted at said meeting; (g) that no shares of stock held by this bank as sole trustees were voted at said meeting; and (h) that no shares of stock of this bank by this bank as co-trustee were voted at said meeting by this bank; and (i) that no director, other officer or employee acted as proxy at said meeting.

RECORD OF CHARTERS 34-35---STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

Articles of Incorporation of
MISSISSIPPI FARMERS COOPERATIVE MILK ASSOCIATION

We, the undersigned, all of whom are residents of the State of Mississippi, engaged in the production of livestock, dairy and agricultural products availing ourselves of the provisions of the laws of the State of Mississippi relating to the organization and formation of cooperative associations, and particularly Article 2 of Chapter 99 of the Mississippi Code of 1930, covenant and agree, and do by these presents bind ourselves, our successors and assigns, as well as such other person or persons as may become associated with us hereafter, into an association and body politic in law for the objects and purposes, and under the terms and stipulations hereinafter named and set forth, which we hereby adopt as the Charter of our Association.

Article I.

The name of this Association is declared to be: Mississippi Farmers Cooperative Milk Association. Its domicile shall be in the County of Copiah, Mississippi, in the City of Wesson; Its principal business will be transacted at Wesson, Mississippi, and it shall enjoy a corporate existence for a period of 50 years from the date hereof.

Article II.

The purpose for which this Association is formed, which shall also be deemed its powers, shall be:

(a) To associate its members together for their mutual benefit as producers of dairy and other agricultural products and for the purposes of assisting its members as such producers in the successful and profitable production and marketing of such products.

(b) To engage in any activity in connection with the marketing, selling, preserving, drying, processing, manufacturing, canning, packing, grading, storing, handling or utilization of any agricultural, dairy, and livestock products produced or delivered to it by its members; or the manufacturing or marketing of the by-products thereof; or in connection with the purchase, hiring, or use by its members of supplies, machinery, or equipment, or in the financing of any such activities; or in any one or more of the activities specified in this section. The Association shall not handle the agricultural, dairy and livestock products of any non-member, except as necessary and incidental to the handling of the products of the members; and, in any case, the value of the products of nonmembers so handled shall not exceed the value of the products handled by the Association for its members.

(c) To borrow money without limitation as to amount of corporate indebtedness or liability; to pledge, mortgage or otherwise encumber any or all of its property as security therefor; and to make advance payments and advances to members.

(d) To act as agent or representatives of any member or members in any such activities, and to that end to enter contracts with its members for the exclusive and irrevocable right to purchase and market their dairy and agricultural products.

(e) To purchase or otherwise acquire, and to hold, own and exercise all rights or ownership in, and to sell, transfer, or pledge or guarantee the payment of dividends or interest ~~on~~ on, or the retirement or redemption of shares of the capital stock or bonds of any corporation or association engaged in any related activity or in the warehousing or handling or marketing of any of the products handled by the Association.

(f) To establish reserves and to ~~to~~ invest the funds thereof in bonds or other securities.

(g) To buy, hold and exercise all privileges of ownership over such real or personal property as may be necessary or convenient for the conducting and operating of any of the business of the Association or incidental thereto.

(h) To draw, make, accept, endorse, guarantee, execute and issue promissory notes, bills of exchange, drafts, warrants, certificates and all kinds of obligations to further the objects for which the Association is formed, and to endorse or guarantee the same for accommodation or otherwise, and to pledge any or all of its properties as security therefor; to establish, secure, own and develop patents, trade-marks and copyrights.

(i) To cooperate with its members in conducting educational work concerning the value of cooperative marketing, the adjustment of production to prospective demand, and for all other purposes pertaining to cooperation.

(j) By membership, stock-ownership, by contract or otherwise, to participate in the management of cooperative agencies for the furthering of any of the purposes of this Association.

(k) To do each and everything necessary, suitable or proper for the accomplishment of any of the purposes or the attainment of any one or more of the objects herein enumerated; or conducive to or expedient for the interest or benefit of the Association; and to contract accordingly; and in addition to exercise and possess all powers, rights and privileges, necessary or incidental to the purposes for which the Association is organized, or to the activities in which it is engaged and in addition to have and exercise all the powers, privileges and rights granted, authorized or allowed by the laws of Mississippi to other corporations and all powers and rights incident thereto, except such as are inconsistent with the articles or the statutes under which it is incorporated.

(l) To do anything that is conducive to carrying out or effectuating the Act of the Congress of the United States entitled the Agricultural Marketing Act, approved June 15, 1929, as amended by the Farm Credit Act of 1933.

Article III.

Section 1. The authorized stock of this Association shall be six thousand ~~(5,000)~~ shares divided into two classes, preferred and non-par value common, of which amount five thousand (5,000) shares of the par value of $10.00 per share, amounting to $50,000.00, shall be preferred stock, and one thousand (1,000) shares which shall be without nominal or par value shall be common stock.

Section 2. The preferred stock of the Association shall have preference as to the assets of the Association on liquidation and bear four per cent (4%) per annum cumulative dividends; provided, however, that until such time as the Association will have paid in full any and all indebtedness due by it to the New Orleans Bank of Cooperatives for funds borrowed or to be borrowed for the purchase of its creamery in the County of Copiah, Mississippi, and any other amounts due on the purchase price of the creamery, the said dividends will be paid in certificates of preferred stock and as interim certificates representing the fractional parts thereof subject to conversion into full shares. After the retirement of the mortgage indebtedness, the cumulative dividends on all preferred stock outstanding shall be paid in cash, annually, on the 31st day of March of each year.

Section 3. The common stock shall not bear dividends and may only be issued or transferred to or held by persons, firms or corporations engaged in the production of agricultural, dairy or livestock products, whether as landlord or tenant, or lessor or lessee. No attempted issue or transfer of such stock shall pass any rights on account of such stock or any voice in the control of the Association unless the receiver thereof shall be such a producer, and any transfer or assignment of common stock shall be subject to the approval of the Board of Directors of the Association. No one person shall receive or hold at one time more than one share of the common stock of the Association and each holder of common stock shall be entitled to one vote.

Section 4. A holder of preferred stock shall have the right to vote, in person or by proxy, the number of shares of stock owned by him for as many persons as there are directors or managers of the Association to be elected, or to cumulate said shares so as to give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of his shares of stock shall equal, or to distribute them, on the same principle, among as many candidates as he shall see fit; but in all other matters pertaining to the management and affairs of the Association or in connection with a change or amendment to its by-laws or charter, each stockholder shall be entitled to only one vote, irrespective of the number of shares owned.

Section 5. Any person, firm or corporation eligible under the foregoing may become a member of the Association by subscribing for one share of its common stock, signing such marketing agreement as shall be required by the Association, and agreeing to comply with these articles of incorporation and the by-laws of the Association as they exist or may be amended; provided the applicant for membership, or common stock is found acceptable to the Board of Directors. The findings of the Board of Directors as to eligibility shall be conclusive for the purposes of this section, and where deemed advisable, the Board will, in its discretion, have power to deny the issuance or transfer of common stock to persons, firms or corporations eligible to hold the same.

Section 6. Should an owner of common stock be other than a natural person, such owner may be represented by an individual duly authorized in writing, and such authorized representative shall be eligible to vote, be a member of the Board of Directors and be an officer of the Association.

Article IV.

Section 1. The management of the business and affairs of the Association shall be vested in a Board of Directors, who shall have power to elect the officers of the Association and to employ and discharge all employees thereof.

Section 2. The Board of Directors of the Association shall consist of 7 directors; but the number may be increased to 9 by a vote of the stockholders at any annual meeting, provided, however, that the number shall always consist of any uneven number. The directors shall be selected from the holders of common stock. All directors shall be elected for a term of one year, but shall hold office until their successors are elected and qualified.

Section 3. The officers of the Association shall be a President, a Vice-President and a Secretary-Treasurer, all of whom shall be appointed by the Board of Directors, and shall be subject to removal from office at any time by the Board. The directors shall elect from their number a President and a Vice-President. They shall also elect a Secretary-Treasurer, who need not be a director or a member of the Association. The Secretary-Treasurer shall perform the usual accounting duties of the Treasurer, except that the funds shall be deposited only as authorized by the Board of Directors. All officers shall perform such duties as are prescribed by the by-laws, as well as such other duties as are consistent with their office and may be required by the Board of Directors.

Article V.

The Association is formed to function on a cooperative basis for the benefit of the holders of common stock.

Reasonable reserves, as determined by the Board of Directors for any corporate purpose, may be established, utilized, transferred and abolished, including reserves for the payment of principal and interest of any and all indebtedness incurred by the Association for the payment of taxes, making of repairs, for operation, for the general expense of the maintenance and management of the Association, and for the payment of dividends on its preferred stock. Reserves shall be established by the retention of such sums as are necessary for the purposes ~~herein~~ hereinabove enumerated, from the proceeds of the agricultural, dairy and livestock products received from the holders of common stock. Amounts carried to reserves shall be subject to disposition by the Board of Directors. The records of the Association shall be kept so to afford a means of determining at any time the assets and liabilities of the Association.

Article VI.

No stockholder of this Association shall ever be liable for any of the indebtedness of the Association in an amount exceeding the sum remaining unpaid on his subscription to the stock of this Association, including any unpaid balance on any promissory note, or notes, given in payment of common stock of this Association. This provision, however, shall not in any manner affect any debts lawfully contracted between the Association and such stockholders.

Article VII.

Each of the parties hereto ^{hereby} subscribes to one share of the common stock of the Association, and agrees to pay therefor such consideration as will be agreed upon by a majority of the stockholders at the first meeting to be held after the adoption of this charter.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, we have hereunto signed our names this 22 day of September, 1934, at Wesson, Mississippi.

Proposed Amendments to Articles of Incorporation
BANK OF WEST POINT

West Point
(City)

Clay
(COUNTY)

Mississippi
(State)

RESOLVED FIRST, that the capital ~~stock~~ of this Corporation be increased in the sum of $60,000.00 by the issuance of $60,000.00 of preferred stock under the provisions of Section 52 of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, making the total capital of the Corporation $110,000.00 of which $60,000.00 is preferred and $50,000.00 is common stock.

RESOLVED, SECOND, that, under the provisions of Section 3 of charter of said bank, the common capital stock of this corporation be reduced in the sum of $25,000.00, leaving the total common capital, after said reduction $25,000.00.

RESOLVED, THIRD, That no distribution of assets shall be made to the shareholders of the Corporation by reason of the reduction of the common capital stock of the Corporation, but a sum equal to the amount of said reduction shall be used to charge off or write down losses, substandard and/or non-acceptable assets and/or shall be transferred to surplus or undivided profits in accordance with the requirements of the Federal Reserve Board and/or the Superintendent of Banks.

RESOLVED, FOURTH, that the articles of incorporation be amended by striking out first four lines of Section 4 of the Charter of said bank and inserting in place thereof the following: "The management of the Corporation shall be vested in a Board of Directors. The Board of Directors shall consist of such number of shareholders, not less than five or more than twenty-five, as from time to time shall be determined by a majority of the votes to which all shareholders are at the time entitled. A majority of the Board of Directors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business." "Every Director must be the owner in his or her ^{own} right, of unencumbered stock to the amount of at least two hundred dollars par value."

RESOLVED, FIFTH, that the articles of incorporation be further amended by striking out section 3 of charter the line "The Capital stock of said bank shall be fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00) to be divided into shares of one hundred dollars each ($100.00) and inserting instead thereof the following: Amount, classes and shares of capital stock---The amount of capital stock of the Corporation shall be $85,000.00 divided into classes and shares as follows:

(a) $60,000.00 par value of preferred stock (subject to retirement as hereinafter provided) divided into 1000 shares of par value of $60.00 (1) each; and
(b) $25,000.00 par value of common stock (subject to increase upon retirement of preferred stock as provided in the second and third paragraphs of Section 4 of this Article) divided into 5000 shares of the par value of $50.00 each.

(2) Assessability of stock.---The holders of preferred stock shall not be held individually responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts, or engagements of the Corporation, and shall not be liable for assessments to restore impairments in the capital of the Corporation.

(3) Dividends on preferred stock.---The holders of preferred stock in preference to the holders of Common stock, shall be entitled to receive, when and as declared by the Board of Directors, out of net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in Section 5 of this Article) accruing after 1934 (2), (hereinafter referred to as the "Recapitalization Date"), cash dividends thereon to and including March 31, 1939, at the rate of four per cent per annum of the par value thereof; and no more, and thereafter at the rate of five per cent per annum of the par value thereof, and no more. Such dividends shall be payable semiannually on each February 1 and August 1, and shall accrue, as to any given share of such stock, from the date of issuance of such shares; provided, however, that, in case of any share of such stock issued after February 1, 1935 (3), such dividends shall accrue on such shares from the February 1 or August 1, as the case may be, next preceeding the date of issuance thereof. Such dividends shall be cumulative so that if dividends at the full rate required by this section 3 to be paid on the preferred stock shall not have been paid upon or declared and set apart for such preferred stock, the deficiency shall be fully paid or declared and set apart before any dividend or other distribution, whether in cash, property, stock, or otherwise, shall be declared, ordered, set apart, paid or made in respect of the common stock. Dividends on the preferred stock shall be deemed to accrue from day to day.

(4) Dividends on Common Stock.---Dividends or other distributions whether in cash, property, stock or otherwise, shall, so long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding, be declared, ordered, set apart, paid, or made in respect of the common stock only out of the net profits of the Corporation (determined as provided in Section 5 of this Article) accruing after the Recapitalization Date.

If any call or purchase for retirement of preferred stock pursuant to the provisions of Sections 8 or 9 of this Article would reduce the outstanding capital of the Corporation below the minimum amount at the time required by law, the Board of Directors, prior to or simultaneously with such requirements, shall declare on the common stock out of net profits of the Corporation accruing after the Recapitalization Date, a dividend in the amount equal to the sum required to maintain the capital of the Corporation at such minimum amount after giving effect to such retirement, such dividend to be payable in shares of common stock which shall be issued (without any action on the part of the holders of stock of any class) ^{or on the part of the Superintendent of Banks pro rata to the holders of common stock}

(5) Determination of net profits.---For the purpose of this Article , the net profits or net loss (as distinguished from usage of terms "net Profits" and "net loss" in reports required by the Superintendent of Banks) of the Corporation shall be determined for each six months' period ending on December 31 or June 30 by deducting from the gross earnings from all sources for such period:

(a) All expenses for such period;
(b) All interest accrued during such period;
(c) All losses determined during such period, and such charge-offs and write-downs of assets and transfers to reserves (whether from income, undivided profits or surplus) for such period (including all charge-offs, write-downs and transfers to reserves requested by the Superintendent of Banks for such period) as may be reasonable necessary to make proper provision for doubtful assets, depreciation, and undetermined losses, but to the extent only that such losses, determined or undetermined, charge-offs, and write-downs of assets exceed reserves previously set up therefor in such period or any prior period, or available unallocated reserves;

(d) Provision for all taxes for such period, including taxes measured by income and taxes based on the ownership of stock in the Corporation paid or payable by the Corporation for the account of its shareholders, without prejudice to such right as the Corporation may have to recover the same;

(e) Such transfers for such period to surplus as may be required by law; provided, however, that transfers to earned surplus as required by section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, shall not be deducted from gross earnings in determining net profits available for the dividend and retirement requirements of the preferred stock; and

(f) The net loss, if any, determined in accordance with the provisions of this Section 5, accrued since the Recapitalization Date, accumulated to and existing at the beginning of such period; provided, however, that no deduction from gross earnings for the six months' period ending , 193(4), shall be required by reason of any charge-offs or write-downs of assets or transfers to reserves made during said period on account of losses sustained on or prior to the Recapitalization Date.

All recoveries over net book value on assets previously charged off or written down or against which reserves have been set up, and all transfers from reserves to surplus or undivided profits

(other than transfers made to reflect recoveries already treated as gross earnings) shall be considered gross earnings for the respective periods during which such recoveries or transfers are effected.

(6) Application of net profits.---As long as any shares of preferred stock are outstanding the Corporation, on each February 1 and August 1, shall apply the net profits of the Corporation for the six months' period ending on the next preceding December 31 and June 30, as the case may be, to the following purposes and in the following order of priority:

(a) To the payment of dividends on the outstanding preferred stock accrued to such February 1 or August 1 as the case may be;

(b) To the payment into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in section 8 of this Article) of a sum equal to forty per cent of the remainder, if any, of such net profits; provided, however, that the aggregate amount paid into the preferred stock retirement fund in any one year need not exceed five per cent of the maximum aggregate par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding, whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever; provided, further, however, that unless otherwise elected, from time to time, by the Corporation by action of its Board of Directors, it shall not be required to make such payment into the preferred stock retirement fund except from such net profits as may be accrued from and after December 31, 1935;

Subject to compliance with the provisions of Section 7-(b) of Senate Bill No. 227, Laws of 1934, any balance of net profits for any such period may be applied from time to time to such lawful purposes as may be determined by the Board of Directors, subject, however, to the provisions of Section 7 of this Article.

(7) Limitations on retirement of stock.---Except with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks no preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement by the Corporation unless the then unimpaired capital, surplus and undivided profits of the Corporation, and the retirement funds provided for herein (after giving effect to the proceeds of the issuance of any stock issued to provide funds for such retirement) exceed $85,000.00 (5) by an amount at least equal to the sum necessary to effect such retirement. No shares of preferred stock shall be called or purchased for retirement unless all accrued dividends, (whether or not earned or declared) to the dividend payment date next preceding the date of such retirement shall have been paid on all shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(8) Retirement of preferred stock by purchase.---Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article, whenever the balance in the preferred stock retirement fund shall amount to as much as $1,200.00 (6), the Corporation shall (unless the Board of Directors shall elect to use the entire amount of such balance in the preferred stock retirement fund for the retirement of preferred stock by call as provided in section 9 hereof) within ten days thereafter, mail, first-class postage prepaid, to all holders of record of preferred stock at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice specifying the balance in such fund and stating that the same is available for the purchase of retirement of preferred stock at the lowest prices (not in excess of the par value thereof and accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, to the date of purchase) offered within twenty days, the Corporation shall apply such balance to the purchase for retirement of preferred stock, if obtainable, in accordance with the terms of such notice. Within ten days after such expiration, subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article, the Corporation shall call for retirement, in the manner provided in section 9 hereof, the largest number of shares of preferred stock which can be retired from the balance in such retirement fund remaining after deducting the amount paid or to be paid for the purchase for retirement of preferred stock as aforesaid, and shall set aside from such retirement fund the sum necessary to effect such retirement, but the minimum capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount of capital required by law.

Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article, at any time and from time to time the Corporation may make such lawful transfers from its surplus and/or undivided profits to the preferred stock retirement fund as the Board of Directors may determine. All shares of preferred stock purchased for retirement by the Corporation, whether from the retirement fund or otherwise, shall be canceled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(9) Retirement of preferred stock by call.---Subject to the provisions of section 7 of this Article, the Corporation may at any time, at its election as expressed by resolution of the Board of Directors, retire the outstanding preferred stock as a whole, or from time to time in part, pro rata, or by lot in such equitable manner to carry out the purpose of this section 9 as the Board of Directors of the Corporation in its discretion shall from time to time determine, and provided always that the capital shall in no event be reduced below the minimum amount required by law, by paying for each share to be retired a retirement price equal to the par value thereof plus all accrued dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of such retirement. At least thirty days prior written notice of every such retirement, stating the retirement date and the retirement price, and the place of payment thereof, shall be mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to the holder of record of each share to be retired, at the address of such holder as shown on the books of the Corporation. Such notice having been so mailed, each holder of shares so called for retirement shall be entitled to receive payment of the retirement price of such shares (without interest) upon surrender to the Corporation, on or after the retirement date, at the place designated in such notice, of the certificate or certificates therefor in transferable form and, if required, properly stamped for transfer. In case less than all of the shares represented by any such certificate are retired, a new certificate shall be issued representing the unretired shares. From and after the retirement date (unless the Corporation shall default in payment of the retirement price), all dividends on shares called for retirement shall cease to accrue, such shares shall be deemed to be no longer outstanding, and all rights of the holders thereof as shareholders of the Corporation, except the right to receive the retirement price, shall terminate. All shares so retired shall be canceled forthwith and shall not be reissued.

(10) Increase or decrease of capital stock; Amendments of Articles of Incorporation, etc.---By the affirmative vote of the holders, voting by classes, of at least two-thirds of the shares of each class of stock at the time outstanding, and not otherwise, and subject to such approval by the Superintendent of Banks and such other conditions as at the time may be required by law---

(a) The capital stock of the Corporation may be increased at any time and from time to time through issuing additional shares of preferred stock and/or common stock, and/or through the creation of one or more additional classes of stock; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of preferred stock shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock if the entire proceeds of such issue are to be used for the retirement of shares of preferred stock; and provided further that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to any issue of additional shares of common stock as a stock dividend, pursuant to the second paragraph of section 4 of this Article in connection with the retirement of shares of preferred stock;

(b) The capital stock of the Corporation may be decreased at any time and from time to time to any amount not below the amount at the time required by law; provided, however, that no vote of the holders of stock of any class shall be required with respect to the retirement of preferred stock;

(c) The name of the Corporation and/or the place where its operations of discount and deposit are to be carried on may be changed, but this clause shall not be construed to abridge the powers of the Board of Directors under applicable law with reference to the establishment or change of location or closing of branches;

(d) These Articles of Incorporation may be amended at any time and from time to time in any other respect, but not so as to change the respective voting rights of the preferred stock and common stock as long as any of the preferred stock remains outstanding;

RECORD OF CHARTERS 34-35--STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

TUCKER PRINTING HOUSE JACKSON MISS

(e) The Corporation may be consolidated or merged into or with any other bank;
 (f) All or substantially all of the assets and business of the Corporation may be sold or otherwise disposed of;

(g) The corporation may go into voluntary liquidation; and

(h) Any plan or reorganization of the Corporation may be carried into effect--- provided, however, that if and as long as the voting rights of the preferred stock ~~have~~ increased in accordance with the provisions of section 12 or 13 of this Article _____, and the fair value of the assets of the Corporation as determined by the Superintendent of Banks shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding, any of the actions specified in the foregoing paragraphs (a) to (h) inclusive, of this section 10 may be taken by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock, voting as one class, are at the time entitled, and not otherwise, except that the Corporation may not be put into voluntary liquidation without the approval of the Superintendent of Banks.

(11) Preemptive rights.---In case of any increase in the capital stock of the Corporation of any class other than by way of a stock dividend, the new shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all shares of stock of that class at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of shares of such stock of that class held by them respectively, by mailing, first-class postage prepaid, to such holders, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, transferrable subscription warrants exercisable at any time on or before thirty days from the date of such mailing. If at the expiration of such subscription rights, any of the ~~new~~ new shares have not been subscribed for, such shares shall be offered for subscription to the holders of record of all other shares of stock of all other classes at the time outstanding, in proportion to the number of such shares held by them respectively, and notice shall be given as above provided. If at the expiration of both of such subscription rights any of the new shares have not been subscribed for, such unsubscribed new shares may be issued and sold at such price, not less than the par value thereof, to such persons and on such terms as the Board of Directors may determine.

(12) Voting rights.---(a) Except as otherwise provided in section 10 and 13 of this Article _____ and in this section 12, each holder of stock of any class shall be entitled to vote on all matters one vote for each share of stock of any class held by him.

(b) In all elections of directors, each holder of stock of any class shall have the right to vote the votes allocable to the number of shares owned by him for as many persons as there are directors to be elected, or to cumulate such votes and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of votes allocable to his shares shall equal, or to distribute such votes on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall think fit.

(c) In case as many as two semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned and declared) on the preferred stock shall be in arrears [exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock], then, and until all arrears of dividends upon the preferred stock shall have been paid and the full dividend on the outstanding preferred stock for the then current semi-annual dividend period shall have been declared and funds set apart for the payment thereof, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(d) At any time while the votes of the preferred stock are increased as provided in paragraph (c) of this section 12 or in sub-paragraph (2) of Section 13 of this article & _____, any one or more of the directors, officers, or employees of the Corporation may be removed at any annual or special meeting of the shareholders, for or without cause, and their successors elected, by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the holders of all classes of stock voting as one class, are at the time entitled.

(13) Other voting rights.---If at any time while the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall hold not less than twenty-five per cent of the total number of shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding---

(a) The Corporation shall be in arrears in the payment of as many as two-semi-annual dividend payments (whether or not consecutive and whether or not earned or declared) on the preferred stock [exclusive of any such dividend which may be payable at any time within three (3) months from the date of issuance of the preferred stock]; or

(b) The amounts paid into the preferred stock retirement fund (referred to in this section 8 of this Article _____) and on after February 1, 1937, shall not have amounted in the aggregate to five per cent of the maximum par value of the preferred stock at any time outstanding (whether or not any such stock shall have been subsequently retired or the aggregate par value thereof reduced in any manner whatsoever) multiplied by the number of calendar years which shall have elapsed since January 1, 1936; or

(c) The fair value of the assets of the banking corporation as determined by an examination of the banking corporation by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (which may be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation once in each calendar year if the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall so elect), or as determined by the Superintendent of Banks, shall be less than an amount equal to all of its liabilities, including all capital stock outstanding; or

(d) The Corporation shall violate or fail to observe any of the terms, provisions, or conditions of its Articles of Incorporation--- then after written notice from Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the existence of any of said conditions and so long as any of said conditions in (a), (b), (c), and (d) above shall continue;

(1) All directors, officers, and employees of the Corporation shall receive compensation at rates not exceeding such maximum limitations as may be fixed by the vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of preferred stock at the time outstanding.

(2) In case Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks, at any time shall notify the Corporation that any director, officer or employee of the Corporation is regarded by Reconstruction Finance Corporation as unsatisfactory, and in case such director, officer, or employee is not removed from office (and, if requested by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, replaced with a Director, officer, or employee, satisfactory to it) within thirty days after receipt by the Corporation of such notice, then, and until such removal and re-placement shall have been effected, the holders of preferred stock at the time outstanding shall be entitled, as a class, to vote on all matters twice the number of the votes to which the holders of common stock, as a class, are at the time entitled, and each holder of preferred stock shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the votes to which his class is entitled.

(3) The Corporation shall not directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire any real estate for its own use, or lease any real estate for its own use for a term longer than one year, without in each case the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding, or a written waiver of voting rights in respect thereto by the holders of such majority; provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to real estate acquired under the provisions of subdivisions 2 and 3 of Section 53 of Senate Bill 227, Laws of 1934.

(4) The Corporation shall not incur indebtedness maturing more than one year from the creation thereof, without the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock at the time outstanding or a written waiver of voting rights with respect thereto by the holders of such majority, but the indebtedness herein referred to shall not be construed to include the issuance of circulating notes and the acceptance of time deposits, which may be continued to be accepted by the Corporation, under such conditions as may be provided by law.

before any payment or other distribution, whether in cash, property, or otherwise shall be made to the holders of common stock, the holders of preferred stock shall be entitled to receive, for each share of such stock held by them, an amount equal to the par value thereof, plus an amount equal to all unpaid dividends thereon, whether or not earned or declared, accrued to the date of payment, but shall not be entitled to any other or further payment; provided, however, that a merger or consolidation in accordance with law and these Articles of Incorporation, shall not be deemed a liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Corporation within the meaning of this section 14.

(a) Officers---The Board of Directors shall elect one of its members President of the Corporation. The Board may designate a director in lieu of the President to be Chairman of the Board, who shall perform such duties as may be designated by the Board. The Directors shall have power to elect one or more Vice-Presidents, at least one of whom shall also be a member of the Board of Directors, and who shall be authorized, in the absence or inability of the President from any cause, to perform all acts and duties pertaining to the office of president except such as the President only is authorized by law to perform; and to elect or appoint a Cashier, and such other officers and clerks as may be required to transact the business of the Corporation; and, subject to the provisions of sub-paragraphs (1) and (2) of Section 13 of Article hereof, to fix the salaries to be paid to them, and to continue them in office or to dismiss them as in the opinion of a majority of the Board the interests of the Corporation may demand.

(b) Powers of Board of Directors---The Board of Directors shall have the power to define the duties of the officers and clerks of the Corporation, to require bonds from them, and to fix the penalty thereof, to regulate the manner in which election of directors shall be held and to appoint judges of the elections; to make all by-laws that it may be proper for them to make, not inconsistent with law and these Articles of Incorporation, for the general regulation of the business of the Corporation and the management of its affairs, and generally to do and to perform all acts that it may be legal for a board of directors to do and perform according to law and within the limits of these Articles of Incorporation.

Special meetings of shareholders---Except as otherwise specifically provided by statute, special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose at any time by the Board of Directors or by the holders of at least ten per cent of the then outstanding shares of any class. Every such special meeting shall be called by mailing, not less than ten days before the time fixed for the meeting, to all shareholders of record entitled to act and vote at such meeting, at their respective addresses as shown on the books of the Corporation, a notice stating the purpose of the meeting. Such notice may be waived in writing.

RESOLVED, SIXTH, That each shareholder of record may subscribe within five days from and after the date of this meeting to such issue of preferred stock in proportion to the number of shares of common stock of the Corporation standing on the books of the Corporation in his name, and

RESOLVED, SEVENTH, that the Board of Directors through its proper officers, at the expiration of the said five days, shall sell the un-subscribed portion of such preferred stock at such price (not less than the par value thereof) to Reconstruction Finance Corporation and/or to such other person or persons as the Board of Directors may deem advisable.

RECORD OF CHARTERS 34-35--STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

Amendment to the Charter of Incorporation of
DELTA GIN COMPANY.

Upon motion duly made and seconded the following resolution was presented to the meeting for adoption:

BE IT RESOLVED, That the charter of incorporation of Delta Gin Company, as amended, be, and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows, to-wit:

"THE CHARTER OF INCORPORATION OF DELTA GIN COMPANY.

1. The corporate title of said company is Delta Gin Company.
 2. The names of the incorporators are: W. D. Richards, Postoffice, Inverness, Mississippi; H. H. Baker, Postoffice, Inverness, Mississippi; H. P. Toler, Postoffice, Inverness, Mississippi; Geo. E. Baird, Postoffice, Inverness, Mississippi; J. C. Baker, Postoffice, Inverness, Mississippi.
 3. The domicile is at Inverness, Sunflower county, Mississippi.
 4. The amount of capital stock is Forty Thousand Dollars divided into eight hundred shares of the par value of fifty dollars each, and two hundred shares of said capital stock shall be common stock without restrictions, or special privileges, except as provided in Section 8 hereof, and six hundred shares of said capital stock shall be preferred stock, which said preferred stock shall be entitled to receive a fixed dividend of eight percentum per annum before the common stock shall be entitled to receive any dividend, but said fixed dividend of eight percentum shall be non-cumulative, but shall not be entitled to any other preference or privilege over the common stock.
 5. The period of existence is fifty years.
 6. The purpose for which it is created is to own, lease, rent, operate and maintain public cotton gins, buy and sell cotton seed, and buy and sell cotton cooperatively for its stockholders and members, and to do and perform any and all other acts and things necessary or expedient to carry out and further the purpose and business of the corporation, and in carrying out the purposes for which it is created.
- The rights, powers and privileges that may be exercised by this corporation, in addition to the foregoing, and to those hereinafter mentioned, are those conferred by Article 2 of Chapter 99 of the Mississippi Code of 1930, and this amendment is adopted under and by virtue of Section 4121 of the Mississippi Code of 1930.
7. The total number of shares of stock to be subscribed and paid for before the corporation begins business is two hundred shares of either common or preferred stock, and said shares may be paid for in cash or property.
 8. At the close of each fiscal year the net earnings of the Corporation shall be ascertained, and after having created proper and adequate reserves for depreciation, losses and contingencies and said net earnings shall have been reduced to money, the same shall be paid out and distributed as follows:
A cash dividend of not exceeding eight percentum of the preferred capital stock outstanding shall be declared and paid to the holders thereof, and the balance of such net earnings, if any, shall then be distributed as follows:
A dividend of eight percentum, and no more, shall then be declared and paid upon the common stock outstanding to the holders thereof, and the balance of such net earnings, if any, shall then be distributed and paid to the stockholders and members in proportion to the number of bales of cotton, weight being averaged to five hundred pounds each, ginned by them, respectively, at the gins of this corporation during the fiscal year next preceding, but not in proportion to the amount of capital stock owned by such stockholders, respectively.
 9. Membership in this corporation may be extended to producers of cotton without ownership of any share or shares therein upon application therefor made in writing, and subject to the approval and contract requirements imposed by the by-laws of said corporation.

W. D. Richards,
H. H. Baker,
H. P. Toler,
Geo. E. Baird,
J. C. Baker,

Incorporators."

And, be it further resolved that the president and secretary of this corporation be, and they are hereby, authorized and directed for and in behalf of said Delta Gin Company, to do any and all things necessary to give effect to the foregoing resolution, and to procure said amendment to said charter of incorporation.

The above and foregoing resolutions having been previously reduced to writing, after considerable discussion, the motion was put up by the chair and unanimously adopted, 353 shares voting for the adoption of the resolution, and no share or vote being cast against it.

We, the undersigned H. P. Tolar, president of Delta Gin Company, and H. H. Baker, secretary thereof, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true and correct copy of the resolution adopted at a meeting of the stockholders of the said Delta Gin Company duly called and held in the office of the secretary and treasurer thereof, on the 10th day of October, 1934, at nine o'clock A. of Jackson, Mississippi.

State of Mississippi,
County of Hinds.

Personally appeared before me, the undersigned authority in and for the aforesaid State and County, the undersigned G. W. Covington and Ralph W. Hicks, respectively the duly authorized President and Secretary of the Standard Life Insurance Company of the South, of Jackson, Mississippi who, after being by me first duly sworn, on oath state that at a legally and properly called Special Meeting of the stockholders of the Standard Life Insurance Company of the South, of Jackson, Mississippi, held on December 18th, 1934, at 2 o'clock P. M. in the Home Office of the Company at Jackson, Mississippi, at which was present or represented by proxy a majority of the outstanding capital stock of said corporation, said majority then and there constituting a quorum, a Resolution was adopted amending Section 4 of the Articles of Incorporation of said Company, and that the following is a true and correct copy of said Resolution, to wit:

"Whereas, the capital stock of the Company is $525,000 divided into 52,500 shares of the par value of $10.00 each; and

Whereas, it is desirable that the capital stock of the company be decreased to the sum of $500,000 with 50,000 shares of the par value of $10.00 each,

Now, Therefore Be It Resolved that the capital stock of the Company be reduced from $525,000 divided into 52,500 shares of $10.00 each to $500,000 divided into 50,000 shares of $10.00 each and that such reduction be effected by the retirement and cancellation of 2,500 shares of stock now held by the Company and that the action of the Board of Directors, the Executive Committee and the officers of the Company in acquiring said 2,500 shares is hereby ratified and approved.

Be It Further Resolved That Section 4 of the Articles of Incorporation of the Standard Life Insurance Company of the South be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:

The capital stock of this corporation shall be $500,000 divided into 50,000 shares of the par value of $10.00 each. However, scrip for fractional shares of stock may be issued by the Company if it seems desirable so to do and one whole share of stock may be issued upon the surrender of scrip for fractional shares aggregating one whole share.

And the President and Secretary of the Company are directed and authorized to take any and all steps necessary to legally effect said amendment to the Articles of Incorporation."

RECORD OF CHARTERS 34-35---STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

Charter of Incorporation of Woodlawn Memorial Cemetery Association, Inc.

1. The corporate title of this corporation shall be Woodlawn Memorial Cemetery Association, Inc.
2. The names of the incorporators are as follows: C. A. Cox, C. C. McCarson and H. D. Minor, and the postoffice addresses of each incorporator is R. F. D. No. 4, Memphis, Tennessee. Said three incorporators are members of the Woodlawn Memorial Cemetery Association, a voluntary civic improvement society, unincorporated, which, at a regular meeting held October 30, 1934, adopted a resolution that said association should be incorporated and directing the said three incorporators to apply for this charter.
3. The domicile of the corporation shall be the Southwest corner of Section 25, Township 1, Range 9, DeSoto County, Mississippi.
4. The period of existence shall be fifty years.
5. The corporation shall not be required to make publication of its charter; shall issue no shares of stock; shall divide no dividends or profits among its members; shall make expulsion the only remedy for non-payment of dues; shall vest in each member the right to one vote in the election of all officers; shall make the loss of membership, by death or otherwise, the termination of all interest of such members in the corporate assets; and there shall be no individual liabilities against the members for corporate debts but the entire corporate property shall be liable for the claims of creditors.
6. The membership of the corporation shall consist of the three incorporators aforesaid and such other persons residing within three miles of the domicile aforesaid as may apply for membership in writing, provided, however, the officers of the corporation may reject any such application for cause. Persons residing outside the limit aforesaid may be admitted to membership on written application endorsed by five members who are not officers, provided such application is approved by the officers of the corporation.
7. The annual dues shall be $3.00 per annum, provided, however, that where one member of a family has paid such dues the dues for each remaining member of his family shall be 25¢ per annum. Dues shall be due and payable by any member immediately upon his election and thereafter annually in advance on the 1st of December of each year. Any member in default of dues for as long as six calendar months shall automatically cease to be a member of the corporation and no member shall be entitled to vote who is in arrears as to dues.
8. The purposes for which this corporation is created shall be to carry on the work of a civic improvement society in said county, including the laying out, upkeep and maintenance of a local cemetery in said county primarily but not exclusively for the residents of what is known as the Poplar Corner Community, said community embracing those white persons living within three miles of the Southwest corner of Section 25, Township 1, Range 9 in said county.
9. At all meetings each member shall be entitled to one vote on every question arising but, in the event of a tie, the President shall have an additional vote to break the tie.
10. One-fourth of the registered members whose dues have been paid shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business but a smaller number may meet and adjourn from time to time until a quorum is secured, provided no by-law once adopted may be altered and no new by-law may be adopted except upon the affirmative vote of at least one-half of the entire membership.
11. The corporation shall be one not for profit, and all receipts, whether from membership dues or from the sale of lots in the cemetery, shall be devoted to the purchase, improvement and upkeep of the cemetery and/or to the establishment of a fund to be placed in the hands of a trustee, the income from such fund to be used for upkeep, improvement and maintenance of the cemetery.
12. The corporation shall have power to acquire land, not in excess of thirty (30) acres, for cemetery purposes and shall have power to sell and convey lots in said cemetery subject to such reasonable rules and regulations as the corporation shall from time to time establish. It shall also have power to provide for the payment of annual dues, in addition to the annual membership dues, by every person owning a lot in the cemetery, such dues to be used exclusively for the upkeep, maintenance and beautification of the cemetery or for the establishment of a trust fund as just indicated. The land belonging to the corporation shall be used exclusively for cemeterial purposes.
13. The officers of the corporation shall consist of a President, Vice President and a Secretary-Treasurer, each of whom shall hold office for one year and be elected at an annual meeting, provided, however, that the ~~the~~ officers for the year ending December 1, 1935, shall be elected at the first meeting called for that purpose by the three incorporators. Any officer shall be eligible to succeed himself. All officers shall serve without compensation but the corporation shall have power to employ such help and labor as may, in their judgment, be necessary for the proper laying out and maintenance of the cemetery. Reports of all officers shall be made at each annual meeting.
14. The corporation shall have power to adopt and enforce by-laws fixing the duties of the officers and prescribing other details of operating business of the corporation.
15. The corporation shall have power to receive by gift money or other property, but all such gifts, other than land for cemeterial purposes, shall at once be devoted to the creation or enlargement of a trust fund, the net income from which fund shall be for the maintenance and upkeep or enlargement of the cemetery, provided, however, that any donor may stipulate the use to which his donation shall be devoted. The trustee of such fund shall be selected as the membership of the corporation may determine. Nothing in this section shall be construed to legalize gifts in contravention of Sec. 269 of the Mississippi Constitution of 1890 or Secs. 3564-3565 of the Mississippi Code of 1930 or similar enactments hereafter passed.

A. for Mississippi, Picayune, Mississippi.
- III. The domicile of the corporation is in the City of Jackson, First Judicial District of Hinds County, Mississippi.
- IV. The corporation shall issue only seven shares of capital stock which shall be all common stock without nominal or par value. Each original incorporator shall become a stockholder of said corporation and be a member of the original board of directors. The corporation shall serve as an instrumentality for carrying on financial and business transactions of the Rural Rehabilitation activities of this state.

The majority of the members of the board of directors of this corporation shall always be members of the Emergency Relief Administration for Mississippi so long as it shall be continued, and thereafter the membership of said board shall be constituted as the by-laws shall then provide. Only officials of the Federal Emergency Relief Administration and of the Emergency Relief Administration for Mississippi shall ever be and remain holders of said stock or any part thereof, except with the consent and approval of at least two thirds of the members of the board of directors. Each stockholder shall properly endorse the certificate of stock issued him so as to appoint the Secretary of the corporation his attorney in fact to make a transfer thereof for him on the books of said corporation to his successor in office, in the event such stockholder should become disqualified for any reason to further remain the holder thereof. Each of the incorporators by signing these articles of incorporation and each successive holder or purchaser of said stock by the acceptance thereof covenants and agrees that he will not sell or transfer his share or shares of stock, or any part thereof to another, except as provided by this article or by permission of two thirds of the board of directors; and each stockholder covenants and agrees that if and when he ceases for any reason to be a member of said board of directors, or ceases to be an official of the said F. E. R. A. or the E. R. A. for Mississippi that he shall then and thereby (ipso facto) surrender to this corporation all of his right, title and interest in all of his stock for the same consideration that he gave for it, so that said share or shares of stock shall always remain available for proper transfer to a new member or members of the board, and the stock of any such disqualified holder shall there upon be reissued as herein provided to his successor in office on the same terms and conditions.
- V. The sale price of said shares of stock shall be as fixed by the board of directors from time to time, not to exceed One Hundred Dollars per share; the power to change the sale price of said stock being expressly vested in said board.
- VI. The period of existence of said corporation is fifty (50) years.
- VII. The purposes for which this corporation is created are:
 - A. To rehabilitate individuals and families on the soil and in coordinating industries by making it possible for such deserving persons who are financially unable to provide such means for themselves to lease, purchase and own suitable lands and living quarters, to own necessary stock, cattle and farming equipment and to be provided with the necessary furnishing and supplies to enable such persons to derive a livelihood from the soil; as well as to assist them to gain a livelihood in coordinating and affiliated industries.
 - B. To buy, own, hold, deal in, lease, mortgage, sell and otherwise acquire, use and dispose of real, personal and mixed property of every character and kind, not forbidden by law; to make loans and give financial assistance and aid in any and every manner to any suitable person to enable him (or her) to labor upon, use, lease, purchase, own and acquire title to farm lands and improvements thereon, farm equipment, live stock, cattle etc., and to accept labor, produce or other valuable thing in payment or part payment therefor, and to assist in the transportation of such persons and property to and from such lands for work and settlement thereon, and to supervise and direct the work and activities of such persons thereon, in keeping with the purposes for which this corporation is created.
 - C. To aid and assist any such subsidiary corporation, agencies, organizations or associations to do any of the things which this corporation is organized to do, and on its own account to acquire in whole or in part by gift, lease, purchase or in any other manner, and to construct, repair, own, maintain and equip buildings, plants, mills, factories, industries, gardens, orchards, dairies, agricultural enterprises of all kinds, marketing agencies for all of such products, and any and all other enterprises and facilities which are necessary or desirable for the purpose of rehabilitating individuals and families on rural lands, and in coordinating and affiliated industries; and to provide, maintain and operate all necessary, suitable and sufficient agencies and instrumentalities through which
